I swear that I will, according to and without partiality to any of the parties in this case, take the examinations and depositions of such witness (or witnesses) as may be produced before me.

So help me God.

The Commissioner's Affirmation.

I solemnly declare that I will, according to the best of my skill and knowledge, truly, faithfully, and without partiality to any of the parties in this case, take the examinations and depositions of such witness (or witnesses) as may be produced before me.

II.—The Witnesses' Oath.

I swear that the evidence which I shall give in this case shall be true, that I will conceal nothing, and that no part of my evidence shall be false.

So help me God.

The Witnesses' Affirmation.

I solemnly declare that the evidence which I shall give in this case shall be true, that I will conceal nothing, and that no part of my evidence shall be false.

NOTE.—Christians to whom the oath is administered will be sworn upon the New Testament.

To others the oath will be administered upon such symbol, or accompanied by such act, as may be usual, or as the persons taking the oath may acknowledge to be binding on their conscience.

No. 23.

Dated Calcutta, the 11th September 1873.

THE COURT is pleased to direct, with reference to applications for enrolment as Pleaders or Mooktars made by persons who have passed the examination contemplated by the Rules drawn up under Section 4, Act XX of 1865, that where the application is made in a district different from that in which the examination was passed, it must be accompanied by a letter from the Judge of the District in which the applicant passed, or in which he received permission to appear at the examination, certifying that such person has stated his desire to practise in the district named, and setting forth the reasons, together with a statement of the certifying Judge's belief that the application is bona fide.

2. Such letter shall be granted upon a petition presented in open Court, and notice of such petition shall be first stuck up in a conspicuous part of the Court-house for 14 days.

By order of the High Court,

W. M. SOUTTAR,
Registrar.

No. 15.

Dated Calcutta, the 12th September 1873.

HIGH COURT,
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT, Civil.

The attention of District Judges, Subordinate Judges, and Judges of Small Cause Courts is called to the rules which direct that applications for leave on the part of such officers should be submitted through the High Court to the Government.

By order of the High Court,

W. M. SOUTTAR,
Registrar.

No. 11.

Dated Calcutta, the 10th September 1873.

HIGH COURT, &c.,
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT,
Criminal.

C.O. No. 31, dated 4th November 1870, paragraphs 7 to 9.

THE orders noted on the margin are hereby rescinded, and the Quarterly Statements D and E will henceforth be submitted by the Sessions Judges to the High Court in the revised form now circulated, commencing with those for the 3rd quarter of 1873.

2. Statements received in other than the printed forms supplied by the Superintendent of Stationery will be returned, and the district will be dealt with as if no statements had been received.

3. The statements will continue to be sent in duplicate as required by Circular Memorandum No. 4, dated 7th June last.

4. Column 1 of Statement D will comprise the names of all officers exercising

* e. g., Magistrate of the District.
A. Jones, Esq., C.S., 1st Class.
B. Williams, Esq., 1st Class.
Baboo M. N. Dass, 1st Class.
C. Howell, Esq., C.S., 2nd Class.
M. Anwar Ali, 2nd Class.
&c. &c.

criminal authority in the district, the letters "C.S." being inserted after the names of Covenanted Officers. Magistrates other than the Magistrate of the District will be designated according to their powers as Magistrates of the 1st Class, of the 2nd Class, or of the 3rd Class; and not as Joint-Magistrates, Assistant Magistrates, or Deputy Magistrates.*

5. The Benches of Magistrates which have sat in the quarter under report will also be entered here, and the names of the Magistrates who have served on them will be shown in the column of Remarks instead of on the back of the statement, as required by Circular Memorandum No. 8, dated 26th May last.

6. Columns 3, 4, and 5 will be filled up according to the instructions contained in Circular Order No. 7, dated 10th April last, to which it may be added that column 5, "Acquitted," will show all dismissals (as under Section 205) and discharges (as under Section 496) which operate as acquittals. New trials ordered under Section 328 will appear in column 8. The persons shown as "Remaining under trial" at the close of one quarter should be included (though not separately exhibited) in column 3 of the return for the following quarter, as "Persons under trial." Cases decided by Municipal Commissioners should not be entered in this statement.

7. This statement is intended to comprise all appeals preferred either to the Sessions Judge, or to the Magistrate, without detail of the officer from whom the appeals may be preferred; and also references made to the High Court under Section 296, Act X of 1873, either by the Sessions Judge or by the Magistrate. Persons whose cases are shown as "Pending" in column 10 should be included in the number entered in column 2 of the ensuing quarter's returns.

8. After the Magistrate has prepared and signed Part I of Statement D, and filled up his portion of Statement E, the Statements will be submitted to the Sessions Judge, who will enter, in Part II, Statement D, the result of trials disposed of by him; and, in Statement E, the result of appeals preferred before his Court. He will then forward the completed return to the High Court.

9. Both Magistrates and Judges are called upon to see that the Statements are prepared neatly, as well as correctly, in respect of the entries made, and that they are not disfigured by slovenly or bad writing. On such cases occurring, the Statements will be liable to be returned.

10. The column of Remarks, which in each Statement is of ample size, will contain the mention of any cases or particulars which do not appear to be fairly provided for in other columns, and will also contain brief explanations of any noticeable results appearing on the face of the returns, specially of such as if unexplained might lead to erroneous conclusions: in short, any comments that will tend to throw light on the figures.

11. This return will not interfere with the submission of the Statement No. III prescribed by Circular Order No. 10, dated 12th July 1870.

By order of the High Court,

HIGH COURT,
The 3rd November 1873.

W. M. SOUTTAR,
Registrar.

PART II.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of lands no longer required by the Government, situated in the district of Moorshedabad, will be put up to sale at the Railway Deputy Collector's Office, Cynthea, adjoining the East Indian Railway Station, at 12 o'clock on Monday, the 10th day of November 1873, corresponding with 26th Kartik B.S.

The purchasers of these plots will be subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—If the amount of purchase money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.
2nd.—If the amount of purchase money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

3rd.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

4th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector confirming the sale. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final sanction of the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge should not be accorded to the proceedings.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

Notice is hereby given, under Article XVII (18) of the Rules of the Bengal Civil Fund, that the following propositions will be proposed at the Half-yearly General Meeting of subscribers to the Civil Fund, to be held in Calcutta in the month of January 1874:—

I.—That no surplus be declared or distributed, and that no scheme for increase of benefits or reduction of subscriptions be allowed to come into force until after reference to a professional Actuary; provided that any benefits that may be distributed shall have retrospective effect from the 1st April 1873.

II.—That in referring to the Actuary for a valuation of the Fund, he be supplied with information showing in detail the grounds for apprehending a future decrease in the average gross salaries of subscribers during their term of service, and that his advice be obtained as to the surplus, which should reasonably remain undistributed as a margin to ensure the solvency of the Fund while maintaining the present benefits and present rates of subscription.

In the event of the above resolutions being carried, it will be further moved "that a Committee, representing all grades of the service, be appointed to assist the Managers in giving effect to the second resolution."

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Eighth Publication.]

The following Bill as settled by the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, on the 13th September 1873, is by order of the President published for general information.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Embankments and Watercourses.

WHEREAS it is expedient that provision should be made for the better construction, maintenance, and management of embankments and watercourses in the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; It is enacted as follows:—

PART I.

Preliminary.

1. This Act may be called "The Bengal Embankment Act, 1873."

It extends to the whole of the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, except the province of Orissa and the Souderbuns as defined under the provisions of Clause 2; Section 13, Regulation III of 1828.

And it shall come into force on the day of the passing thereof.

2. From such day Act No. XXXII of 1855 (relating to embankments) and Bengal Act No. VII of 1866 (to make better provision for the acquisition of land for embankments and other matters relating thereto) shall, except so far as relates to the province of Orissa and the said Souderbuns, be repealed.

3. The following words shall, for the purposes of this Act, have the meanings hereby declared, save where, from the context, a contrary intention appears:—

"Estate" means—(1) Any land or share in land subject to the payment to Government of an annual sum, in respect of which the name of a proprietor is entered on the register, known as the general register of all revenue-paying estates, or in respect of which a separate account may, in pursuance of Section 10, or Section 11 of Act XI of 1859, have been opened;

(2) Any land entered in the register of revenue-free tenures;

(3) Any land acquired under any rules issued by or under authority of Government for the sale, grant, or clearance of waste lands.

"Embankment" includes every bank, dam, wall, and dyke, made or used for excluding water from, or for retaining water upon, any land, and every sluice, spur, groyne, training wall, or other work annexed to or portion of any such embankment, and every bank, dam, dyke, wall, groyne or spur made or erected for the protection of any such embankment or of any land from erosion or overflow by or of rivers, tides, waves, or waters; and also all buildings intended for purposes of inspection and supervision.

"Watercourse" includes a line of drainage, weir, culvert, pipe, or other channel for the passage of water, whether natural or artificial.

"Zemindar" means all or any of the holders of an estate; and where two or more zemindars are jointly holders thereof, they shall be jointly and severally liable under this Act.

"Tenure" includes all interests in land other than estates as above defined, held permanently at a fixed rental, or held lakhiraj.

"Proprietor" means the holder of a tenure.

"Public Embankment" means an embankment maintained by the officers of Government.

"Public watercourse" means any watercourse under the charge of the officers of Government.

"The Engineer" means the District Engineer or any Engineer specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of an Engineer under this Act.

"Collector" means any Collector, Deputy Collector or other Revenue Officer in independent charge of any district or portion of a district, or specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act.

"District" means the portion of territory throughout which any person vested with the powers of a Collector is authorized to exercise such powers.

"Land" includes interests in land and benefits arising out of land and things attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth.

PART II.

Powers of Collector and procedure thereon.

4. Under the conditions and in the manner hereinafter provided—

(1.) The Collector may cause any embankment which connects public embankments, or forms, by junction with them, part of a line of embankments, or any embankment or watercourse which is necessary for the protection or drainage of the neighbouring country, to be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government.

(2.) The Collector may cause to be removed or altered any embankment which endangers the stability of a public embankment, or any obstruction of any kind which interferes with the general drainage of any tract of land.

(3.) The Collector may, when necessary, change the line of or lengthen any public embankment; or make a new embankment in the place of or renew any public embankment; or make an embankment in any place in which he may deem such embankment required for the protection of any lands, or for the improvement of any watercourse; or make a sluice in any public embankment.

(4.) The Collector may construct any sluice or watercourse, or effect any alteration in any public watercourse, when such construction or alteration may be required for the improvement of the health, or for the protection of any village or cultivable land.

(5.) The Collector may call upon the person in charge of any road which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land to alter such road, or to construct any watercourse under or through such road. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Collector shall prescribe, the said Collector may cause the road to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the person in charge of the said road.

(6.) If any landholder, farmer, or cultivator be desirous of having a sluice made in any public embankment for the purpose of drainage or irrigation, he shall make an application in writing to the Collector of the district in which such embankment is situate. The application shall contain such particulars of the land to be drained or irrigated as may enable the Collector to judge of the advantage which may be derived from the work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

(7.) Whenever any person is desirous that any new embankment be erected, or that any new watercourse be made, or that any watercourse be obstructed or diverted, if such work is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede any public embankment or any public watercourse, he shall apply to the Collector, and at the time of making such application shall deposit with him a statement of the proposed work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

5. When it shall appear expedient to the Collector that any of the works specified in the last preceding section should be executed, he shall cause to be prepared plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map showing the boundaries of the various estates likely to be affected by the said works, and he shall cause a proclamation to be issued giving notice of his intention to cause such works to be executed. Such proclamation shall be in the form, and state the particulars mentioned in Schedule (A) annexed to this Act; and the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as aforesaid, shall be kept at the office of the Collector and shall be open to the inspection of any interested persons who shall be allowed to take copies thereof. The Collector shall not commence any of such works until final order made in respect thereto under the provisions of Sections 8, 50, and 60 of this Act.

6. Every such proclamation shall be published by affixing the same at the outer end of the Collector, and in the manner provided in the third clause of Section 57.

7. Every such proclamation shall be published not less than thirty days before the day appointed for hearing the persons interested.

Proclamation to be published for thirty days.

8. The Collector shall, on the day appointed for the hearing, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing shall be adjourned, hear the objections of any persons who may appear, and, after recording any evidence which they may adduce, shall pass an order in regard to the execution of the proposed works. Notice of such order shall be served on such persons as may have appeared in pursuance of the proclamation.

9. If the lands, which are likely to be affected by any such proposed works, are situated within the limits of different districts, the Collector of any district, within which any portion of such lands is situated, shall apply to the Commissioner of the division for authority to proceed in such matter; and the Commissioner of the division, if all the lands are situated within his division, may give authority to such Collector, or to any other Collector within whose district any portion of such lands is situated, to proceed in respect of all the lands likely to be affected by such works.

Authority to take proceedings where lands likely to be affected by the works are in different districts;

10. The districts, within which the lands likely to be affected by any such works are situated, are subject to the Commissioners of different divisions, the Collector shall apply to the Commissioner of the division within which his district is situated, and such Commissioner may, with the concurrence of the Commissioner to whom the other district is subject, give authority to proceed in such matter.

11. All the powers vested in the Collector by Section 4 of this Act, may be exercised by the Engineer in cases referred to him by the Collector subject to the general orders of the Collector.

The Collector may delegate certain powers to Engineer.

PART III.

Procedure in cases of imminent danger to life or property.

12. Whenever the Collector shall be of opinion that the proceedings commenced by notice under Sections 5 to 8 of this Act would cause delay in the exercise of any of the powers conferred upon him by Clauses 2, 3, and 4 of Section 4, likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to commence to exercise such powers. Provided that he shall forthwith cause to be prepared the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as provided in Section 5, and shall cause a proclamation to be issued as provided in that section giving notice that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall be had as in and by Part IV of this Act are directed.

13. Whenever any land, or earth from any land the property of any person, is required for the purposes of any works commenced in pursuance of the provisions of the last preceding section, or for the purposes of Section 18 in cases where the Collector shall be of opinion that proceedings for the acquisition of such land according to the provisions hereinafter contained in Section 25, would cause delay as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act, giving notice thereof at convenient places in the locality in which such land is situated, and he may at the same time take possession of the same for the said purposes.

14. The Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of the crops and trees (if any) standing on such land, and shall offer adequate compensation to the persons interested. If such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions of Section 29.

Compensation for standing crops and trees.

15. The Collector may depute to the Engineer the powers described in Sections 11, 12, and 13 subject to his own general orders, and in that case when the Collector is not present the Engineer may, if he shall be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Collector would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, exercise the powers conferred on him by the Collector.

Power to Engineer to act in absence of Collector.

16. Whenever, upon an inquiry had under the provisions of this Part, it has been determined in the final order to be passed on such inquiry that anything done by the Collector, or by the Engineer under the last preceding section was unnecessary, the land or the embankments or drainage shall, so far as any alteration thereof shall appear to be unnecessary, be at the expense of the Government restored as nearly as possible to the state in which they were when the Collector commenced to act under the provisions of this Part; and any person who shall have sustained loss, damage, or injury by the execution of such works, shall receive compensation from the Government to be assessed according to the provisions contained in Part V of this Act.

Power to restore embankments, &c.

17. The provisions of Section 9 shall be applicable to proceedings taken under this Part.

Section 9 to apply to proceedings under this Part.

PART IV.

Powers of Engineer.

18. The power conferred on the Engineer under this Part shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Collector.

Engineer subject to control of Collector.

19. The Engineer may make any repairs in, and may do all acts necessary and proper for the maintenance of any public embankment, public watercourse, or other work executed or taken charge of under the provisions of this Act, or of any of the Acts repealed by this Act.

Power to make repairs.

20. The Engineer may call upon the manager, or other person in charge of any railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land, to alter such railroad or to construct any watercourse under or through such railroad.

Power to alter railroads or construct watercourses.

In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Engineer shall prescribe, the Engineer may thereupon, with the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, cause the said railroad to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager, or other person in charge of the said railroad.

20. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary watercourse should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public watercourse, he shall apply to the Engineer, who shall communicate the application to the Collector, and the Collector shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making and closing or removing such watercourse or dam. If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

21. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated; and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, in accordance with the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870," or other law for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes, for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

22. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

23. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair, or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of towing to enlarge an existing towpath, or to construct a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

24. It shall be lawful for the Engineer, or any person whom he may authorize in that behalf, in order to carry out any of the purposes of this Act, to enter upon, and survey, and take levels of any land; to dig or bore into the sub-soil; to do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted to the purpose projected by such Engineer; or by the Collector; to set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon; to mark such levels, boundaries, and line, by placing marks and cutting trenches; and, where otherwise the survey cannot be completed or the levels taken, to cut down and clear away any part of any standing crop, fence, or jungle.

Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to Power to make temporary roadway, watercourse or dam.

Power to enter and survey land, &c.

Power to mark out line.

Power to clear land.

Power to remove houses.

Sluices to be opened or shut under authority of the Engineer.

Power to appropriate land or earth for embanked towpath.

be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of issuing the proclamation), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than one year next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

32. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the and;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of annoyance which has led to

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, hermes, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

35. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the time of the passing of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein, or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule except under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act, shall be paid by the Government.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (D), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule. Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (D) be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

36. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum voted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public, Collector to keep a separate account.

pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

37. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

38. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate, stating the true amount of all such expenses, and the names of the estates chargeable for, and of the estates and villages affected by, the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by any person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages, and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall inquire into such objection, and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

39. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under and incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts II and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the persons by whom, or in respect, of other works the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained.

Interest may be charged upon any sum paid as compensation from the date of payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding 5 per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

40. The said total sum, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed. Provided that where any specific sum has hitherto been annually demanded in respect of any embankment not included in Schedule (D), and when the said embankment is at the time of this Act coming into operation being maintained by Government, then such special payments shall, after the passing of this Act, thenceforth cease and determine.

Every zemindar, who is liable under this rule for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of every tenure which is declared to be a part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure by the Collector, under the provisions of Section 45. And similarly, every proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of any subordinate tenure which is declared to be a part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure by the Collector, under the said provisions.

2. Apportionment thereof.

41. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause a notice to be given before apportionment, notice to be served for every one of the said estates and villages mentioned in Section 38. Every such notice shall specify the estates and villages aforesaid, and that an inquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and proprietors the said total sum, with interest and the costs of apportionment.

42. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. In making this inquiry he shall receive such evidence as may be tendered by, or on behalf of, the said zemindars and proprietors, and by, or on behalf of, any other persons who may claim to be interested therein.

43. In any such inquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be proprietors of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein, and shall adjourn the inquiry till such date.

44. At such or any subsequently adjourned inquiry, the Collector, if there be only one estate liable, shall charge the zemindar thereof with the total amount payable; and if there be two or more estates, he shall apportion the same amongst the zemindars thereof, rateably in proportion to the respective benefits derived by such estates from such works or repairs; or in proportion to the areas of the lands benefited or protected hereby, and comprised within such estates respectively; or with the sanction of the local Government in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates, if, before the passing of this Act, such proportion has been usually adopted.

Provided that the said total amount payable in respect of the embankments on the right bank of the river Gunduk shall be chargeable, in accordance with the custom in force for such estates, to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the district of Sarup, in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates.

Provided also that the sum standing to the credit of a pergunnah in Schedule (E) in the account kept by the Collector, at the time when the total amount payable is fixed under the provisions of Section 39, shall be deducted from the total amount payable in respect of such portion of any embankment as is situated in such pergunnah; and that the zemindars of the estates situated therein shall be charged only with the balance of the amount (if any) which may remain payable.

45. The Collector shall, in like manner, apportion, except in respect of the said Gunduk embankments, the amount payable in respect of each estate amongst all the tenures therein rateably in the proportion of benefit so received or area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as, on the like principle of proportion, is payable in respect of such portion of the estate as is not included within any tenure.

46. All lands held without payment of rent not being estates entered in the register of revenue-free tenures, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal and signature, declare.

47. The amount apportioned to any estate or tenure shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of the same becoming due until payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time determine.

48. On the completion of the apportionment the Collector shall make an order specifying the estates and tenures, and the several sums payable in respect thereof, the instalments of such sums, and the dates on which the same are payable.

3. Recovery thereof.

49. The Collector shall, within thirty days from the final order of apportionment, make and serve for every estate therein mentioned an order, stating the amount with interest due in respect thereof, and that the same is payable to him; and the date or dates at which such amount or instalments thereof shall become payable to him.

50. If such sum or any instalment thereof be not, pursuant to the said order, paid, the same with interest shall be recoverable as arrears of a demand under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue).

51. Every zemindar or proprietor to whom any sum or instalment thereof is payable under the said order, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of putnee tenures by the provisions of Clauses 2 and 3 of Section 8, Sections 9, 10, 14, 15, and Clauses 1, 2, and 3 of Section 17 of Regulation VIII of 1819, as amended by Bengal Act VIII of 1865; provided that the right or interest of any person holding from the proprietor of such tenure shall not be affected by any sale held under these provisions.

PART VII.

Miscellaneous.

52. Whoever wilfully obstructs any person duly authorized under this Act in removing or levelling any embankment, house, hut, or other building, or in the lawful exercise of any of the powers in this Act conferred, shall, in case such obstruction shall not amount to an offence within the provisions of the Indian Penal Code, be liable to imprisonment of either description for any period not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the Magistrate, or to fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, commutable, if not paid, to a period of imprisonment not exceeding six months.

53. Every person who, without the previous permission of the Engineer, shall erect, or cause or wilfully permit to be erected, any new embankment, or shall obstruct or divert, or cause or wilfully permit to be obstructed or diverted, any watercourse, if such embankment or watercourse is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede, any public embankment or any public watercourse, or shall abet any such act, shall be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or in default of payment, to imprisonment of either description for a period not exceeding six months.

54. No person shall, without due authority, cut through, or attempt to cut through, any public embankment, or destroy, or attempt to destroy any such embankment, or open or shut, or obstruct any sluice in any such embankment, or any public watercourse; and every person who shall commit any breach of the provisions of this section shall, in case the act shall not amount to mischief within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding one month, or to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

55. Every person who shall make any dam or other obstruction for the purpose of diverting or opposing the current of a river, wherein or whereon there are public embankments, without the permission of the officer in immediate charge of the embankments, or shall refuse or neglect to remove any such dam or obstruction when so required by the Engineer, or shall cut or otherwise alter the banks of any embanked river, or shall remove the earth from any public embankment, or shall drive stakes into it, or by any other wilful act destroy or diminish the efficiency of such embankment; and every person who shall cause or knowingly and wilfully permit any cattle to graze upon any such embankment, or shall tether, or cause or wilfully permit any cattle to be tethered upon any such embankment, or who shall root up any grass or other vegetation growing on any such embankment, shall be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

56. Whenever any person is convicted of an offence under either of the three last preceding sections, the convicting Magistrate may order that he shall remove the embankment or obstruction, or repair the damage, in respect of which the conviction is held, within a period to be fixed in such order. If such person neglects or refuses to obey such order within the fixed period, the Engineer may remove such embankment or obstruction or repair such damage, and the cost of such removal or repair shall be levied from such person in addition to any other penalty in the manner provided in Section 307 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

57. Every proclamation, notice or order in and by this Act required to be served may, unless when otherwise provided, be served—

(1) by delivering a copy of the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service by posting a copy on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person resides, or by delivering a copy to any agent authorized to appear generally for the person to whom such proclamation, notice or order is directed; or

(2) by sending a registered letter containing a copy of such proclamation, notice or order directed to the said person at his usual place of abode, or at the place where he may be known to reside; or

(3) by posting a copy of the proclamation, notice or order at the mal-cutcherry of the estate, village or tenure to which the same relates; or if no such mal-cutcherry be found, on some conspicuous place on the said estate, village or tenure, and by delivering, in the case of estates paying their annual revenue by four instalments, another copy thereof to the agent who shall have paid an instalment of revenue next before or after the preparation of such proclamation, notice or order. In all cases where two or more persons are holders of an estate, village or tenure service under this clause shall be deemed to be good and sufficient service on each and all of such persons.

58. No proceedings under this Act shall be impeached or affected by reason of any mistake in the name of any person thereby rendered liable to pay any sum of money, or in the description of any estate or tenure or land in respect of which he is rendered liable to pay; provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall for want of form be quashed or set aside in any Court of Justice.

59. Every order passed by the Collector in respect to applications under Section 4, Clauses 6 and 7, or under Sections 8, 39, and 48, shall be appealable to the Commissioner of Revenue, and every order of the Commissioner, except when otherwise directed by this Act, shall be appealable to the Board of Revenue, but no appeal shall lie under this section against any order unless the same be presented within one month from the date of the order.

60. Subject to the right of appeal above mentioned and to the order and control of Government, every order passed under the provisions aforesaid shall be final, and shall not be open to revision by any Civil Court.

61. In any inquiry or appeal held under this Act, the Collector and the Commissioner shall respectively have the same powers as those conferred on Courts by the Code of Civil Procedure of summoning and examining witnesses and compelling the production of documents.

62. All the powers of a Collector under this Act shall be exercised under the general control and orders of the Commissioner of the Division, and all the powers of Collectors and Commissioners shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Board of Revenue and of the Government.

63. Whenever the maintenance of any public embankment, or the retention of any land appropriated to the purposes thereof, may no longer be required, and the permanent relinquishment of the same may be deemed expedient, such land shall be conveyed by the Collector to the proprietor of the land, within the limits of which it may be situated, on payment of the compensation, if any, which was paid for such land when the same was taken for the purpose of the embankment. If the proprietor of such lands refuse or neglect to pay such price within a reasonable time after demand, the same shall be sold by the Collector for such price as he can obtain for the same. All sums obtained for the conveyance of lands under the provisions of this section shall, after the payment of all expenses incurred on account of the same, be applied to the payment of the cost of any new embankment or drainage works affecting the said lands, and in such case the residue only of the cost of such new works shall be charged upon the emindars of estates benefited as hereinbefore provided.

64. A Collector may delegate any of his powers under this Act to a Deputy Collector, but from any order passed by a Deputy Collector to whom powers have been so delegated, an appeal shall lie to the Collector if presented within thirty days of the date of the order.

65. All offences created by this Act shall be inquired into and tried by a Magistrate of the first or second class.

66. Nothing in this Act shall affect the provisions of "the Hooghly and Burdwan Drainage Act 1871."

The 25th August 1873.

As I am going to England for three or four months, I shall be unable to sign the final report of the Select Committee, but having attended nearly all meetings up to this date, I wish to record my general assent to the Bill with the alterations and amendments agreed to by the Select Committee so far as they have at present been considered, viz. to Section 99.

25th June 1873.

B. D. COLVIN.

I agree to the report, but think that the objections raised to the Sections 105, 108, 109, and 111 in Act II of 1870 (being part of the Bill, Sections 125, 126, 127, and 128,) still hold good.

T. M. ROBINSON.

A Bill to amend the law relating to the emigration of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and to regulate contract labor and services.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law regulating the emigration of native inhabitants of India from or through the provinces subject to the Government of Bengal to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and the manner of engaging and contracting with native inhabitants of the said provinces to proceed to the said districts, and providing for the protection of the persons so proceeding, and for the enforcement of the contracts of service entered into by them; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Chapter 1.—Application and Miscellaneous.

1. This Act may be called "The Labor Districts Emigration Act."

2. Bengal Act II of 1870 (to consolidate and amend the law relating to the transport of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and their employment therein) is hereby repealed. All contracts entered into, appointments made, and licenses granted, under the said Act, or any of the Acts thereby repealed, shall be deemed to have been respectively entered into, made, and granted under this Act.

3. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—

"India" means the territories for the time being vested in Her Majesty by the Statute 21 and 22 Vic. cap. 106, entitled "An Act for the better government of India," other than the settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca.

"The Labor Districts" means the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and "a labor district" means one of those districts.

"Magistrate" includes a magistrate of a district or of a division of a district, and any magistrate of the first and second class, and any magistrate of police for the town of Calcutta.

"Employer" means the chief person for the time being in charge of any lands upon which laborers may be employed.

"Emigrant" means any native of India above the age of sixteen years who has engaged with any garden-sirdar or recruiter to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring therein for hire, and has been registered as hereinafter provided.

"Laborer" means any emigrant who has been conveyed to a labor district in accordance with a contract made under the provisions of Bengal Act III of 1866, Bengal Act VI of 1866, Bengal Act II of 1870, or this Act, during the duration of such contract.

"Vessel" includes a steamer, a flat, a boat, and anything made for the conveyance by water of human beings or property.

"Master" means the person for the time being in charge of a vessel.

4. The provisions of part II of this Act regarding emigration shall not apply to domestic servants, or to any person proceeding alone, or accompanied by his family only, or to any persons not exceeding twenty in number proceeding to a labor district to labor for hire, without the intervention, direct or indirect, of any person employed to induce natives of India to emigrate to a labor district. In computing the number of persons two children under the age of ten years shall be reckoned as one person only.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time make rules consistent with this Act, and from time to time alter, vary, and revoke such rules:—

(1)—To regulate the subordination of the several officers of emigration to the superintendent.

(2)—To prescribe the periodical returns and reports to be made by the emigration officers, by magistrates, and by the inspectors of laborers.

(3)—To prescribe the amount of the several fees to be paid under the provisions of this Act.

(4)—To provide for the management and regulation of contractors' depôts and of hospital depôts.

(5)—To provide for the medical care of emigrants during their residence at the depôts, and during transport to a labor district.

(6)—To prescribe the nature, quality, and quantity of medical drugs and other stores to be carried on vessels taking emigrants.

(7)—To prescribe the clothing to be supplied to emigrants while proceeding to a labor district.

(8)—To prescribe the description, quantity, and quality of provisions to be taken by vessels carrying emigrants, and the daily allowance to be issued to each emigrant during the journey.

(9)—To provide for the ventilation and cleanliness of vessels during the journey, to prescribe the number of officers, cooks, and other servants, and to provide for their control; and to provide generally for the accommodation of emigrants.

(10)—To provide for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of all emigrants detained at any place by order of a magistrate on account of sickness.

(11)—To provide for the periodical inspection of laborers, and the books to be kept by inspectors of laborers.

(12)—To provide for the house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and supply of rice to be provided by employers for their laborers.

(13)—To provide for the hospital accommodation and medical care of laborers, and to prescribe the nature, quality, and quantity of medical drugs and other stores to be provided for them.

The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time fix penalties not inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Act for infringements of any such rules, which may be enforced and recovered as other penalties under this Act on conviction by a magistrate: Provided that no penalty shall exceed five hundred rupees.

All such rules, with the penalties (if any) for their infringement, shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall be separately printed and sold to the public at 4 annas for each copy.

6. Every contract made with an emigrant, and all arrears of wages due under any such contract, and all fines imposed on any employer under the provisions of this Act, shall be a charge upon the lands upon which such laborer has been engaged to work.

Contract made with emigrant is a charge upon the land; and is transferred with the land.

The owner of such lands for the time being shall have all rights and remedies against such laborer, as if such owner had been originally the party executing such contract as employer.

No person, after he has ceased to be the owner of such lands, nor his property nor effects, shall be in anywise liable or responsible for any breach of such contract which may have occurred after he has ceased to be such owner.

Determination of ownership determines liability.

7. Any engagement or contract made under the provisions of this Act by a native of India, who is above the age of sixteen years, shall be held valid.

Any person above the age of 16 years may contract.

8. All offences against this Act committed without the town of Calcutta shall be inquired into and tried according to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and all offences against this Act committed within the said town shall be inquired into and tried by a police magistrate of the said town according to the provisions of the laws regulating the investigation and trial of offences within the said town, which shall be for the time being in force.

Procedure on trial of offences created by Act.

9. For every offence against the provisions of this Act, for which no special penalty or amount of fine is prescribed, the offender shall on conviction by a Magistrate be punished with a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees. Wherever in this Act no special term of imprisonment is appointed in default of payment of the fine, the offender shall be liable to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding one month.

Penalty for any offence not especially provided for.

PART II.—EMIGRATION.

Chapter 2.—Restrictions and Appointment of Officers.

10. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in case he shall be of opinion that the emigration of natives of India from any district, or to any particular part of any labor district, for the purpose of becoming laborers, is likely to be attended with danger to the health of any native so emigrating or others, or if the Lieutenant-Governor has reason to believe that a political disturbance is likely to occur in any labor district, to prohibit, by an order under his hand, the emigration of such natives from such district, or to such labor district or particular part thereof, and from time to time to revoke or vary any such order; and every such order or variation or revocation thereof shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

11. Any person who shall knowingly engage native so to emigrate while any natives contrary to such order. such order. Penalty on engaging natives contrary to such order. prohibited under the provisions of the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every native who may have been so engaged.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor may appoint a proper person to be the superintendent of emigration at Calcutta, and may also appoint proper persons to be embarkation agents and medical inspectors of emigrants at any places where he may think proper, and define by notification in the Calcutta Gazette the local limits within which each such officer shall exercise the powers and authority conferred upon him by this Act. He may at any time suspend or remove any such officer.

Appointment of superintendent of emigration, embarkation agents, and medical inspectors.

13. It shall be lawful for any employer to engage, by the agency of a garden-sirdar, or by the agency of a contractor, natives of India to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring therein for hire upon lands of which such employer is in charge.

Employer may recruit by garden-sirdar.

14. It shall be lawful for the superintendent of emigration to grant to such persons as he may think fit licenses to act as contractors for engaging and supplying persons for the purpose of laboring for hire in the labor districts, or to act in behalf of some contractor as recruiters for engaging persons to proceed to the said districts for the purpose of laboring therein for hire.

Superintendent may license contractors and recruiters.

15. From and after the commencement of this Act, whoever shall, otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, engage any native of India in any of the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to proceed to any or either of the labor districts for the purpose of laboring there for hire; and whoever shall, otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, convey any such native through any of the said provinces to any or either of the labor districts for the purpose of laboring there for hire, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with a fine for every person so engaged or conveyed.

Natives of India shall not be engaged to proceed to the labor districts, or be conveyed there, save under this Act.

Penalty.

16. Whoever, not being a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, shall otherwise than through or by the agency of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar engage any native of India to proceed to any of the labor be conveyed to any labor district, unless and until he shall have entered into a duly registered contract with some person to serve such person there for a fixed period, which shall in no case exceed the term of three years from the date of his arrival on the estate of his employer in the said labor district. Every such contract shall be in the form in Schedule (A) annexed to this Act, and shall be reduced to writing, and shall specify the monthly amount of wages in money, the period of service, the name of the district in which the service is to be performed, and the price at which rice is to be supplied to the laborer.

Form and particulars of contract.

Chapter 3.—Garden-sirdar.

18. Every garden-sirdar, authorized by an employer under the provisions of section 13 to engage natives of India to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring therein for hire, shall, before proceeding to engage any such native, personally present to the magistrate of the district, or division of the district, within which is situate the estate of the employer, a certificate signed by such employer, in which shall be stated the name and description of such garden-sirdar, the name and description of the lands for the purpose of laboring upon which he is about to engage such natives, the district (or the town of Calcutta, as the case may be) in which he is about to engage them, the number which he is authorized to engage, and, if the number exceeds twenty, the name of the contractor to whose depôt they shall be conveyed. The certificate shall be in the form set forth in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act.

Garden-sirdar to obtain certificate from employer, and to present it to magistrate.

19. Such magistrate shall inquire into the facts stated in such certificate, and, upon being satisfied that the same are true, shall, unless it appears to him that the person so presenting such certificate is unfit to be employed for the purpose of engaging natives to proceed to a labor district to labor therein for hire, countersign and date such certificate; and every such certificate shall be in force for six months from the date last mentioned, and no longer.

20. If, under his certificate from his employer, any garden-sirdar is authorized to engage more than twenty natives of India, he shall be in all respects, save as regards his certificate, subject to the provisions of this Act which relate to recruiters. The following rules of this chapter shall apply to every garden-sirdar who is not authorized to engage more than twenty such natives.

Garden-sirdar who is not a Recruiter.

21. A garden-sirdar shall not have authority in any district under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to engage or attempt to engage a native of India to become an emigrant, until his certificate has been countersigned by the magistrate of such district or of such division of the district; or in Calcutta, until his certificate has been countersigned by the commissioner or the deputy commissioner of police in Calcutta.

It shall be lawful for such magistrate, in case of misconduct or disobedience to or neglect of any of the provisions of this Act by a garden-sirdar, to cancel the certificate of such garden-sirdar.

Magistrate may cancel certificate.

22. Every native of India, who enters into an engagement with a garden-sirdar to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring for hire, shall appear with the garden-sirdar before the magistrate of the district or of the division of the district within which the engagement was made, or through which he shall first pass on the road to his destination. The garden-sirdar shall at the same time produce his certificate to the Magistrate.

23. On the appearance of such native the ma-

Magistrate to examine native, and if the examination is satisfactory, to register particulars;

gistrate shall examine him with reference to his engagement; and, if it appears that he understands such engagement as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, the rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the magistrate shall register, in a book to be kept for the purpose, the following particulars, viz.—

- (1)—The name, the name of the father, and the age of such native;
- (2)—The name of the village or place of which such native is a resident;
- (3)—The labor district to which he is engaged to proceed;
- (4)—The period of service;
- (5)—The rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied.

Provided that the magistrate may, if he thinks fit, require such native to appear before such medical officer as he may direct, and may refuse to register such native, unless the medical officer certifies in writing that he is in a fit state of health and able in point of physical condition to journey to and work for hire in a labor district.

24. If the magistrate finds that such native does not understand the nature of the engagement, or has been induced to enter into the engagement by fraud or misrepresentation, or if the garden-sirdar shall not have produced his certificate, he shall refuse to register such native.

Magistrate, &c., may refuse to register.

25. For the registration of every such native the garden-sirdar shall pay to the registering officer a fee not exceeding one rupee and eight annas.

Fee to be paid for registration.

26. When such registration has been made, the emigrant shall execute a contract with the employer with whom he intends to contract. Such contract shall, in the presence of the magistrate, be signed in duplicate both by the emigrant and by the garden-sirdar on behalf of his employer. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper. An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the magistrate for the purpose; and after such abstract has been so entered, one of the duplicates shall be given to the emigrant and the other to the garden-sirdar.

Contract to be executed in duplicate and abstract to be entered in book to be kept by the magistrate;

The magistrate shall forward a certified copy of every such abstract so entered as aforesaid to the superintendent of emigration, by whom it shall be forwarded, after entry in his own register, to the magistrate of the district within which the service under such contract is agreed to be performed.

and copy to be sent to superintendent and magistrate.

27. The provisions of the six last preceding sections shall be applicable to natives of India engaged by a garden-sirdar within the town of Calcutta, except that they shall appear for registration and execution of contract before the superintendent of emigration.

Similar provisions for natives recruited in Calcutta.

28. Every native of India who shall be brought or induced to come by any garden-sirdar from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract to proceed to the labor districts to labor therein for hire, shall be presented by the garden-sirdar for registry under the provisions of this chapter at some place within the district under the control of the said Lieutenant-Governor into which he shall first come, or at Calcutta, if he shall first come there.

Natives recruited in districts not in Bengal.

29. The garden-sirdar shall personally accompany natives of India engaged by him throughout their journey from the place in which the engagement was made to the place in which they are to be employed.

Garden-sirdar must personally accompany emigrants.

30. It shall not be lawful for two or more garden-sirdars to proceed together towards a labor-district accompanied by emigrants, if the total number of such emigrants exceeds twenty, or unless the permission of the superintendent of emigration or embarkation agent shall have been first obtained.

Garden-sirdar cannot proceed with more than twenty emigrants in one batch.

31. Every garden-sirdar, by whom any grant is accompanied, shall provide such emigrant with proper and sufficient food and lodging throughout such journey. If it shall appear to any magistrate, on the complaint of any such emigrant, at any place on the journey that he has suffered any ill-treatment during the journey or that the garden-sirdar has failed to provide him with proper and sufficient food and lodging; or if it be found on examination by a medical officer appointed by a magistrate for such purpose, that any such emigrant is not in a fit state of health to proceed to or to labor in a labor-district; such magistrate may order the garden sirdar to pay to such emigrant a sum of money by way of compensation, or may cancel the contract and order the garden-sirdar to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged.

Garden-sirdar must provide food and lodging for emigrants on journey.

If such not provided, or if emigrant unfit, magistrate may award compensation, or cancel contract.

32. If any garden-sirdar, who may be ordered under the provisions of the last preceding section to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the magistrate to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the emigrant named in such order, and to recover from his employer the sum so advanced with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

Recovery of fines ordered to be paid by Magistrate.

33. On the arrival in Calcutta of any emigrant whose contract has been executed by a garden-sirdar on behalf of his employer, any person empowered to act as the agent or representative of such employer may require the emigrant to appear before the superintendent of emigration for the purpose of cancelling the contract. The superintendent of emigration shall, on the appearance of such emigrant, declare that the contract is cancelled, if a sum of money sufficient for his support during his return to the place at which he was engaged, be paid to him before himself, and not otherwise, and shall make an endorsement to that effect on the contract, and shall attest it with his signature. Provided that the contract of any husband or wife or parent or child of such emigrant, who may have executed a contract at the same time with the same employer, shall be cancelled at the request of such person, and in such case an equal sum of money shall be paid to such person.

Agent in Calcutta may procure order from superintendent of emigration cancelling the contract on payment of expense of return.

34. It shall not be lawful for a garden-sirdar to embark any emigrants on board a vessel for conveyance to or towards a labor district, if the total number of persons to be carried by such vessel, exclusive of the crew and of any garden-sirdar accompanying the emigrants, exceeds twenty, unless such emigrants are furnished with a pass by the embarkation agent in the form set forth in schedule (E) annexed to this Act.

Not to embark emigrants on any vessel containing more than twenty persons without a pass from the embarkation agent.

The embarkation agent shall not grant any such pass without a certificate from the medical inspector that such emigrants may be allowed to embark without danger to the health of other persons on board the vessel.

35. As soon as possible after the arrival of the garden-sirdar with emigrants at the place of disembarkation, or at the nearest civil station in the district within which the emigrant has engaged to labor, the garden-sirdar shall report himself to the magistrate of the district or division of the district or to any subordinate magistrate whom the magistrate may depute for that purpose, and such magistrate shall check the number of emigrants landed with the number of those registered, and shall report to the superintendent of emigration any deaths which may have occurred on the journey. Any garden-sirdar who neglects to report himself as aforesaid shall on conviction by a magistrate be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to three months.

Chapter 4.—Contractor.

36. The license granted to a contractor under section 14 shall be in the form set forth in the schedule (C) annexed to this Act. For every license there shall be paid to the superintendent of emigration a fee not exceeding one hundred rupees. Every such license shall be in force for one year and no longer; and in case of misconduct or disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act by a contractor, the superintendent may cancel his license before the expiration of such period.

37. It shall be the duty of every contractor to afford such information to the superintendent of emigration, and to make such returns and reports to him as the superintendent, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, may from time to time require.

38. Every contractor shall forthwith, upon obtaining his license, establish a depôt in a place to be approved of by the superintendent of emigration. Every such depôt shall be maintained by such contractor for the reception of natives of India to be supplied or forwarded by or through him. All such natives shall on their arrival at or in the neighbourhood of the depôt so established by the contractor, by, through, to, or for whom they were engaged or forwarded, be forthwith received therein; and shall receive in such depôt, at the expense of such contractor, suitable lodging, food, clothing, and medical attendance, until such native shall be declared by the superintendent to be no longer thereto entitled. Every such depôt as aforesaid shall be under the supervision of the superintendent, and shall be open to his inspection and the inspection of the medical inspector at all times.

39. A contractor may without other license act as a recruiter, and shall in such case be subject to all the provisions hereinafter contained with regard to recruiters.

40. In addition to the depôts for the reception of emigrants which the contractors are required to establish and maintain, the Lieutenant-Governor may at any time direct that a separate depôt shall be established and maintained at any place for the reception of emigrants who are affected with cholera or other contagious disease. Whenever such hospital depôt is established, every contractor may be required to contribute to the expense of establishing and maintaining it in such proportion as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct. Such hospital depôt shall be under the charge of the medical inspector, who shall be competent at any time to direct the transfer thereto of any emigrants on or after their arrival at any depôt.

Chapter 5.—Recruiter.

41. The license granted to a recruiter under section 14 shall be in the form set forth in schedule (D) annexed to this Act. For every license there shall be paid to the superintendent of emigration a fee not exceeding sixteen rupees. Every such license shall be in force for one year and no longer; and in case of misconduct or disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act by a recruiter, the superintendent may cancel his license before the expiration of such period.

42. Every recruiter shall hold a written pass signed by the contractor or on whose behalf he is licensed to act.

43. A recruiter shall not have authority in any district under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to engage or attempt to engage a native of India to become an emigrant until his license has been countersigned by the magistrate of the district, or of the division of the district, or in Calcutta, until his license has been countersigned by the commissioner or the deputy commissioner of police in Calcutta; and such magistrate or commissioner or deputy commissioner of police shall, unless it appears to him that the person to whom a license has been granted is unfit to be employed as a recruiter, countersign such license.

The magistrate or commissioner or deputy commissioner of police may at any time for any sufficient reason withdraw such license, provided that in any such case he shall record his reasons in writing, and shall forward a copy thereof without delay to the superintendent of emigration.

44. The magistrate or the commissioner or deputy commissioner of police in Calcutta, to whom any recruiter's license shall have been exhibited for countersignature, shall not countersign the same until he shall be satisfied that sufficient accommodation has been provided and is available for such natives of India as may be engaged by such recruiter pending their removal to a depôt.

The magistrate of the district, or division of the district, in which there may be any such accommodation provided, shall have, for the supervision, management, and regulation of such accommodation, all such and the same powers and authorities as are vested in the superintendent of emigration for the supervision, management, and regulation of depôts which are subject to the powers and authority of the superintendent.

45. Every native of India who shall, in any place or town within the said provinces, enter into any engagement with any recruiter to proceed to a labor district, for the purpose of laboring for hire, shall be brought by such recruiter before such medical officer as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time appoint to examine such natives within such place or town; or, if no such officer has been appointed, before such medical officer as the magistrate may direct. The medical officer shall thereupon examine the native brought by the recruiter, and shall reject him or shall certify in writing that he is in a fit state of health and able, in point of physical condition, to journey to and work for hire in a labor district.

46. Every such native who is certified by the medical officer, as required in the last preceding section, to be fit to emigrate to a labor district, shall thereupon appear with the recruiter before the magistrate of the district or division of the district within which the place or town where the engagement was entered into is situate. The recruiter shall at the same time produce his license to the magistrate.

On the appearance of such native the magistrate, after inspecting the medical certificate, shall examine him with reference to his engagement, and if it appears that he understands such engagement as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, the rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the magistrate shall register in a book to be kept for the purpose—

- (1.) The name, the name of the father, and the age of such native;
- (2.) The name of the village or place of which such native is a resident;
- (3.) The contractor's depôt to which it is intended that he shall proceed;
- (4.) The labor district to which he is engaged to proceed;
- (5.) The period of service;
- (6.) The rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied.

If the magistrate thinks that such native does not understand the nature of the engagement, or has been induced to enter into the engagement by fraud or misrepresentation, or if the recruiter shall not have produced his license, he shall refuse to register such native.

47. A certified copy of his registration, written on substantial paper, shall be furnished by the magistrate to each emigrant.

48. A certified copy of every such registration and the original certificate of the medical officer shall be forthwith forwarded by the magistrate to the superintendent of emigration.

49. For the registration of every such native the recruiter shall pay to the registering officer a fee not exceeding one rupee and eight annas.

50. The provisions of the five preceding sections shall be applicable to all natives of India engaged by recruiters within the town of Calcutta, except that they shall be brought for registration before the superintendent of emigration therein.

51. Every native of India who shall be brought or induced to come by any recruiter from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract in a district under such control, shall be presented by the recruiter for medical examination and registry under the provisions of this chapter at some place within the district under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor, into which he shall first come, or at Calcutta, if he shall first come there.

52. Every recruiter, who forwards or accompanies any native of India from the district or division of the district within which the place or town where he has been recruited is situate, or into which, under the last preceding section, he has first come, or who induces any such native to leave such district or division of district for the purpose of proceeding to a labor district, without being duly registered as above required; or who forwards, accompanies, or induces any such native to proceed to any depôt other than the depôt registered under section 38, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished in respect of every such native so forwarded, accompanied, or induced, with a fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term which may extend to one month.

53. All emigrants proceeding to a depôt shall be accompanied throughout the journey by the recruiter himself, or by a competent person appointed by him with the approval of the magistrate, by whom such emigrants have been registered. The magistrate shall give to the person so appointed a certificate under his signature stating that he has been appointed for the journey to the depôt.

54. Every recruiter, by whom any emigrant is forwarded or accompanied to a depôt, shall, throughout the journey, provide such emigrant with proper and sufficient food and lodging. If it shall appear to a at any place on the journey, that the recruiter has failed to provide him with proper and sufficient food and lodging at such place, such recruiter shall, on conviction by such magistrate, be punished with fine which may extend to fifty rupees. The whole or any portion of such fine may be awarded to such emigrant as compensation. If the fine be not paid within twenty-four hours, the recruiter shall be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to one month.

is in such a state of health that his journey to a labor district would be dangerous to himself or to others, or that he is fit for labor in a labor district, the superintendent may order the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, if such emigrant has been forwarded or ought to the depôt by a garden-sirdar, to pay him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged. Provided that any such person, who from his state of health is, in the opinion of the medical inspector, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was engaged, shall, if he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey, be fed, clothed, lodged, medically attended at the expense of such contractor, or of such garden-sirdar, as the case may be. Such contractor or garden-sirdar negligently or fully omits to provide food, clothing, lodging, medical attendance for such person, the superintendent may order such contractor or garden-sirdar to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation.

whenever an emigrant remains behind or is detained under the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant, as the case may be, to remain with the emigrant so remaining behind or detained. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain behind with the father or mother.

Family of detained emigrant may remain with him.

medical inspector as in a fit state of health and able, in point of physical condition, to journey to and labor in a labor district, shall execute a contract with the employer with whom he intends to contract before he is forwarded from the depôt. Such contract shall, in the presence of the superintendent of emigration, be signed in duplicate both by the emigrant and by the employer with whom he intends to contract or his agent. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper. Before the emigrant signs the contract, the superintendent shall personally explain it to him, and shall attest such contract and certify at the foot thereof that he has personally explained the same. An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the superintendent for the purpose, and after such contract has been so entered, one of the duplicates shall be given to the emigrant, and the other to the person with whom he has contracted or his agent.

The superintendent shall, within seven days after the entry of such abstract, send by post a certified copy of every such abstract to the magistrate of the district in which the service under such contract is agreed to be performed.

61. Any emigrant who, without reasonable cause, refuses to execute such contract in conformity with the engagement previously registered shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with a fine equal in amount to the entire cost incurred by, or on behalf of, the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, as the case may be, in engaging, registering, and bringing or forwarding him to the depôt, and shall forthwith be discharged from such contract.

contractor or garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom the person from whom such fine shall have been levied was originally registered.

62. If within thirty days after the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, the contractor or, if he has been engaged by a garden-sirdar, the garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom such emigrant has been registered, shall not tender to him for execution such contract as under the provisions of the preceding sections he would be bound to execute, the superintendent may order the contractor or the garden-sirdar, as the case may be, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place where he was engaged, and in such case such emigrant shall not be bound to execute any contract.

63. If any contractor or garden-sirdar who may be ordered, under the provisions of sections 57, 59, and 62, to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the superintendent to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the person named in such order, and to recover from such contractor or garden-sirdar or his employer the sum so advanced, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

Chapter 7.—Transport.

64. The provisions of this chapter excepting sections 70, 79, 80, 81, 82, and so much of section 97 as refers to sections 29, 31, 32, and 33, shall not apply to the transport of emigrants recruited by a garden-sirdar when the number of such emigrants does not exceed twenty, unless they have embarked under a pass from the embarkation agent in accordance with the provisions of section 34.

65. When the contract of any emigrant has been duly executed, he may, with the permission of the superintendent of emigration, be forwarded to the labor district in which he has engaged to labor by the contractor in whose depôt he is residing, or by the employer with whom he has made the contract or his agent. Every such emigrant shall be furnished with a pass in the form set forth in schedule (E) annexed to this Act, signed by the contractor or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, and countersigned by the superintendent of emigration and by the embarkation agent at the place at which the laborer embarks, specifying his name and age, the name of his father, the place of his destination, and the name of his employer. Every such pass shall be entered in a book to be kept by the embarkation agent, and shall be dated and numbered in a consecutive series.

66. It shall not be lawful for the master of any vessel, without a license granted by the embarkation agent within the local limits of whose authority any emigrant may embark, to convey more than twenty emigrants at any one time to or towards any labor district; provided always that of the crew and of any garden-sirdar accompanying emigrants) carried by any vessel shall not exceed twenty, unless the emigrants are furnished with a pass under the provisions of section 34.

A fee not exceeding four annas for every emigrant shall be paid for every such license, and it shall be in the discretion of the embarkation agent to whom application is made to grant or withhold any such license. Such license shall be in force for only one voyage to one or more of the labor districts, and shall specify the number of emigrants which the vessel is licensed to carry and the number of persons (including the crew) other than emigrants whom such vessel is licensed to carry.

The master of any vessel, in which at one time more than twenty emigrants are conveyed without a license having been obtained as aforesaid, or in which the number of persons on board (exclusive of the crew and of any garden-sirdar accompanying emigrants) exceeds twenty, unless the emigrants are furnished with a pass under the provisions of section 34, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

67. Such license shall state the date on which the vessel shall leave the place at which the emigrants are to embark. If the vessel does not leave such place and proceed on its voyage within 24 hours of the day fixed, the master thereof shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for each day during which the vessel remains at or within five miles of the place of embarkation. Provided that such penalty shall not be incurred if the delay is caused by or with the sanction of the embarkation agent or by any casualty incidental to or attending navigation, or is due to other reasonable and sufficient cause.

68. If the master of any vessel, after having obtained a license as aforesaid, fraudulently does or suffers to be done any act or thing whereby the state of the vessel is altered, so that such vessel is unfit for the accommodation of the number of emigrants mentioned in such license, such master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

69. The master of any vessel licensed to carry emigrants, who receives on board his vessel a greater number of emigrants or other persons than the number specified in his license shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with a fine for every emigrant or other person so received in excess of the licensed number.

70. In computing under this Act the number of persons on board of any vessel, two children under the age of ten years shall be reckoned as one person only.

71. The master of any vessel, whether licensed or not, shall not take on board any emigrant, if the number of such emigrants exceeds twenty, unless such emigrant, or some person accompanying him, shall show the pass prescribed by section 65.

number of persons to be carried by such vessel (exclusive of the crew or of any garden-sirdar accompanying emigrants) exceeds twenty, unless the emigrants are furnished with a pass under the provisions of section 84. The master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with a fine not exceeding ten rupees for every emigrant illegally taken on board.

72. The master of a licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall not proceed on the voyage towards a labor district until he has received from the embarkation agent a list of all the emigrants on board.

embarkation agent and the master of the vessel shall together personally ascertain that the number of emigrants on board corresponds with the number entered in such list.

If the master of such vessel allows any emigrant not entered in such list to proceed in the vessel, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty for admitting emigrants not in list.

The embarkation agent shall send a copy of the said list or an extract from it to the magistrate of the labor district to which any of the emigrants are proceeding.

Copy of list to be sent to magistrate.

73. There shall be laden under the supervision of the embarkation agent on board of any licensed vessel carrying emigrants to or towards any labor district, at the time of the embarkation of such emigrants, such supplies of provisions, clothing, medical drugs, and other stores, and such medical and other officers, and such cooks and other attendants, as may be required under the rules made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act.

Provisions, medical and other stores, medical officers, cooks, &c.

The master of any such vessel who shall commence the voyage without having on board such supplies of provisions, clothing, medical drugs, and other stores, and such medical and other officers, and such cooks and other attendants, as may be required as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Penalty if master proceeds without.

74. No vessel carrying two hundred emigrants shall be allowed to proceed on the voyage unless a medical officer, who is a licentiate in medicine, or who is declared to be qualified for such charge by order of the Lieutenant-Governor, has been appointed to the charge of such emigrants. And any master who shall commence the voyage without having on board such medical officer as aforesaid shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and, in default of payment, imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

75. If the master of any licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall, save as hereinafter is provided, cause or permit any emigrant finally to leave such vessel at any place other than that named as the destination of such emigrant in his pass, such master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for each such offence. Provided always that this section shall not be deemed to prevent the master of any vessel from permitting emigrants to disembark at any place or places on the voyage so long as such disembarkation is not intended or known to be likely to be final; nor to prevent the final disembarkation of any emigrants in case of accident or other unavoidable necessity, if such accident or necessity be forthwith reported to the embarkation agent by whom the license of such vessel was granted, and to the nearest magistrate in the district within which such accident may occur or necessity arise.

Emigrant not allowed finally to leave vessel at any place other than that mentioned in pass.

76. Every licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall stop at every place in which a magistrate is stationed, intermediate between the places of embarkation and disembarkation of such emigrants, and shall remain during not less than six hours of daylight. The master of every such vessel shall immediately on arrival report to the magistrate, or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 94, the number of emigrants on board, the general state of their health, and the number of deaths (if any) which have occurred among the persons who embarked on such vessel.

Master to report arrival of emigrants at every intermediate station where there is a magistrate.

Any master who wilfully omits to comply with the provisions of this section shall on conviction be punished with fine.

77. A magistrate may at any time go on board of any such licensed vessel carrying emigrants while within the limits of his jurisdiction, and may inspect the vessel, the emigrants, and all persons on board. The master and officers of such vessel shall be bound to afford to such magistrate all reasonable facility for such inspection, and to give him all such information respecting the emigrants or other persons on board as may be reasonably required, and respecting any deaths which may have occurred on board, and respecting any other facts which may affect the health of the emigrants.

Magistrate may at any time inspect vessel.

Master bound to give all information required.

Any master or other officer, who wilfully omits to give any such information to such magistrate, shall on conviction be punished with fine.

Penalty for omission.

78. On the arrival of such vessel, or at any time while it is within the limits of his jurisdiction, the magistrate may regulate the communication between such vessel and the land, and may prohibit all persons from leaving the vessel and all persons on land from proceeding on board. And any person not complying with any order made under this section shall on conviction be punished with fine.

79. A magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that any emigrants on board any vessel within the limits of his jurisdiction are or are likely to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, detain such vessel, and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the emigrants on board such vessel, and to report on their health, and whether any or what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease. After the submission of such report the magistrate may detain the vessel for a further period not exceeding five days for the purpose of carrying out such measures, if any, recommended by the medical officer in his report, and he may further detain at such station for medical treatment any emigrant who is affected with any infectious or contagious disease.

80. A magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that a party of emigrants proceeding by land within the limits of his jurisdiction are or are likely to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, detain such party and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the emigrants and to report on their health, and whether any and what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease, and the magistrate may further detain for medical treatment such party or such emigrants of the party as are affected with any infectious or contagious disease for such period as the medical officer may certify to be requisite.

81. If in any case whatever it appears to a magistrate expedient that any emigrant, in consequence of ill health, should not be allowed to proceed towards labor district, he may order the detention of such emigrant; and in such case he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of such emigrant.

82. All expenses incurred under sections 79, 80, or 81, by a magistrate or other officer deputed by him under the provisions of section 93, in respect of any emigrant so detained, shall, with interest at six per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the contractor by whom the emigrant has been engaged or forwarded; or in the case of an emigrant engaged by a garden-sirdar, from the employer from whom such garden-sirdar received his certificate.

83. If it appears to a magistrate making an inspection of any licensed vessel that the number of emigrants on board is larger than the number specified in the license, he may remove the excess number and detain them until another opportunity of forwarding them to their destination is found. The necessary expense of maintaining such emigrants, and of conveying them to their destination, shall be recoverable by such magistrate or other officer who may have been deputed as aforesaid from the master of such vessel.

84. In any case in which, on making an inspection of a licensed vessel, a magistrate shall find that any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act have not been complied with, he shall report the same to the embarkation agent by whom the license to carry the emigrants was granted to such vessel; and, if the circumstances of the case are such as in such magistrate's opinion make it necessary so to do, he may detain the vessel until the provisions of this Act, or any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor as aforesaid, have been complied with, so far as to make it possible for the voyage to be further prosecuted with safety and reasonable comfort to the emigrants.

85. Whenever any licensed vessel carrying emigrants arrives at a civil station at which it is intended that any of such emigrants shall disembark, the master shall immediately give notice of the arrival to the magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 93, and shall forward to him at the same time the list furnished to him by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 72, or a copy of so much of the said list as relates to the emigrants who are to disembark. The master shall not permit any such emigrants to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate.

Immediately on the receipt of such notice the magistrate shall send information of the arrival of the emigrants to the employers with whom they have contracted, or to the agents of such persons. And he shall at the same time direct the civil medical officer of the station, or other qualified medical officer, to go on board such vessel and to inspect such emigrants.

Such medical officer shall, without delay, make a careful inspection of all such emigrants; and, after making such inspection, shall prepare and sign a report, in which he shall certify the state of health and general condition of each emigrant so inspected.

86. The magistrate shall detain at the station for medical treatment any emigrant who is, in the opinion of the medical officer, in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the place at which he has contracted to labor. In such case he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of such emigrant, and all expenses so incurred by the magistrate in respect of any emigrant so detained shall, with interest at six per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the employer with whom such emigrant has contracted.

87. The magistrate shall also ascertain whether reasonable provision has been made for the support and lodging of the emigrants from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination. If circumstances may seem to him necessary; and the amount of expenses so incurred by him in the disembarkation, or in respect of the food, lodging, medicines, hospital attendance, or clothing of the laborers, shall, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the employer with whom such emigrants have contracted.

88. If it is intended that the emigrants on board of any licensed vessel shall disembark at a place which is not a civil station, the master of such vessel shall report the arrival, as required in section 85, to the magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 93, at the last civil station which such vessel shall pass before arriving at the said place of disembarkation, and shall not proceed on his voyage until the medical inspection of such emigrants has been made as provided in the said section. The master shall not permit any such emigrants to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate. Immediately on the receipt of such notice, the magistrate shall send information of the arrival of the emigrants to the employers with whom they have contracted, or to the agents of such persons. When such inspection has been made, the magistrate shall, without delay, authorize the master to proceed on his voyage, provided that he may, if he thinks fit, detain any emigrant who is unfit to proceed under the provisions of section 81.

If emigrants are to disembark at a place other than a civil station, medical inspection to be made at the civil station last preceding.

89. On the arrival of any licensed vessel at a place of disembarkation which is not a civil station, the emigrants who are to disembark at such place shall, in case the employers with whom they have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons, be present, be disembarked and given in charge to such employers or agents.

Disembarkation at such place.

Provided that in case the medical officer in charge of such emigrants, if there be any such medical officer, and if there be not, then the master of the vessel in which such emigrants have been conveyed, shall be of opinion that any of such emigrants are in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant, as the case may be, to remain with the emigrant so detained, or to be taken forward along with the emigrant so further conveyed. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain, or be taken forward with the father or mother.

91. Every medical officer who is required to make a report under the provisions of this chapter, shall submit such report to the magistrate, and shall enter therein the name and age of each emigrant, the name of his father, the place of his destination, and the name of his employer, as set forth in the list prepared by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 72.

Particulars to be entered in the reports of medical officers.

92. The magistrate or other officer deputed by him under the provisions of section 93, shall make a detailed report to the superintendent of emigration, of the arrival of all emigrants carried in a licensed vessel, and of all proceedings taken and orders passed by him under the provisions of this chapter, and shall forward with such report a copy of every report made to him by a medical officer relating to emigrants proceeding to a labor district. He shall also forward to the superintendent any observations which he or the medical officer may think fit to make in regard to the state of health and general condition of the emigrants.

Magistrate to report arrival of all emigrants, and all proceedings, to the superintendent of emigration;

Whenever such reports or observations relate to emigrants carried in a licensed vessel, he shall forward them to the embarkation agent by whom such emigrants were despatched, and the agent shall transmit them to the superintendent with any remarks which he may desire to record.

in certain cases through the embarkation agent.

93. The magistrate of a district, or of a division of a district, may depute any subordinate magistrate to exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on a magistrate under the provisions of sections 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 83, 84, 85, 86, 88, and 92.

Magistrate may depute a subordinate magistrate to discharge the functions of the magistrate.

94. Every master of a vessel, or medical officer in charge of emigrants on board of any vessel carrying emigrants, who shall wilfully and knowingly neglect or refuse to obey or to enforce on board of such vessel any rule which may from time to time be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

95. Any offence against any of the provisions of this chapter, or of any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act, committed on board of any vessel, may be tried by any magistrate exercising jurisdiction in any place at which emigrants may have embarked on board such vessel, or may have disembarked from such vessel, or in any place in which such vessel may be detained under the provisions of this Act.

96. Any emigrant who deserts while in transit from the district in which he has been registered to the district in which he has engaged to labor may, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a period which may extend to three months. Such offence may be inquired into and tried in the district in which such emigrant is apprehended, or in the district in which the desertion took place, or in the district in which he was registered.

97. The provisions with regard to engaged natives of India and emigrants contained in sections 29, 31, 32, 33, 54, 57, 59, 73, 79, 80, 81, 84, 86, 87, 88 to apply to children, &c., accompanying emigrants. of this Act, shall be applicable to such women, children, and aged relatives of such natives and emigrants as may, with the consent of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, and with the written permission of the registering magistrate or superintendent, accompany them without having entered into an engagement.

PART III.—LABOR DISTRICTS.

Chapter 8.—Inland Labor Transport Fund.

98. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, fix a yearly rate, not exceeding one rupee and eight annas per laborer, for the purpose of defraying the expense of carrying out the purposes of this Act; and the sum or rate so fixed shall be paid half-yearly by each employer on the last day of July and the last day of January in each year for each laborer entered in the last return of laborers furnished (as is hereinafter provided) by such employer before such date.

99. If any employer shall fail to comply with the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to notify such default to him; and if within one month from the receipt of such notification, or such longer period as it may, under special circumstances, appear to the magistrate reasonable, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate shall, by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer, levy the sum so payable.

If there shall be no such moveable property, or insufficient moveable property so found, the amount shall be recoverable by a civil regular suit from the person for whose benefit the laborers in respect of whom the same may be payable shall have been employed. In every such suit the Government shall be named as plaintiff, and the cause of action shall be taken to have arisen within the limits of the jurisdiction of any court having jurisdiction at any place where any such laborers may have been employed by such employer.

100. Subject to the powers conferred on a magistrate by this Act or by the Code of Criminal Procedure, of awarding fines in whole or in part as compensation to or for the benefit of any complainant or other person, all fines, fees, and rates levied and paid under this Act shall be credited to a fund which shall be called the "Inland Labor Transport Fund," and such fund shall be at the disposal of the Lieutenant-Governor for defraying the expenses of carrying out the purposes of this Act.

Chapter 9.—Inspector's Returns and Magistrates' Inspections.

101. The Lieutenant-Governor may appoint in any labor district so many inspectors and assistant inspectors of laborers as he may think proper, and may define, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, the local limits within which each such inspector and assistant inspector shall exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on him by this Act. Such inspectors and assistant inspectors may be by the said Lieutenant-Governor vested with all or any of the powers of a magistrate.

102. The Lieutenant-Governor may authorize inspectors and assistant inspectors to entertain such establishment as he may think fit. An assistant inspector shall perform all such duties and exercise all such powers of an inspector as he is authorized in writing by the inspector to perform or exercise.

103. Every employer shall, on or before the last day of January and the last day of July in each and every year, make out in writing, and deliver to the inspector of laborers, a return of the number of all laborers (as well laborers defined by this Act as others) employed by such employer on the last day of the preceding month, and return of the sickness and mortality among the laborers during the preceding six months.

104. If any employer shall refuse or wilfully omit duly to send in any such return, or shall knowingly send in an incorrect return, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

105. Every inspector of laborers shall once within each of such periods as may be fixed for such purpose by the Lieutenant-Governor, visit all lands within the limits of his authority on which there shall be employed any laborers, and inspect every hospital, tent, camp, or building in any way used by any such laborers, and investigate the condition of the laborers employed; and for such purpose the inspector may require that any laborer shall be brought before him with his contract, and may make such inquiries as may to him seem proper. Every such inspector shall keep books, in which from time to time shall be entered the number of laborers then under contract with each employer, the number who shall then be sick or missing, or who shall have complained of ill-treatment, the particulars of such complaints, and such other particulars regarding the laborers as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time direct. Each inspector shall annually make a written report to the Lieutenant-Governor through the Commissioner of the division of the aforesaid particulars; and every such report, as regards the laborers under any particular employer, shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the inspection of such employer or any person by him appointed in writing in that behalf, and the person so inspecting shall be entitled to take a copy of the report so far as it relates to such laborers.

Periodical inspection of laborers to be made by inspector.
Books to be kept by inspector.
Annual report.
Such report open to inspection by employer.

106. It shall be lawful for any magistrate exercising jurisdiction in the district, or any person authorized by him in writing in that behalf, at any time to enter and inspect any hospital, tent, camp, or building, wholly or partially used by or for laborers, and to require that any laborer shall be brought before him with his contract, and to make any inquiries which he may think proper touching the condition or treatment of any laborer.

If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, willfully obstructs or impedes any entry, inspection, or inquiry, made under either of the two preceding sections, such employer or other person as aforesaid shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each such offence.

Chapter 10.—Regulation of Labor.

107. Every employer shall from time to time, with the sanction of the inspector previously obtained, fix the daily tasks to be executed by the laborers employed by such employer, and shall frame a schedule of such daily tasks, and publish the same by posting a copy thereof in the Bengali language upon the door of each place of payment of the laborers employed by such employer, and by sending a copy thereof in the English language

108. No laborer shall be bound to work under his contract more than six days in one week, or more than six hours consecutively, or more than nine hours on any one day.

109. If at any time the inspector considers such schedule of daily tasks or any part thereof to be unreasonable, he shall refer the consideration of such schedule to a committee consisting of the inspector, of some employer to be nominated by him, and of some person to be nominated by the employer whose schedule is to be considered, or on his default by the inspector.

110. In case the said committee or the majority in number thereof are of opinion that the daily tasks in such schedule contained, or any of them, unreasonable, they shall modify and reduce such daily tasks in such manner as they shall deem reasonable, and such schedule so modified shall be published in manner aforesaid, and every schedule published as aforesaid shall have effect as between the employer and laborers in substitution for any former schedule.

Chapter 11.—Incapacity for Labor.

111. It shall be lawful for the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority any laborer may be employed, to suspend, for such period as he shall consider advisable, the contract of such laborer, or any particular term thereof, if such laborer shall be, in the judgment of such inspector, temporarily unfitted for the performance thereof by reason of sickness, pregnancy, or other sufficient cause. Provided that every such suspension shall be endorsed by the inspector on the contract. Provided also that every such laborer shall, during such incapacity, receive such subsistence money from his employer as shall be considered sufficient by the inspector, and that the time during which the suspension continues shall not be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve.

112. If it shall be found that any laborer has been compelled to perform any species of labor for which he was at the time unfit, the employer by whom he was so employed shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

113. If, in the opinion of the inspector of laborers, any laborer shall be permanently incapacitated for the performance of his contract or any material part thereof, the inspector shall certify to that effect in writing, and deliver such certificate to the employer of such laborer or some one on his behalf, and from the date of such certificate the contract of such laborer shall wholly cease and determine. The inspector shall make a return of all such cases of determination of contract in his report under section 105. Every laborer whose contract shall have been determined as aforesaid, shall be entitled to receive from his employer such sum, not exceeding three months' wages, as the inspector may award, and such sum shall be recoverable before a magistrate in the manner hereinafter provided for the recovery of Maximum amount of labor.

Inspector may submit schedule to a committee.

Inspector may suspend contract of any laborer temporarily unfitted for labor.
Penalty for compelling laborer to perform work for which he is unfit.
Discharge of laborers permanently incapacitated.

Chapter 12.—Necessary Provision for Laborers.

114. Whenever any laborers shall be employed in any labor district, the employer of such laborers shall be bound to provide for them sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and rice.

115. Every employer shall be bound to provide for his laborers such sufficient hospital accommodation, and such medicines of such quality and description, and according to such scale, as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor; and if three hundred or more laborers shall be employed by any employer, it shall be the duty of such employer to place in medical charge of such laborers a medical officer holding a medical diploma as licentiate in medicine, from some Indian or European collegiate institution authorized to grant diplomas, or an officer for the time being licensed by the local Government to act in such medical charge of laborers.

116. It shall be lawful for any inspector or assistant inspector who is himself a magistrate, to institute within his jurisdiction, on the lands in charge of any employer, or at some place within his jurisdiction not more than ten miles distant from such lands, an inquiry whether such employer has provided for his laborers sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice. On the complaint of any inspector or assistant inspector a similar inquiry may be made by a magistrate.

117. If the employer is convicted of gross neglect in not having provided sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice, such employer shall be punished with a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees. In any case where a magistrate shall find that proper or sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice, has not been provided, he may order the employer to provide such proper and sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and rice. If the employer wilfully omits to comply with such order, he shall, on conviction, be punished with a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees a day for every day that such omission continues. In default of payment by the employer of the last mentioned fine, the person on whose account such employer has been acting shall be liable to pay the fine.

118. Wherever such sufficient hospital accommodation or such medicines of such quality and description, and according to such scale, or such medical officer as aforesaid, shall not have been provided, the employer or other person through whose wilful default the same shall not have been provided shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for every week during which any such default continues.

Chapter 13.—Localities unfit for the Residence of Laborers.

119. If an inspector of laborers shall at any time have reason to believe that any estate or portion of an estate situated within the limits of jurisdiction is by reason of climate, situation, condition unfit for the residence of laborers, he shall give notice in writing of his opinion to the magistrate of the district, and such magistrate shall forthwith summon a committee to inquire into the fitness of such estate or portion thereof for the residence of laborers. Such committee shall consist of the magistrate, the inspector of laborers, the medical officer of the district, and one or more employers of laborers, when such persons are available. If the magistrate is unable to procure the service on such committee of any employer of laborers he may, with the sanction of the commissioner of the division, appoint one or more persons whom he may deem qualified.

Such committee shall proceed, with as little delay as possible, to inquire into the healthiness of the estate or portion thereof to which the order appointing the committee has reference, and shall hear such information on the subject as the owner of the estate, or the employer or inspector, may desire to place before it; and if such committee, or the major part in number thereof, shall be of opinion that such estate or any portion thereof be unfit for the residence of laborers, it shall record a finding to that effect; and the contract of every laborer who shall have contracted to serve on such estate shall thereupon be void as regards such estate or portion of estate as may be found unfit for the residence of laborers.

Provided that every such contract shall continue valid with regard to any other portion of such estate or to any other estate of the same employer in the same district.

120. If it shall at any time appear that the number of laborers (as well as others) who have died on any estate or portion of an estate during the preceding twelve months, bears a larger proportion to the whole number of laborers (as well as others) employed thereon during such period than 7 per centum, or if the average annual number of laborers (as well as others) who have died on such estate or portion thereof during the preceding three years bears a larger proportion to the whole number of laborers (as well as others) employed thereon during such period than 7 per centum, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to direct the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inquire into and report on the following matters:—

- (1) The cause or causes of such mortality.
- (2) The want (if any) of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures, on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer, causing or contributing to such mortality.
- (3) The fitness or otherwise of such estate or portion thereof for the residence of laborers and the reasons thereof.

Such medical officer shall proceed with as little delay as possible, and shall hear and record such information on the subject of the several matters aforesaid as the owner of such estate or portion thereof, or the employer, or inspector may desire to place before him, and shall visit and inspect such estate or portion thereof, and shall make his report expressing the reasons of his opinion and transmit the same with the recorded information and notes of his inspection of such estate or portion thereof to the Lieutenant-Governor.

If the Lieutenant-Governor, after perusal and consideration of the said report, information, and notes, shall be of opinion that such mortality was caused by the want of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or the employer, and that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of laborers by reason of the want of due care or precaution, and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to declare in writing that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of laborers. Such declaration of the Lieutenant-Governor shall have the same effect as the finding of a committee under the last preceding section.

121. Every employer who shall cause or permit any laborer to reside upon any such estate or portion of an estate as under the provisions of either of the two preceding sections may have been found to be unfit for the residence of laborers, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine. Provided always that in case it shall appear to the inspector that any such estate, or portion of estate, or any part of such portion, has become unfit for the residence of laborers, he shall, with the sanction of the magistrate of the district, give under his hand a certificate of such fitness, and the employer shall be liable to fine by reason of causing or permitting laborers to reside in any place respecting which such certificate of fitness shall have been given.

Chapter 14.—Offences committed by Laborers.

122. Any laborer, who shall absent himself from his labor without sufficient cause, may, on conviction by a magistrate, be sentenced to lose all claims to wages or allowances during the period of such absence, and also to forfeit to his employer a sum not exceeding four annas for each day during which such absence shall be continued; and in case such absence shall have exceeded seven days, or in case such laborer shall have been already convicted of the same offence within a period of three months, such laborer shall be furthermore sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for fourteen days.

123. If any laborer deserts or attempts to desert from his employer's service, such employer or any other person acting in his behalf may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any police officer (who, nevertheless, shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so), apprehend such laborer wherever he may be found. Provided, nevertheless, that if such laborer be found in the service of another employer, he shall not be arrested without a warrant. Provided also that such employer or other person shall without delay give the said laborer in charge at the nearest police station, and there enter the charge upon which he shall have apprehended such laborer.

Any laborer so given in charge shall be conveyed, without delay, to the nearest magistrate; and, if the place from which such laborer is charged with having deserted, be within the jurisdiction of such magistrate, he shall himself adjudicate upon the charge; but if not, he shall forward the said laborer, under custody, to the magistrate within whose jurisdiction such place may be situated, who shall adjudicate upon such charge.

Every laborer who deserts from his employer's service shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month; and every laborer, who after having been convicted of desertion, shall again desert from his employer's service, shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a period which may extend to two months; and every laborer who, after having been twice convicted of desertion shall again desert shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to three months.

124. On the expiry of any sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, save as is provided in section 125, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to make over such laborer to any person appointed on the part of his employer to receive charge of him; and no conviction under this Act, or imprisonment under such conviction, shall, save as is provided in section 125, be held to operate as a release to any laborer from the terms of his contract. Provided, nevertheless, that the period of imprisonment shall in no case be prolonged by reason of their being no person present on the part of the employer to take charge of the laborer at the expiry to his sentence; but such laborer shall in that case be sent to the principal place of business of such employer, and the expense of such conveyance shall be levied from the employer in the manner provided in section 99.

125. Whenever any laborer shall have actually suffered imprisonment amounting in the whole to six months for desertion from his employer's service, it shall be lawful for the inspector, and he is hereby required, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the inspector on the back of the contract.

126. The employer, or any person authorized to act for the employer, of any laborer imprisoned for any offence under this Act, may apply to a magistrate, at any time previous to the expiry of such sentence, that such laborer be made over to him for the purpose of completing his contract; and such magistrate may, if he see good cause, make over or forward such laborer to his employer; and in that case such magistrate shall cancel the remainder of the sentence passed on him, and shall endorse on the contract of such laborer a memorandum signed by him of such cancellation.

127. Every employer who obtains an order for the return or forwarding of any laborer who has deserted, shall pay the expense incurred in such return or forwarding, and shall, before the order is issued, deposit with the magistrate such sum as such magistrate may in his discretion deem to be sufficient for defraying the expense of such return or forwarding.

128. The duration of every unlawful absence from labor, of which any laborer may be convicted, and every sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, shall be endorsed on the contract, at the time of its being passed, by the officer passing it; and no such period of imprisonment or unlawful absence so endorsed shall be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve, but such term shall extend to such further period as shall be equivalent to the aggregate amount of the imprisonment and unlawful absence so endorsed.

129. Any person who knowingly and wilfully entices away, harbours, or employs, or attempts to entice from his employment, any laborer, before such laborer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall on conviction by a magistrate be punished with fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such laborer.

Chapter 15.—Complaints made by Laborers.

130. If any laborer states to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the inspector of laborers of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement is made shall, within forty-eight hours and in default of so doing, such person shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

131. Whenever any inspector or laborer receives such notice in writing as aforesaid, or whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid, is made to him by any laborer against his employer or any person acting for such employer, or whenever the inspector has other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid has been suffered by a laborer, such inspector shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situated within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the inspector within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such inspector shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

132. For the purposes of such inquiry the inspector may summon such laborer and any witnesses. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, in any way wilfully obstructs the service of, or obedience to, such summons; or if the laborer or any witness summoned intentionally omits to attend as required in such summons, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

133. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a laborer, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall enter in his book the particulars of such complaint, and a short statement of the grounds of his opinion respecting it, and shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant, the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period of the contract of such complainant.

134. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is well-founded, he shall, if himself a magistrate, dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the inspector shall not be a magistrate, he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest magistrate, and such magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case according to due course of law.

135. If, upon the complaint of any laborer, it is proved to the satisfaction of a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear for two months, it shall be lawful for the magistrate to award to such laborer the amount which shall appear to be then due to him; and also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to such magistrate to be just; and in case of default, the magistrate shall levy the entire sum by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer.

136. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any laborer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such laborer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the court of session; or if any such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such laborer triable under the said Code by a magistrate;

or if wages are in arrear for four months;

or if it shall be proved before a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for four months; or if a magistrate shall, on the report of the inspector and after due inquiry, upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any laborer has been compelled to perform any labor while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer, or any other person placed in authority over the laborer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the laborer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancelment shall be certified by the magistrate on the back of such contract.

Chapter 16.—Determination of Contract.

137. Every laborer who has completed the term of his contract shall be forthwith entitled to appear before the inspector or assistant inspector in order that the completion of his contract may be registered. If an employer detains such laborer after the completion of his contract, or fails to give notice of such completion to the inspector within one month after the date of such completion, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

138. If any laborer is able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such laborer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on his depositing such sum in the hands of such inspector, such inspector shall give notice to the employer that such laborer requires him within one week to show cause why the contract of such laborer should not be released; and, in case no sufficient cause should be shown, such inspector shall require the production of the contract of such laborer, and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such laborer. If any employer, or other person authorized to act for the employer, shall neglect to comply with such demand as aforesaid, such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

The value of the unexpired term of contract shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third year, of the original term of the laborer's engagement.

139. Every laborer the period of whose contract has expired, or whose contract has been rescinded by the mutual consent of the parties thereto, or whose contract has been cancelled or redeemed under the provisions of this Act, shall be entitled to receive forthwith from the inspector a certificate of release in the form set forth in Schedule (F) annexed to this Act.

ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE BURDWAN DIVISION FOR 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 16th September 1873.

READ

The Annual General Report of the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division for the year 1872-73, with its enclosures.

1. The Lieutenant-Governor is much indebted to the Commissioner Mr. Buckland, for the trouble he has taken in so clearly condensing and systematizing the several district reports and for his own review of the Divisional Administration.

2. The general tendency of the report is to show that the people of the western districts are upon the whole poorer than the average of the inhabitants in Bengal, and that wages are low except in the vicinity of Calcutta and along the Hooghly River. Throughout the division the lower classes, it is said, are poor and improvident people, and although their actual bodily wants are small and easily satisfied, there is but a small approach to anything like an accumulation of capital among them at present. There is a good deal of emigration from the western borders of the division, but not apparently from the alluvial tract or from Beerbhoom.

3. There was a scanty rainfall last year, and the rice crop in the division was necessarily affected, but the losses were mostly local, and the general crop was not very deficient. Fortunately the cold weather harvest was unusually good and abundant.

4. The manufacture of silk is a staple industry in the districts of Midnapore and Beerbhoom. In Midnapore the value of the silk made is valued by the Collector at thirty-two lakhs of rupees, and its manufacture is said to contribute directly or indirectly to the support of 150,000 people. In Midnapore also is produced indigo of a very excellent description. The produce is valued at 4½ lakhs per annum. The manufacture of indigo is now extinct in Hooghly, and is languishing and unprofitable in other parts of the division.

5. The topic of public health has, as Mr. Buckland remarks, an unfortunately overpowering interest in the Burdwan Division. Very numerous special reports on the subject of the epidemic fever in Hooghly, Burdwan, Midnapore, and Beerbhoom have been submitted to Government during the year. The district of Howrah also, and even Bancoorah, have not been entirely free from the fever. In Burdwan the sub-divisions of Culna—the seat of its early ravages—and of Raneegunge alone escaped—the former partially, the latter almost entirely. This is the tenth year of the epidemic in the district, and the fourth year of its appearance in the town of Burdwan.

The whole tract of Beerbhoom, speaking roughly, lying south and east of a line drawn through Soory from south-west to north-east, was occupied by the malady. It is noteworthy here, as Mr. Geoghegan observes, that the low flesh-eating castes, who had offered a more successful resistance to the disease in the year before, now succumbed equally with others. In Midnapore the fever again made its appearance, in the over-populated thannah of Daspore, which borders on Hooghly, and showed a tendency to spread southwards. There was much fever in Hooghly during the usual season from October to February; and over the densely populated part of the district reaching from French Chandernagore to Howrah, it assumed a very fatal character. The entire question of the incidence of the fever in this unfortunate division is, as the Commissioner and the public are aware, under the most anxious consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor, and the executive Government is sparing no pains to relieve, if possible, the sufferings and depression under which the country still labors.

There is much reason to hope that the present season is turning out more favorably, and that the scourge may be passing away from tracts which have suffered for several years, as it has passed from those which previously suffered in former years.

6. Mr. Pellew, the Collector of Hooghly, comments, His Honor believes with truth, upon the favorable disposition of the people generally towards Government. They have rendered willing obedience and even co-operation in the statistical inquiries which have been instituted. The ordinary village population are, he says, a respectable, decent, and quiet class, who hate impropriety of any sort, and are almost puritan in their ideas. The English-speaking natives, though to be found in almost every village, are for the most part employed in the larger towns, and are only occasionally visitors to their homes. These men are generally supposed to be less loyally disposed, but the Collector thinks that there is not much ground for the belief. "They are chiefly remarkable," he writes, "for the loss of the good manners for which their fathers were so distinguished, and they confuse a desire for independence with an awkward appearance of incivility, which sits rudely upon them."

7. It is to be feared that the native press, which is largely supported by subscribers and contributors from this division, very inadequately expresses the real outcome of public feeling on the subjects of which it treats. The illiterate classes, who are, of course, the immense majority, are entirely unrepresented by the newspapers. The Commissioner complains of the present unbridled license of the press as affecting the feelings of the native officers of Government to an extent which is detrimental to the upright and fearless discharge of their official functions. "I fear," says Mr. Buckland, "that there is not a native Deputy Magistrate in the country who could deny that he was afraid becoming the subject of any personal attack in a native newspaper. He also denounces the growing practice of native newspapers commenting on and prejudicing pending cases. The Lieutenant-Governor must say that he thinks there is some foundation for these statements.

8. There was a break and a consequent failure of statistical operations in some districts of this division, owing to an unfortunate misunderstanding which the services of the temporary establishments to which the Government of India had taken objection were dispensed with, before the permanent sub-divisional establishments had been entertained. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that now the latter have been sanctioned and are in operation, statistical work will be carried on actively. The report of the Special Statistical Deputy Collector of Beerbhoom has not yet been received.

9. The irrigation works have been pushed on during the year in Midnapore. It is much to be regretted that the attempts to introduce irrigation were accompanied by some circumstances which have led to discontent and annoyance among the people concerned. Mr. Buckland remarks that it would have been more for the true interests of Government to have given the people a gratuitous use of the water, so that they might have learned its value for them, than to attempt to obtain a petty revenue from it prematurely before the works were completed.

The Lieutenant-Governor is gratified to observe the valuable testimony which is borne by the Collector of Hooghly to the success of the new Public Works system, under which the Executive Engineer, while professionally responsible to his own department, is placed directly under the orders of the Magistrate and those of the Road Cess Committee. The work now done, if somewhat more expensive than formerly, "is much superior in quality, and the system works admirably."

10. His Honor is inclined to concur with the Commissioner's observation (paragraph 27) that Assistant Magistrates should at some time serve as Assistant Superintendents of Police. This subject will be considered by the Lieutenant-Governor in the Judicial Department, in connexion with a somewhat similar recommendation by the Magistrate of Mymensingh in the administrative report of his district for the past year.

11. Mr. Buckland recites the history and present situation of the rent ryot. His Honor fears that it is the fact that the status designed for the ryot in the Regulations of 1793 was much impaired, and in great part destroyed, the great powers subsequently given to the zemindars under the old hufum and punjum regulations with a view to enable them to realize their rents. As Mr. Buckland truly describes the process, under the law of 1799 and that of 1812, proceedings began in both cases by a strong presumption equivalent to a back-down blow against the ryot. The law of 1859 reduced the powers exercised by the zemindars themselves, while it increased the grounds of enhancement, and afforded the remedy of a summary process before Deputy Collectors, who were, however, often very insufficiently qualified. Rent-suits are now transferred to the civil courts; they are better tried, and the rights of the ryots are more respected than they were; but, on the other hand, there certainly seems now good ground of complaint that there is difficulty in quickly realizing undisputed rents by legal process.

12. The working of the new Criminal Procedure Code has not, it appears, excited alarm in the division. In Midnapore the remarks of Mr. Harrison are very favorable to its operation. The new arrangements have worked smoothly, and are not unpopular.

13. In excise, the Commissioner observes that the great problem of the year has been the introduction of the experiment of letting the licenses of certain liquor shops to the highest bidder, instead of as formerly at a fixed fee. The result has been to reduce the number of shops and the consumption of liquor, but to increase the cost of liquor and to enhance the revenue. The system is still on its trial.

14. Mr. Buckland thinks, and he says that the same opinion is held by many intelligent natives, that the withdrawal of the income-tax was a mistake. It was the only tax, he remarks, that caught the rich trading classes so low a rate, the Government could, when necessary, by a mere turn of the screw have doubled or multiplied it as it pleased.

15. Municipalities work well in the Burdwan Division. The road cess proceedings of the Hooghly Committee have been specially reviewed by the Lieutenant-Governor. The progress of the District Education Committees is said to have been encouraging. The little Hooghly Municipalities and Town Committees are distinguished by their independent and public spirit. The Lieutenant-Governor notices the Commissioner's remark as a hopeful one, that the judicious appointment of Municipal Commissioners is regarded as an honor which the recipients seldom like to relinquish.

17. His Honor regrets to hear of the unsatisfactory condition of the dispensary at Burdwan. If possible, a new site should certainly be chosen nearer the town and native bazars as suggested by Mr. Buckland. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to hear what may be resolved on in this matter, as well as further particulars of the Kistonuggur Dispensary in Midnapore, which has been closed, it is said, because the patron owed it Rs. 1,500, and to recover which amount a civil suit is in contemplation. The other dispensaries, of which there are several in the division, seem to have done well.

18. The district post in the division is, it is said, efficiently managed under the agency of the officers of the imperial Post Office. The attention of the Post-Master-General will be directed to the Magistrate of Burdwan's objection to a charge of postage on Government letters in cases where the letters are conveyed for the greater part of the distance at the cost of the zemindari dāk.

19. The Commissioner's observations on the subject of death from snake-bites and wild animals will be communicated to the Judicial Department of Government, where the whole question is now before the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor.

20. His Honor is glad to notice the favorable comments of the Commissioner on the conduct of zemindars during the year. The testimony of Commissioner and Magistrate is very favorable regarding the conduct of the firm known as Messrs. Watson & Co., in their position of zemindars in the Midnapore district. In one capacity or another one-fifth of the rent of this very extensive district is collected by this firm. Among the native zemindars who have been distinguished for active benevolence and liberality, the Commissioner notices Baboo Joykishen Mookerjee in Hooghly, Baboo Nobin Chunder Nag in Midnapore, Baboo Radhaballub Singh of Kunchiakole, Baboo Damoodur Singh of Maliara in Bancoorah, and Baboo Ramrunjun Chuckerbutty of Hitumpore in Beerbhoom. The Maharajah of Burdwan has, with his accustomed liberality, made a further donation of Rs. 10,000 during the year as an addition to his former subscription of Rs. 50,000 in aid of the dispensaries for the suppression of the epidemic fever.

ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENCY DIVISION FOR 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 22nd October 1873

Administration Report of the Commissioner of the Presidency Division for 1872-73.

The present Commissioner was only in charge during a small part of the year, and his report could not therefore be so exhaustive as the Lieutenant-Governor's report will be next time. His Honor's thanks are, however, due to the Commissioner for a zealous and efficient administration since he assumed the duties of the office.

The sub-divisional officers of this division seem to have duly attended to their duties in making tours into the interior.

The condition of the people in this division is believed to be improving. The district is tolerably prosperous in the 24-Pergunnahs district. The district of Calcutta affords a ready sale and a comparatively high rate of wages for labour. The north, south, and west of the district rice is largely raised and quantities of timber and firewood and thatching leaves can be obtained from the Soonderbuns for the mere trouble of cutting. Immigration is still steady, and there are no complaints of over-population. It is reported that the peasantry of Jessore and Nuddea are not so well off as they were in Jessore, though the ryots may be poor, there are many gantedars, and others who, with their rice fields and date-trees, are in a better position than the peasant proprietors. In Nuddea the inundation was wonderfully through the floods, and then and since have shown some improvement. The inundation of 1871-72 has no doubt had the effect of enriching the soil a good deal; and it is certain that the produce of two great divisions—indigo and the date-tree—was unusually good last year.

It is said by the Commissioner that the relations between ryots and landlords on the whole have been amicable; the Lieutenant-Governor has, however, heard of some cases in which it did not seem to be so. The Commissioner has adopted the system of cultivation adopted by Baboo Jadu Nath Roy and another person, under which the ryot grows as much or little indigo as he likes, and when the manufacturing season comes, takes it to the vats, where the quantity, and eventually, after the indigo has been sold, receives a portion of the proceeds of the manufactured article. His Honor has been desirous to learn how this co-operative system is found to work.

There are large jute factories at Baranagore and Gowripore, both in the district, and also at Fort Gloucester, 15 miles down the Hooghly. New factories are rising round Calcutta. There can be no doubt that in this district these manufactories are a great success; the people show a great interest for the work, and it seems that the neighbourhood of Calcutta will for long be a great seat of manufacturing industry.

The Municipal Bill, the new Criminal Procedure Code, the education of Government, and the imposition of the Road Cess, are the subjects which public feeling exhibited itself during the year. It was the opinion of the community, remarks the Commissioner, who sought to bring into the minds of their less enlightened and less inquisitive people by showing before them pictures of imaginary evils as the probable consequences referred to. The native gentry do not like losing the possession of appeals up to the High Court in all kinds of cases. Mr. Stevens, the Magistrate of Nuddea, writes as follows:—The law of the Criminal Procedure Code regarding summary trials was to some extent misunderstood; it was thought to be wider in its operation than it really was.

ation than it really is. Since however the Act has been in force, I have heard no word of complaint against the manner in which either of the officers holding summary powers in this district has exercised them. The persistent abuse of the right of appeal has become so thoroughly familiar to the native mind, that the checks introduced by the new code were looked upon with much dread. Crimes and criminals do not repel a native of this country as they repel a European; but a prisoner is looked upon more as an object of compassion in being unfortunate enough to be caught than as a violator of the laws of society and a public enemy. Hence the fact that trivial technicalities might prevail to cause the release of a guilty man, produced little dissatisfaction in the mind of anyone who was not personally interested in a case. The subtlety of the technicality had an attraction for the native mind, while the easy, good nature which is a Bengalee characteristic, was pleased by the release of the prisoner. I think, however, that the strong feeling in this matter has begun to die away. The power of enhancing punishments has been exercised very sparingly both by the Judge and by myself."

7. Although it is said that the Lieutenant-Governor's scheme of primary education has not as yet commended itself to the higher classes owing to a fear that their own influence will be affected by it, and although it is unpopular with the native educational officers employed in the district who, it is said, dislike their subordination to the Magistrate, the public generally seem to be pleased with the change. The Commissioner remarks that the impetus given to primary education is satisfactory, "and a new era has now commenced in the educational history of the country."

8. The disappearance of the income tax has been gradual, and its abolition has therefore not created excitement, but has been looked upon with favour in this division.

9. The transfer of the rent-suits from the revenue to the civil courts is said to have not yet reconciled itself to the suitors, and no doubt there is cause of complaint regarding delay and expense which are now inevitable. The remarks of Mr. Porter, the Joint-Magistrate of Baraset, to which the Commissioner invites attention, are, however, too exclusively from a zemindaree point of view; and we must consider strict justice to ryots as well as speedy process for zemindars.

10. The municipal committees are reported to have on the whole worked satisfactorily. The Magistrate of Nuddea speaks in high terms of the three principal municipalities of that district. The most successful is, he thinks, Krishnaghur. "We have," he writes, "a body of intelligent men, chiefly professional, independent in their views, but acting in harmony both with the Government and with each other, and content to the very useful, though quiet and unobtrusive, work. During three years' experience I cannot call to mind one instance of petty jealousy or party feeling." The minor municipalities have also been fairly successful. Generally speaking, Mr. Stevens writes, those are best which are entirely composed of natives. Although party feeling does greatly impair their efficiency, and though there is often much ado about nothing where there is no one else to do anything, they no doubt do a little. As the Magistrate again says, it is possible that the executive officer of Government would do the mere work better, but when we think of the attempts we are now making to govern the country more minutely, we must feel in an increasing degree the necessity for developing the capacity of the people for local self-government.

11. The account of the Commissioner seems to show that even in the metropolitan districts the influence of the native press is not very wide-spread. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe the statement that the less important native papers do not show such ill will to Government as those of greater pretensions, such as the Hindoo Patriot and Amrita Bazar Patrika, though what Lord Ulick Browne says of their following the example set them of attacking individuals and Government officers, is no doubt an evil. The Commissioner of Burdwan in his report has dwelt strongly on this point, and His Honor says that native officers are unduly sensitive to what is written against them.

12. The establishment of rural sub-registry offices has proved of great advantage, and has saved trouble and expense to the people.

Lord Ulick Browne is also much in favor of the scheme for the subordinate Executive service, which has recently been carried into effect. "It has," he says, "all the elements of success, and cannot but be a valuable and efficient auxiliary to the administrative arrangements of the Government."

The road cess has not yet become enough of reality for the ryot to begin to make much complaint. It is said to be unpopular among the assessors, but they accept it as inevitable. The Lieutenant-Governor has read in the Collector of Nuddea's report that signs have already appeared which indicate that the landlord will attempt to throw a tax on the ryots. A sub-divisional officer of that district has lately had to deal with for registration 157 leases, a condition of which was that the tenant should pay any Government cess which might be imposed, a provision which, no doubt illegal, shows the spirit prevailing. Despite, however, the difficulties necessarily attaches to taxation, the cess can, says the Commissioner, scarcely fail to produce great advantages to the people when its effects and communications of the country are seen a few years hence. The account Lord Ulick Browne gives of the district roads in another place shows the division, while it has clearly reached the stage when the road cess may be imposed, especially requires the benefits that will be afforded by it. Lord Ulick Browne dwells at length on the complaint, that under administrative changes and arrangements, officers, and principally district officers, are over-worked. The Lieutenant-Governor would express a hope on that point that as they learn method and distribution of work the grievance will go off. He cannot acknowledge that the creation of sub-divisions increase a Magistrate-Collector's work. The total quantity of work it increases, but it also increases the working machinery, and should relieve the head of the district from details. If the district officer takes his place as the general controller and supervisor of outlying sub-divisions, and leaves the most of his Joint-Magistrate or other experienced Assistants in quarters division and on general work, His Honor thinks that the Collector of a fully sub-divided district should not be over-worked, but should be head of a large and important machine which he should keep as head engineer, not himself acting as stoker and poker and every-day man. The Lieutenant-Governor also can hardly agree with the Commissioner's view that Magistrates should always go out into camp as formerly with their establishments and correspondence, so as to place himself in the same position regards work that he is in when at the sudder station. His Honor's opinion is much to be said for the present plan of going out with one or two assistants, and letting the district work of a routine character be done at headquarters. At the same time if a Magistrate can now and then go more deliberately into camp, this may have its advantages.

Lieutenant-Governor remarks with pleasure the Commissioner's observations on the part of none of his subordinates, from the district officer downwards, there has been any disposition to avoid giving full effect to any orders which have been received. Some of the orders may have been distasteful to those to whom they were issued, but it has throughout been His Honor's policy that whatever officers previous ideas may have been, they have, generally, and as a body, carried out recent reforms zealously, thoroughly, and with no hanging back or passive resistance, but with an active and energetic spirit.

Sir George Campbell has felt this and acknowledges it thoroughly. Commissioner alludes in another place to the policy of Government to be seen such as to deprive the Magistrates of districts of almost every kind of personal influence by sedulously teaching the people that they need instructions unless the officer who gives it can point to a particular law or authority; but the Lieutenant-Governor hopes we are getting over this and now exercising fair influence.

Considerable attention has been bestowed in this division to the collection of useful statistics of more than one description. The select mortality returns have been more successful in towns than in the rural areas; in the hilly and jagah area they have been very unsuccessful, but elsewhere there is evidence of a successful result. The report of the special Deputy Collector, Baboo Ram Shunker Sen, who was appointed for the purpose of obtaining correct statistics regarding food grains, and staples, and other subjects in the district of Jessore, has submitted his report for the sub-divisions of Magoorah and Jhenidah, and it is very interesting and instructive.

17. It is satisfactory to note that the importance of accurate records of rights and holdings in settlement operations is now fully recognised. His Honor hopes that something may be done in the way of improvement of estates under the Court of Wards.

18. The taste for spirits and intoxicating drugs is on the increase, and is attributed by the Commissioner more to the increasing prosperity of the people, and to the free-thinking tendencies of the age, than to anything else. However this increase in the consumption of spirits is to be regretted in, it can hardly, says the Commissioner, be said that the use of liquor leads to crime in this country, whatever it may do in Europe.

19. The Magistrate of Jessore points out that the money-lenders are to some extent kept out of court by the heavy stamp duties now required. This is no doubt the case, and if this was the only effect, it would not be so bad; but the Lieutenant-Governor believes that the fees are really too high in many instances, such as suits about rent, exaction, &c.

20. Lord Ulick Browne remarks on the satisfactory management of the Eastern Bengal Railway, about which there are scarcely any complaints. The facilities of the railway are thoroughly appreciated, and no one cares to walk if he can only find the money for his fare.

21. With regard to dispensaries, it is a matter of regret that more in-patients are not received, and surgical cases especially. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that efforts will be made at sub-divisions where there are sub-assistant surgeons to supply a ward to receive accident and surgical cases.

22. Rajah Komul Krishna and Baboo Bussunt Koomar Roy Chowdhry are both favorably mentioned by the Commissioner for the interest they take in the establishment of dispensaries. His Honor is glad again to recognize the exemplary manner in which Mr Sibbald of Sibbaldgunga, in the Meherpore sub-division of the Nuddea district, discharges the duties of a good and popular landlord. Koomar Narendra Krishna is also an excellent landlord.

23. The Lieutenant-Governor will conclude this resolution by quoting the words of the Magistrate of Nuddea who expresses his belief that the people, notwithstanding their alleged grievances, are thoroughly loyal throughout all classes. "We ought," writes Mr. Stevens, "to make great allowances for the feelings of persons governed by foreigners, whose manners and customs are perfectly unknown to most of the people, and are imitated rather than adopted by even the most advanced. Under such circumstances it is not strange if sometimes motives are misunderstood or facts distorted. Of this I am perfectly certain that the people of this district appreciate the good will of Government and of its officers to them, and desire no violent radical changes."

Rainfall, Weather and State and Prospects of the Crops.

showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 1st November 1873.

District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS.
Western Districts.	1873.
ardwan	Nov. 4th*	Nil	Weather dry and cool	Prospects of crops bad, except in low lands and where irrigation is going on. Cold weather crops are being sown in Culna. Rice rather cheaper.	Fever prevalent.
ancoorah	" 1st	Nil	Dry and cool	Not much change since last week; a good deal of rice crop has been saved by irrigation. Teel, oilseed, and sugarcane crops are very good in the south, but have suffered much elsewhere: preparations are being made generally for sowing the cold weather crops, and where water is obtainable sowings have actually commenced. Slight rise in the price of rice.
erbhoom	" 1st	Nil	Bright and clear. Cold weather coming in.	The harvest of the early rice crop, which is about one-fifth of the district, is turning out better than was expected. Owing in great measure to the timely utilization of the tank supplies, ten annas may possibly be secured; of the late rice crop, probably not less than five, possibly seven, annas will be saved even without rain; with rain now eight annas. Tank irrigation has during the past month been extended as widely as possible. Price of common rice has risen one seer since last report.
idnapore	" 1st	Nil	No rain; cold weather seems to have set in. Stormy wind from north and north-west the last three days.	Not changed for the better. All chance of rain in any useful form has passed. Still the late rice crop is reckoned at three-fifths of an average crop over the whole district, including the irrigable area and the littoral tract, though scarcely one-fifth in the jungle mahals. This, viz. three-fifths, is very nearly the proportion of the crop which the district ordinarily consumes, exporting the remainder. The prospects of the cold weather food crops are bad, but they are not of much importance in this district. The mulberry, which is a valuable crop in the east, is suffering from drought. It is probable that a good deal of boro (winter) rice may be sown where river water is obtainable, and that more than the ordinary proportion of land will be planted with early rice next year. This proportion, about one-sixteenth, is capable of being largely increased, and the late rice is usually preferred because it entails so much less labor, though on the other hand it is much more precarious.

5	Hooghly	Nov. 1st	Nil	Clear throughout; wind northerly.	Clouds forming. From personal inspection the Collector says that the Hooghly thannah police reports appear exaggerated. He does not think more than 8 annas is yet lost, and rain would save the remainder. Irrigation practised energetically, but water getting exhausted in many parts of the district.
	Howrah	" 1st	Nil	Evenings, nights, and mornings cold. Weather bright, and apparently set fair. Heavy dews, and apparently no hopes of rain.	The chief alteration since last report is that the crops have undergone another dry week. In the Juggutbulubpore thannah the crops are very bad, and it is feared that only an insignificant proportion can now be saved. Elsewhere the rule is that the further one goes south, the better crops one sees. The water stores are still low, and likely to do all that is wanted from them. Hitherto the ryots seem not to have despaired that rain would come in time, and they did not irrigate. Now, however, they are busily engaged in irrigating; there is much water still lying about and otherwise procurable from the rivers and water-courses, and this will save much rice without rain.
Central Districts.
6	24-Pergunnahs	" 4th*	Nil.	The weather has been cloudy, but without rain; cool during the first five days with northerly breeze, but close and heavy the last two days.	The prospects of the late rice is week by week becoming more gloomy as the drought continues. Under any circumstances the crop must be a very short one, and will, unless rain come speedily, almost entirely fail except on the very low-lying lands.	Fever still continues in Barrapore, Barnet and Satkhirah.
7	Nudda	" 1st	Nil	Dry and hot. The sky is frequently clouded over, but no rain falls, or seems likely to fall. Heavy dews in Koosteah, but there is next to no dew in the Sudder.	The late rice on high lands may now be said to have been irretrievably ruined. Of that which is in the low grounds, a portion will under any circumstances be saved; and if rain falls a moderate crop in such situations might be looked for. The sowing of cold weather crops has been generally deferred for want of rain. Mustard and linseed, which have been sown, have in many places been eaten up by insects as fast as the seed has germinated. Teel—oilseed, rahur—and chillies promise fairly. The ryots are irrigating their rice wherever they can, and no doubt something will be thus saved. The early rice crop was fortunately very good on the greater part of the district, but it is being exported to other districts. Prices vary very much; they appear higher at Krishnaghur than elsewhere, and this is said to be the result of combination among the mahajuns: on the day of report prices have slightly fallen, but they had suddenly risen by one-half.	There is but little sickness in the district.

8 Jessore	Nov. 1st	Nil	Clear and bright, with a northerly wind. No rain.	The want of rain is continuing to injure the crops on the higher lands, and the northern and western parts of the district, which are higher than the rest, will suffer a good deal of damage. The lower lying lands to the east and south are better off. In Magoorah sub-division the harvest is expected to be a good ordinary one, and that the winter crops are doing well to date. In Nurail sub-division the outturn will be not less than a ten annas, nor more than a twelve annas crop of an average year. In Khoolnah and Bagirhaut sub-divisions a similar outturn may, according to present estimate, be expected. Prices of food-grains are rising all over the district. Within the last three days the price of common rice at the head-quarters has risen from 26 to 16 seers per rupee owing to sudden demand for exportation to Chagdah and the westward.
9 Moorshedabad	" 1st	Nil	A slight shower fell in the south-eastern parts of the district at the beginning of the week, but no rain is reported elsewhere. The weather is much cooler, and there are no signs of rain.	The crops on the high lands have withered almost beyond recovery. In the low lands of the Kalantor in the south-east of the district, and generally in the beels, the paddy is much better and in ears. The cold weather sowings are also suffering from want of rain, and in the south-east some injury has been caused by a small insect similar to the grass-hopper. The outturn will be, it is feared, less than a four annas one. Prices continue to rise.
10 Dinagore	" 1st	Nil	Fine, cool and pleasant in the mornings; sun hot in the middle of day.	No improvement to report as there has been no rain. Some places are of course worse off than others, and rain could do little good now to the rice crops, but is wanted for the winter crops. The price of rice is slightly cheaper.
11 Maldah	" 1st	Nil	Weather fair, no prospects of rain; days hot, nights cold.	The prospects of the hemunt or late rice are worse than last week, since there has been no rain. In Shibgunge thanuah six annas of the late rice crop is expected. The cold weather crops are being sown, and if there is rain, will most likely turn out well. An insect called "bhua" has attacked the cold weather crops in thanuhs English Bazar and Kallia-chuck. There is a marked rise in the price of rice this week, and the prospects can scarcely be worse.

12	Rajshahye	Nov. 1st	Nil	There was a very slight fall of rain in the jurisdiction of station Borai-gong last Wednesday. No rain elsewhere, though in the first part of the week it was cloudy. It has since cleared, and a northerly wind is blowing.	The transplanted rice is a complete failure except only few beegahs here and there in the vicinity of tanks. The tanks are drying up fast. The deep-water rice, however, will yield a fair crop. Prices of rice continue stationary. Rain is necessary for the cold weather crops. Teel—oil-seed and urhur—pulse are thriving. For sugarcane rain is also wanted. Indigo is being sown.
13	Rangpore	" 1st	Nil	A little rain to the south; no news of rain elsewhere.	The paddy crop is in much the same state; better reports from distant thanahs. In the north, north-west, and north-east, the people are busy in sowing the spring crops. Coarse rice in the sudder station selling at Rs. 5 per maund, and at about Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3 throughout the district.
14	Bograh	" 1st	Nil	Cooler, but still dry	The greater part of the late rice crop is past recovery in consequence of the continued drought. Sugarcane, in parts of the district, is reported as flourishing. Cold weather crops are being sown.
15	Pubna	" 1st	Nil	Cloudy and cold, with rather chilly winds.	The late rice in the high lands is almost destroyed; that on the low lands is somewhat better, but rain is still much wanted. Cold weather crops are being sown.
16	Darjeeling	" 1st	Nil	Threatening sky at intervals, but not a drop of rain.	Although there has been a great deficiency in the rainfall, the crops have not suffered so much as might have been anticipated, as in the terai irrigation is freely resorted to. A twelveanna crop may even now be obtained throughout the district. The price of rice has gone up, but this may be owing to a good deal having been sold in the terai to purchasers from other districts. In the hills, bhoota; there would have been a fair outturn but for the visitation of locusts in July. The price is rising, but no serious consequences are anticipated unless the Nepaulese should attempt to import from this side. Murwa has almost entirely failed, but it is not of much consequence. Potatoes; neither quality nor quantity so good as last year for unequal rainfall. About one-fourth of the anticipated crop has been lost.

CHITTAGONG DIVN.—(Contd.)	27 Chittagong Hill Tracts	Oct. 25th	1.42	Cool throughout the whole week; foggy in the morning.	The early paddy crop has been harvested, but the outturn has not been equal to that of the last year. The late rice crop is being gathered, but owing to the early cessation of rains it has not been very successful. The prospects of the cotton crop are good, it is brought for sale now in small quantities to the local markets. Up to date there has been no fear of scarcity.
	Hill Tipperah	" 25th	Nil	Much the same as last week. No rain, but it is gradually getting cooler.	The paddy on the low lands only will be saved; that on the high lands is irretrievably lost. Mustard sowing has commenced.
BEHAR.
28	Patna	Nov. 3rd*	Nil	No rain as yet	Nothing to add to the last week's report, except that the prospects are daily getting worse.	The health of the district is all that could be desired.
29	Gya	" 1st	Nil	Cool and fine. No rain has fallen in any part of the district.	No improvement since last return. The prospects of the rice and cold weather crop continue most gloomy.
30	Shahabad	" 1st	Nil	Hot during the day and cool at night. Prevailing wind west.	The only change since last week is that an additional seven days of dry weather has made prospects worse. The rice crop can only be saved where up to this time it has been kept alive by artificial irrigation. Canal irrigation in the Sasceram Sub-division is still being carried on and is doing material good. In the north of the district on the Dearah lands the cold weather crops look well, elsewhere without early rain, that which has been sown will give a very poor outturn, and a considerable portion of land must remain unsown and fallow. No remarkable rising in prices since last week.
31	Tirho	" 1st	Nil	Bright and sunny	The prospects of the rice crop in the Sittamarhee sub-division continue bad. The paddy crops between Nampore and Settamarhee are in a very bad state, and there is no river near from which water can be got for irrigation purposes. In some places the paddy has been cut for fodder. The cold weather crops have been sown in places, but have not come up in many places for want of moisture. The rice land for two miles on each side of the Bogmatti river may yield an eight to twelve anna crop. Nothing may be expected of the paddy except where irrigation is possible. The paddy crops now are much inferior to those of 1273F, but the (bhadoi) early crops have been superior. Pulses doing well. In Tajpore sub-division things could not well be worse. The paddy is

PATNA DIVISION—(Contd.)					nearly all still standing, but it is feared that even a heavy rain within seven days would but save two to three annas of it. The ryots would have cut much of it ere this could they have done anything with the land when cleared, and had they not still hopes of wetting rain within the full moon. The cold weather crops are being sown on light lands, the ryots availing themselves of the night moisture, but the seed germinates sparingly, and what comes up wants rain badly soon. That the only redeeming feature of the season is the condition of the Dearah cold weather crop sowings. Heavy lands still unploughed. Tobacco is very backward, and in some places seems to make no progress whatever. In Durbhangah the prospect of the rice crop is very bad, and rain is much wanted for cold weather sowings. The prospects in the rest of the district are gloomy. Prices same as last week.
	32 Satna	Nov. 1st	Nil	Clear sky, no signs of rain, weather cool, dewy at night, east and west wind.	Prospects are getting worse and worse for want of rain. All the high land paddy has been burnt; that of the low lands, if it does not rain soon, will yield less than a six annas harvest. The cold weather crops are being sown in places where the soil has sufficient moisture, but large tracts of land will remain unsown unless rain falls. Indigo fields are being ploughed. Prices rising.
	33 Champarn	" 1st	Nil	Cool in the mornings and evenings, but hot in the middle of the day.	The prospects of the late paddy is more gloomy than heretofore; there is no hope of even six annas harvest. Every assistance is rendered to the farmers and cultivators to irrigate their fields by allowing them to dam rivers and khajis across which there are Government ferries, but the portion that will be thus irrigated is very small in extent in comparison to the more inland cultivation. The prospect of the cold weather crops is not very cheering, as the plants are dying for want of moisture; the yield of the late Bhadoi or early crops is estimated at eight annas, but whatever the cultivators harvested they had to make over almost the entire quantity to the mahajuns; the little they had would at the most furnish food for a month more. From enquiries made it appears that there is enough food-grains in the hands of the mahajuns of the district as to supply food for the whole population for another six months.
BRABHANGAH DIV.	34 Monghyr	" 1st	Nil	Cool with a high wind, not a drop of rain and no appearance of it.	With the exception of a few dearah lands and lands lately inundated by the Ganges, the whole country is dried up. The rice crop may be considered nearly hopeless, and at present the cold weather crops cannot be sown at all.

L. — (Contd.) Central Districts.— (Contd.)	1878.
Julpigoree	Oct. 25th	Nil	Fine and bright weather; heavy dews; cold weather setting in.	The state of the rice crop varies greatly in different parts of the district, but generally the short rainfall has affected it. In the Dooars, from the border of Darjeeling to the Jaldoka river, the rice crop is good; in parts very good. The rice crop all round this tract may be put down at fifteen annas. Getting down towards Buxa and on to the Gawalpara Dooars the crop varies, being towards the Patgram border poor, but good in the interior of the Dooars. Special loss in some parts of the Dooars, and further report called for. The Deputy Commissioner has reason to believe that a fourteen annas will fairly represent the actual crop all round from the Jaldoka river to the Gawalpara border. In Patgram the want of rain has been severely felt, and the loss of crop is from five to six annas. In South Boda, and more especially the parts towards Rungpore, the loss is said to vary from eight to six annas. Julpigoree and around it, there will be a fair twelve annas crop. From Julpigoree on to Sili-goree, and in the Ambari and Bykantpore tracts, the loss is estimated at a four annas. From Julpigoree to Titalyah the crop varies greatly. On the whole, a thirteen annas crop is expected in the district, which is not exceptionally bad crop. Beparees are coming in to purchase grains which will raise the price, but it will tell on the artizan class only, whose wages will have to be raised also. The agricultural class is well-to-do and have stores. No rain wanted at present. Cold weather crops are being sown.
Dooch Behar ern Districts.	„ 25th	Nil.	Fine mornings and evenings, pleasantly cool.	Prospect same as last week. Rain is wanted.
Dacca	Nov. 4th	0.84	Weather dry and hot up to the 3rd instant, when there was heavy rain; clouds still hanging about, and prospects of more rain.	Rain not sufficient to do much good as yet.
Murreedpore	„ 1st	Nil	Clear sunshine throughout the week.	Much the same as last week, excepting that an additional week's drought has in no way improved the prospects of the rice crop.
Backergunge	„ 1st	Nil	Cold nights and hot days. North wind blowing.	Under the average. There will be plenty for home consumption, but there will be less than usual for exportation. The high lands have suffered the most. In some of the low-lying tracts, on the other hand the crop is better than usual. The crop in the Patuakhali sub-division is said to be good. In Manpura and other parts of the Duhkhin Sabazpore sub-division the crop has been damaged by insects. Taking the district all round there will probably be a twelve annas crop.

21	Mymensing	Nov. 1st	Nil	Bright and clear, cool mornings and evenings with dews at night; no present appearance of rain.	Another week of dry weather has made the prospect of the rice crop worse than ever; pulses are being sown but the ground is so hard that cultivation is difficult.	Fever reported to be very prevalent in the south-west of the district.
22	Sylhet	Oct. 25th	0.16	Tolerably cool during the day, chilly at night and towards morning.	Not very promising. The rain expected with the new moon has not fallen. Unless there is rain with the full moon the late rice crop will be a good deal destroyed. There has been heavy rain eastwards in Cachar, and this will do some good to the crops at Lata. An insect called the "Lubai" has done a great deal of damage to the late rice crops; it appears in this district in September if there is little or no rain. The price of rice has risen from 36 seers to 26½ seers per rupee, in consequence of the brisk export trade which has already begun. Shall report about crops next week. Briefly put, the low lands have yielded a good crop. The high lands will fall short by nearly half, unless there be a blight next month and then the whole late crops will go.
23	Cachar	" 25th	1.15	Fair	The prospects of the paddy crops are very good throughout two-thirds of the district. In the remainder flies and deficiency of rain have caused damage, the extent of which is under enquiry. It has been so far a very good tea season.
24	Chittagong	" 25th	0.16	A few drops of rain on Sunday, the 19th October, weather during the week otherwise fair and getting cool in the mornings.	Slight damage by insects reported from Meerkasorai. No change since last report in other parts of the district.
25	Noakhally	" 25th	0.37	Weather fair. North winds prevalent, days and nights cool.	To the south of Sudharam, in the islands of Hatteah and Sidhi, the late rice is reported to be injured by the "Sani" and "Mayoab" insects. In other parts of the district it is reported to be doing well.
26	Tipperah	Nov. 1st	Nil	Weather still muggy and rather cloudy towards evening. But there seems to be no likelihood of a heavy fall.	Prospects gradually getting worse and a six-anna crop is the most that can be expected. Rain can scarcely be hoped for now. The official reports, however, strangely enough, seem to be more gloomy than those of the parties most concerned, and it is hoped that the low lands may yet yield a moderate crop. Famine in the terrible sense of the word is not to be apprehended. True, rice has risen enormously lately (Rs. 3 per maund last Sunday), but this was in consequence of the mahajans buying largely. Twenty miles south it was Rs. 2 a maund.

BHAUGULPORE DIVISION.	35	Bhaugulpore	1878. Nov. 4th*	Nil	Clouded up from south-east on the 3rd November and slight rain has been falling since the morning of the 4th at head-quarters and between Sahebgunge and Sultangunge. More rain looks possible and will be of great benefit.	Late paddy is very bad indeed in Soolpool and part of Muddehpooa Sub-division. No improvement to report.
	36	Purneah	" 1st	Nil	No change.	The cold weather sowings are being proceeded with, but unless rain falls soon the yield will be small. Reports from the east of the district worse, from other quarters same as before.
	37	Sonthal Pergunnahs	" 1st	Nil	Cold and dry with apparently no chance of rain.	Prospects even more gloomy than last week, as it is now too late to hope for rain. Cold weather crops will be very bad indeed. Bunds are being cut in all directions to save as much winter rice as possible.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	38	Cuttack	Return not received.
	39	Pooree	" 25th	0.48	Cloudy	Weeding in the late rice fields in certain pergunnahs finished, and in others it is forming into ears, as well as the Laghu or second rice crop. Prospects of the cold weather crops continue favorable, and in this part of the district all is well up to date. Khoordha Sub-division—The Laghu or second rice crop is being reaped. Prospects of the late rice pretty good; the crops suffered to some extent from insufficiency of rain.
	40	Balasore	" 1st	Nil	Dry, with wind. No signs of rain at head-quarters. Rainfall at Bhuddruck 0.14.	A very slight fall of rain has taken place throughout most of the Bhuddruck sub-division and has done some good. No rain has fallen elsewhere, and the prospects of a limited area at the extreme north of the district are extremely bad. On the whole however the harvest is not expected to fall much short of an average one. Prices rising slightly in consequence of exportations.
CHOTA NAGPORE. South-West Frontier Agency.
	41	Hazareebaugh	" 1st	Nil	No sign for hope of rain	It is difficult to ascertain what the rice crop yields. Accounts vary so enormously. The outturn of the year should be put at half that of an ordinary year. Following the total loss of the (mukai) maize the poor will have distress, there have been no robberies of stored grain as yet.
	42	Lohardugga	" 1st	Nil	Fine weather, clear and cool.	The rice crop generally has suffered a good deal from the drought, but in many parts it would even now be much benefited by a fall of rain. Rain is anxiously looked for in Palamow in order to prepare the lands for cold weather sowings. Only about four annas of the cold weather crop has been sown as yet. The rice crop generally will no doubt be a short one, but there are no grounds for supposing that it will fail anywhere, and in some parts it will be

TA NAGPORE.—(Contd.) South-West Frontier Agency.—(Contd.)		1873.
43	Singbhoom	Oct. 25th	Nil	Hot and no signs of rain yet.	Very gloomy generally. Nothing to add to the remarks of last week, except that the state of the crops is getting more hopeless each day. In Porahant there was some rain on the 11th October, and that part of the country, having a good many tanks and embankments the state of the crops in it, and also in some parts of Seraikeyla, is much more favorable than elsewhere.
44	Maunbhoom	Nov. 1st	Nil	No rain, but little dew ...	The crops have continued to suffer during the past week, and where irrigation is not possible, are drying up and will come to almost nothing. Tanks and reservoirs have been cut all over the district and have saved a large quantity of the low land paddy. Those villages which have no such water supply will be very badly off. Sirgoojah and kurthi, which have been sown, have nearly all failed and the further sowing of these and of mustard, gram, peas, and wheat cannot be proceeded with for want of rain.
IM AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goulparah	Oct. 25th	Nil	The first part of the week was fair and bright and the latter part cloudy.	The late rice plants are reported to be parched by the sun in some places. State of other crops, such as cotton, jute, sugarcane, mustard, &c., is good.
46	Kamroop	Nov. 3rd	Nil	Weather cool and foggy in the morning and night, days hot and clear.	Late rice and tea backward. Sugarcane, cotton, pulse, and mustard crops progressing favorably.	Public health
47	Durrung	Oct. 25th	Nil	Bright days and nights, occasional fogs in the mornings, easterly wind prevailing.	Rice crops very inferior owing to the long drought. No chance of improvement now.	Fever preva. No cholera reported.
48	Nowgong	" 25th	0-03	Weather set in cold and clear. Two slight showers on Thursday in the station, but heavy rain fell for half an hour to the south and east of the district in Kothia-toli and Solsolee.	The Buo paddy crop doing well, but the late paddy on the high lands very stunted and sickly in many places for want of rain; the pulses are poor also from the same cause. Sugarcane doing well. Tea doing fairly.	General good.
49	Seebhaugor	" 25th	0-65	Mornings and evenings are cool.	More rain wanted for the late sown paddy. The prospects of the rice crop are not up to the average. The sowing of the mustard crop progresses.
50	Luckimpore	" 25th	0-81	There was rain on two days which may be said to have ushered in the cold weather.	The crop of rice is threatening to be short, but it cannot be yet said that there will be a material failure; their state is being anxiously watched. North Luckimpore generally good, but the dry crops would be better for a little more rain.	Public health slightly improving.
51	Saga Hills	" 18th	0-26	Mornings and evenings becoming very cool and pleasant.	Crop gathering continues active.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	" 25th	Nil	The weather has been cold, clear in the early part of the day and cloudy in the afternoon.	The harvest of the Hali or late rice crops continues and the outturn is better than last year, though the ruinful has been short yet the absence of equinoctial gales has counterbalanced the want of moisture. The cereals still standing, millet, potato, cotton, &c., are coming on favorably.
53	Garo Hills	" 25th	Nil	The weather during the week has been very hot; no rain, one or two days were cloudy and there was some appearance of rain, but it passed away, the nights are now beginning to	The cotton crop in the lower land is very good, that on the higher only fair. The late rice crop at the foot of the hills has suffered from want of rain, but where irrigation has been practicable it looks very fair.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

The increase is due to the canals having been opened for traffic for the first time in a complete state with the 4 Terminal Locks at work. Last year the boats could only get through during the spring tides, or for about eight or ten days in the month, and hence the amount of the tolls realized was less than half what it is this year, when the boat can pass through the canals irrespective of the state of the tides in the river.

N. B.—Canals re-opened to traffic on the 4th September 1873. The length of canal has been increased owing to the change of Terminus from Banka to Gowkhally.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE JAILS OF BENGAL FOR 1872.

RESOLUTION.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

JAILS.

Calcutta, the 5th November 1873.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Jails of Bengal for the year 1872.

1. MR. HEELEY's able and exhaustive report shows how thoroughly, as Inspector-General of Jails, he has continued to do justice to the expectations formed of him. He has gone thoroughly to the core of all matters connected with jail discipline and management, and the Lieutenant-Governor has to thank him for much valuable work and a lucid report. As he shows, the department is in a transition state; some things have been done and more commenced. The reforms of last year have been fairly started, and it may be hoped are bearing fruit in the present year.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that Mr. Heeley will carry out his attention of bringing out a complete new jail code with all the latest improvements. This is very much wanted. Next year's report will, it may be hoped, show how the principles enunciated at the close of last year have been carried out in practice, and meantime the Inspector-General is, His Honor thinks, right in very much devoting his attention, and the greater part of his present report, to "individual jails." In truth, as in the entire absence of good jails in Bengal we cannot with our limited means make new and perfect jails all over the country at once, the Lieutenant-Governor has always assumed that our main care must be to make the most of the jails we have by improving each as its individual circumstances and peculiarities will best admit. This is the more necessary, as the greatest difficulties in respect of mortality, and in some other respects, that we have to contend with, are not so much general to Bengal as confined to some particular jails, to which most special attention must be given.

3. Mr. Heeley refers to criticisms of last year's report and resolution published by Dr. Mouat, the late Inspector-General of Jails, in the Times newspaper. The Lieutenant-Governor does not remember exactly Dr. Mouat's criticisms. He believes they were of an extremely general character. The reforms introduced within the last two years in the Bengal Jail system have certainly been much criticised in several quarters, but no one maintains, or can maintain that except in so far as (in common with most provinces in India) a great improvement had been wrought in the sanitary condition of the jails taken as a whole, they were otherwise in a satisfactory state. It cannot be alleged that the buildings were decently fitted for the purpose; that the discipline was good; that there was any tolerable classification and separation of the prisoners. We do not allege that we have even yet made them satisfactory, or that we soon shall. It is a great and very difficult work. But the Lieutenant-Governor believes that we have made a good beginning, and that Mr. Heeley is efficiently carrying out some very great and beneficial improvements in the buildings, and in the discipline and the methods of our jails.

4. As regards sanitation, it is not to be supposed that the great improvements effected have brought the jails to anything like a satisfactory state of health. The statement in the margin shows the mortality in each year from 1857 to 1872. Roughly speaking, it may be said that whereas the mortality used to amount to 10 or 12 per cent., it had come down in the latter years of Dr. Mouat's incumbency, ending in 1870, to about 5 per cent. This is still a very heavy rate for an adult and able-bodied population, among whom are comparatively few old men. But it may be feared that nowhere in India have we learned to reduce the jail mortality to that of the ordinary population. The Lieutenant-Governor must differ from Mr. Heeley when he says (paragraph 4) that it is possible to take such measures as to bring the death-rate actually below that of the free population. If we had the power to reduce the death-rate by indulgence to, for instance, 1 per cent., we should of course not be justified in keeping up a system which involves a death-rate of 5 per cent. But it is because we have not discovered any means by which, while maintaining the semblance of a prison, we can reduce the death-rate to a really low point, that we cannot absolutely sacrifice everything to a doubtful attempt to make a very small alteration in the health of the prisoners. Further on in Mr. Heeley's report it is shown that in fact the evidence on the point goes to prove that reasonable discipline and hard work, as compared with laxness of system, do not increase the death-rate, but rather have the opposite effect.

5. (Partition Walls, para. 5).—On the subject of our rebuilding partitions that Dr. Mouat pulled down, His Honor would only remark that some dividing walls are an absolute necessity. Till recently in Bengal, it was no unusual sight to see under-trial and non-laboring prisoners mixed up in the same yard with convicts, and no distinction attempted between criminals of various degrees and classes. To continue such a state of things was impossible, and partitions must be put up sufficient to prevent this.

6. (Chapter II, Population of Jails).—The daily average number of prisoners under confinement during the year was 20,489, or 1,570 more than in 1871. The increase is common to all classes—civil, under-trial, and convicted prisoners. The increase in the total aggregate number of prisoners passing through the jails during the year, as shown in the table on page 4, is certainly remarkable, the number convicted during 1872 having been 5,342 more than in 1871. The Lieutenant-Governor will, however, for the present reserve the consideration of these and the other judicial statistics in Mr. Hceley's report. They are most interesting and important, but will be more conveniently dealt with in connection with criminal justice and police. His Honor will only here notice those parts of the chapter on jail population which have a departmental bearing.

7. (Transfers, paras. 14 and 15).—The number of prisoners transferred during the year from one jail to another has been very large (18,819). These figures are, however, swelled in some instances by transfers in the same station between the central and district jails. The Inspector-General remarks upon the difficulties with which the transfer of convicts is attended owing to want of discipline among the police guards escorting them. The Lieutenant-Governor fears there is much truth in this; but it is even a more serious matter to find that European medical officers in charge of jails have in so many cases set at nought the positive orders of Government as to the class of men that should be transferred to central jails. The fact that 70 prisoners were sent to the Bhaugulpore Central Jail works, who were men that had attempted escape, was not before known to Government; but several instances have been reported of the transfer of weakly and inefficient prisoners, and the Lieutenant-Governor has taken due notice of these. The recent orders imposing the check of further inspection by the Magistrate of drafts selected by the Superintendent for transfer, may stop the practice; but certainly such an order ought never to have been required.

8. (Detention in Lock-ups, para. 17).—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the orders of Government prohibiting the detention of any but very short-term prisoners in lock-ups have had a good effect in reducing the average detention from twenty to fourteen days. Some lock-ups were, however, far above this average. In the case of those in Assam, allowances must be made; but such instances as Pachumba, 56 days; Attiah, 43; Jehanabad, 30; and Burhee, 30; must not be allowed to recur. The Lieutenant-Governor has now, he hopes, made it clear, both to the police and jail departments that it is quite unnecessary to send an armed guard of two policemen to escort to the sudder jail a petty thief or an old woman. He must insist on regular and speedy transfer from all lock-ups. There is certainly not the least pretext for keeping females in lock-ups long after conviction. They can always be sent in charge of a single constable, and require no formal guard, and from such a place as Barh they should be despatched to jail immediately.

9. (Ages of prisoners, para. 20).—The table of the ages of convicts on admission shows that there were only 327 who may be called juvenile, as being under sixteen years of age when convicted. There were only 82 under 12 years. There is in fact very little juvenile crime in Bengal; and it is this which makes it difficult to attempt to apply any regular reformatory system to the cases which do occur. The juvenile ward in the Presidency Jail is the only place in which this class of criminals can at present be conveniently brought together, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to have the proposal made in paragraph 36, for declaring this ward a reformatory, submitted for consideration in a separate shape.

10. (Chapter III, Sanitation).—The percentage of mortality for 1872 shows an increase, being 5·19 against 4·01 in 1871; but, as remarked by Mr. Heeley, 1871 was an exceptionally healthy year, not only in jails, but in the country at large; while 1872 was marked by a serious outbreak of cholera, and by considerable unhealthiness of other kinds in the country generally.

11. Mr. Heeley discusses very fully and ably the question whether any of the increased mortality is due to the change in the jail system and the stricter discipline now enforced. The opinions of the medical Superintendent on this point are sufficient on the whole to prove that this was not the case. Careful analysis of the death-rate in most of the principal jails has convinced the medical officers that there is no direct connection between the mortality and the improved discipline. Dr. Lynch shows that in Russa and Baraset, where no change of system was introduced, the death-rate rose, owing doubtless to the unhealthiness of the year; while in Alipore, where the new system was put in force with the greatest rigor, the mortality was 2·10 per cent. lower than it ever was before; and even if Baraset, which serves as a sort of out-hospital to Alipore, be taken into account, it is shown at page 110 that the combined death-rate of the two jails was lower by 1·02 than in 1871. It is true that some officers have recorded opinions of the contrary kind; but in fact these opinions are found on examination to rest entirely upon theory, and it so happens that they are contradicted by the statistics of the very jails of which those officers have charge. Dr. French thinks that the short-term men suffer most, but he seems to attribute this to mental depression rather than to penal labor; and the mortality in his jail (Burdwan) was certainly not more than might have been looked for from the state of the district generally, but the contrary. In fact, however, the statistics of every jail show, as Mr. Heeley points out, that it is long-term prisoners to whom the first six months of their imprisonment are most dangerous, and that the short-term men, in spite of their penal labor, are better than the others. Dr. Bensley of Rajshahye again, while in one sentence attributing an injurious effect on the death-rate to harder work and strict discipline, adverts in the next to the fact that the death-rate of his jail has fallen from an average of 8·73 to 2·33. The same may be observed of other places—Bogra having fallen from 10 deaths to one; Rungpore, from 13·10 per cent. to 3·59,—facts quite opposed to the theories of the Superintendents in charge; and the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the Inspector-General has arrived at a correct conclusion when he states that there is no evidence whatever that increased mortality is attributable to better discipline and harder work; and that while medical officers use judiciously the discretion which they have in respect of individual exemptions, there is no reason to fear the contrary.

In truth, the mass (nine-tenths) of the jails were as healthy or healthier in the past year than they ever were, and the increased mortality is due to three or four notoriously unhealthy jails, where, owing also to epidemics, &c., the death-rate has unhappily risen beyond that of any recent year,—very far beyond it indeed in one or two cases. These were the very jails in which we were forewarned and forearmed, and in which we have attempted ameliorative measures instead of pressing the prisoners, though unhappily the taint in them has so far got the better of us. Extramural labor has also in some places proved unfavorable to health; but at Midnapore, where this was most marked, the work was stopped. The mortality had nothing to do with any change of system, the extramural system having been introduced under the former régime.

12. Of the 1,063 deaths that took place during the year, 135 were due to cholera; 37 of these being in Tirhoot, 20 in Julpigore, 13 at Dehree, and 13 in the Presidency. There had been no cholera in these jails in 1871. Dysentery was worse than usual, causing 332 deaths, owing probably, Dr. Lynch suggests, to the excessive rainfall of 1871 and subsequent malaria having told upon the health of the population for 1872. Fever again appears to be less fatal than is popularly supposed, only 125 deaths being due to this, of which 22 were at Backergunge.

13. (Paras. 52 seq., Mortality in particular Jails).—Jalpigoree is a very petty place—hardly a jail. The frightful percentage of mortality here (42·62) is due to an outbreak of cholera, which, as above noted, carried off 20 out of an average daily population of 61 only. There is nothing therefore in this result on which to generalize. The Lieutenant-Governor is happy to say he has since visited this jail and found it quite healthy, and apparently the present accommodation is excellent for the number of prisoners confined there. Tirhoot and Chumparun will be specially noticed below. The rate at Baraset, taken with Alipore Jail, is not unfavorable (4·7); on the contrary, it is better than it ever was before; but precautions have been taken to prevent any overcrowding of the aged prisoners and invalids, who form the chief part of the inmates at Baraset. The unhealthiness of Hooghly (9·03) is still not accounted for. The Inspector-General must pay rigorous attention to this jail, and endeavour to find out what is the matter with it. Mr. Heeley intimates his intention of transferring to Hooghly only strong and healthy men. This should be the rule certainly, but the efforts to discover the cause of its continued unhealthiness should not be relaxed.

In Backergunge (15·59) it is clear that something must be radically wrong. This jail has been a constant subject of anxiety, and we are now altering the entire structure of the jail, erecting double-storied barracks, and putting in arched floors, and must persevere till we have remedied its state most thoroughly.

In Midnapore (8·7) the mortality was due to, we hope, temporary causes. It has been the subject of much discussion, and seems to have been more or less explained by the exposure at extramural labor in the quarries. The stone quarrying has been stopped, and it is hoped the evil has now been remedied.

In Russa Female Jail (8·33) further explanation is required of the high mortality, which was, it seems, chiefly from dysentery. There is said to be an improvement this year, but the matter requires careful inquiry.

At Dehree (7·75) cholera and the general unhealthiness of the year accounted for much, and the evil was, it is believed, only temporary.

The rate of Bhaugulpore district, taken with the central jail, was not bad (3·77); but the Lieutenant-Governor is sorry to hear of a serious outbreak of cholera in 1873.

Gya (7·03) is clearly a bad jail, and under all the circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor has now determined to build a new one on a new site. Proposals for this may be sent in at once.

The rate at Burdwan (7·18) was not more than might have been expected from the fever-stricken state of the district population.

Purneah, with a rate of 6·58, is also an unhealthy place, and we can only strive to improve the jail as much as possible. Of the 20 prisoners who died, it is noticeable that 19 were engaged on light, not penal labor.

Jessore (5·64) and Sylhet (5·61) show higher rates than usual this year. Here also improvement must be sought after.

At Moorshedabad (5·10) the new jail will soon be ready, and things should be better.

In the Presidency Jail, Native (4·69) and European (8·99), we have to regret a falling back owing largely to cholera. Here no change was introduced by the hard labor system. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts this jail will recover its position. The mortality among Europeans was quite abnormal, 3 deaths being from liver abscess, 2 from typhoid, apparently brought into jail, while 2 were cases of men admitted in a weakly state.

In Patna (3·67) underground drainage experiments had been proposed to meet the cholera which always haunted the jail; but cholera left before the work began. If this had happened after, it would have been considered proof of the advantage of underground drainage. As it is, we are unable to account for the improvement. We may certainly congratulate ourselves on the comparative healthiness of Patna, Rungpore, Dinagepore, Rajshahye, Dacca, and also of the Assam jails as a whole.

14. On the whole subject of jail healthiness, it might almost be said that the only rule seems to be a rule of contraries, the jails at the unhealthiest places being the healthiest; e.g., Chittagong and Noacolly, notoriously bad places, yet having healthy jails; Dacca (perhaps falsely) reputed unhealthy, and certainly shunned by Europeans, yet of late years having a very healthy jail; while even Rungpore shows a mortality reduced below average. On the other hand, jails at healthy places are very deadly, as at Backergunge, Hooghly, and Midnapore.

15. The singular contrast between the jails of Eastern Bengal, a country generally considered so unhealthy, and those of Behar, generally considered so healthy, is again most marked. Behar is undoubtedly very healthy both for Europeans and Natives, supports a great population, and sends out a surplus population such as no other part of India does. Why then, it may well be asked, are its jails so unhealthy? There is not a jail in Behar where there has not been frightful mortality within a few years, and where the average of 15 years is not very large. We have happily reduced the death-rate, formerly so frightful, in South Behar, except at Gya, where a bad jail may perhaps in some degree account for it; but still in North Behar we have a mortality and a constant anxiety as to the jails far beyond that in most other parts of the country. All the jails there show a mortality above average; Tirhoot (20.89) and Chumparun (13.75) frightfully so. In 1871 overcrowding was alleged in Tirhoot as the cause. In 1872, 316 prisoners were transferred to other jails. The district is large and populous, and the number of short-term and weakly prisoners unfit for transfer coming into the jail is so great that it is said to be impossible to deplete the place thoroughly. The Lieutenant-Governor sanctioned extensive additions and alterations, but these have not yet been carried out in spite of the very urgent orders given to let no considerations stand in the way. Further discussion has, however, it is said, become necessary. The Lieutenant-Governor must insist on having discussion brought to a conclusion, and building begun and pushed on as rapidly as possible. The present building itself is a very open jail, with high, healthy-looking wards; overcrowding apart, there is certainly no apparent reason for unhealthiness. This year a severe cholera epidemic, added to the endemic sickness, has made the rate frightful; but even cholera apart, dysentery and other diseases are terribly fatal. His Honor is glad to learn that this year up to the middle of July there had been only 14 deaths in Tirhoot. Chumparun also is to all appearance a good, healthy jail.

16. Looking to the persistent excessive unhealthiness of Behar jails as compared to those of Bengal on the one side, and to those of the similarly situated districts, with similar populations, in the North-Western Provinces on the other, the Lieutenant-Governor is haunted with the suspicion that the connection of Behar with Bengal, and the application of Bengal principles in regard to food, water-supply, beds, or we know not what, may have something to do with it. He thinks we should try to get a North-Western Province Jail Officer, and associate him with Dr. Lethbridge, of Punjab experience, and some of the best of our local officers, to form a committee to inquire into, and report on the history and system of Behar jails. The Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces will, with the sanction of the Government of India, be asked if he could lend an officer temporarily for this inquiry. Meantime the radical improvements in the Tirhoot jail must be pushed on, and no time must be lost in starting the new jail at Gya above sanctioned.

17. (Effect of transfers on health, para. 70).—The general result of the Inspector-General's inquiries is to convince the Lieutenant-Governor that we should not transfer Bengal men in large numbers to Behar, and that seeing how deficient Bengal is in central jails, we must supply more such jails there. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that another new one must be built; and as Furreedpore is to be kept up as a district, His Honor is willing to consider favorably a proposition for building there a central jail for East Bengal. Immediate special report on this matter should be submitted.

18. Also the Lieutenant-Governor is willing that Rajshahye should be put on the footing of a central jail, and proposals to that end may be drawn up.

Dr. Bensley has eminent merits as a Jail Superintendent, and His Honor is sure that in his hands such a plan would be well carried out.

19. Where, as in Furreedpore, and perhaps Rajshahye, there is only a small civil station, if a medical man is Superintendent of the Jail, he might also, if well qualified, have the general superintendence of the civil station, a good first-class Sub-Assistant Surgeon being put under him to assist in that duty. This would save an increase of expensive appointments. The Surgeon-General will be consulted on this.

20. (Chapter IV, Public Works).—This chapter should in future be headed "Jail Buildings."

The improvement of the district jails and lock-ups of Bengal, and the building of solitary and punishment cells, the completion of the central jails, and the provision of separate hajuts for under-trial prisoners, have been subjects to which constant attention has been given during the year. Not so much actual work has been done as had been hoped for, but a very great deal has been planned and put in train, and with a budget grant of Rs. 6,87,000 for the year 1873-74 there ought to be considerable progress visible before long.

21. The central jail works have been getting on but slowly. Alipore is now, however, completely sub-divided, and is for the first time in its history tolerably secure from the risk of combination and outbreak among the prisoners; while at Midnapore, Bhaugulpore, and Hazareebaugh, vigorous efforts must be made to push on the buildings more rapidly than heretofore. It has been stated that one reason of the comparatively slow advance of these works is the insufficient proportion of paid skilled labor allowed to direct and instruct the convict workmen. The Public Works Department must direct attention to this point. It is false economy to delay the completion of these jails longer than can be helped.

22. New jails at Mymensing (on a new plan), Nya Doomka, Lohardugga, and the Khasi Hills, have been sanctioned; much has been ordered and is doing to improve Dacca, Burrisal, Tirhoot, Jessore, and Dinagepore, and the scheme of separate hajuts is well advanced. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes the new model plan of a district jail, which is being tried at Mymensing, will answer expectations. There is a great need of providing small but decent European wards in districts where this class of prisoners may be looked for, and the Inspector-General should not overlook this point.

23. The Lieutenant-Governor has found that in some cases, where we had settled ground-plans and the general plan of lock-ups, hajuts, &c., their execution was being too much left to the Department of Public Works, who cannot be expected to know the requirements precisely. He begs that every step and every inch of progress may be narrowly watched by the local officers responsible for the jail management. It must be quite understood that under the present system the civil officers are responsible for everything that is done as respects the arrangements and design. There must be thorough communication with, and instruction of the Public Works officers on all non-professional points, and the Inspector-General must narrowly watch the details of rising buildings, to see that they are thoroughly suitable, and all little conveniences are provided. He must not trust to the Department of Public Works to do this of themselves.

24. (Chapter V, Guarding).—The Lieutenant-Governor is quite satisfied of the necessity of increasing the staff of regular warders, while the police guard is correspondingly diminished. Also it is settled that in small lock-ups and hajuts warders may be altogether substituted for police for ordinary purposes; and he hopes this will be carried out. At the same time we must insist on the police supplying a regular guard when there are unusually dangerous prisoners. We cannot at all times and all the year round keep up at every place a permanent establishment enough to guard any set of desperate dacoits who may come in once in a year or so. The Jail and Police Departments must pull well together, and not act at arm's length departmentally. We must get rid of that intense departmentalism against which the Lieutenant-Governor has been struggling. His Honor must insist much on that. He has directed that in all new sub-divisions and new buildings it should be arranged, if possible, that the lock-up and thannah should be contiguous, so that with separate administration one may have the support of the other. This must never be lost sight of.

25. It is very unsatisfactory to see the failure to carry out the orders for improved discipline and penal labor in some lock-ups, as noted later on in paragraph 134. His Honor fears there will be much of this whilst lock-ups are under police not trained to jail work, and periodically changed. With a lock-up establishment this must be wholly reformed. There is a crying necessity for this, and it must be insisted on. The regular transfer of prisoners to sudder stations will, however, do much to prevent such abuses.

26. The Lieutenant-Governor does not expect reduction of expenditure by substituting warders for police; if, as Mr. Heeley promises, there is only a very slight increase, His Honor will be quite satisfied.

27. It is satisfactory to see that there were fewer escapes from jail during the year under review. As regards lock-ups, it must be admitted that the reduction of guards attempted last year has ended unfortunately with such lock-ups as we have, but the increased escapes were solely due to two or three unfortunate cases, and these again occurred from the breach, not from the observance, of orders. It never was supposed that two men would guard properly a gang of desperate criminals. Express provision was made for extra guards in such cases. It not only might be, but actually was the fact, as suggested by Mr. Heeley in paragraph 98, that in one instance when a strong extra guard was required to look after a sudden influx of dangerous prisoners, a roundabout process of official requisition and correspondence was resorted to, and that the prisoners escaped, while their guards were being only talked about. Departmentalism has been scotched, but, His Honor fears, not killed; however, we are keeping the monster down, and hope to get the life out of him soon.

28. (Chapter VII, Section 1, Establishment).—The Lieutenant-Governor has accepted in the main Mr. Heeley's proposals with reference to the salaries of jailors. The commission system, carried to the extent it was, was pernicious in every way, and will shortly be done away with. The scheme for naib jailors and warders also commends itself to His Honor's approval; but it is desirable to have all these proposals involving financial considerations in a complete shape before finally sanctioning them. The substitution of warders for police in lock-ups has already been complicated by the difficulty of removing the head constable, who at present has charge of the treasury as well as of the lock-up guard.

29. (Section II, Conduct of Prisoners).—There is a large increase in the return of jail offences and punishments. The change of system in jail discipline must of course involve some increase of punishments at first, but it is hoped this will soon cease; the efficient Superintendent is he who succeeds without severe punishments. The Beerbloom system of flogging wholesale was intolerable, and severe notice was taken of it. His Honor is glad to learn that Dr. Barker has wholly changed his system.

Again, in the Presidency Jail, and after making every allowance for the class of prisoners confined there, there is no doubt flogging is carried to excess. Despite all Dr. Mackenzie's merits, the Lieutenant-Governor must insist that he will abate that; not abandon it in necessary cases, but abate the present excessive resort to flogging in his jail. The Inspector-General will be held responsible for effecting a change in this respect.

30. (Section III, Rewards).—The mark system, which has been introduced very lately, will, it is hoped, place the whole system of remissions and rewards on a more satisfactory footing. There will now be a tolerable guarantee that these will go by merit, and not by chance selection. The prisoners will have tangible inducements to steady good conduct; while there will be less executive interference with the effects of judicial sentences, inasmuch as dangerous or habitual criminals will earn only a modified remission, and be under surveillance to the end of their term.

31. (Section IV, Registers and Returns).—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to know that Mr. Heeley has been able to revise and reduce the register and returns which were far too elaborate hitherto, and calculated only to defeat their own object.

32. (Section V, Employment).—In stating the percentage of prisoners engaged in labor, Sundays and holidays should not be deducted in calculating the number employed. The number employed on working days should be taken.

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see increased employment on manufactures, and diminution of useless jail servants.

33. He must, however, again dwell on the advantage of providing penal labor for short-term prisoners in every jail and lock-up. Some improvement has taken place in this respect, but not so much as ought to be the case. Treadmills are being put up at several jails, and when the special inquiries now being made in England as to cranks and other mechanical appliances are complete, it is hoped that every place of confinement will in time have the means of exacting penal labor.

34. As regards the practical difficulty of providing penal labor for all short-term men, the Lieutenant-Governor does not object to the Inspector-General's exercising a discretion and looking to the nature of offences. He does not wish all short-term prisoners to be equally punished, absolutely and literally. He only does not wish to make so sweeping a difference as shall nullify altogether the work of judicial officers in apportioning sentences. At any rate, while means of hard labor are deficient, the Inspector-General may select the classes of criminals for whose benefit they are to be used.

35. (Chapters VIII & IX, Expenditure and Profits).—The returns show that the net profits in most jails have somewhat fallen off, but not on the whole to an excessive degree. The great number of prisoners employed on miscellaneous duties is still very unsatisfactory, though useless jail servants have been generally reduced; but it is reported that some jail officers seem very helpless about devising industrial employments. The central jails will, when completed, concentrate labor and make the outturn more satisfactory. In lock-ups the employment of a warder guard should lead to improvements, and secure some return for the labor which is now exacted in these places. The Lieutenant-Governor quite approves of the general stoppage of extra-mural work, except for purposes of health and upon jail buildings, in the garden or the brick-field.

36. There is doubtless much in what Mr. Heeley says about the difficulty of inducing all Superintendents to take an earnest and intelligent interest in the industries of their jails. We cannot afford to neglect entirely the question of remunerative labor; but there is nothing naturally antagonistic between labor that pays and labor that irks. It is disappointing to learn that on inspection many of the jails in which the Lieutenant-Governor's orders were reported to have been carried out were found so wanting; but Mr. Heeley has the question well in hand, and much may be hoped for from the attention he has given to it.

37. The cost of supervision has risen from Rs. 34,548 to Rs. 41,397, but this was almost accounted for by the full salary of the Inspector-General being drawn this year, while there were savings last. The cost of establishments had also risen from Rs. 2,62,737 to Rs. 2,68,176, but the difference is fully explained, and was not at all in proportion to the increase in the jail population. There was also an increase in the cost of police guards from Rs. 1,96,620 to Rs. 2,09,311. Rations had of course cost more owing to the larger number of mouths to feed, and stood at Rs. 5,41,198, against Rs. 4,91,205; the rate per man was 7 annas 2 pies more than in 1871. Hospital charges were Rs. 27,769; and clothing cost Rs. 78,959, or Rs. 14,476 over last year. This last increase is not altogether explained. Contingencies also rose slightly to Rs. 63,378. The total expenditure, including buildings, was Rs. 14,98,656, or Rs. 73-3-1 per man, against Rs. 13,20,606, or Rs. 70-5-8 per man, in 1871. The increase is mainly due to increased activity in jail building, the outlay being Rs. 2,50,232, against Rs. 1,69,619 in 1871. Excluding buildings, the total cost was Rs. 12,48,424 as against Rs. 11,50,987 in the previous year.

The general result may be accepted as satisfactory, showing improvement effected without serious expense to the State. The European jails are naturally very expensive, and tend to raise the average much. Assam and Darjeeling are also unavoidably expensive places; but it should be explained why Kamroop and Julpigoree should show largely increased charges. Doomka, Pooree, Bogra, and Singbhoom, are much above the average, apparently because being small jails the cost of their guards and establishments is relatively greater.

38. As regards profits from manufactures, it appears that, excluding Alipore, the final balance of profit on the outturn, minus the expenditure in mofussil jails, was Rs. 90,900, against Rs. 1,00,300 in 1871. There was a much greater outturn of work, but a largely increased expenditure on comparatively unproductive and penal labor. The Lieutenant-Governor must repeat what he said last year, that our mofussil jails never were profitable to an extent to justify the sacrifice of system. He would express his satisfaction at the general results of the present year, attended as they are with improved discipline and new non-paying penal labor. At the same time he thinks gunny-weaving may be extended, and that there is room for improvement in paying occupations. The Lieutenant-Governor has already noticed the Inspector-General's statement that some jail officers are painfully helpless about providing industrial employments, and seem as if they had never given a thought to the matter; and His Honor would here again entirely endorse Mr. Heeley's views in paragraph 153, that prisoners, if properly looked after, ought to show something for their work. The present waste of power, of which the Inspector-General complains, he must do all he can to correct; and Superintendents must not, while enforcing penal labor, lose sight entirely of the prospect of earning a legitimate profit.

39. On the whole, however, thanks to the great and continued success of Alipore, the net balance of profit for the year was Rs. 2,72,400, against Rs. 2,24,700 in 1871. The profits of the Alipore mills were Rs. 1,81,500, against Rs. 1,24,300. This is explained by the great fall in the price of jute, which "caused the year to be one of unexampled prosperity for the trade of gunny-weaving. Dr. Lynch, however, warns us that a succession of such years is not to be looked for; it is probable that the extreme limit of profits has been already reached; competition has begun to an extent which threatens to destroy profits altogether." Whether this is a correct anticipation or not, it is certain that it is very important to develop the manufacture departments of central and district jails to meet the very probable fall in the net returns of Alipore.

40. Looking to the returns of the district jails, it appears that in eight the expenditure on manufactures actually exceeded the returns from sales. This is a result which should certainly be carefully examined, and if possible corrected. Twelve jails just cleared their manufacturing outlay by a mere fraction, while in only nine jails were the profits really large. This has in fact always been the state of things as regards the profits of Bengal jails; the profits were made up of Alipore (actual and press account) and a few other jails; the majority gave little real profit. Rajshahye, Hooghly, Mymensing, Russa, Purneah, and Cachar, were the jails where profit was largest in proportion to the expenditure in the past year.

41. The net profits of the Alipore Jail Press are shown at Rs. 1,05,904 but these are only book-earnings. The press has no cash receipts.

42. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with interest Mr. Heeley's account of the different jails contained in part II of his report. His Honor will not attempt to deal with all the points of detail that arise here and there in these summaries. Mr. Heeley is in possession of the views of Government, and must himself issue orders to correct anomalies, reform abuses, and push on improvements, where these are required. In several instances, where discrepancies in the accounts of Superintendents are indicated, full inquiry should be made, and the matter should be cleared up. Certain remarks, however, with reference to some of the jail summaries, are appended to this resolution.

43. The following table exhibits jail expenditure and receipts in a compendious form :—

44. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find from these reports that Superintendents of Jails have, as a body, done good service during the past year. He may, however, single out for special thanks the following gentlemen :—

ANNUAL CUSTOMS REPORT BY THE BOARD OF REVENUE FOR 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 17th October 1873.

AD—

The Annual Customs Report by the Board of Revenue for the year 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.—If the salt duty be omitted, the customs transactions of the year 1872-73 compare with the results of previous years as follows:—

In the year	RECEIPTS FROM DUTIES ON MERCHANDISE AT
	Calcutta.	Chittagong.	Orissa ports.
1840-41	324,177	991	• 180
1850-51	424,433	402	81
1860-61	1,356,703	4,301	1,311
1870-71	1,113,926	15,820	1,821
1871-72	1,052,152	17,767	759
1872-73	1,051,000	34,875	977

The customs receipts of the petty port of Morellgunge are included in the Calcutta receipts, and so also were the customs receipts of Port Canning, until there ceased to be any receipts at all, about three years ago. It will be seen that the customs receipts of Calcutta are very nearly the same as last year, while the Chittagong customs revenue was nearly double as high as it was before. The Calcutta customs revenue of 1872-73 was 22 per cent. less than it was in the days of high duties after the mutiny, and was 5 per cent. below what it was in the prosperous year 1870-71.

2. Though the customs revenue of the port of Calcutta has kept up the level of the preceding year, yet the value of the total (foreign and internal) trade of the port in 1872-73 was very much lower than in the previous year; thus—

	Value of exports from Calcutta.	Value of imports to Calcutta.	Total.
1872-73 ...	29,908,937	17,986,994	47,895,931

The decrease of imports is mainly under the head of bullion and specie; imports of gold, silver and money were £3,251,806 less than they were in the previous year, while there was a net decrease of £126,877 on the value of other merchandise imports. There was a net decrease of £2,862,215 in the value of all exports, the decrease being very large in the exports of—

Opium,
Oil-seeds,
Cotton.

The falling off in the bullion imports is said to have been due to the condition of the exchange market, under which bankers found it more convenient to buy India Office bills than to import bullion or specie. The total drawings of the Secretary of State paid in Calcutta during the year under review were £10,81,62,000, which falls short by one million of the whole difference between the estimated values of exports and imports.

8. Taking first the exports of the year from Calcutta to places beyond British India, we find the largest fluctuations in the following articles :—

	Value of exports in the year
	£	£		£
Opium	6,852,380	5,613,205	...	1,239,175	decrease.
Cotton	4,036,955	1,779,129	...	2,257,826	"
Oil-seeds	2,009,403	1,111,920	...	898,483	"
Hides and skins	1,862,557	1,815,557	...	47,000	"
Lac and lacdye	239,205	188,175	...	51,030	"
Safflower & other dyes	131,580	110,246	...	21,334	"
Jute	4,113,943	4,127,943	...	14,000	increase.
Gunny-bags	114,612	161,419	...	46,807	"
Indigo	2,465,186	2,699,420	...	234,234	"
Tea	1,448,467	1,567,561	...	119,094	"
Rice	1,277,672	1,685,170	...	407,498	"
Sugar	146,189	182,456	...	36,266	"
Tobacco	7,636	71,695	...	64,059	"
Saltpetre	396,676	518,012	...	127,336	"
Raw silk	1,060,444	1,236,887	...	170,443	"
India-rubber	78,565	143,631	...	65,166	"

The increases and decreases in each article are partially explainable thus :—The opium decrease is due to the shortness of the crop and of the number of chests offered for sale by Government. The very large decrease in the value of cotton exports is due mainly to the comparative cheapness of American cotton in Europe, and the consequently reduced demand for Bengal cotton : the year 1871-72 was a year of very exceptional briskness in the Bengal cotton trade. The fall in the seed trade was due in part to the shortness of the seed crops in the Ganges valley and elsewhere. In the preceding year (1871-72) the value of the seeds export fell off by £835,000, and now it has fallen by £898,483 more. The exports to Great Britain and America, our principal customers for seeds, have fallen off in about equal proportions. The Collector of Customs notes that the rape-seed crop was a failure, and that mineral oils are largely taking the place of rape-seed oil in Europe. This very large and continuous decrease of the trade in an important staple merits some further inquiry ; and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if the Board would obtain from the Collector of Customs a detailed account of the fluctuations of the particular markets which take less of our seeds, of the sources from whence those markets now draw their supplies, and of any reasons why Indian seeds should have lost ground in the estimation of European and American consumers. The decrease in the exports of hides and of lac is not explained : if any of the decrease in the hides trade is due to the cessation of the cattle disease, which threw so many hides on the market, the decrease will not be matter for regret. The decrease in the safflower trade is said by the authorities of Dacca, in which district safflower is almost exclusively grown, to be due to over-trading and excess European stocks of the preceding year. The Commissioner of Dacca reports that one of the causes for the decline in the trade is the discovery of a cheaper substitute for safflower. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish the facts in this matter to be ascertained.

The increase in the estimated value of the jute exports is very small, but the increase in the quantity of jute exports was very large. The growth of the jute trade during the last few years has been as follows :—

In the year	Exports of jute and jute cuttings from Calcutta in Cwts.
1867-68	2,291,565
1868-69	3,350,626
1869-70	3,350,200
1870-71	3,745,402
1871-72	6,128,545
1872-73	7,061,951

The jute produce of the year under review was so large that the price went down nearly one-half, and as a consequence there has been a reduction in the area sown with jute during the current year. The trade in gunny-bags has also increased; Australia and the Straits Settlements have taken more gunny-bags, but America took less than in the preceding year. The export of jute and jute cuttings to America was somewhat in excess of the previous years, being 1,242,000 cwts., against 1,000,000 cwts. in the preceding year. It is not known if the manufacture of gunny-bags is increasing in America. The indigo export was 119,385 cwts., against 66,929 cwts. in the preceding year; but the outturn having been so very large, prices went down considerably, and the increase in the estimated value of the indigo exports was, as shown above, barely ten per cent. The exports of tea, which increased by 4,000,000lb in the preceding year, show a further increase of 516,000lb. The tea crop of the year under review was short in some districts, or the increase would have been still higher. Great Britain continues to take almost the whole of our teas. The increase in the rice export was 1,341,413 cwts.; the bulk of the increase went to the Mauritius and Great Britain: and the West Indian Islands took more rice than in previous years. The large export of rice to Java was a new trade, and was due apparently to the partial failure of the crops in that island. With the cessation of the Persian famine a smaller quantity of rice has gone from Calcutta to the Gulf. The increased exports in sugar must have been due mainly to the goodness of the date and other sugar crop in Lower Bengal, for the up-country sugar yield of the year was low. Almost the whole of the increased exports (23,949 cwts.) went to Great Britain and Persia. Recent inquiries in Jessore have shown that the increase in the export of date sugar to Calcutta has been very great during the last eight or ten years. The tobacco export to Europe is almost a new trade. The Collector of Customs writes: "This increase has been owing to a trial shipment having been favorably reported on for the German market, which is supplied through London * * * * * From the cheap rate at which Indian tobacco can be laid down in Europe, there are prospects of much further development." If a steady and growing trade in Indian tobacco should be established, it will be a great advantage to the Indian growers. The increase in the saltpetre export is satisfactory, as the trade had been dull in the preceding year. The increase occurred chiefly in the exports to America and China, and may serve to counterbalance the somewhat gloomy anticipations made regarding this trade in the Patna divisional report.

4. Among the foreign imports fluctuation has occurred principally in the following items:—

	VALUE OF IMPORTS IN THE YEAR
	1871-72.	1872-73.
	£	£		£
Specie and bullion ...	4,001,604	1,096,251	...	*2,905,352 decrease.
Grey cotton goods ...	6,853,691	6,026,728	...	826,962 "
White cotton goods ...	1,410,112	1,628,977	...	218,865 increase.
Turkey reds ...	577,285	476,224	...	101,061 decrease.
Colored piece-goods ...	617,340	808,126	...	190,786 increase.
Cotton twist ...	973,252	1,020,248	...	46,996 "
Coal and other fuel ...	121,387	77,088	...	44,298 decrease.
Candles ...	17,015	44,679	...	27,663 increase.
Spices ...	64,720	97,453	...	32,733 "
Fruits ...	61,301	39,643	...	21,658 decrease.
Copper ...	579,609	289,367	...	290,241 "
Railway materials ...	210,967	253,848	...	42,881 increase.
and wood ...	100,083	16,483	...	83,600 decrease.

The decrease in the bullion imports have already been noticed; almost the whole decrease occurred in imports from Great Britain and China. The decrease in grey cotton goods, following on a decrease of £716,635 in the value of imports during the preceding year, is ascribed mainly to the over-trading of the year 1870-71. The trade in twist, colored goods, and white cotton goods, is recovering from the stagnation of the year 1871-72. The decrease in the import of fuel is due to the rise in prices in England.

* NOTE.—This figure differs from that in paragraph 2, which contains interportal as well as foreign bullion and specie imports.

The fluctuation in the imports of candles, fruits, and spices, is casual, and is not explained. The great falling off in the copper import is said to be due to the rise of prices in England, to which country the ordinary Indian supplies of copper from Australia were diverted. A new source of supply for copper has been worked during the year under review, namely, Japan, which sent £27,835 worth of copper, as compared with £12,942 worth in the preceding year. The small increase in the import of railway materials followed on a decrease of over half a million sterling in the preceding year. The decrease in the timber imports occurred chiefly in the Australian and British trade. There was an almost corresponding increase in the imports of timber from Moulmein, which is shown under the head of interportal as distinguished from foreign trade.

5. On a general review of all the items of the trade of Calcutta, the Lieutenant-Governor feels able to say that the Custom House returns testify that the yield of country produce and the general commerce of the country was fairly good. The only very unfavorable item was the continued large decrease in the export of oil-seeds. The reduction of imports of piece-goods was, it is believed, merely the natural reaction from the excessive trading of 1870-71.

6. Of the total value of all the inward and outward trade of Calcutta during the year, 52 per cent. was with Great Britain. In the trade to North America there was a net decrease of £252,421 in value; of this decrease £6,164 were in the imports, which are altogether inconsiderable in value (less than £40,000 in all). The chief items of decrease in exports were indigo, oil-seeds, raw skins, gunny cloths, and gunny-bags; while there was a considerable increase in the saltpetre, gums, india-rubber, and tanned skins trade. Altogether the exports from Calcutta to America fell from a value of £2,247,712 in 1871-72 to £2,013,705 during the year under review.

There has been a net decrease of £114,895 in the Calcutta trade with Australia. The decrease has occurred mainly in the imports of copper, horses, and timber, and there have been small decreases in the value of rice and of miscellaneous exports to Australia. The only noticeable item of increase in the Australian trade is gunny-bags, of which Australia took more than double as many as she did in the preceding year.

7. The Calcutta trade* with France has remained stationary; while the trade to China, Holland, Hamburgh, Trieste, Egypt, North America, Australia, South America, the Straits Settlements, and the Arabian and Persian Gulfs, has decreased considerably during the year under review; and the trade with the Mauritius and Italy has increased thus—

* Note.—The figures used in this paragraph are taken from the Commercial Annual for 1871-72 and 1872-73, published by the Collector of Customs.

Total value of export and import trade (exclusive of bullion) between Calcutta and the undermentioned places during the year

			1871-72.	1872-73.
France	1,477,285	1,471,730
China	6,602,862	5,614,844
Holland	244,769	107,671
Hamburgh	65,452	1,323
Trieste	643,869	425,690
Egypt	69,342	56,034
North America	2,161,573	1,790,217
Australia	279,348	160,942
South America	134,329	6,411
The Straits Settlements	1,549,641	1,307,378
The Arabian and Persian Gulfs	398,440	375,867
Italy	268,448	467,373
The Mauritius	503,034	733,864

France has taken much more raw silk, more shawls, more jute, more hides, and more saltpetre, than in the previous year; but the exports of cotton, seeds, and indigo, have fallen very largely indeed; the net result being that the value of the whole trade was about the same as in the previous year. The decrease in the China trade has occurred chiefly in imports of copper and vermillion, and in exports of opium and rice. The exports of cotton from Calcutta to China had risen in value from £409,491 in 1871-72 to £659,338 during the year under review. The trade with Hamburgh has almost ceased owing to the failure of the rape-seed crop. The falling off in the Trieste trade has been principally in indigo exports (£190,000), cotton exports (£60,000); the exports of hides to Trieste has meanwhile risen by nearly £70,000 in value. The export of indigo to Egypt almost ceased during the year, and the import of corals from Egypt was very slack. The decrease in the North American trade; the decrease in the import of horses, copper, and timber from Australia, and the increased export of gunnies to Australia, have already been noticed. The decrease in the trade with South America was due entirely to the cessation of the demand for Indian rice in South America. The decrease in the value of trade to the Straits is due to the shortness of the opium supply; the trade in gunnies to Singapore and the imports of black pepper from Penang increased largely. Nine-tenths of the trade with the Straits is export trade. The export of rice to the Gulf decreased by about £60,000, but as a make-weight the export of indigo went up £35,000; both these fluctuations are probably due to the cessation of the Persian famine. The large increase in the trade with Italy consists of an increase of £100,000 in the export of raw silk, £56,000 in the hides and skins export, and £12,000 in the indigo export. There was some increase in the imports of salt and of beads from Italy. The increase in the Mauritius trade occurred entirely under the head of rice and other food-grains. More than ninety-nine-hundredths of the trade with the Mauritius is export trade.

8. Of all the countries with which Calcutta has considerable foreign trade, Great Britain is the only country which sends to India more merchandise than she receives. In 1872-73 Great Britain sent to Calcutta £14,362,000 worth of merchandise, and received from Calcutta £10,735,000. To all other countries Calcutta sent about £19,265,000 worth, and received back from those countries about £3,624,000 worth of goods. The excess in value of the Calcutta export over its import trade with some of the principal countries of the world may be seen from the subjoined figures:—

Country with which the trade occurs.				VALUE OF CALCUTTA TRADE OF THE YEAR 1872-73, EXCLUSIVE OF BULLION.
				Exports. £	Imports. £
China	5,442,357	172,487
North America	1,756,661	34,565
France	1,284,601	187,293
The Straits Settlements	1,080,839	125,629
Australia	111,552	49,390
The Mauritius	732,542	1,522
Italy	407,647	59,726
Trieste	396,976	29,614
Arabian and Persian Gulfs	295,156	80,611
Holland	107,677	Nil.

9. The number of steamers, other vessels, and native craft, entering Calcutta during the last three years compares as follows:—

		1870-71.	1871-72.	1872-73.
Vessels of all kinds...	Number	1,082	1,109	1,118
	Tonnage	890,675	978,693	992,211
Steamers	Number	290	342
	Tonnage	279,692	347,130
Native craft	Number	169	161
	Tonnage	15,324	13,299
Suez Canal steamers, included in the first two totals	Number	56	89	91
	Tonnage	56,353	109,175	121,534

It is evident that the average tonnage of the vessels coming to this port continues to increase, though not at so rapid a rate as in the years immediately after the opening of the Suez Canal.

10. At the port of Chittagong there was a large increase of trade and customs duty during the year 1872-73; thus—

	1871-72. £	1872-73. £
Total customs collections, exclusive of salt duty ...	18,990	35,891
Estimated value of exports ...	278,793	452,749
Ditto of imports ...	121,010	184,829
Ditto of total trade ...	399,803	637,578

It would seem that in the foregoing figures, taken from the Board's report, the value of the salt imported has been taken at the invoice price plus the duty, instead of being taken at the price in bond; a deduction of Rs. 7,25,000 must therefore be made from the estimated value of the Chittagong trade, if the estimate is to be framed in the same way as for Calcutta and other ports.

The dutiable export of rice from Chittagong is mostly to the Mauritius and Ceylon. There is also a very considerable and rising trade with Rangoon in timber and earth-oil, which last commodity is coming into general use among the people of Chittagong. From Akyab also, where salt is cheap, a considerable trade in salt-fish is getting to Chittagong. Chittagong still draws its supplies of piece-goods and other European commodities, except salt, from Calcutta.

11. The custom duty realized at the Orissa ports is still extremely small, barely Rs. 10,000 a year, which is realized on small consignments of rice to, and of cocoanuts, coir, and cowries from, the Laccadives and Maldives, or upon an occasional package of European stores from Pondicherry. In 1872-73, the total quantity of rice exported from the Orissa ports to places outside India was only 42,000 maunds. There is, however, a considerable export of rice from Orissa to other Indian ports. When the canal system of Orissa shall be complete, we may expect to see a large export of rice from Orissa to foreign and to Indian ports. The coasting trade between Calcutta and the Orissa ports is largely increasing. The ports and the establishments at False Point, Balasore, Chandballee, as well as the communications between these ports and the interior, have recently been much improved, and are receiving still further attention. The Government of India has recently sanctioned proposals for relieving the Orissa ports from the strict letter of some of the customs departmental rules, which hampered the coasting trade. The working of these ports will be a very great benefit to Orissa and its people, though for some years to come their trade can hardly have much effect upon the customs revenue. The principal exports will be rice for Calcutta and other Indian markets.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to Mr. Money, the Member in charge of the Customs Department of the Board of Revenue, for his able supervision of the Customs Department; to Mr. Crawford, for his successful administration of the Calcutta Custom House; to Messrs. Hankey and Ravenshaw for their attention to customs affairs in their divisions; as well as to the officers mentioned at paragraphs 149, 174, 175, 206, and 207 of the Board's report, for the diligent discharge of their duties during the year.

REPORT BY THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT FOR 1872-73.

(RESOLUTION.)

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE.

ABKAREH.

Calcutta, the 23rd October 1873.

READ—

The report by the Board of Revenue on the administration of the Excise Department for the year 1872-73.

1. Two important experiments were made in the year under review to effect an increase in the revenue derived from country spirits without promoting consumption, each of which has been attended with some measure of success. Under the central distillery system the practice had been to charge a fixed monthly license fee, generally Rs. 4, on all shops in a district, irrespective of their locality. The tendency thus was to increase the revenue by increasing the number of shops. While some dealers, whose shops were well situated, got quick returns on their capital, others less favorably situated made very small profits, and some could barely contrive to continue their trade all the year round. It was thought that Government might well claim to share in the extra profits of the former class arising from local advantages, and that the shops of many of the latter might with advantage be closed. It was therefore determined to make the license fees charged for any shop correspond in some measure with the local advantages which the holder might be expected to enjoy, securing these to him at the same time by restricting the number of shops to be licensed. The amount of yearly fee for each shop can now be settled by competition at auction, subject to an upset price of Rs. 4 per mensem, or it can be determined by the Collector on a consideration of the local circumstances. Both plans have been tried in parts of the Patna, Bhaugulpore, Burdwan, and Dacca Divisions, with results that are on the whole encouraging. The number of shops has largely decreased, the consumption of duty-paid liquor has been reduced, while the revenue has not suffered, but has on the whole increased.

2. The difficulty of ensuring the honest and intelligent use of the hydrometer, as well as of keeping the instruments in order, suggested the adoption as an experiment of the plan of levying a tax upon the materials of distillation, instead of a duty upon spirit according to its alcoholic strength. The head-quarters and outlying distilleries of Monghyr and the Begumpore distillery in Patna were selected for the trial. Rates were fixed after experiment, calculated to be equivalent to the still-head duty previously levied. These rates in Patna were Rs. 4-8 per maund on goor, Rs. 3-8 per maund upon choor, and Rs. 3 on the other materials used in distilling spirit. The experiment appears to have broken down in Monghyr, where the system, however, is said not to have had a fair chance. In the Begumpore distillery, on the other hand, there was in the last three quarters of the year, the period during which the trial was made, an increase of 49,589 gallons of spirit passed out, and of Rs. 7,908 in the tax realized as compared with the issues and amount of duty realized during the same period of the previous year. Under the new system the produce of the tax levied on materials was equivalent to an average duty of only three annas one pie per gallon. It would therefore seem that the new system has enabled the dealers to make a large quantity of cheap weak liquor, such as the consumers demanded. If the people prefer this kind of drink to the stronger stuff turned out under the hydrometer system, it is very much better that their wishes should be met.

3. Towards the close of the year the selling price of excise opium was increased by about ten per cent. in all districts except those in which opium is produced. The revenue has improved somewhat, but the late period of the year from which the change had effect renders it premature to draw any inference from this. The duty on flat ganja was also raised from Rs. 2 to 2½ per seer with effect from the 1st April 1872. The result has been a consumption diminished by 1,420 maunds, and a revenue increased by Rs. 41,828.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that in accordance with the view expressed by him in August 1872 the supervision of the excise system has now been generally entrusted to the sub-divisional officers within their respective jurisdictions. This practice had, it is understood, previously existed in some districts. It is now to be universally adopted, and there are to be no special Excise Deputy Collectors.

5. The total excise revenue of the year under review was larger than that of 1871-72 by Rs. 4,47,407. It exceeded the average of the five years immediately preceding by Rs. 8,51,966. Including the customs duty on imported wines and other liquor, the results of the year are as follows, compared first with those of an average of the five preceding years, and next with those of 1871-72 only:—

The Lieutenant-Governor considers it to be a happy result that, with diminished consumption, we have very considerably increased the revenue on the whole.

6. Country spirits, Taree, and Puchwai.—The above figures show an increase in the revenue derived from these liquors of Rs. 2,34,558 as compared with 1871-72, and of Rs. 5,81,640 as compared with the average of five years. Though the increase of this revenue is hardly a subject for congratulation, the Lieutenant-Governor believes that consumption is really checked. The measures adopted with a view to this end are the enhancement of the rates of still-head duty, the increase by auction-sale of the license fees, and above all the restriction of the number of shops. The introduction of the new system of licensing shops for the sale of country spirits has had much effect in this direction. The total number of gallons issued from all public distilleries during the year in question was 2,673,190, or 278,092 less than in the previous year, and 640,004 less than the average of five years immediately preceding it. Of the decrease in consumption, as compared with 1871-72, 276,654 gallons represent the diminution in the districts where the new system of licensing country spirit shops was introduced. The average monthly license fee exacted there per shop was a little over Rs. 8 in place of Rs. 4, which was formerly customary, the increased revenue thus obtained more than meeting the falling off in the amount of still-head duty. At the same time the number of shops was reduced by 1,536 in these districts alone.

The reduction in number of native liquor shops throughout the whole of Bengal was 1,559 as compared with the previous year. A similar plan has been followed of enhancing the revenue derived from shops for the sale of fermented taree. Though there was a slight increase in the number of these as compared with the previous year, still the total number of taree shops was less by 217 than the average of five years. At the same time the average annual fee levied from each shop has increased from Rs. 28-15-3, the average of five years, to Rs. 32-11-2, the average of the year under review.

7. After all the spirit revenue of these provinces is not large in view of the vast populations they contain. The consumption of country spirits and rum does not average more than one-twenty-fifth of a gallon per head of the population in Bengal.

The Commissioner of Patna, in his administration report for the past year, says: "The mhowa liquor most generally sold in these districts is 75° to 90° below proof, and is probably much less intoxicating than public-house beer at home. It sells at two to three annas a quart in the shops, a price which, in comparison with the general range of prices in India, is considerably dearer than that of beer in England. In Patna the annual consumption is something over one-half a gallon per head, while in Chumparun it falls as low as one-thirty-third of a gallon per head. This of course means that the proportion of people who drink is very small, for I suppose any one who drinks at all regularly is bound to consume 50 gallons of such weak liquor in the course of a year."

8. The use of taree, the juice of the date tree, is by no means so injurious as that of distilled spirits; while puchwai, the chief drink of a large section of our population, is really very small beer.

9. In commenting last year on the extension of the out-still system to Hazareebaugh, and to the Nepal and the North-East Frontier, the Lieutenant-Governor desired that every precaution should be taken against encouraging a taste for distilled spirits among aboriginal tribes. The Commissioner of Patna and the Collector of Purneah now report that there is no danger of this in their districts; while the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore anticipates that with a proper superintendence there will be no cause for fearing that more liquor will be produced and consumed than was the case under the central distillery system. The Lieutenant-Governor much hopes that his instructions may be borne in mind; he observes that in Maunbhoom the number of out-stills is considered by the Board to have been "much more than were required." Indeed in the Chota Nagpore districts generally a very large number of out-stills have been licensed—181 in Hazareebaugh, 533 in Lohardugga, and 138 in the jungly tracts of Maunbhoom. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that there could have been no actual necessity for licensing such a very large number of out-stills. He hopes that this matter will receive Colonel Dalton's best attention; that inquiry will be made how much liquor, at what price, and of what kind, this large number of out-stills turns out; and that if these new out-stills have promoted drinking and drunkenness unduly, by bringing liquor to every man's door, the number of licenses should be very considerably reduced.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the Commissioners of the various divisions take on the whole a favorable view of the results of the experiments which have been made. By none of them is it pronounced a failure, while the Commissioner of Dacca thinks that the trial has been very satisfactory, and that the results are the best encomium on the wisdom of the measure. Even the Commissioner of Bhaugulpore, where there were the least encouraging results, remarks that a great loss caused by the first introduction of the change was to a considerable extent recovered afterwards, and is sanguine that ere long the system will answer well. The Commissioner of Patna thinks there was rather too hasty a diminution in the number of shops, but is of opinion that the experiment has succeeded better than could be expected for the first year. Mr. Buckland is inclined to await a longer trial before pronouncing the measure to be a success. It is encouraging to observe that the experiment made of taxing the materials instead of spirit in its manufactured form is also regarded as a success. Mr. Money, however, thinks that the crucial test of extending the system to distilleries in the interior yet remains to be applied. The Lieutenant-Governor will await with interest an account of the success which may attend the further experiments to be made this year.

11. With reference to paragraph 87 of the report, the Lieutenant-Governor takes occasion again to say that he cannot accept as proved Mr. Money's assertion, that in most places the sudder distillery system is a total failure. The present report wholly fails to give sufficient evidence of the smuggling, &c., said to exist. One petty fraud detected by one sub-divisional officer is all that is cited in paragraph 84 to which the Member in charge refers for proof. As regards thinly-peopled tracts, such as Chota Nagpore and the Nepal frontier, Mr. Money's views have been already adopted, and a relaxation permitted in the rule requiring a fixed still-head duty to be levied on all spirits according to quality. So far as a comparison is possible between the central distillery system and the old farming (or monthly tax) system, we know that under the new system there are in some districts, and ought to be everywhere, fewer liquor shops than under the old system. We believe (but on this point we have no actual certainty) that liquor is, strength for strength, dearer than it was under the old system; we receive reports that the amount of liquor made in the central distilleries is decreasing year by year; the excise revenue on country spirits has, notwithstanding the forebodings made in the Board's special report of August 1870, and notwithstanding a largely increased import of European brandies, gradually worked up to a total considerably higher than the revenue of the year 1863-64, just before the central distillery system was introduced; and the Government is gradually reducing still further the number of liquor shops without causing any very large loss to the excise revenue. There may be corruption and speculation at outlying distilleries, but at any rate it is very difficult to believe that liquor would not be cheaper and more largely consumed under the monthly tax system, when it was the distiller's interest to produce as much as he could, and to bring cheap liquor to every man's door, than under the central distillery system, whereby a distiller must pay a still-head duty (or even under the pessimist view must pay a considerable bribe) for every gallon he distills. It certainly seems reasonable to presume that under the present system liquor must be dearer and less plentiful, must be less forced upon the people than under the old farming system.

12. Imported wines and spirits.—Although in the year under review the revenue derived from import duty on wines was somewhat larger than in the previous year, there has been a diminution both in the amount imported and in the duty paid on wines since 1868-69 and 1869-70. As compared with the former year, the difference is 54,667 gallons and Rs. 29,761, and as compared with the latter year, 52,393 gallons and Rs. 32,131. Coupled with this is an extraordinary decrease in the consumption of beer, the imports having fallen gradually from 1,022,255 in 1866-67 to 681,963 in the past year, entailing a loss of revenue amounting to Rs. 21,434. The amount of import duty realized on beer last year was, however, less than the average of the previous five years by only Rs. 2,360. It has been ascertained that the Bombay imports of beer have also decreased of late years, though not quite in so large a proportion as the Calcutta imports;—the total Bombay beer imports of 1872-73 were 264,284 gallons as against 356,527 gallons in the year 1866-67. It seems therefore to be clear that the imports of beer, whether on Government account or for private consumption, has considerably decreased of late years. The decrease in the Government imports may be due partly to the decrease in the number of European troops, and partly to the more frequent use of Indian hill beer for soldiers in the Punjab. The decrease in the imports of beer on private account is, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, due to a change in the habits of Anglo-Indians, who drink less beer than they used to do, substituting more generally light wine for beer as a daily drink.

The revenue derived from import duty on spirits was larger by more than one lakh of rupees than in the previous year. It is much to be regretted that there should be, as observed by the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, an increase in the consumption of low class imported brandies. It may be advisable, as recommended by Mr. Money, to raise the customs duty on this class of spirit.

13. Ganja.—Paragraphs 114 to 123 show the results of the administration with regard to ganja. As compared with the previous year, there was a diminution of 220 in the number of shops licensed, and of 1,414 maunds 20 seers 10 chittacks (about 14 per cent.) in the consumption of ganja, while the revenue on the whole improved by Rs. 49,877. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to congratulate the Member in charge on his having secured this very happy result of an increased revenue with a diminished consumption of this noxious drug. It appears to be due in a great measure to the increase of the duty on flat ganja before noticed, and also in some degree to the system adopted in the 24 Pergunnahs of putting up licenses to auction.

14. Opium.—The Lieutenant-Governor views with regret the increase, small though it is, which is observable in the consumption of opium: but after all, as he has before remarked, it is only in districts with a large element of Indo-Chinese population like Assam, Gawalpara, and Rungpore, that there is any considerable consumption. The only exception to this rule is the small district of Balasore, before remarked, where consumption continues to increase, and where it has never been sufficiently accounted for. There is also consumption, but to a less extent, in the Oorya and semi-Oorya districts of Cuttack and Midnapore. It may be that the consumption is due in part to the pilgrims who pass through those districts. A moderate quantity of opium is taken in Calcutta and its suburbs, in the suburban towns of Hooghly, &c., and in Moorshedabad. In no other district does the revenue derived from it reach Rs. 80,000, except in Mymensing, where also there is an Indo-Chinese strain in part of the population.

Paragraphs 143-5 point out that it is impossible to prevent petty illicit consumption of opium in the producing districts notwithstanding the increased activity of the police and the large amount of Rs. 4,682 granted as rewards in the course of the year. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs in this view. He is, however, consoled to know that the result of inquiries has shown that opium is really not largely consumed by the people of these districts. As long as this is not the case, with the great export opium revenue derived from these districts, we can well afford to spare the petty local revenue.

15. But the wholesale mercantile smuggling reported in paragraphs 148 and 155-8 is a very much more serious affair, and may have very serious consequences if not put down with a strong hand, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that no stone be left unturned to this end. He is strongly of opinion that in the present state of communications, with free-trade, and absence of custom lines search and restrictions, opium smuggling must be more severely punished than by fine, which can always be paid as part of the transaction, when the smugglers happen to be caught. It has lately come out that there was an organized system of sending illicit opium by rail to the Punjab carried on by Punjabees settled in the producing districts, and that there is, besides, a regular flow of similarly smuggled opium to Calcutta and Chandernagore. It is hopeless to check this by the infliction of such punishment as is reported to have been awarded in the case noted in paragraph 158, where an important seizure of illicit opium was made and the smugglers got off with a fine of Rs. 250. Even putting the profit to be made as low as Rs. 5 a seer, these men would, if undetected, have cleared some Rs. 1,500 by the transaction.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor is gratified at the zeal and efficiency, which the Member in charge considers Messrs. Hankey, Bayley, Ravenshaw, and Colonel Dalton, have shown in the supervision of the working of the Excise Department in their respective divisions; and his acknowledgments are due to all the officers mentioned at paragraph 168 of the Board's report.

17. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are again due to the Member in charge for the care and ability with which he has directed the administration of the Excise Department during the year.

ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 8th November 1873.

READ—

The Annual General Report of the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division for the year 1872-73, with its enclosures.

1. This division has had the unusual advantage of having been superintended for a long series of years by one officer, and he an officer admirably fitted to deal with it, and who has rendered invaluable service in the management and development of the simple people of these Western Hill Tracts. As usual, under his care all has gone smoothly and well during the past year, and the Lieutenant-Governor heartily thanks Colonel Dalton. The advance made by the people under his charge during his incumbency has been very great indeed, and there are now probably no more peaceable and loyal subjects in any part of Her Majesty's dominions. The disturbances and rebellions of former days have now wholly passed into oblivion.

In particular, the general prosperity of the Koles of the Singbhoom district is one of the most pleasing features. It is stated that when an eminent officer inspected the district in 1856, he was so struck with the savage barbarism of the rude population, that he doubted the expediency of encouraging the further propagation of Koles, but now Captain Garbett says that their villages are often perfect pictures of comfort and prettiness. The brisk attendance and business done at markets, the increasing use of brass instead of earthen utensils, the more common wearing by the women of a better description of garment, and a dozen other inclinations, in themselves perhaps slight, but important in the aggregate, all attest the growing prosperity of the people.

2. The sure, though somewhat slow, progress of the inquiry into and settlement of the old Bhuinhari tenures of the aboriginal tribes puts an end to the last ground of discontent, and if we can restrain landlords from a harsh exercise of power, all will go well. The progress of Christianity among the people tends to make them independent. It may be hoped that the officers of Government will be able to render their position tolerable, notwithstanding the wide rights improvidently given to chiefs in the early days, when the only object was to protect the plains against the hill people, and the revenue was alienated to those who were bound to guard the passes, but have now almost a sinecure. The Lieutenant-Governor is sure that, as long as Colonel Dalton reigns in Chota Nagpore, the fair rights of the people, whether in the Bhuinhari tenures in the Khudkutti villages mentioned by him, or in any other form, will be maintained. Whether Act X of 1859 be strictly in force or not, the tenantry are entitled to at least all the protection which that Act affords to occupancy and other rights. His Honor notices what is said of the landlords in Maunbhoom, that they have served on their tenants notices of enhancements of rent at treble, quadruple, quintuple, and even higher rates. The explanation of the talookdars, than which, as Colonel Dalton says, a more unjust reason for enhancement could not have been given, is that having accepted their talooks with a spurious rent-roll, according to which the head proprietor himself never dreamt of realizing, they were compelled to increase heavily to make some profit out of the transaction. Be that as it may, His Honor is certain that if justice is fairly done, such attempts cannot succeed.

3. Wages are perhaps lower in Chota Nagpore than in any other part of India, but the Lieutenant-Governor is very glad to see how favorable and hopeful, all things considered, is the Commissioner's account of the condition of the people. This is mainly due to their freedom from prejudice and local ties, and their industrious disposition, which enables them to go forth from their own country to earn money by labor. Not only do very many thus serve abroad, but a large proportion of those who do not emigrate for a longer period go forth for labor in the season when they have little work at home, and bring back their modest earnings. In addition to this they have the advantage of their women working as well as the men.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that in several parts of this division, e.g. in Kharakdea on one side and in Palamow on another, the system under which men, and even whole families, are held as hereditary bondsmen (to which the Lieutenant-Governor has elsewhere several times alluded) is still in full force. Colonel Dalton believes the system to be principally confined to Hindu or Hinduised tracts, and he hopes that the poorer aborigines do not submit to this bondage. We must gradually teach the humble people who submit to such a system that they have rights as other men.

5. It is stated as the belief of the officers of Government that, with the exception of the Rajah of Jushpore, who subscribes to the Education Gazette, no other native of Chota Nagpore takes in a newspaper. His Honor trusts that the new village education system, together with missionary teachers, will improve their knowledge. Sir George Campbell would prefer this to the suggestion of starting a Government Moniteur newspaper, with a monopoly of official intelligence.

It is gratifying to observe that education has already, in fact, made considerable progress among the people. The only schools in existence when Colonel Dalton took up his appointment as Commissioner, were one at each of the Sudder Stations of Lohardugga, Maunbhoom, and Singbhoom, and a few missionary institutions. In 1871-72 the number of schools had risen to 220, with 5,508 pupils. Since the introduction of the new system the number of schools has risen to 571, with 15,871 pupils. The primary schools sanctioned for this division have been opened, and are as a general rule making fair progress. Colonel Rowlatt, the Deputy Commissioner of Maunbhoom, has set about their establishment with energy and success. The missionary schools at Ranchee are maintained on a very liberal scale, and are of immense importance, as through them there is a constant flow of the children of both sexes coming in wild from their homes, and after a few years of training returning to them instructed, and, to some extent, civilized.

6. The Commissioner reports favorably of the changes of procedure effected by the new Criminal Procedure Code. The substitution of the Hindee character and language for the Hindustanee in the offices of Hazareebaugh and Lohardugga is welcomed as a boon, says Colonel Dalton, by all the natives of the districts to which it applies.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the result of the mortuary statistics from selected areas in this division should not have been satisfactory; but His Honor has every confidence that Colonel Dalton will spare no pains in perfecting his arrangements. The Lohardugga returns seem to be very fairly accurate.

8. With regard to the Commissioner's recommendation, that the registration system should not be further extended in the Chota Nagpore division, and more particularly in the Lohardugga district, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that it is a new view of registration that it acts injuriously because the people are so improvident that it is undesirable to bind them down in that way. His Honor heartily shares in the feeling that in this country it is often very hard and unjust to enforce literally an engagement made between two very unequal parties, but the registration merely secures that the fact whether a document was executed or not should be attested. The effect of that document is another matter. So long as we allow such engagements and hold them binding, it can hardly be desirable to leave their genuineness in doubt.

9. Vaccination is a question of great importance in Chota Nagpore, as the practice of inoculation has been entirely disallowed. It is satisfactory to note that, as a rule, the old inoculators take readily to vaccination if the means are placed at their disposal, and they are allowed to carry it on in their own fashion with mystery and ceremony.

10. Although the country members of the different Committees are said to be indifferent to the proceedings, the Town Committees are active and intelligent, and take great interest in their duties; and, as has been observed elsewhere, this is especially the case when the supervision of the different divisions of the union is allotted to individual members.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor highly approves of the system which the Commissioner has adopted with so much success in settling with villages. The objectionable practice of calling for offers when leases fall in is abolished; the Court of Wards or Manager holds them direct till the assets are ascertained, and then they are usually leased to headmen representing the villagers; where an old village system is found existing, it is upheld; where vestiges of such an institution are discernable, it is restored. A fair rent for the land is taken, and irregular cesses are abandoned as new settlements are made. It has been found in practice that this system is highly appreciated by the people; and, as the income of the estates annually increases, it cannot be said that any action has been taken detrimental to the interests of the revenue receiver.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with much pleasure the success of Mr. Forbes's administration of Palamow. It is entirely owing, writes the Deputy Commissioner, to Mr. Forbes's personal attention and untiring energy that Daltongunge has been transferred from a jungly waste into a really neat little town.

From—A. MACKENZIE, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, To—All Commissioners.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has had under consideration the subject of the registration of Mahomedan marriages and the difficulties which are found to arise (especially in the eastern districts) from the want of any functionary recognized by the State to take the place of the old Kazees in connection with the attestation of marriage and divorce. The Mahomedan law seems to require or expect that such things should be attested by an officer appointed by the ruling power; and His Honor has thought that a system of voluntary registration of marriages and divorces among Mahomedans might be set on foot, which should remove much of the present ground for complaint.

2. I am to forward a copy of a draft Bill framed with this object, and to request that you will report upon it after consulting those official and non-official gentlemen of your division who may be best able to advise upon such a subject. The Lieutenant-Governor's idea is to enable those who wish to make their domestic arrangements certain to do so, without interfering with those who prefer a looser practice. The arrangements between the registrar and his clients are also to be left entirely to private settlement.

Draft Bill.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the local Government, it is enacted as follows:—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error in the presence of the parties married or divorced, or in case of their death or absence in the presence of two other credible witnesses who shall respectively attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

 Nos. 2402, dated 22nd September 1873, and No. 2406, dated 23rd September 1873, from the Consulting Engineer to the Government of India for Guaranteed Railways at Calcutta.
 Extract para. 5 of No. 3393, dated 12th September 1873, from the Government of Bengal.

OBSERVATION.—The promontory of Goalundo was selected as the terminus of the Eastern Bengal Railway Extension from Kooshtea, because it possessed a deep-water frontage, and was near to the junction of the River Ganges and Brahmaputra, but soon after the Railway was open, doubts arose as to the permanence of this valuable property. During the flood season of 1871 the encroachments of the River Ganges at, and above Goalundo, caused much anxiety to the Engineers, and after a consultation on the spot between the Agent of the Railway and the Consulting Engineer for Guaranteed Railways, Calcutta, the Government of India were in May 1872, requested to sanction the expenditure of Rs. 7,500 from the capital funds of the Railway in the construction of a loose stone groin extending from the margin into the river. The main line of railway was to be prolonged into deep water, and the bank itself was to be formed of puddled clay, while its extremity and slopes were to be protected by loose stone pitching. It was hoped that the encroachments of the river would be effectually stopped if this groin could be permanently maintained in the position assigned to it, that the main stream of the Ganges would be diverted by means of this groin, and that the rest of the promontory on the down-stream side, on which it was intended to build a railway town, would be rendered secure. In according, sanction to this small outlay, the Government of India, expressed their opinion that the maintenance of the proposed groin would be difficult, and doubted that the money could be advantageously spent in contending against the forces of such large rivers as the Ganges and Brahmaputra at their confluence in alluvial soil.

2. A larger sum than was anticipated was expended on these works, which, however, failed during the floods of 1872. In the following December the Agent asked for permission to expend Rs. 1,71,405, on further protective works, and proposed to obtain the advice of Mr. Bradford Leslie, formerly Chief Engineer of the Eastern Bengal Railway. On this application the Governor General in Council expressed continued doubts as to the successful result of the proposed works, but considering the importance of the Goalundo trade, and the advantages attending the possession of a sheltered deep-water frontage, His Excellency in Council agreed that another effort might be made to secure the site of the terminus on which buildings worth £50,000 had been erected.

3. The Agent in India consulted Mr. Leslie, and after the Board of Directors had obtained the opinion of their Consulting Engineer in England, further operations were put in hand, which, with those already executed, were estimated to cost up to 30th September 1873, £52,791, including some unexpended material which was valued at £5,300. The state of the work in a report by the Consulting Engineer, dated 16th September 1873, is described as "causing great anxiety," although "the efforts of the Company's officers had not been thrown away, for the spur has so far withstood the floods and the main stream of the Ganges is effectually deflected to the north as desired." The spur had by means of this large expenditure been maintained, but the erosion above the spur had not been checked, and the embankment was reported as presenting twice as much surface to the current as it did at the commencement of the season, and as being in consequence proportionally weaker.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has watched with interest the efforts which have been made by the Engineer of the Eastern Bengal Railway, because His Honor hopes that, in the not distant future, a railway may be constructed through the country east of the Brahmaputra joining Assam to the Eastern Bengal Railway at Goalundo. Sir George Campbell believes that to the stem the rivers where the two great streams meet is an imperial work, and considers that Goalundo is the only place where, if art be superadded to a natural foundation, a fixed point may be obtained. His Honor wishes to have a wharf or pier on the Goalundo clay as a fixed and permanent point of departure for all the Eastern districts and countries, and suggests that the Government of India should help the Eastern Bengal Railway Company in completing a work, which he fears may be beyond the means of a comparatively small Company.

5. The Governor General in Council is thus urged on the one hand to sanction the expenditure of guaranteed capital by the Railway Company, and on the other to permit the outlay of unknown, but large amount from the imperial treasury, and before proceeding further, His Excellency in Council desires to review the position, and the endeavour to determine what is the right course for the Government of India to pursue. The Railway Company have already spent £50,000 in trying to protect the site of their partially formed terminus at Goalundo, of their efforts to arrest the erosion, if effectual, would encourage the process of silting. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to maintain a fairly rapid current in front of the proposed jetties, in order to keep the channel clear for the approach of steamers, at all seasons, without endangering the stability of the artificial works, or of the natural bank behind them. In either case the work is one of great difficulty in a net-work of large rivers, such as those which meet at Goalundo, and are, in addition, affected by the tides of the sea; and considering also what large advances the rivers have made in past times in the same direction as the present erosion.

6. Before deciding whether new works of any kind shall be undertaken at Goalundo, His Excellency in Council desires that the subject shall be thoroughly investigated by a Committee of experienced Engineers unconnected with the Eastern Bengal Railway works, whose opinions will, in any case, be valuable to the Railway Company and to the Government of Bengal, in showing what measures are desirable to meet the acknowledged difficulties. The following remarks will direct the general scope of the deliberations of this committee:—

1st.—The opinion of the Committee is desired as to the possibility, at reasonable expense, of preserving the existing Railway terminus at Goalundo.

2nd.—If the Committee think that such preservation is possible, they should state whether the advantage to be gained by incurring the necessary expense is sufficient to justify that expense, and what measures they recommend for adoption.

3rd.—If the preservation is considered to be impossible, or if corresponding advantage is probably not to be gained, the Committee should say what, if any, action they recommended under all the circumstances of the case.

7. The Governor General in Council believes that the under-mentioned officers will form a Committee, whose opinions will be entitled to full respect:—

COLONEL F. H. RUNDALL, R.E., President.

MR. GEORGE SIBLEY, M.I.C.E.

„ G. L. MOLESWORTH, M.I.C.E.

„ H. LEONARD, M.I.C.E.

• LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. W. GULLIVER, R.E.

His Excellency in Council trusts that Mr. Sibley will be willing to serve on the Committee, and that the Agency of the East Indian Railway will consent to his doing so. The Committee should meet at an early date, and should take and record the evidence of the local Engineers, whether in the employment of the Guaranteed Company, or of the Government, and also of such officers as the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal may depute. The report by the Committee should be in every way full and complete for the information of the Government of India.

ORDER.—Ordered, that copy of this Resolution, with copies of the papers read, be forwarded to the Government of Bengal, in reply to the concluding paragraph of Mr. Cotton's letter No. 3303, dated 12th September 1873, and with the request that the services of Colonel Gulliver may be made available to serve on the Committee, and that all officers required by the Committee, and able to give valuable information, may be directed to attend.

That copy be forwarded to the Consulting Engineer to the Government of India for Guaranteed Railways at Calcutta for information, and communication to the Agent of the Eastern Bengal Railway, with the request that the officers of that Railway may be desired to afford all facilities and information required by the Committee; also to the President and to the three official Members of the proposed Committee for information and guidance; also to the Agent of the East Indian Railway, with the request that the Government of India may be favoured with the assistance of Mr. G. Sibley, the Chief Engineer, with whom the President of the Committee will communicate.

Ordered also, that the proceedings be reported to the Secretary of State.

C. H. DICKENS, Colonel, R. A.,

Secretary to the Govt. of India.

Rainfall, Weather and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 8th November 1873.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS.
BENGAL.		1873.
Western Districts.
1	Burdwan	Nov. 11th*	0.9	Weather in the district very hot for the time of the year. Slight showers at Raneegunge and Boodhood on the 3rd instant; slighter still at Cutwa.	Prospects of crops same as before, e.g., bad, except in the low lands; irrigation is being carried on wherever possible. Prospects of sugarcane, cotton, and teel—oil-seed—in Raneegunge pretty good. Prices rather higher.	Fewer same as before.
2	Bancoorah	" 8th	0.44	Nearly half an inch of rain fell. Mid-day unseasonably hot.	The slight rain that fell was too late to do good, except in the way of aiding the sowing of the cold weather crops. The rice on the low lands is fair, and perhaps may give a 6 or even 8-anna crop.
3	Beerbhoom	" 8th	0.08	Hot and sultry. Slight rain on the 3rd instant.	The harvest of the early rice crop is progressing; putting in of cold weather crops on patches on the banks of tanks commenced; position otherwise unchanged. The rain of the 3rd instant too light to do any appreciable good to the crops. A brisk exportation going on, chiefly to the Bhaugulpore and Patna Divisions. Prices stationary.
4	Midnapore	" 8th	0.03	Light showers in many parts of the district during the week, but only in a few places and very partially sufficiently heavy to do any tangible good.	A little rain having fallen the prospects of the crops cannot be said to have deteriorated, but they have improved but slightly. Leasing for irrigation has quite ceased, partly because it is too late to irrigate any longer, partly because about 1/4th of the area lately leased still remains to be irrigated, and the water is very low. Prices are rising steadily, rice being exported largely to Bancoorah and Calcutta.
5	Hooghly	" 8th	0.22	Clear, at times cloudy; wind from north-east. Slight rain on the 4th instant.	The slight rain of the 4th instant was of no use to the rice, but will assist the sowing of the cold weather crops. About three-fourths of the crop on highlands and half on lowlands are already destroyed, but more will be destroyed if no rain falls. Water for irrigation is failing in many places.
	Howrah	" 8th	Nil	Heavy clouds at the beginning of the week, and the wind shifted to the south. There was much appearance of rain coming, but never came, and all sights of it have gone.	The crops have had another dry week. The rice on the highlands is gone beyond hope. The rice on all lands not open to artificial irrigation is in imminent danger, and can only be saved by rain. The rice within reach of irrigation is safe, and none else; fortunately much land is capable of being irrigated. Taken all round, an outturn of one-third of an average crop may be counted on.

* Telegram of the 11th November received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

6 24-Pergunnahs	Nov- 11th*	Nil.	Still warm during the days, but cool at nights; the first three or four days of the week were cloudy. There was rather a heavy fall of rain in parts of Barripore and some rain in parts of Diamond Harbour sub-division. There were also light drizzling showers in parts of Satkhira, Basirhat, Baraset, and Dum-Dum sub-divisions.	It is feared, however, that the crops have not materially improved by the rains; those on the high lands are for the most part injured beyond redemption, while on the low lying lands there is still some water. The rain which has fallen will so far do good that it will enable the people to sow their cold weather crops within the area over which it fell.	Fever continues in Barripore, Basirhat, and Satkhira.
7 Nudda	" 8th	0.03	Dry and hot; there was rain all over the district on the 3rd instant; it was very slight in most places, but in portions of Meherpore one and a half inches fell, and the shower is reported to have done some good in parts of the Koosteah sub-division.	The prospects of the crops have not materially altered since last report; the rain which fell on the 3rd instant was too partial to influence general prospects. The cold weather crops have been sown in some parts of the district, (viz. portions of the Koosteah and Chooa-dangah sub-divisions), but elsewhere sowing is still deferred owing to want of rain. Prices have risen considerably in the sudder sub-division; the highest quotation is Rs. 3 a maund at Nakassiparah; but it is reported that the mahajuns of the place have large stores in hand, but refuse to sell in hopes of a further rise. The lowest quotation is Rs. 1.12 on portions of the Meherpore and Chooa-dangah sub-divisions.
8 Jessore	" 8th	0.04	Clear and warm. On the 3rd and 4th instant thunder showers fell at a few places, but they were of very limited extent and short duration.	The condition and prospects are not materially altered since last week. Thunder showers fell at Jessore and Gudukhally in the sudder; Narriah and Koomarpore in Narriah; and in some parts of the Magoorah sub-divisions, and the hundredth part of an inch fell at Khoolnah. None fell at Jenidah sub-division, where it is most wanted, nor in Bagirhaut. The showers have been very local, and their aggregate effect is not such as to produce any material change in the out-look. Prices throughout the district continue to rise. At headquarters the large rise of last week has been followed by a fall this week. Rice, which was sold at 13 and 16 seers to the rupee, being now procurable at 16 and 21 seers.
9 Moorshedabad	" 8th	0.05	Some rain fell on the 3rd instant in various parts of the district. Bhadrihat, Bharutpore, and Rughoonathgunge have benefited most. The fall in other thannahs was scarcely more than a drizzling. Sky cloudy on the 8th instant.	The rain is reported to have done some good to the late rice crop in the low lands of Bhadrihat, Bharutpore, and Rughoonathgunge, and to have been everywhere of some benefit to the cold weather crops. There was not, however, sufficient to be of any advantage to the rice already withering. The cultivators are irrigating extensively wherever water is procurable, and thus preserved the crops in several places. No general improvement is, however, observed. Price of rice still rising.

Central Districts.—(Contd.)		1878.
10	Dinagapore	Nov. 8th	Nil	No appearance of rain; strong, dry west winds blowing daily, and no sign of a change.	Very bad. The hot west winds never known here before at this time of year will spoil the little rice there is alive, while the want of rain will make the cold weather crops a failure also. Price of rice 11 to 12 seers of 96 tollahs weight per rupee.
11	Maldab	" 8th	Nil	Weather dry, nights cold, wind north-easterly, clouds collected, and a few drops of rain fell in several parts of the district on the night of the 8th instant.	There is no improvement in the state of the crops this week. No rain has fallen, and the winter rice crop will be almost an entire failure, that is to say, one anna or at most a two-anna crop is all that can be now hoped for. The prospect of the cold weather crops also continues bad; there is no moisture in the soil, and what cold weather crop has been sown has been much damaged by insects, which are doubtless the result of the unseasonable weather. Prices of rice and paddy have somewhat improved in the last few days as compared with last week, owing to imports from the eastern districts via the Mohanuddes. There is no sign of actual distress at present, and if the imports continue steady, these, with the store of rice in the district, ought to meet the demand for the present at any rate.
12	Rajshahye	" 8th	0.27	There was a slight fall of rain in some parts of the district in the beginning of the week. Weather has been warm, and the dew which is generally heavy at this season, has been unusually light.	The prospects of the late rice crop have not improved since last week. The cold weather crops are being sown, but unless it rains soon they will suffer considerably and sowings will be suspended. The prices of rice are in most places much the same as they were last week. In Nattore, Charchat, and Bandikhar there has been a rise in prices of some importance, due probably to increase of exportation.	A few cases of cholera have been reported from Nattore and Charchat stations.
13	Rungpore	" 8th	Nil	Fine and cool; no prospect of rain at present.	The prospects of the rice crop worse than ever; a 4-anna crop is the most that can be expected. Mustard is being sown extensively and tobacco is being planted out, but rain is needed. Prices seem to be rising all over the district.
14	Bograh	" 8th	Nil	Dry, and unusually hot for the time of the year.	The greater part of the late rice crop is quite hopeless. Sugarcane in some parts is flourishing; several cold weather crops have been sown. The people are endeavouring to help themselves by irrigation from tanks, &c., which has done some good.
15	Pabna	" 8th	Nil	Clouds kept coming up at the beginning of the week, and slight showers of rain fell during the afternoon of the 4th instant; since then it has become clear, and increased heat has set in again.	The crops are suffering as before from drought. On the Mothoora police station side the mashkalis pulse is being damaged by insects. A heavy shower of rain would still do much for the late rice now standing. It is being gradually reaped.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
Central Districts.—(Contd.)		1878.
COOCH BEHAR DIVISION.	16 Darjeeling	Nov. 8th	Nil	Still no rain. Alternate clouds and sunshine; heavy dew at night. Keen north-westerly wind.	Much the same as last week. The comparative fair condition of the crops on the low lands of this district, where irrigation is freely resorted to, will, it is hoped, prevent serious distress.
	17 Julpigoree	Return not received.
	Cooch Behar	.. 8th	Nil.	Generally cloudless.	The late rice crop is expected to be a 10-anna one, but there is no reason to apprehend actual scarcity, as the late rice crop of last year was very abundant, and the early rice crop this year was nearly up to the average. The prospects of the principal cold weather crops—tobacco—are not injured.
Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVISION.	18 Dacca	.. 11th*	Nil	No rain; cold weather beginning.	Prospects of crops bad. Late rice on high lands utterly gone.	Fever in Manick-gunge and cholera increasing.
	19 Furreedpore	.. 8th	Nil	Weather hot in the day, close in the evening and the early part of night, but cool generally towards the morning and forenoon. Sky clear during the night, but cloudy occasionally in the afternoon and evening.	No rain has fallen in this district for the past six weeks, the ground everywhere is therefore hard and baked, rendering ploughing difficult. The most lands have, however, before this been turned up, prepared, and sown in most places with pulses of all kinds, oil-seeds, and vegetables of the season, including the usual condiments—onion, garlic, chilly, coriander, &c.; but rain in slight showers is much wanted to prevent this being parched up by a prolonged drought. The late rice in higher parts has already been reaped and is in course of reaping, but on the lower lands and beels it is still in ear and not sufficiently mature for harvest, and promises to be a fair crop, or about three-fourths of an average crop. The price of rice has fallen slightly owing to the early rice (aus) and early late rice (amun) being in the market, the cultivators selling as much as they do not need for their rents; but being new rice, is not considered wholesome, and is not in much demand. New rice selling in several places at 18, 19, and 20 seers per rupee, according to quality. The people, not yet having realized the scanty crops in the surrounding districts, are still looking forward as in other years to importations from them for their future supplies. The sugar-cane in most places has been reaped, and the date trees all over the district are undergoing tapping for manufacturing molasses.	A few cases of cholera, some of them fatal, reported from the south-east of the district in the tract bordering on Madaripore, but the epidemic does not appear to have spread and seems to have died out.

* Telegram of the 11th November received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGAL. — (Contd.)
Eastern Districts. — (Contd.)		1878.
Dacca Division. — (Contd.)	30 Backergunge	Nov. 8th	Nil	Dry, sun very powerful. Heavy shower of rain in Dukhin Sabazpore.	About the same as last week. The heavy rain in Dukhin Sabazpore has freed the crops of the insects which were damaging them. The late high tides have done good, as they have effectually irrigated many fields. A 12-anna crop is still expected, and in Patnakhal and in the Backergunge thannah there will be probably as much as 14 annas. The price of rice suddenly rose, but it has fallen again somewhat.
	21 Mymensing	" 8th	Nil	There is said to have been heavy rain in the south of the district on the 3rd and 4th instant.	The rains have benefited the crops in portions of the south and centre of the district, and the prospects have materially improved in consequence. The Collector estimates the probable out-turn of the different sorts of rice crops in this district during the present year to be about a 10-anna crop.
	22 Sylhet	" 1st	Nil	Cloudy in the middle of the week, and very close during the day since Thursday. Signs of a coming storm or heavy rain at the full moon.	Same as last week.
	23 Cachar	" 1st	Nil	Fair	Taking an average crop from 12 to 14 annas of a full crop, the prospects at present are that the district will yield a 10-anna crop or more.
	24 Chittagong	" 1st	A few drops on the 29th October.	Fine and dry, but still hot, except in the early morning.	Insects reported doing damage in Meerkasrai and Seeta-coond (northern seaboard). Reports from other places generally favorable, but a fall of rain would do much good.
Chittagong Division.	25 Noakhally	" 1st	Nil	Weather cool and pleasant.	In the jurisdiction of the Sudharam, Bamnie, Sundep, and Hata police stations, the late rice is reported to have been injured by the "Sani" and "Mayah" insects; and in that of Amcergunge and Ramgunge, to have suffered for want of sufficient rain.
	26 Tipperah	" 8th	Nil	Cloudy and threatening up to the time of the eclipse on the night of the 4th instant, since when the sky has been clear, and the sun excessively hot. Cool north wind blowing, and apparently not a chance of rain.	The reports of the rice crop from all parts are very gloomy now. Even where the crop had grown luxuriantly, the long spell of brooding weather prior to the eclipse has generated insects which are eating up the ears; what has escaped the insects cannot escape the present heat of the sun. It is consequently drying up fast. Buyers for exportation are busy in different parts. Rice at Comillah Bazar was Rs. 2 per maund. Sugarcane appears to be fair throughout.
	27 Chittagong Hill Tracts	" 1st	Nil	Cool throughout the whole week. No rain, but heavy dews.	The paddy crop has nearly been gathered; about one-sixteenth of it is still ungathered. This crop has not been very successful owing to the early cessation of rain, but there is no fear of absolute scarcity. Cotton is brought for sale in considerable quantities. The prospects of the latter crop are good. Mustard land is being ploughed.	Low fever prevalent.
	Hill Tipperah	" 1st	Nil	Still no rain; mornings and evenings cool.	No change in the prospects. The paddy on the high lands has withered in most places. The jooms in the hills are said to have suffered from want of rain.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS.
BEHAR.		1873.
28	Patna	Nov. 10th*	Nil	Very little change since last week. In Barh and Behar a little rain fell on the night of Tuesday last.	The little rain which fell in Barh and Behar is not enough to do any good to the rice crop, though it might benefit to a slight degree the cold weather crops. Caterpillars are reported to be doing considerable damage to the young plants of the cold weather crops in the Barh sub-division.	Health of the district, good.
29	Gya	" 8th	Nil	Cool. Slight shower of rain in Nowda on the 3rd instant.	Prospects are getting worse. A good deal of the paddy crop has withered up and is beyond recovery. Owing to want of moisture, most of the cold weather crop lands have not been sown, and where they have been sown the crop does not present a healthy appearance. In Nowda the slight rain appears to have done some good.
30	Shahabad	" 8th	Nil	The wind was in the east for two days and light clouds gathered morning and evening. It has again veered to west and has been clear and cool.	There has been a slight rise in the prices since last week. With the exception of irrigated crop, the paddy has perished. The late rice saved by artificial irrigation is being cut towards Sassee-ram sub-division. About 60,000 acres of all kinds has been irrigated up to date, and of this the paddy is expected to yield a full crop. The cold weather crops on the Dearah and low lands promise well as yet, that in the high lands requires rain soon.
31	Tirhoot	" 8th	Nil	Hot by day and cool by night as also cloudy.	In the Durbhangha sub-division the prospects of crops are very bad for want of rain. Rice crop has been nearly destroyed. If there be no rain within a week there will be very little cold weather crops. From Sitamarhi reports from all parts are unfavorable, the fear of famine is daily increasing, the prices of rice has risen very high, prospects of paddy crop continue bad. There is no hope of saving the paddy except in places bordering on streams. The cold weather crop is being sown in several places, but the seeds do not germinate for want of moisture. In many places the ground has become too hard to yield to the plough, and in Madhubani the rice crops are as bad as they can be, there being no rain as yet. The prospect of good cold weather crop is very small and in the east of the district the prospects are equally bad.
32	Saran	" 8th	Nil	Fair; no signs of rain, west wind prevailing.	The paddy is being rapidly dried up for want of rain, and agriculturists are cutting it as fodder for cattle. No moisture in the lands for the cold weather sowings. Sugarcane and kodo are injured. Rubur, pulse, and cotton are, however, doing well. Preliminary enquiries are being made for relief works.

* Telegram of the 10th November received on the 11th. Shows rainfall during the seven days including the 10th instant.

Chumparan ...	" 8th	Nil	Hot days, cool in the mornings and evenings, west winds.	From the agricultural statistical returns of the putwarees of the villages within the sudder sub-division, and the report of the Canoongoe deputed to inspect the state of the crops, it appears that there would be a total failure of the khureef or cold weather crops, but what the Collector himself has seen within the radius of six miles from the sudder station, he is of opinion that there would be on an average more than 2 annas and less than 4 annas crops. Those on low lands and places adjacent to water supply for irrigation would give an outturn of about 8 annas, while the general average yield would be more than 2 annas. The prospects of the cold weather crops are not very cheering unless rain falls soon. Relief works are not required to be opened as yet as the cultivators have lately harvested 8-anna, mokai (maize), 12-anna kodo (millet), 8-anna sathi or early paddy. If the lately harvested early crops and remnants of previous year are freely brought to market it would give a supply for six months to come, but the mahajuns, &c., have abstained from sending their stored grain to market for making large profits in time of the impending famine. Prices which rose gradually have been lowered a little.
Monghyr ...	" 8th	0.02	Warm weather and frequent clouds coming and going; wind south.	Very bad. The slight showers did not suffice to lay the dust. In pergunnah Tegrāh it was heavier and prospects have slightly improved. In all other parts of the district everything is just as it was reported last week.
Bhaugulpore ...	" 11th*	0.06	On the 4th instant about half inch of rain fell over an area of thirty miles in the Banka sub-division. Weather getting quite cold.	The rain in the Banka sub-division was of great benefit. In Soopole the crops could not be worse. Prospects bad in western portion of Mudehpoorah. Rice has been imported a little lately, and prices have fallen during the last few days.	General health remarkably good.
Purneah ...	" 8th	Nil	No change, high west wind blowing.	Recent reports show that a good early (Bhadai) crop has been cut on the Koosi river, from whence rice is imported to the east where in consequence of the Mohanuddes not overflowing the yield has been small, only 4 annas. The Aughany or late rice on low lands is good, but the total yield of the district will be under 4 annas. Wheat, oats, and mustard are being sown everywhere, the dried up late rice being rooted up to make room for it, but unless rain falls soon the seed will not germinate. Importation by train and boat has commenced.

Telegram of the 11th November received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BEHAR.—(Contd.)		1873.
BRAHMPUR DIV.—(Contd.)	37 Southal Pergunnahs ...	Nov. 8th	0.06	On Monday a rain-cloud came up from the south and went away to the north-west. Nearly half inch fell at Paharia in Sultanabad in about three hours, of which half an hour was heavy. The path of the rain was thirty-six miles wide—heaviest in the Dumka Damin.	A great deal of low land rice excellent. Some upland rice fair even without water. Much of the rice that should be ripe now is the worst in the district, hence present hardship. Upland rice in Sultanabad plain country had, Doman and Belpatta (east) very much better. Average of crops on a eighty miles circuit certainly not less than 8 annas, and but for the losses on the Sultanabad uplands would be 10 annas. Prospects of the cold weather crops bad, very little sown, and that little not doing well. Water much more abundant in the ground and rice much better than was expected. Fair reports from the north-west parts, but extremely bad from the south-west.
	38 Cuttack ...	11th*	0.3	Weather very hot. Rain fell at Jajpore.	Earlier sarad or late rice ripening, later flowering; reports of crops fair. Cold weather crops promising.	Public health good.
	39 Pooree ...	1st	1.35	Cloudy for the most part of the week, and clear at the close.	The laghu, or second rice crop is forming ear as well as the late rice in certain places. The prospect of the cold weather crops continue favorable.
ORISSA DIVISION.	40 Balasore ...	8th	0.7	A little rain fell on Monday since then southerly wind has prevailed with a greatly increased temperature.	Khoordha sub-division—there is some insufficiency of water in certain parts and the crops are suffering to some extent. In all other parts the water supply is sufficient and winter harvest prospects good. The second rice crop is being harvested. Fair yield. The crops appear generally promising. Taking bad and good together the harvest will be a fair one. Prices rising very gradually.
	CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
	41 Hazareel ugh ...	8th	Nil	At the beginning of the week there was a little rain, inappreciable, at the sudder, but said to be one-fourth of an inch in the north.	There is no alteration at present in the prospects. Reports would show that for the whole district the crop is two-thirds of that of an average year, but it is on the high land that the crops have failed, and those lands are in the possession of the poor; the low lands that are not hurt belong to the rich.
	42 Lohardugga ...	8th	Nil	Cloudy and warm and for some days there was appearance of rain at Rancher, but the clouds passed away, afterwards bright and clear. Light rain appears to have fallen during the week to the south and south-west of Rancher in thannahs Lodhma, Torpa, and Tamar.	There is not much to add to the report of last week. The rice crop generally will be a short one in consequence of long drought, and rain now will do it little good. Rain, however, is most anxiously looked for in the Palamow sub-division and the Torce pergunnah for the cold weather sowings, and if some does not fall soon, it is feared there may be a good deal of distress in those parts. Prices have a tendency to fall a little.

43	Singbhoom	Nov. 1st	Nil	Days hot. Morning and evening cool. Rain in Dhalbhoom on the 22nd October 1873.	Rain wanted for the winter crops, the grounds having been baked as hard as rock. Gram, rohur—pulse, and wheat sown sometime ago have not suffered yet, but rain is also required for them. Dhalbhoom.—This part of the district has been visited by the District Superintendent. The bad reports regarding the crops have been very much exaggerated by the people. Although a great deal of damage has been done by the unseasonable cessation of the rain, there will still be in all the Taroffs, taking matters all in all, an eight annas outturn. Wherever there are tanks and embankments, and there are a good many in Dhalbhoom, the crops are good, but in most other places a good deal of damage has been done. There was partial rain on the 22nd October which has done a world of good. In Sernikeyla—the Rajah reported after special enquiry, the outturn will give food for about nine months; the condition of the crops is pretty much the same as in Dhalbhoom. Khursawah—from enquiries made of the people, who have come from that part, it appears that the crops will not be a bad one; favorable accounts of the appearance of the paddy are given by visitors. Porahaut—the crops of this division are moderately good, the means of irrigation being abundant, the outturn is expected to be eight annas. There was abundance of rain at Chuckerdhurpore about two weeks ago, and the crops there are simply magnificent and the yield will be a bumper one. Colehan—the outturn will not according to the report of the purdhan, &c., give more than six or seven months' food to the inhabitants.
44	Maunbhoom	" 8th	Nil	Cloudy and warm with showers in some parts of the district.	Where rain has fallen the rice and cold weather crops have both been benefited, but sufficient has not fallen to produce any marked improvement of the prospect for the future, which remains much as at the close of last week. The new rice is now coming into the market and prices are falling.
M AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goalparah	" 1st	Nil	Fair and bright. The clouds of previous week passed over without any rain.	The state of the late rice crop is reported to be worse in almost every part of the district. The rice plants are being parched and sowing of mustard seed has been retarded for want of rain; other crops doing well. Price of rice is daily rising.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS.
N AND ADJACENT HILLS.—(Contd.)		1873.
46	Kamroop	.. 10th	Nil	Days clear, nights cold with heavy dews.	Late rice and tea crops yet backward; cotton, sugarcane, mustard, and pulse thriving.	Public health good.
47	Durrung	.. 1st	Nil	Bright days and cool nights. Easterly wind prevailing.	No improvement in the state of the paddy crops. Rain much wanted for all crops.
48	Nowgong	.. 1st	Nil	Heavy rain on Tuesday for a couple of hours in the centre, south, and west of the district, but none in the sudder or to the north of the Kollungs.	The rice crop is not nearly so bad or backward as might be expected in consequence of the late drought. The recent heavy rain will have done much good. The Bhao paddy crop is doing very well. Sugarcane good. Weather favorable for tea operations.	General health excellent.
49	Sebsaugor	.. 1st	Nil	Weather cool, mornings foggy and cold. No indication of rain.	In Golaghat the state of the rice crop is satisfactory on the whole. In Jorehaut no change has taken place since last week. In the sudder sub-division the crop looks fair, but owing to want of rain it must be below the average.
50	Luckimpore	.. 1st	Nil	The whole week was remarkably fine; on two evenings it looked very little approaching rain, but the heavy clouds passed away. There were heavy fogs at night.	The state of the crops is not very satisfactory; probably from all accounts there will not be to the south of the Berhampooter more than a half crop: still there is apparently no anxiety; and the reports from North Luckimpore sub-division are that the crops are doing well. The cold weather crops promise well to the present time.	Public health has improved. Fever disappearing.
51	Naga Hills	Oct. 25th	0.71	There has been a change in the weather in this week. Mornings foggy and days cool and cloudy, indication of approaching winter.	The gathering of the joom paddy crop is coming to a close, and the outturn is larger than last year. Terai paddy looking well and the gram promises to be superior in quality. The growth of cotton has been somewhat retarded on account of the late showers of rain.
	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	Nov. 1st	Nil	The weather has been clear and dry.	The hali, or present crop of rice has nearly all been harvested and the outturn is more plentiful than last year. All other cereals as well as potatoes and cotton are doing well.
	Garro Hills	.. 1st	Nil	There has been no appearance of rain; the weather has been very hot during the daytime; nights cool.	There is nothing much to remark about the crops of the Garo Hills. The cotton looks well in most places, and is being gathered. Some rain would do good. The late rice crops at the foot of the hills near Mankar Chur are suffering much from the long drought; and rain, if it come down now would not benefit much those on the higher lands. Prices of rice are rising, and the accounts of the adjacent districts of Mymensing and Rungpore are bad.	Fever is prevalent at the station. The health of the people generally throughout the district is good, so far as is known.

Telegram of the 10th November received on the 11th. Shows rainfall during the seven days including the 10th instant.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

C. BERNARD,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

3. As some little time must elapse before the extent of the evil can be fully known, the conduct to be pursued by the Government cannot at present be exactly decided. But the Governor-General, fully recognising the advantage of publicity on such an occasion, will state the views and intentions of the Government of India so far as they can now be determined.

4. Various suggestions have been received to the effect that the Government should interfere with the trade in grain, either by prohibiting the exportation of this most important article, or by undertaking the general purchase and distribution of it throughout large tracts of country, or by regulating in some manner the prices of it in the markets. Without making any pledge as to what may or may not be done in the event of extreme necessity arising which cannot now be foreseen, the Government is not prepared to adopt any such measures, and would always avoid them, so far or so long as they could possibly be avoided.

5. The Governor-General has full confidence that the energy and enterprise of those engaged in the internal trade of British India will prove equal to the occasion, and that supplies (excepting under the conditions to be noticed hereafter) will generally be at hand to meet any deficiencies of grain in different parts of the country.

6. It has been officially reported that on the very first appearance of the prospect of a poor autumn harvest, large quantities of grain were imported into the trade centres of Behar, and much evidence has since been received to the effect that grain is being despatched by the merchants without any delay or hesitation to the principal marts in the districts likely to be affected by scarcity. The Governor-General is sanguine that the same commercial activity will prevail wherever it is needed, and that it will become greater and greater according as the demand for it may be intensified.

7. It has, however, been proved, by the sad experience of famines in India, that exceptional circumstances may arise whereby numbers of persons may be exposed to danger of starvation, or to disease arising from want of food. In all such cases, where human life may be at stake, the Government and its officers will do their utmost to apply the most effectual remedy that may be practicable, and will strive, by forethought and management, to prevent the occurrence of any such misfortunes.

8. There are certain respects and particulars in which the Government, while abstaining from interference with the ordinary course of trade, can render assistance towards mitigating the effects of scarcity.

9. In the first place, the opportunity will be taken to prosecute with vigor the execution of public works in those districts where large numbers of persons are, or will soon be, in need of employment or in distress.

10. Orders have been given by the Government of India to enlarge the operations of the canal from the River Soane, and to begin the Northern Bengal State Railway in anticipation of the sanction of the Secretary of State, for both which works plans and estimates are ready; which works, too, will be carried on in the midst of the district where want of employment must be most felt, and are calculated to benefit the country generally, and especially to prevent or lessen the occurrence of scarcity in future.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has been authorized to begin immediately such public works (in addition to those already in progress) as can be usefully undertaken in distressed districts, whether from funds granted by the Government of India, or from provincial funds, or from local resources.

12. The requirements for labour on all these public works will afford employment to large numbers who by reason of the cessation or the slackness of the usual agricultural operation in a season of scarcity, may be thrown out of work.

13. Thus considerable bodies of men will be congregated on or near the works at a distance from their homes, and often in localities remote from the established markets. It will be necessary, therefore, that sufficient supplies of food be collected for their sustenance. If the accumulation of such supplies be left to the ordinary course of commerce, special pressure will be put on the grain trade in certain localities at the very time when all its resources are being taxed for the general supply of the province or district. And if the wages were to be paid in cash to so large an aggregate of labourers, an extraordinary rise of prices would be created by the action of Government, thereby aggravating the crisis in districts already placed in critical circumstances, and so far counteracting the benefit which the works were intended to secure, namely, the mitigation of the effect of the scarcity.

14. Now, in regard to those public works carried on under the orders either of the Supreme Government or of the Local Government, the State will be in the position of an employer of labour on an unusually large scale, and is justified in doing that which all other employers do, namely, selecting the mode of remunerating its workpeople most acceptable to them, the most suitable to the surrounding circumstances. Such mode of remuneration will generally be payment in kind, that is, in food-grain. For this particular purpose, then, sufficient supplies of grain will be purchased and laid in both by the Government of India and by the Local Government for the public works under their charge respectively. These supplies will be obtained in such a manner as to interfere as little as possible with the trade in grain and with the supplies of food ordinarily available for consumption in the neighbourhood of the works, or within the area of the distressed districts. The Governor-General relies on the carefulness of the Local Government in making provision with this view. For the works to be carried on from imperial funds, the Supreme Government has resolved, in regard to its liability for the maintenance of the labourers, to arrange for obtaining supplies from provinces beyond the limits of the territories affected by the failure of the crops in Bengal and Behar. The Government of Madras and the Chief Commissioner of British Burma have accordingly been requested to make purchases gradually, through the agency of the trade, for this purpose.

15. The future arrangements for the supply of food-grain for the labourers on the public works will be strictly limited according to the requirement and to the purpose in view.

16. Besides the works just described, which are to be undertaken by the Government, there are many public improvements which can be undertaken, either by corporations or other bodies, such as municipalities and trusts. For loans of money from the Government treasury to such corporations ample provision is made by Act XXIV of 1871 (the Local Public Works Loan Act). In some cases, under the rules recently promulgated in accordance with the Act, the Lieutenant-Governor is competent to make the loans on his own authority from funds which have been allotted for that purpose by the Government of India. In those cases where, under the rules, the sanction of the Government of India is necessary, any judiciously matured project, any well considered application, which may be recommended by the Local Government, will meet with the immediate approval of the Government of India. If the rules in respect to preliminary enquiry and the like shall be deemed by the Lieutenant-Governor to cause delay which may be prejudicial at a critical time, His Honor is authorized to relax them temporarily.

17. For agricultural improvements, the Land Improvement Act (XXVI of 1871) provides for advances of money being made by Government to any landlord or tenant desiring to make an improvement in any land of which he is in possession or occupation. The improvements specified in the Act, that is, wells, tanks, and other works for the storage and distribution of water, works for draining, reclaiming, clearing, and enclosing lands, are well suited for employing the labour which may be unemployed in the villages by reason of the stoppage of ordinary work in the fields. The Governor-General earnestly hopes that many landlords will take advantage of the provisions of the Act. The rules under this Act recently promulgated by the Local Government with the sanction of the Government of India contain many precautionary provisions which are necessary in ordinary times, but which at a time of urgency might cause undesirable delay. The Lieutenant-Governor is authorized to make such relaxation of the rules as His Honor may deem advisable under the circumstances of the districts effected by the drought.

18. In reference to the local works, the Governor-General desires that the levy of the road cess may be postponed in any district or portion of a district where the Lieutenant-Governor may consider that the cess-payers are in distress. It is to be remembered that in those districts which are not so severely affected the proceeds of the road cess will afford the means of usefully employing any surplus labour that may be thrown upon the market.

19. In the next place, the Government may contribute something towards facilitating the transport of grain in the interior of the country. The Agents, therefore, of the Guaranteed Railway Companies, whose lines traverse Bengal and Behar, have been authorized to reduce by one-half the rates charged for the carriage of grain despatched to the district affected by scarcity, the Government undertaking to reimburse the Companies for the difference thus caused in the traffic receipts. The precedent is followed which was established by the adoption of a similar course in 1869.

20. The Governor-General is sure that the private steam-flotillas on the principal rivers, and the native craft which is so abundant throughout the river system of Bengal, will bear a most useful part in the conveyance of grain to the places where it is urgently needed.

21. In those places where the means of water-carriage do not exist, the grain-traders must mainly depend on the country carriage. There may, indeed, be ground for apprehension that, as the dry season advances, mortality beyond the average must arise among the draught cattle. This subject will doubtless receive the anxious consideration of the Local Government and of its officers. Every aid that can be afforded by the Commissariat or other public departments will be rendered; and enquiries are being made as to the practicability of constructing tramways in the distressed districts.

22. Should the distress become severe, and should the worst anticipations be realized, the Government will assist in the formation of relief committees, and in the organization of a system of relief for those who, despite all the operations of trade, may be threatened with death or disease from want of food. The Governor-General is sure that the private benevolence, which has always been conspicuous in India, will be evoked on this occasion, according as the need for its exercise shall become apparent. A central relief committee will, as soon as the Local Government shall consider it to be necessary, be formed at Calcutta as the capital of the provinces under the jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. To this committee will be entrusted the general administration of the funds for relief which may be received from private sources and from the Government, and the distribution of those funds among the relief committees which the Lieutenant-Governor will establish in the districts affected by scarcity. The district relief committees will distribute assistance to the distressed either in cash or in grain, or in prepared food, according to the instructions which they may receive from the Local Government. Any purchases of grain which may be necessary will be made either by the central committee or by the district committees. If the committees lay in supplies of grain they will be instructed to do so in the manner best calculated to avoid

The following are the conditions of Sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be resold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth Condition or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be accepted by this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book or the authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of the purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full is made by the said purchaser or his order.

With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby declared that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time before the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a lower upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of it thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Calcutta.

The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and pium for the year 1872-73, the same precautions have been taken as those which observed during past years, to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure ave only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have oportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug sed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, ately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival, at Cal- be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize a claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the lives

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 8th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March, 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1874, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 45,000 chests of

THE following rules, which have been drawn up by the Port Commissioners in communication with the Officiating Commissioner of Police, and approved by Government, are published for general information :—

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF THE PORT POLICE.

1. The force will form part of the regular police of the town of Calcutta enrolled under Act IV (B C.) of 1866, and will be employed under a special Superintendent, to be called Superintendent of Port Police.

2. The general administration of the force as regards appointment, discharge, promotion, transfer, discipline, and the like, over which matters the Port Commissioners shall have no control, shall be vested in the Commissioner of Police.

3. The Superintendent of Port Police will be responsible for the prevention of crime, the detection of criminals, and the general preservation of peace within his division. He is further bound to see that all Inspectors, native officers, and constables under his control, discharge their respective duties with zeal and efficiency.

4. On the commission of an offence punishable by the general laws of the country, the Port Police will act under their Commissioner without reference to the Port Commissioners, and will send the offender with the usual

Commissioner of Police. The Superintendent will be responsible for the prosecution of offenders arrested for such offences and for the conduct of such cases, and will see that the necessary witnesses are duly sent before the Magistrate.

5. The Port Police will clearly understand that though they form part of the Calcutta Police force, they are also placed at the disposal of the Port Commissioners for the due prosecution of offences against Act XXII of 1855 (the Conservators' Act) and Act V of 1870 (the Port Improvement Act), and all other Acts to be taken with and read as parts of these Acts.

6. The Superintendent will, in addition to reports he may be directed to make to the Commissioner of Police, at once report to the Port Commissioners all offences (punishable under the Acts specified in rule 5 committed on the river or Strand Bank,) and the actions taken by the Police thereon, and will from time to time furnish the Commissioners with reports of such offences in such form as may be directed.

7. In offences against the Conservators' or Port Improvement Acts, the Superintendent of Port Police will proceed in accordance with such instructions as he may from time to time receive from the Port Commissioners, who are responsible to Government for the due prosecution of their servants and others guilty of offences against the several Acts. In such cases the Police shall only prosecute when a charge is made and duly signed by the Vice-Chairman. A charge once made, the case will be in the hands of the Police, but the Commissioners' servants will afford every assistance in the shape of providing evidence, witnesses, &c., as required.

8. The Superintendent of Port Police shall, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Police, hold his office in such place as may be appointed by the Port Commissioners. He shall be in regular and frequent communication with the Commissioners, and shall satisfy himself by personal inspection that the orders issued are duly carried out.

9. No change shall be made in the fixed allocation of the force, or any part thereof, without the knowledge of the Port Commissioners.

10. Every policeman shall be furnished with a vernacular copy of the bye-laws of the Port Commissioners, and of the rules drawn up showing the duties of the Port Police.

NOTIFICATION.

The 17th November 1873.—Under the provisions of Clause 3, Rule XV, of the “ Rules for the conduct of business at meetings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,” the following Bills, with Statements of Objects and Reasons, are published by order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

H. L. DAMPIER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

A Bill to amend Act XXI of 1856 of the Council of the Governor-General, and Act II of 1866 of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

WHEREAS by Section 90 of Act XXI of 1856 of the Governor-General in Council (An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Abkari revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) the word “ Magistrate” as used in that Act is defined to include a Joint-Magistrate or other person lawfully exercising the powers of a Magistrate, and any Assistant or Deputy Magistrate with special powers stationed at a place other than the sudder station of the Magistrate, and empowered to try cases without reference from the Magistrate; and whereas the cases mentioned in different sections of Act II of 1866 of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council can under, Section 49 of that Act, only be tried by a Magistrate of less than full powers, when they are referred to him by the District Magistrate; and whereas further by Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure) new rules have been enacted assigning and regulating the powers of Magistrates of the first, second, and third classes;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. Section 90 of Act XXI of 1856 of the Governor-General in Council so far as it defines the meaning of the word “ Magistrate,” and Section 49, Act II of 1866, of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, are hereby repealed.

2. In the said Act XXI of 1856, and in all Acts which are to be read as part of that Act, and also in the said Act II of 1866, the word “ Magistrate” shall be deemed to include Magistrate of the first class and Magistrates of the second class, as defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure, and subject to the provisions of that Code in respect of powers and jurisdiction.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

As the law now stands, no Magistrate who does not exercise first-class powers can try even the pettiest cases of breach of the Abkari laws, such as smuggling, illicit sale of spirits, or infraction of conditions of license, unless he be stationed at a place other than the sudder station of the Magistrate, and empowered to try cases without reference from the Magistrate.

At the present time when officers exercising first-class powers are much occupied with more important district work, the restriction has been found particularly inconvenient; and the object of this Bill is to enable any Magistrate having first or second-class powers to dispose of such cases. Subordinate Magistrates will still only be able to take up cases of this description which are specially made over to them for trial, unless they are authorized to receive complaints generally, or complaints of this particular class, or when they are duly empowered to act without complaint.

The opportunity is taken for the same reasons to remove the restrictions which Section 49, Act II of 1866 (B.C.) imposes as to the classes of Magistrates who may try offences under that Act, and to assimilate the powers of each class in respect to such offences to those which they exercise, or with which they may be specially invested, with regard to offences in general under the Code of Criminal Procedure.

A Bill to provide for the Voluntary Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows :—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta, of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married or, divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give, or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made prima facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

NOTIFICATION.

The 15th November 1873.—The Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to sanction, from the 1st of January 1874, the formation of a new sub-division in the district of Rungpore, to be called the Kooreegram sub-division, of which the head-quarters will be situated at Kooreegram, on the right bank of the River Dhurla.

2. The sub-division will consist of the following tracts:—

- (a) Thannah Nagemari, with outpost Phulkumar.
- (b) Thannah Borabari.
- (c) Thannah Olipore, excepting that portion of it lying west of the River Teesta forming the outpost of Sundargunge.
- (d) All that portion of Thannah Chilmari lying to the east of the Teesta and including the small tract on the east bank of the Brahmaputra. This tract will be detached from the Gyebanda sub-division, to which it at present appertains, and will be formed into an outpost with head-quarters at Chilmari, and be attached to the Olipore Thannah and Kooreegram sub-division.

3. Outpost Sundargunge, detached from Olipore Thannah, will be attached to the Gyebanda sub-division, and together with that portion of Thannah Chilmari lying west of the Teesta will be formed into a thannah with head-quarters at Sundargunge.

DECLARATION.

The 18th November 1873.—Whereas it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that land is required to be taken by Government at the public expense for a public purpose, viz., for a Post Office at Raipoorah, in the village of Raipoorah, Pergunnah Bhulloah, Zillah Noakhally, it is hereby declared that for the above purpose a piece of land measuring, more or less, 2 cottahs $3\frac{1}{2}$ chittacks of standard measurement, bounded on the north by the newly-established Government Aided School; on the south by the Raipoorah Bazar; east by the public road; and west by the Zemindary Cutchery belonging to Baboo Khetter Nath Dass, is required within the aforesaid village of Raipoorah.

This declaration is made under the provisions of Section 6 of Act X of 1870 to whom it may concern.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Home Department, are republished for general information:—

No. 373.—Simla, the 4th November 1873.—Ecclesiastical.—The Rev. D. B. Morris, M.A., appointed a Junior Chaplain on the Bengal Establishment, reported his arrival on the 24th ultimo.

No. 377.—The 6th November 1873.—The services of the Rev. D. B. Morris, M.A., a Junior Chaplain on the Bengal Establishment, are placed at the disposal of the Government of Bengal.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Financial Department, are republished for general information:—

No. 2997.—Fort William, the 14th November 1873.—Miscellaneous.—RESOLUTION.—In consequence of the failure of the autumn rice-crop throughout a large part of the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, there is reason to fear that there may be a large expenditure of money for the relief of distress and a serious loss of revenue.

2. The Viceroy and Governor-General accordingly deems it necessary to invite the attention of Local Governments and chiefs of departments to the imperative necessity that is laid upon the Government and its officers for the immediate curtailment of all expenditure that can be reduced, postponed, or dispensed with. The scarcity in Bengal may cause a considerable strain on the general resources of the State, and expenditure that would be proper under ordinary circumstances would be out of place now.

3. His Excellency desires that each officer will take immediate steps to stop any expenditure in the present year that can be prevented, and that all estimates of charge for the coming year 1874-75 may be reconsidered and reduced to the utmost possible extent.

4. No increase of expense should for the present be suggested that can by any means be avoided.

5. The Viceroy and Governor-General is confident that officers of the Government will recognise the necessity for these instructions, and he looks for their loyal co-operation in giving effect to them.

ORDERED, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded for information and guidance to each Department of the Government of India, to each Local Government, and to the Heads of Departments under the Government of India in this Department.

Copy is also to be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

6. A Commissioned Military Officer in civil employ on privilege leave may draw presidency house-rent, provided that the Government is not thereby put to any extra expense.

PENSIONS AND GRATUITIES.

No. 3006.—The 14th November 1873.—The Governor-General in Council directs that the following be added as Rules 1 and 2 under Section 24 of the Civil Pension Code:—

1. The service of process-servers, before the Court Fees Act, 1870, was passed, qualifies in the following cases:—

In Bengal—

Service paid from the fund formed under Act V of 1863, Bengal Council.

In the North-Western Provinces—

(a) Service under the civil courts after 31st December 1863.

(b) Service under the revenue courts after 31st December 1865.

In the Punjab—

Service rendered after 14th March 1859.

In Oudh, the Central Provinces, and British Burmah—

All service.

In Bombay—

Service paid from the Ameen's fee fund.

[NOTE.—In Madras the service of process-servers previous to their appointment under the Court Fees Act, 1870, did not qualify.]

2. Rule 1 applies also to naib nazirs, who were on the same footing in respect to the source of their pay as process-servers.

SEPARATE REVENUE.—POST OFFICE.

No. 2982.—The 14th November 1873.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 27 of the Indian Post Office Act, 1866, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to revoke all rules and regulations heretofore prescribed for the re-delivery of letters and articles delivered into any Post Office to the sender thereof, and to prescribe the following rules in that behalf:—

- (1) No letters or other article delivered into any Post Office shall be re-delivered except under the orders of—
 - (a) The chief postal authority in a province;
 - (b) The Director-General of the Post Office;
 - (c) The Local Government or Administration; or
 - (d) The Governor-General in Council.
- (2) A fee of one rupee shall be paid with any application for such re-delivery.
- (3) An application for the re-delivery of any such letter or article may be presented in writing to the said officers, Governments or Administrations, directly or through any officer in charge of a Post Office.
- (4) Such application shall be received only from the writer of the letter or the sender of the article, or from some person duly authorised in this behalf by such writer or sender.
- (5) The application shall be accompanied by a statement (which may be enclosed in a sealed cover) of the reasons why re-delivery of the letter or article is sought. Such sealed cover shall be opened only by the officer or by a Secretary to the Government or Administration to whom or to which the application is presented.
- (6) Upon receipt of such application and statement, together with a fee of one rupee as aforesaid, by a Post-Master or other officer in charge of a Post Office, he shall immediately send the application and statement to the nearest office, or authority having power under Rule (1) to dispose of such application.

- (7) If the letter or article of which re-delivery is sought is in his possession, the said Post-Master or other officer, instead of forwarding it to its address, shall send it with the application to the said officer or authority.
- (8) If the letter or article is not in the possession of the said Post-Master or other officer, he shall require any other officer of the Post Office in whose possession it may be to abstain from sending it to its address, and to send it instead to the authority or officer to which or to whom the application will be or has been sent. The requisition to such other officer may be sent by telegraph, but all expenses attending its transmission must be borne by the applicant.
- (9) When the application reaches the officer or authority named in Rule (1) to whom it is thus sent, he or it may order re-delivery of the letter or article upon being satisfied that the applicant is the writer or sender, and that sufficient reasons have been given for the re-delivery, otherwise he shall send it at once to its address.
- (10) No letter delivered into the post shall be re-delivered in any case to any one but the writer or to some person authorized by the writer in writing to receive it, and no article not being a letter delivered into the post shall be re-delivered to any one but the sender or to some person authorized by the sender in writing to receive it.
- (11) In the foregoing rules the word "writer" does not include a person who writes a letter which another dictates or directs to be written, or who copies a letter which has been written by another; but in each of such cases the author of the letter shall, for the purposes of these rules, be held to be the "writer."

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Military Department, is republished for general information:—

The following are the conditions of Sale :—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-

sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth Condition or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bona fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. No. 1, certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Banares Opium for the year 1872-73, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 8th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March, 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1874, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 800 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale; provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 45,000 chests of Chests.

Behar	...	26,244
Benares	...	18,756

Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing the date of payment, or by selling it at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article, there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so supplied for provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."—By order of the Member in charge.

SCARCITY AND RELIEF.

Circular No. 80, dated Calcutta, the 17th November 1873.

From—C. BERNARD, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal,
To—All Commissioners of Divisions, and to all Magistrate-Collectors.

I AM directed to forward copies of the papers marginally noted, being the orders of the Government of India in regard to the measures which the Government of Bengal and its officers may properly take to help the country and the people through the impending scarcity and distress.

Government of India Resolution dated 7th November 1873.

Government of India letter No. 3003, dated 13th November 1873, with minutes of a discussion at Government House.

2. The orders of the Government of India being appended to this letter in full, the Lieutenant-Governor does not deem it necessary to go again over the whole ground embraced by those instructions; and he will only now state briefly how matters appear to stand, and on what special points immediate action or further report is required from local officers.

Sufficient replies have come in to Circular No. 70, dated 13th October last, to show that, roughly speaking, extreme failure of crops will probably be confined to—

- (1.) All the districts of the Patna Division.
- (2.) All the districts of the Bhaugulpore Division, except the Sonthal Pergunnahs.
- (3.) The districts of Dinagepore, Rungpore, and Bograh, and parts of Rajshahye, Maldah, and Moorshedabad, in the Rajshahye Division.

In other districts there will be short crops, but in the districts and parts of districts abovenamed the whole yield of all the food-crops of 1873-74 will, unless copious rain falls at a very early date, probably be below a six-anna crop all round; and relief works on a more or less extended scale will be required soon. There are other districts or parts of districts where the crop has been short, and where relief works may be required a little later if not now, such for instance as the Maunbhoom district, much of the Burdwan Division, and some limited portions of the Presidency Division. But in all these districts the harvests all round are expected to give an eight-anna crop; and though food will be dear, there will, it may be hoped, be no general and complete failure of the food-supply. For the present, then, and for the purposes of these orders, the tracts named in the first part of this paragraph will be treated as the distressed districts. At the same time the Commissioners of Burdwan and Chota Nagpore should watch narrowly whether large portions of the Burdwan Division and the Maunbhoom district may require to be brought within this category. Some relief measures will no doubt be necessary in these tracts where there is a large laboring population, many of whom may be without employment as soon as the rice harvest is over.

3. The policy indicated by the Government of India is briefly as follows:—

FIRSTLY.—Government will look to the natural operations of trade to import the food required to fill the deficit in the local supply in the districts where the crop has failed. By way of facilitating this traffic, the Government has reduced by one-half the railway grain rates, and has also ordered the temporary abolition of all road toll-bars, or tolls on ferries which can in dry weather be crossed by a ford or a causeway. The tolls on ferries where boats must be used to ferry carts across are to be reduced to the lowest tariff that will remunerate the boatmen. Further, the Government has put a steamer and flats to ply on the Ganges from Kooshteah to Rajshahye, and has ordered a small light draught steamer with flats to ply on the inland waters of Rajshahye. All that local officers have to do is to see that neither at ferries, nor at railway stations, nor at ghâts, nor on rivers, are any unauthorized difficulties placed in the way of, or dues levied upon, the transport of grain, and that the roads are put in order, and every facility given for traffic.

4. In places likely to be in want where there may not be traders of sufficient means and in sufficient numbers to import food to fill the deficit in the food supplies, or where for any reason the natural flow of trade is slow and difficult, the Government is ready to aid and promote the natural trade of the country by making advances of money, either—

(a) To zemindars, plahters, or others under paragraph 26 of the Government of India resolution of the 7th November 1873, on condition that they will import grain from a distance and sell it as near as possible at cost price, all expenses included.

(b) To traders and others of a safe and responsible character, who will take the money at a moderate interest of 6 per cent. per annum, and will engage to import grain from a distance without any conditions as to the rate or manner of their selling it.

The Lieutenant-Governor delegates to district officers in the distressed districts the power of making such advances, where necessary, up to a limit of Rs. 2,000 to any one person; and to Commissioners in those districts the power of sanctioning advances up to a limit of Rs. 10,000 to any one person. Larger advances may be specially sanctioned, or a larger discretion may be allowed on a representation of the circumstances.

In the former class of advances, an undertaking must be taken from the person receiving the advance that he will sell the food purchased to his distressed neighbours as nearly as possible at cost price, and that he will repay the advance without interest before the 31st December 1874, or will produce full and complete accounts to show why Government should forego any portion of the repayment.

In the latter class of advances, it will be necessary merely to stipulate that the supplies will be drawn from districts beyond those to which the scarcity extends, and for repayment of the principal and interest by the end of 1874 or any earlier date that may be arranged. It will also be desirable to stipulate for the occasional inspection of the grain invoices (chalans) of such dealers in order to verify that they really do import their grain from a distance.

The Lieutenant-Governor has full confidence that district officers will know what persons can be trusted to act fairly by Government and by the people in respect of advances of these kinds. In regard to all advances for grain, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it essential that it should be a distinct stipulation that the purchases should be made and the grain imported at a very early date to be specified, so that the means of carriage now existing may be utilised to the utmost. If the purchasers are allowed to delay, and the despatches do not come till February or March, all the difficulty which the Lieutenant-Governor apprehends from a block of carriage will probably arise and the advances will do very little good.

5. SECONDLY.—Government recognises that many of the labouring classes, and of all those people who have neither money nor credit, will as soon as the reaping of the rice crop and sowing of the cold weather crops have been completed or abandoned, and before the prospects of the spring crops have declared themselves, be unable to earn money or wages. Such people will probably before very long come upon relief works, if only we have a sufficient number of works spread over the country to give them labour near their homes as soon as they are ready to take it. The Government undertakes the relief of distress in this form, either directly by public works, or indirectly by advancing money to responsible persons who will undertake beneficial local and private works.

6. Already there have been begun in the distressed districts—

- (a) The two new branches of the Soane Canal in Shahabad, while the old branches already in progress are being carried on in Patna and Gya.
- (b) The Gunduk embankment in Sarun and Chumparun.
- (c) The earthen embankments of the Northern Bengal Railway in the Rajshahye, Bograh, Dinapore, and Rungpore districts.

These three are works for which the Government of India will provide or advance the funds.

Farther, the Lieutenant-Governor at his recent interviews with the Commissioners of Patna, Bhaugulpore, and Rajshahye, has sanctioned the immediate commencement of work at as many points as possible, on

- (d) The series of North Ganges emigration roads which are to lead from Sarun, Tirhoot, Monghyr, and Bhaugulpore, through the Purneah, Maldah, and Dinapore districts, to Rungpore, Bograh, and the Berhampooter; and thence to Assam, Cachar, and other eastern districts beyond the Berhampooter which are in want of labor.
- (e) A variety of local roads in the Patna and Bhaugulpore Divisions which the Lieutenant-Governor approved in conference with the local officers.
- (f) Local roads in the Rajshahye Division which the Lieutenant-Governor has authorized the Commissioner and Mr. Robinson to commence at once at their discretion, according to the necessity of the case.

Work has been already commenced in the Burdwan Division on

- (g) The new cut from the Damoodah into the Kana Nuddee, by which it is hoped to procure a supply of water for the present season, as well as to make a great permanent improvement.

The Lieutenant-Governor has moreover given directions to prosecute—

- (h) Road fund roads generally throughout the country which the local authorities have been desired to press on wherever they are wanted for the purpose of giving employment to people thrown out of work. The Lieutenant-Governor has promised that in such cases, whenever the works get beyond the means of the local

7. Further details of the works to be undertaken will be settled as far as possible.

The general statements of relief works which have been already prepared in compliance with the orders of Government contained in Circular No. dated 19th June 1872, are being printed for circulation; and by a selection from, and, if necessary, addition to these, it may be hoped that sufficient employment will be everywhere provided.

8. In regard to the preparation for, and commencement of, relief works wherever they are required, it may be well to repeat here the orders passed by the Lieutenant-Governor in his note on Patna affairs, dated the 29th October to the following effect:—

“In this view I have told the district officers that they should lose no time in commencing ordinary earthwork on roads, &c., at as many places as possible. I am glad to find that their attention has been already given to the point, they have generally work of some kind ready which can be advantageously undertaken without delay. This they will do, giving the ordinary wages to the country. And by the aid of their general information, and the information afforded by the works in hand, they will judge of the necessity for any extended works and for food relief in each part of the country. I have told them that as soon as the demand for labor exceeds the resources of their local funds, money for works, where relief is necessary, will be supplied without stint. The great thing is that they should prepare beforehand, and prepare (by a centre line only) roads and other works on which relief labor may be expended to the permanent advantage of the country.

“The Commissioner will occupy himself in settling the works in various districts that may best be undertaken. I have authorized the employment of special men for the design and superintendence of works.”

9. His Excellency the Viceroy has been good enough to promise temporary employment in Bengal and Behar as many Engineers and competent young military officers as can be spared. These young officers will be available for directing relief works in the distressed districts. Meantime the local officers should, as far as possible, prepare out the lines of road and set them going. The simple forms of account in which the district road fund works are now kept will suffice for the relief works.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish to receive from the Commissioner, as soon as they can be sent, lists of the local relief works commenced or proposed in each distressed district, with memoranda of (a) the additional establishment to be entertained upon relief works, and (b) the probable monthly expenditure upon the works, supposing the people to flock from all quarters to them. After the list has been sent the Lieutenant-Governor would wish to have, in the weekly narrative described below, an account of relief works prepared and actually begun in each district. Simple forms of return showing the operations at each relief work will shortly be circulated as was done in 1868.

11. THIRDLY.—The Government recognises that, if it collects large bodies of people together on relief works, it must provide food for them; that if the ordinary traders do not supply sufficient food close at hand, the Government must either pay the laborers partly in grain, or provide food for them to buy. We must not throw the support of a large body of laborers upon an impoverished tract where the food-supplies barely suffice for the ordinary population. In fulfilment of this obligation the Government and its officers are laying in supplies of rice and other grain, which will be forwarded as soon as possible to places of storage near relief works in distressed districts.

The restriction placed on Government officers in obtaining the supplies is, first, that they should, as far as possible, operate through the traders; secondly, that they must get grain for such storage from a distance; and, thirdly, that they must not store grain except at centres of relief works where the local supply cannot be depended on to suffice for the wants of the laborers.

12. As long as local supplies are pretty cheap and plentiful, it will be well to establish and house close to each relief work dealers who will sell on the own account with or without advances. When the local rates for grain come to something like famine rates, fall below say ten seers per rupee, the Government must supply food. It would then be advisable to hire bunnahs or weighmen to sell on Government account next door to the works. It is certainly, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, better to pay the laborers in cash, and to let them buy what they want next door, rather than actually pay their wages in grain. Colonel Baird Smith, in his report on the famine of 1861, truly points out that much inconvenience may be caused by paying wages in kind to laborers who are driven to barter at a disadvantage their grain for salt, pepper, earthen pots, and such other necessities as they are obliged to procure. It is a very simple operation to give each man the pice he has earned, and let him take as much or as little as he likes in grain at the Government store close by.

13. The first thing to be done in regard to storing grain by the local officers is to select places and sites for store-houses at relief works; to hire or construct temporary storage-houses; to determine to what railway or river-side stations Government grain should be consigned from Calcutta or elsewhere; and above all, to ascertain and arrange the means of transporting the grain from those stations to the works. Local officers should notify to Government as soon as possible the places selected for railway and river stations to which Government grain for relief works should be consigned, the points chosen for storage, the steps taken to prepare store-houses, and the arrangements for carriage which they make or have in view.

14. When Government grain has been delivered at stations on the railway or rivers, this question of transporting the grain to the places where it is to be used will remain the most important and difficult of all. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that Commissioners and district officers in the distressed districts are considering this question, and he would wish to have an early and most careful report upon—

(a) The means of transport from the nearest railway or river-side station to the centres of relief works or distress; whether the communications are liable to interruption from the weather or any other cause; and in what way the means of transport could be increased, if necessary.

(b) The roadside stations and other places where fodder for cattle should be collected to aid transport.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot too much repeat that very special attention is necessary to the need for testing and perfecting our transporting agency and appliances at as early a date as possible. He desires to point out how very much easier transport will be during the next two or three months, when roads are not choked up and fodder is abundant, than in the hot season when there may be a rush and a panic, when the weather will be unfavorable, when forage will be very scarce, and when cattle will be dying. Sir George Campbell's great wish is to see all possible means of carriage, to places where grain will be wanted, fully utilised and drawn together from all available sources at once, so that Government may be in the best position when emergency comes. So far as the common weal is concerned, it comes to much the same whether the transporting agency is used by private persons or by public officers. If the private traffic is quite fully using and drawing together all possible means of carriage, well and good; we need not seek to interfere with such a traffic. If not, the Government officers will have to promote the transport of grain to places where it will be wanted both by advances for importation, and by importing for relief works. In some way we should attract and use fully all possible means of carriage to the distressed tracts.

16. FOURTHLY.—The Government cannot avoid facing the probability that eventually, if events turn out unfavorably, it may become necessary in many places to distribute charitable relief to the old, to children, to persons in reduced health, and to others who may be unable to do a full day's work. This must be done as soon as the necessity really arises. This business of gratuitous relief will be entrusted to relief committees in each district or sub-division, or part of a sub-division.

17. His Excellency the Viceroy, after consulting the Lieutenant-Governor and his officers, has decided that the appointment of relief committees for the purpose is, speaking generally, not, so far as we can see, necessary at present. But a discretion is left to local officers to start committees and begin relief arrangements in any tracts where such a measure may at any time prove emergently and clearly necessary.

When it is evident that such relief must be given in any district, the Magistrate will call a meeting of Native and European gentlemen who may be willing to serve on relief committees; he will nominate branch committees under the sub-divisional officers or other fit persons; he will raise such private subscriptions as he can obtain; and will report his action to Government and to the Commissioner. The Government will at once make to every relief committee a grant equal to the amount of its private subscriptions, and may, when distress goes very far, be still more liberal. If a relief committee requires grain for its relief houses, before it can import for itself, the Magistrate will have authority to advance all the grain he can spare from the Government stores collected for laborers on relief works.

A collection of the orders of Government issued in previous years of distress, regarding the time and manner of relief, with forms in which accounts should be kept and rendered, have been compiled, and will be digested and circulated in continuation of the present orders, with instructions applicable to the present time.

18. Meantime, though as regards charitable relief we are not to commence active operations, it is most necessary to prepare all the necessary machinery for establishing relief houses and for giving such relief (short only of collecting grain specially for the purpose), so that we may be fully prepared if the necessity arrives. His Excellency the Viceroy specially dwells on the need for doing this at once.

District officers in distressed tracts will accordingly consider immediately and carefully report at what places relief committees may eventually have to be appointed; they will have to prepare beforehand lists of gentlemen who will serve on those committees. They must especially mark out the places and sites at which the necessary sheds, godowns, and other accommodation for relief-houses will be required if the scarcity should unhappily merge into famine. Each district and sub-divisional officer should prepare, and have by him for future use, a map of his district or sub-division showing the proposed sites for relief centres. They should provide for three grades of famine, thus—for comparatively mild famine there would be a few relief centres at large places or in specially impoverished tracts; if distress becomes keener, places of relief will have to be more numerous; and if unhappily the very worst comes over large tracts, the number of relief centres will have to be largely increased so as to be within reach of all. The sites for relief stations for each grade of distress should be distinguished on the district officer's map by a different mark. These sites, it should be borne in mind, must be selected after careful local inquiry and then entered on the map; they must not merely be marked on a map without knowledge of the ground. Complete plans should be drawn out showing the establishment and arrangements that will be required at each relief-house as it is opened, and as far as possible men should be selected, and all that can be thought of by way of anticipation should be planned out so as to be ready to begin effectively the moment the necessity arrives.

19. FIFTHLY.—The Government wishes to enlist municipalities, landholders, and others, in the work of providing labor in the distressed districts. A credit of ten lakhs of rupees has been made to the Bengal Government from which minor loans of this kind can be granted for these objects. Larger loans will be referred to and speedily disposed of by the Government of India. Municipal bodies cannot, as the law stands, spend municipal money on poor-houses or on relieving the necessity of their poor. But if any municipality in the distressed districts has ready any scheme for drainage, embankment, or water-supply, or for opening out new streets and roads, such as will give labor to unskilled workmen, the Lieutenant-Governor will be very ready to consider any proposal for making a loan to such municipality under the Local Public Works Loans Act. Chairmen of municipalities must bear in mind the several heads of information required regarding applications for such loans, as set forth in the rules published at page 1218 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 29th October 1873. Already the Lieutenant-Governor has granted a large sum from provincial funds over and above the original grant towards the Burdwan city water-works scheme. The Dacca water-works scheme and the Gheor Canal loan in the same district will, it is hoped, be very shortly sanctioned. The Chuprah city embankment scheme is a type of the work that might usefully be kept in hand on the present occasion.

20. Where no schemes for works of this kind are ready or are required, then the Lieutenant-Governor suggests that many municipalities and townships should take advantage of the drought and abundance of labour to cleanse, deepen, and otherwise improve the public tanks, wells, or other sources of public water-supply within their boundaries. For such an object loans could be granted, and the labour so afforded could be of the very best kind for relief works. The Lieutenant-Governor is considering whether in any points the ordinary rules can be relaxed, and orders on the subject will, if necessary, be issued.

21. As yet the system of advances for improvements on the land (what are called in other parts of India tuccavee advances,) has not obtained much in Bengal. Recently the Lieutenant-Governor has received a report from Maunbhoom that zemindars and villagers in that district had already drawn out in small sums some Rs. 5,000 for tuccavee advances, and that more money was wanted. Reports from Bancoorah, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and other districts, also say that the ryots and villagers generally have had the need for water-storage brought home to them very keenly this year, and that they are anxious to prosecute and extend petty works of this kind during the present year. In the Burdwan and Hooghly districts the need of arrangements for the storage of good water and the drawing off of bad water as long been recognized both by Government and the people.

22. The Lieutenant-Governor particularly wishes that all such works should be promoted, and that land-holders and villagers should be encouraged to take out Government loans therefor, especially in the districts of the Burdwan Division. The rules for making agricultural advances were published at page 26 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1873. Some Bengal officers have pointed out that the rules are cumbrous, and require too much detailed supervision of works for practical enforcement at a season like the present. The Lieutenant-Governor intimates that, in accordance with the permission given him by the Government of India, he will shortly issue instructions showing how far the provisions of the rules quoted above may be relaxed.

23. The Government further promises that it will be ready to defray a portion, not more than one-third, of the cost of petty village works (executed with Government loans during the period ending in July 1874) which directly improve the drinking water-supply of the people, or are shown to be of direct advantage to the general public, in any of the distressed districts, or in any part of the districts of Burdwan and Hooghly. The full loan will stand against the borrower in the Government books until the work is done; when it shall have been reported upon by Government officers, found to be good, and to contribute directly to the water-supply or general well-being of any village or tract, the Government will write off a sum not exceeding one-third of the loan as the Government share of the outlay.

24. It will be for district and sub-divisional officers to make known as far as possible the readiness of Government to grant these loans on favorable terms for village works and land improvements. They are at the same time reminded that under Rule 19, page 828 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1873, the Commissioner and the district officers have authority to sanction such loans with reference to superior authority up to a limit of Rs. 500 and Rs. 5,000 respectively. If the Commissioner of any distressed division can point out any particulars in which the Tuccavee Loan Rules (above cited) may at the present juncture be advantageously relaxed, the Lieutenant-Governor will be most ready to consider any recommendation in that regard. The Commissioner of Burdwan has been already asked to prepare suggestions on the subject. Sir George Campbell's belief is that in some districts (especially those

Approximate account of private food supplies come into the district from outside during the week. Sufficiency or otherwise of means of transport. Steps taken to improve transport agency and appliances. Existence of a block at any station or point on transport routes. Working of any special transport trains or other agencies. Requirements in respect of transport, and arrangements for meeting them.

(D.)—Storage of Government Grain at Relief Works.

Places of storage selected. Construction of storage-houses or golahs. Arrangements for their custody and administration. Amount of food-grain received. Amount sent out. Return of empty bags. Sufficiency or otherwise of stocks for Government purpose. Fresh arrangements in progress for getting more grain.

(E.)—Advances to Private Parties, and their Results.

Advances for purchase and storage of grain, &c. Advances to municipalities for works, and description thereof. Advances to private parties for land improvements, and description thereof.

(F.)—Charitable Relief.

Actual relief operations commenced, if any.

Arrangements made in preparation of the machinery of charitable relief by way of precaution as above described (paragraph 18 above).

(G.)—Financial Results of the Week.

Total expenditure from the district and sub-divisional treasury as shown in last narrative.

Detail of the above total :—

Grand Total to end of the week.

The first weekly narrative should be despatched on Monday, the 1st December, and show the expenditure up as nearly as possible to that date. Subsequent narratives would touch upon the facts only pertaining to the week under report. It will be observed that the narrative is merely for the information of Government, and is not to be a channel for asking sanction to additional establishments or expenditure of any kind.

28. Forms of accounts and register will shortly be forwarded for—

- (1.) Relief work expenditure.
- (2.) Food purchase expenditure.
- (3.) Transport expenditure.
- (4.) Grain storage expenditure.
- (5.) Charitable relief or poor-house expenditure.

Commissioners of Divisions and special Relief Commissioners, wherever appointed, will have power to sanction the commencement of work on any roads or other relief work which has been approved by Government. In case of any sudden local emergency they may, when they deem it necessary, sanction commencement of work even though the particular work is not yet in the list of approved relief works; and an emergent discretion in such cases is also given to district officers, subject to weekly report of each sanction, to authorize the entertainment of—

Subordinate Engineering or Overseer establishments;
Grain transport and reception establishments;
Grain storage establishments; provided that all appointments constituted under these orders are strictly temporary and subject to Government confirmation. In case any person is entertained on a salary exceeding Rs. 100 per mensem, an immediate report is to be made for sanction.

29. I am to sum up the instructions now conveyed, to which attention is specially drawn, thus :—

PARA. 2.—The “distressed districts,” as Government now believes them to be, are defined.

PARA. 3.—Officers are enjoined to see that no removable obstacle remains in the way of private grain traffic.

PARA. 4.—Money advances to private parties under two separate sets of conditions are authorized to promote private importation of food to the distressed districts.

PARA. 8.—Local officers are desired to push on the preparation of relief works in as many parts as possible of the distressed districts.

PARA. 10.—Statements of extra establishments required for, and probable expenditure on relief works, are asked for from Commissioners.

PARAS. 11-12.—The views of Government as to storage of grain and its sale at relief works are stated.

PARA. 13.—Officers are directed at once to select sites, and to prepare storage for reception of Government grain.

PARA. 14.—Report is called for regarding the means of transport in the district and its improvement.

PARA. 15.—The need for early testing of transporting agency is enjoined.

PARA. 18.—Officers are directed to prepare plans of arrangements, and machinery for relief committees and relief centres, and to report through the Commissioner.

PARAS. 19-23.—Loans to municipalities and landholders and others for permanent improvements are to be promoted, and the terms on which these loans are obtainable should be made known to the people.

PARA. 25.—Grants are made to each division to cover their advances.

PARA. 25.—A weekly narrative is to be sent direct from Government from each distressed district.

PARA. 28.—Authority is given to Commissioner to sanction works, and to authorize, temporarily, establishments for grain storage, transport, and relief work, within certain limits, and subject to weekly report.

SCARCITY AND RELIEF.

No. 518, dated Cuttack, the 11th November 1873.

From—JOHN BEAMES, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Orissa Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Statistical Department.

IN reply to your Circular No. 70, dated 13th October, on the subject of special report on crops, I have the honor to submit copy of a report from the Collector of Balasore.

2. A special report has been submitted to you direct from the Collector of Cuttack.

3. No report has as yet been received from Pooree, but it has been called for.

4. My own experience of four years in Balasore enables me to confirm, in every particular, the report of the Officiating Collector of that district; and it is creditable to him that he should in so short a time have made himself so well acquainted with the circumstances of his district.

5. Both reports fully bear out the opinion I have often before expressed that Orissa is a great exporting country, and in the present scarcity in Bengal, I think the attention of merchants should be directed to the ports of this province as places where rice is to be obtained cheaply and abundantly. At present the Madras people are carrying away large quantities of grain which a little energy on the part of the Calcutta merchants would enable them to secure.

6. At this season of the year the Orissa ports are easily accessible. They will continue so till March; but by the end of January a large proportion of the stocks available for export, if not intercepted, will have left the province for Madras.

7. There is ample store of grain in hand, but much of it is held by persons who will not export, as they hold it for the purpose of lending it on interest to their own and neighbouring cultivators.

8. No scarcity is to be apprehended in any part of Orissa. Even in the few scattered portions of Balasore, which are rather badly off, prices are still moderate, and adjacent canal works will afford sustenance to the poorer classes.

No. 623, dated Balasore, the 7th November 1873.

From—T. NORMAN, Esq., Offg. Collector of Balasore,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division, Cuttack.

I HAVE the honor to furnish the special crop report called for in Government Circular No. 70, dated the 13th October 1873.

2. I append seriatim replies to the questions put by Government. I trust that these replies contain full information on the condition of the crops.

3. There can be no doubt that the produce of the season 1873-74 will suffice—and more than suffice—for the consumption of the district. The subject therefore, upon which a few general remarks seem called for, is the manner in which, and the extent to which, the district will be affected by the scarcity which is expected elsewhere.

4. Balasore is a rice-exporting district, and exports both by sea and land. Export by sea takes place from seven different ports situated on the coast between the Sooburnorekha and Byturnee rivers, from which rice is carried to Calcutta and the Madras ports, and in smaller quantities to Ceylon, the Maldives and Laccadives. The following figures show the quantities of rice annually exported by sea since the famine:—

				Mds
1868-69	128,000
1869-70	300,000
1870-71	400,000
1871-72	483,000
1872-73	403,000

5. Exportation by land takes place northwards along the Trunk Road, but data as to its amount are not forthcoming.

6. At the present time exportation by sea is going on with its usual briskness at this season. The rivers are full of sloops, and Madras merchants and their agents are making purchases all over the district. Where the drought had caused a certain amount of famine in the district during the first half of October, frequent representations were made to me to the effect that the only chance of averting a famine lay in expelling the rice traders from the district.

7. Considerable quantities of rice are now leaving the district along the Trunk Road. It is carried in carts and on pack bullocks, and its destination is Midnapore, and even Ranigunge and Garbetta.

8. At the time of the panic alluded to in paragraph 6, the rice market tightened very much, but prices were at once relaxed by the rainfall of the middle of October. The prices are now low, but with a rising tendency. I have reason to believe that a very marked rise will occur after the 8th instant, the last day of payment of the 16-anna instalment of Government revenue. Ryots have latterly been bringing large quantities of rice into the market under the pressure put upon them by the zemindars in realizing their rents.

9. The rice exported is last season's rice, mixed with some of the earlier varieties of the present season. These early kinds are very coarse and scarcely find a sale unless mixed with grain of a better quantity.

10. The following table shows accurately the prices of husked rice as they stood on the 1st November at eight out of the nine police-stations in the district :—

Balasore	32	seers	per	rupee.
Baliapal	44	"	"
Jellasure	35	"	"
Bustah	40	"	"
Soroh	44	"	"
Bhadruck	48	"	"
Chandballee	32	"	"
Dhamnugger	42	"	"

Balasore and Chandballee are the principal marts for sea export and Jellasure for land export; prices at these three places are, therefore, enhanced by the greater demand.

11. To the best of my judgment there is no ground for apprehending distress or scarcity during the present season in Balasore. The expense, difficulty, and tediousness of communication with Orissa is too great to permit of its being easily drained of so bulky a commodity as rice. There is also the important consideration that the class which always suffers most severely in a Bengal famine, namely, the landless artizans, is wanting in Balasore, where every person has a certain amount of tillage, and stores rice for his own consumption.

12. Question I.—The following are the replies to the questions asked : Out of the 1,200,000 acres which constitute the area of the district, 535,000 acres, or somewhat less than half, is calculated to be the proportion under cultivation. Of the cultivated area about fifteen-sixteenths are applied to the cultivation of food-grains, and the remaining one-sixteenth is used to produce sugarcane, cotton, jute, oil-seeds, pumpkins, plantains, &c.

13. Question II.—Balasore is a great rice-exporting district. Its exports of rice by sea and land together cannot be placed lower than twenty-two thousand tons annually. Its imports of food, on the other hand, are very insignificant—probably not exceeding one hundred tons a year—and consist chiefly of pulses from Cuttack, Midnapore, and Sumbulpore, and wheat from Dhenkanal and Cuttack.

14. Question III.—The only food-staple of the population is rice. With rice, pulses, vegetables, and dried fish are used sparingly, as a seasoning. Ill-cured fish are a common item of diet on the coast. But there is no staple of food constituting a reserve or alternative for rice. In default of rice, the district must import, or starve.

15. Question IV.—The principal harvest time in this district extends from July to January. The number of species of rice cultivated is exceedingly large, and each species has its own period, within these limits, for arriving at maturity, so that the main harvest consists of a long chain of crops closely following each other. But the different crops reaped during July, August, September, October, November, and the first half of December, are only so many forestalments of the main yield. The great bulk of the harvest is reaped in the latter half of December and in January, and amounts to three-fourths of the total yield.

16. There is also a minor harvest reaped in March and April. This consists of a set of coarse description of rice, the best known species of which is called dálua. It is sown as soon as the winter crop is off the ground. This harvest perhaps constitutes one-hundredth part of the total yield.

17. The words asu and sarad, being the counterparts of the Bengali aus and amun, are in limited use in this district; but the division of the harvest which they are intended to convey is in this part of the country so artificial, and the application of these terms so loose and irregular, that when accuracy is an object it is essential to discard them. If asu be defined as the portion of the harvest reaped before the end of September, it may amount to one-eighth compared with sarad reaped after that time and constituting seven-eighths of the entire produce.

18. Question V A.—The outturn of the food-crops which have reached maturity up to the date may, on the whole, be estimated as equal to that of an average year. The yield of the salia or asu, neali, and beali crops has been good, and that of the kantha and laghu crops has been fair in parts, and in parts not so good.

19. Question V B.—The outturn up to the present time is considered rather better than that of 1867-68, the year following the famine.

20. Question VI.—Rice may almost be said to constitute the sole cold weather food-crop. A few pulses and a little wheat are also grown, but the quantity produced of these grains is quite inconsiderable. The rainfall this year has greatly fallen short of the average, and the late harvest has had a very narrow escape. A drought set in at the middle of September, which, humanly speaking, must have destroyed the crop, had it not been interrupted by a moderate rainfall on three days, the 10th, 11th, and 12th October; unfortunately, however, this rainfall did not extend in sufficient quantity northwards. Beyond a line drawn across the district, about 15 miles north of Balasore and the northern pergunnahs of Jellasore and Kamar-dachour, Bhelora Chour and Naper have suffered severely. The land is hard, dry, and cracked, and little more than a half crop is to be expected.

21. The high lands of pergunnah Poso, also the southwest corner of the district, will not yield more than a 4-anna crop; on the other hand, much low-lying land in the district will yield a fair crop.

22. Taking the district as a whole, the produce will fall somewhat below that of an average year, and will amount to about three-fourths of the excellent crop reaped during the last two years.

23. It is supposed that the consumption of the district does not exceed half the produce, and there can be no doubt that, after satisfying the demands of a large export trade, a surplus will remain sufficient for home consumption.

24. Question VII.—The earliest rice-crop of 1874 will be the dálua crop of March and April. This crop is insusceptible of increase, being confined to spots on the banks of rivers where peculiar facilities for irrigation exist. Its outturn is inconsiderable. The crops of July, August and September would doubtless be increased in the face of wide-spread scarcity, but these crops also are limited to special soils. With a copious rainfall they might probably be increased by one-third.

Rainfall, Weather and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 15th November 1873.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS.
BENGAL.		1873.
Western Districts.
1	Burdwan	Nov. 18th*	Nil	Days hot; no rain has fallen except a slight shower in Cutwa.	The last accounts of the prospects of the crops, except in Raneeunge and Boodhoo, are more favorable, and prices show a downward tendency. Some rice is being exported.	Fever prevalent.
2	Bancoorah	" 15th	Nil	Dry and not as cool as might be expected.	Rice crop as last week; those on low lands are fair and perhaps may give a six or eight-anna crop.
3	Beerhoom	" 15th	Nil	Bright and cold generally; temperature very variable.	No change since last return; harvest of the early rice in progress. Outturn of the district, calculated on the total produce of early and late rice, will probably be about eight annas. Export by rail during the fortnight ending 8th instant was 9,835 maunds, chiefly to the Bhau-gulpore and Patna divisions. Prices falling where the new rice is coming into the market.
BURDWAN DIVISION.					Considerable store of grain existing in the district; there is no actual distress at present; the district and village roads affording sufficient employment for the laboring class. The scarcity in other districts and rapid export of grain from this may, however, bring about a necessity for relief works some months hence in aid of the mere laborers and cultivators whose crops have totally or in great measure failed.
4	Midnapore	" 15th	Nil	Fine and dry.	Unchanged. Prices are rising steadily, but not universally, as at Ghattal they have somewhat fallen.
5	Hooghly	" 15th	Nil	Clear throughout; wind from north-east.	Irrigation is continued wherever water remains. Some of the earlier crops have been reaped, yielding a two-anna crop. All the remainder, except what is irrigated, must die. It is getting too late to plough for the cold weather crops which have been planted only in patches.
	Howrah	" 15th	Nil	The nights cold, but the days still very hot; sky unclouded.	The crops on the high lands are being cut as straw and fodder. Much of it never began to form grain, and the rest contain only abortive grain. On other lands it is full of milk, and will come to grain whenever it can get water. Irrigated crops still doing well.

Central Districts.		1878:
6	24-Pergunnahs	Nov. 18th	N	No rain. Days warm for the time of the year, nights cool.	The harvest of the late rice has commenced in the Diamond Harbour and Barripore sub-divisions. The Deputy Collector in charge of the latter sub-division reports that the loss will not be serious in thannah Jynogore and in most of the villages to the west of the Peali river. The prospects are however very bad on the east of the Peali. In Baraset sub-division the paddy is fast drying up on the high lands and is being cut for straw for thatching purposes. It is otherwise useless as the cattle will not touch it. In Basirhat a ten-anna crop is expected in some of the Soonderbun lots. The crops on the high lands have been destroyed, and the outturn in the low-lying lands will be very short. No improvement in Satkhira, Barrackpore, and sudder sub-division. The outturn in Dum-Dum is estimated at four annas. Prices continue to have an upward tendency.	Fever prevalent at Allpore, and still continues at Barripore, Basirhat, and Satkhira. It has also appeared at Baraset.
7	Nuddea	.. 15th	Nil	Clear sky, nights and early mornings cold.	No material changes in the prospects of the late rice since last report. From Kooshtea it is reported that the harvest has commenced, and that a ten-anna crop is expected on low lands and a three to six-anna on high lands. A large portion of the cold weather crops remains unsown; but where sown they have had the advantage of heavy dews: the prospects of these crops appear to be somewhat more hopeful. The price of rice has declined in the sudder sub-division.
8	Jessore	.. 15th	Nil	On the whole clear and dry. Cold in the mornings and evenings with heavy night dews. No rainfall at head-quarters or sub-divisional head-quarters. There were slight showers on the 8th instant in the Bytagheata station jurisdiction in Khoonah sub-division. There were heavy showers about Torea and Degolia, south-east of Narrail, on the 4th instant.	In Jhenidah sub-division the rice crop is expected to be an average or half crop. The high land rice in some places being cut for fodder. Prospects of winter crops bad for want of rain, and the crops are not expected to be more than half the average one. In Magoorah also the high land rice is being cut; the yield of some fields is good and of some only half average. Low land paddy promises well. The winter crops which have (partial) not had rain, are bad; those that have, are good. In Narrail half or average of the paddy crop is expected, whereas the north-east of the sub-division the losses in upland rice have been greatest; the produce of the cold weather crop will be some compensation. In Khoonah, rice prospects are reported bad, worse than last week, and worst about Fooltala, Chandhali, and Doomaria. A ten-anna proportion of an average crop is expected. In Bagirhat a ten-anna crop is expected, but prospects are not good. Rampal, Morrellgunge, and Mollahat, enjoy better prospects than Bagirhat itself. In the sudder sub-division no improvement is reported; the high land crops suffer more and more for want of rain.

9	Moorshedabad	Nov. 15th	Nil	No rain during the week. Hot and dry in the day, but rather cool at night. No appearance of rain.	Except in low lands and where irrigation has been resorted to, the late rice crops are entirely destroyed and are being cut for cattle. Winter crops are also suffering badly; much still remains unsown, while in the north the sowings have been destroyed in some places and seeds are being sown anew. Sugarcane, indigo, and teal (oil-seed) are doing fairly, but want rain. There is a slight fall in the price of rice at Jungipore and the sudder sub-division. The rain of last week has done much good to the crops of the area where it fell. A seven-anna rice crop is expected; with more it would be eight annas. Cold weather crops considerably benefited.	Small-pox has not yet entirely disappeared. Cases still reported.
10	Dinagopore	" 15th	Nil	No rain; north wind prevails, and clouds come up occasionally.	No change for the better.
11	Maldah	" 15th	Nil	Hot and dry. No sign of rain; nights cool.	There has been no rain and consequently no improvement in the state of the crops. Prices, however, are slightly more favorable owing to imports into the south and centre of the district from eastern districts. The cold weather crops within the influence of the Ganges promise a fair yield, provided there is rain before the end of November. The winter rice crop all round will not be more than a three or four-anna crop.
12	Rajshahye	" 15th	Nil	There has been no rain throughout the district during the past week.	The prospects of the late crop have undergone no change for the better. Since last report absence of rain is telling on the cold weather crops, which are far from being in a flourishing condition. Winter rice on and near beels will yield a fair crop. In the north of Singra and throughout the rest of the district the rice crops have failed. The kalye pulse crop is promising. The winter rice is being cut in places already. The price of rice in Beaulah rose to 11 seers during the week, but lately it fell. The price of rice in the different parts of the districts ranges from 10 seers 10 chittacks to 14 seers to a rupee.	More cases of cholera reported from Charghat.
13	Rangpore	" 15th	Nil	The weather continues fine, but there is no prospect of rain.	The state of the rice crop can hardly be worse; there is very little hope now of even a four-anna crop. The people are sowing wheat, potatoes, and two sorts of millet, "cheena" and "kaon," very extensively as well as mustard, but rain is sadly wanted for all these crops. The tobacco also is in want of rain; in fact the only crops which seem to be doing well are sugarcane and ginger. The people are already suffering from the scarcity in parts of the district. The price of rice all over the district varies from Rs. 3 to 5 a maund, the price rising and falling as rice is imported from other districts.

Central Districts.—(Contd.)		1873.
RAJSHAHY DIV.—(Contd.)	14 Bograh	Nov. 15th	Nil	Still dry and no prospect of rain.	No improvement in the state of the late rice crops; the greater part of them are lost. Sugarcane and sesamum oilseed are doing well in parts. Fair yield of mulberry in Bograh thannah. Good is being done by irrigation in parts of the district.
	15 Pubna	" 15th	Nil	The cold weather has set in with chilly winds continually blowing from the north-west. There has been no rain at all, nor is there any prospect of rain.	The report as to the late rice crop is the same as that of last week. The prospects of the winter crops are still generally regarded as favorable, but they cannot be expected to continue so unless there is rain within ten or fifteen days.
	16 Darjeeling	" 15th	Nil	No rain throughout the district. In the hills mist and dark clouds, and very cold.	Rice crop in certain places is in perfect condition, but unfortunately the area under cultivation is not large. At other places the crops look green and healthy, though many small patches of dried up paddy are seen here and there. A ten-anna, if not twelve-anna, crop may be expected. In no case the ryots anticipate any thing like serious difficulty. Fresh sowings of turi , tobacco, and hulled—turmeric—looked very well. Darjeeling will itself require some aid from without. Terai will be able to rely on its own crops, and perhaps help Darjeeling without reckless exportation.
	17 Julpigoree	" 15th	Nil	Atmosphere unusually clear; sun more powerful; dew less heavy.	Tobacco, teal (oil-seed), mustard, pulses, and other cold weather crops promising well. The tobacco crop is expected to be unusually good owing to the dry and hot weather. Rain would do great damage now. The prospect of rice is much the same as last report. The unusual dryness of the weather is causing some anxiety as regards the tobacco now being planted. The same cause is operating unfavorably on some paddy to the south which, with ordinary weather, would have come to ear notwithstanding want of rain, but which is being parched up. The Deputy Commissioner reports after personal inspection that in the Doars there will not be distress among the people. Rain would be very beneficial in Boda and the south generally. Boda is the only part of the district for which some anxiety is felt. Prices slightly fell within the last few days. One bis of paddy (7½ maunds) was sold last year at Rs. 4 by traders going up; now they ask for the same Rs. 5.
COCH BEHAR DIVISION.	Cooch Behar	" 18th	Nil	No signs of rain	Prospects are unchanged. The late rice crop is expected to be a ten-anna one, but scarcity is not apprehended. The principal cold weather crop—tobacco—is doing well.

Eastern Districts.		1873.
18	Dacca	Nov. 18th*	Nil	Weather dry and cool, but not cold; heavy dews.	Rice as before; cold weather crops germinating better than expected.	Cholera continues, and also fever at Manickgunge.
19	Furzedpore	" 15th	Nil	Clear sunshine throughout the week. The cold weather appears to have set in.	No change in the rice crops since last week. Any rain after this date would do them harm, though the cold weather crops of pulses, oilseeds, &c., would be greatly benefited, the prolonged drought of seven weeks being very injurious to them. The price of rice is daily rising, and unless importations take place, will go up still higher; later in the season much distress, it is feared, will prevail, as the harvest all over the district will not exceed three-fifths of an average year, when even the grain produced is not sufficient for the consumption of the inhabitants, but is supplemented by imports from surrounding districts. The Deputy Collector sent to the west of the district to inquire into the state of the crops, writing from Syedpore, states that there will be a twelve-anna crop in that locality, and that the rice grown there does not suffice for consumption.	Four cases of cholera at Goalunda. All fatal.
20	Backergunge	" 15th	Nil	Only two sub-divisional returns in. No rain reported from anywhere. Dry and cold weather.	No improvement since last week. Lands liable to be submerged at high tides promise good crops as well as other low lands; not so high lands.
21	Mymensing	" 15th	Nil	Fine and dry	Nothing to add beyond the remarks that the prices have again risen at Jamal-pore and Attea and in the portions bordering on the central districts. The rise is attributable to the demand for Rungpore, &c. Further inland in the Jamal-pore sub-division the smaller markets barely maintained their rates, and excess supplies were carried back unsold, the rate of 20 seers per rupee for early rice not satisfying these traders.
22	Sylhet	" 8th	0.38	A little rain on Saturday night, and a little more on Tuesday. The rainfall has been very general in the district and greater in the interior than at head-quarters; heavy and sufficient rainfall in several places.	The rain of last week has been most beneficial to the crops. A little more would bring up the outturn of the year to a pretty fair average crop. Certainly more than a twelve-anna crop. A Deputy Collector just returned from the interior reports that the crops near Char-gola are acknowledged by the ryots to be as good as any they have had for some years. Another Deputy Collector, after a careful inspection of the crops in thannahs Latu, Hingajia, Rajnuggur, Nowakhali, Aladabad, and Nabigunge, hopes to see a thirteen-anna crop, if nothing untoward should occur. Pretty heavy rain has fallen in Tajpore, Rajnuggur, Nowakhali, and Hingajia, to be quite sufficient for the crops. Large exportations of rice have raised the price of rice. One or two merchants have received telegrams from Calcutta not to purchase any more rice as it is cheaper in Calcutta.

Dacca Divn.—(Contd.)	23 Cachar	Nov. 8th	0.75	Sultry	Prospects of crops much the same. Loss by insects in about a third of the district is estimated at two annas. An outturn of ten annas on the average crop or more may be expected. The appearance of the rice crop on the road from Budderpore to the sudder station a day or two ago was most promising.
	24 Chittagong	" 8th	A few drops on the 3rd instant.	There was a little rain about the 4th, but the fall seems to have been very partial. Weather generally hot for the time of the year and at times cloudy and threatening. Morning of the 8th cooler, bright, and fine, with north-easterly wind.	The reports are generally favorable, except from Sesta-coond and Meerka Serai, where insects are said to be still attacking the crops.
	25 Noakhally	" 8th	0.95	Weather hotter than in the previous week.	In sixty-six villages within the limits of the Sudharam police, a little less than ten annas of the paddy is reported to have been destroyed by the "Mayoah" insect; within the limits of Bamni police station, about two-annas is reported to have been destroyed. In Ameergunge the crops are reported to be in a middling state. In Ramgunge the destruction has been three annas in nine, and two annas in five villages. In Lukhipore the crops are reported to have been attacked by the "Mayoah," but the proportion of the crop destroyed is not mentioned. In Sundcep the late rice and kulai—pulse—are said to be progressing favorably, while four annas of the ("Rajashail" and "Posong") late rice are reported to have been destroyed by "Mayoah." Return from Begumgunge and Hatea not received.
Chittagong Division.	26 Tipperah	" 15th	Nil	A marked change on last Monday, when the cold weather set in. The weather, however, does not seem settled yet.	Prospects are only so far better that the heat of the sun is somewhat less excessive. The late rice crop will be certainly a scanty one, but the early crop was a full one, and the only thing that is likely to cause distress is over exportation: merchants have been busy everywhere, but the call for rice is promptly met. A sudden demand in Comillah on the 26th October forced prices up to Rs. 3 a maund. On the 13th November the price was Rs. 1.12. This rice is the late rice of 1872, and it is believed that this year's early rice crop is still untouched.
	27 Chittagong Hill Tracts	" 8th	0.4	Heavy dews in the morning up to 8 A.M.; cool at night.	The gathering of the paddy crop has been finished. The outturn has not been equal to that of the past year. The cotton is now being collected; the prospects up to date are good. The mustard crop is now being sown here and there. There seems no dread of scarcity, although the crops are on the whole not so good as usual.

CHITTAGONG DIVN.	Hill Tipperah	Nov. 8th	0.10	Same as last week; cloudy nearly every evening. Slight rain on Tuesday.	No alteration reported. The paddy on high lands has withered in most places, and the jooms in the hills are said to have suffered from want of rain. Insects have not appeared as was apprehended.
	28 Patna	" 17th	Nil	Days hot; morning and evening cool.	Prospects of the paddy crops are getting worse day by day owing to continued drought. Cold weather sowings however are progressing favorably.	Health of the district good.
	29 Gya	" 15th	Nil	Cool. No rain has fallen in any part of the district.	Prospects of the crops continue bad. The paddy has failed to a large extent. It is only in the low-lying places that it has been saved. In the north-western parts of the Jehanabad sub-division it is reported to be fair. The cold weather sowings have been to a large extent deferred for want of rain; where they have been sown the crops are suffering much for want of rain. Artificial irrigation is carried on wherever possible.
	30 Shahabad	" 15th	Nil	Slightly cloudy with east wind.	No change since last report. The cold weather crop is still being sown.
PATNA DIVISION.	31 Tirhoot	" 15th	Nil	Dry and cold.	In the Durbhanga sub-division the rice crop is lost beyond hope. The prospects of the cold weather crop are day by day becoming more gloomy. The land which was prepared for sowing the cold weather crops has been dried up and become unfit for a second sowing. In the Madhubani sub-division the prospects of a good cold weather crop are very small. A great deal of the land usually devoted to the cultivation thereof has been left unsown. The prospects of the rice crop there is by no means cheering. In the Hajee-pore sub-division the rice crop is entirely lost for want of rain, and the cold weather crop is suffering from the same cause. In the Tajpore sub-division the cold weather crop has been benefited by the fall of a little rain in the south-west corner over some villages, but no good has been done to the rice crop which is materially injured and in some places is being cut for fodder. The cold weather crop in other parts of the sub-division is as bad as it can be, and there is still a four-anna of the same left to be sown, and if it rains within the month of Augran, followed by a favorable season, an eight-anna crop may be expected. The tobacco is very backward here. In the Setamarhee sub-division the kurtsee and rahar pulses are doing well, and the sugarcane is being cut. The paddy here is being cut for cattle in all places except

PATNA DIVISION.—(Contd.)	32 Saran	Nov. 15th	Nil	No rain; hot days and cool nights; west wind prevailing.	where irrigation is possible. The cold weather crop is sown in many places, but not to a very successful issue, and if rain does not fall within a short time there will remain but little hope for it. The prospects of the crop in the sudder sub-division are equally gloomy. Paddy on the high lands has withered and is being made use of as fodder for cattle, while what little has hitherto been kept alive on the low lands is still doing well. Rain is much wanted for the cold weather crop which has, however, fairly germinated in most parts of the district and would do well if rain fall. Rahar, pulse, cotton, and sugarcane, except in Sewan sub-division, are in good condition. The Collector has himself seen much of pergunnahs Kusmer and Mukair, and a portion of pergunnah Goa, and though the rice crop even in low lands had entirely failed, was surprised to find the cold weather crop looking so well. Many new wells were also being dug. These lands however (known as "koch" soil) are very retentive of moisture. Nevertheless even in "koch" lands without rain it is not probable that the crop will exceed six annas, while in bhaugur or clay soil about half the district the crops will entirely fail without rain.
	33 Chumparun	" 15th	Nil	Cool. Weather cloudy now and then; west wind prevailing.	The prospect of the late rice crop is very gloomy. The outturn is estimated at two annas. About six annas of the cold weather crop lands have been sown and the remaining ten annas left uncultivated for want of moisture in the ground.
	34 Monghyr	" 15th	Nil	Very dry; wind changeable. Hot in the middle of the day; occasional small clouds.	Everything in statu quo as reported last week. The cattle are being turned into graze down the rice. The hopes of the cold weather crop diminish daily.
	35 Bhaugulpore	" 18th	Nil	...	No improvement to report; prospect remains same as last week. The cold weather crops on dearah lands very promising. Prices standing	General health remarkably good.
	36 Purneah	" 15th	Nil	Cold and pleasant	The prospects of the crops continue the same as last week; rain would do no good for the late rice crop, but would be of great benefit for the cold weather crops which are now being sown.
ORISSA.	37 Sonthal Pergunnahs	" 15th	Nil	Weather fair. Days hot; nights somewhat cold; very little dew at nights.	No improvement since last report; there is still time for the cold weather crops, if rain would fall up to the 25th instant.

The cold weather has fairly commenced.	to six-sixteenths of the late rice crop, which forms about two-thirds of the whole; one-third heavy Laghoo or second rice which has been cut or which is being now cut shows an average outturn. A good shower of rain would improve the prospects of the late paddy throughout Khoordah, but even without rain at least a twelve-anna crop may be expected. The beali or Laghoo crops have turned out well everywhere. Cold weather crops promise well. There has been no change in the state of the crops since last week. There will be some loss of crop in the northern part of Jellesore and Kamardah Chacklas and in the southern part (Sasoh pergunnah) of the district, but on the whole the crop will be little less than an average one. At present there is some sowing of mustard, pulse, and castor seed.

41	Hazareebaugh	" 15th	[Nil]	No rain reported to have fallen in any part of the district; clouds hanging about.	There is but little to add to last week's report in regard to the estimated outturn of the rice crop; the winter crop must necessarily be a short one in consequence of the drought and want of moisture to enable the full quantity of land being brought under cultivation.
42	Lohardugga	" 15th	Nil	Warmer than usual at this season; clouds come at intervals, but soon pass away.	Prospects continue much the same. The rice crops to the west and south-west are pretty fair, but not so good to the south-east and east. The crop generally has been estimated to be rather more than two-thirds of an average year. In Palamow the prospects of the late rice crop are reported to be better than were at one time anticipated, particularly towards the south, where a ten-anna crop may be realized. Kurthi, pulse, and teel (oilseed), promise very well, and the reports in regard to the sergoojah crop are very favorable from all parts of the district. The great drawback is want of rain for the cold weather sowings. Only about four annas have been sown up to present time. Exportation of rice going on. Prices falling a little.
43	Singbhoom	8th	Nil	Dry. Hot during the day, but cool in the evening and morning. Heavy dew at night.	Dhalbhoom.—In all the tarafs it was expected that the outturn of rice would be an eight-anna and in some parts perhaps up to ten-anna. In most parts the crops looked very fair, but great deal of damage had been wrought by the continued drought. The grain was prevented from maturing. The earlier sort now being cut will give a fair return, but it is expected that the late sort will be almost entirely a failure except where irrigated. In many

In taraf Puralia Boharagola the fields of 40 to 50 villages have been saved by damming up a khal for irrigation, the outturn of which will be a full one. In another place measures are being taken to divert the course of a khal to water some fields. In taraf Poreohattee alone is absolute scarcity apprehended, the eastern portion having almost entirely failed. In the rest of the pergunnahs a full eight-anna crop expected. In Seriakayla eight to ten-anna outturn of paddy expected. The rice crop in Porahat is very fair, heavy and extensive rain having fallen there in October. A good deal of upland crops entirely perished. Midland, very fair to view, but deficient in quantity. The rest all very good. All cold weather crops have suffered for want of rain which is much wanted. The yield is expected to be half. Several cold weather crops have not been sown for want of rain.
ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goalparah	" 8th	Nil	Fair and bright; nights and mornings cool and dewy. No rain during the week, nor any sign of it.	The rice crops are now being cut, and some of the new rice is finding its way into the markets and is selling at from 16 to 20 seers per rupee. It is too soon yet to be able to state what the outturn will be, as but little has been yet thrashed; rain would now do more harm than good to the uncut paddy, but is very much required for the cold weather crops which have and are suffering very much for want of rain, on which account also the sowings cannot be proceeded with, except where irrigation is practicable from tank and bunds.
					The state and prospects of the late rice crop getting gradually worse, this week having also passed without rain. The rice on high lands is reported to have been almost all dried up, and is rather beyond recovery even if rain falls. The crop on low lands has also suffered greatly and is in danger. Some showers of rain, want of which is the cry everywhere, may, however, benefit it to some extent, if it comes shortly. The rice in beels or very low lands and near water is in a pretty good state. The cultivation of mustard has been retarded to some extent on account

46	Kamroop	Nov. 17th*	Nil	Mornings raw, misty, and cold. Days clear and hot. Nights cold and heavy dew.	Late rice and tea crops backward; cotton, sugarcane, mustard, and pulse thriving.	Public health good
47	Durrung	" 8th	Nil	Bright days and nights daily range of temperatures high. Little easterly breeze.	The entire absence of rain is ruining the rice crops in the southern half of the Mungledye sub-division and those on the high land generally throughout the district. Cold weather crops far below the average.	Fever prevalent.
48	Nowgong	" 8th	Nil	The weather has set in, now clear and fair, with cold, heavy dewy nights.	The late rice crop is stunted and sickly-looking on the very high lands, but an average crop may be looked for. The bae paddy doing well. The pulse crop will be an average one. The sugarcane crop will be a bumper one. Mustard being sown in great quantities. Tea operations slackening.	General health of the district excellent.
49	Soopsaugor	" 8th	Nil	Days moderately hot, but nights and mornings cool and foggy. Few drops of rain on the morning of the 2nd and 7th instant.	There having been no rain since last report, the prospects of the rice crop have not improved. The paddy in most places looks well enough, but the ear is small owing to want of rain. From inquiries made in all directions and from what the sub-divisional officers have seen, the outturn is expected to be three-fourths of an average crop. Scarcity of rain has affected the pulse crop which is not important.
50	Luckimpore	" 8th	0·07	The whole week was pleasantly fine and perfectly dry, with the exception of a shower on the night of the 7th instant.	Rice crop rather backward. Cold weather crops promising.	Public health fair.
51	Naga Hills	" 1st	Nil	Mornings foggy, evenings chilly, days pleasant.	Joom crops being gathered in and nearly completed; the outturn will be an average one. Terai crops will shortly be cut and promise well. Pathar crops very bad indeed, and no hope of their improving.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	" 8th	Nil	The weather at Shillong has been clear, but in many parts of the country, notably in Jynteah Hills, slight rain has fallen.	The paddy crop has nearly all been harvested, and on the whole it has been equal in yield to last year's produce. The cereals still standing are doing well; as also potatoes and cotton.
53	Garohills	" 8th	Nil	Weather hot during the day time. Nights are getting cold. No signs of rain.	There has been no rain and the prospects of the crops in consequence are bad. There is nothing much to remark on the crops of these hills. On the northern slopes the cotton does not look so well as on the southern. Rice in the borders and in the districts of Goalpara and Mymensing is double the ordinary price.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.
 The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the land. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

NOTIFICATION.

The 25th November 1873.—Under the authority of paragraph 16 of the Resolution of the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, dated 7th November, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to order that Rule V of the Rules made by the Governor-General in Council on the 25th of April 1872, under Section 4 of the Local Public Works Loan Act XXIV of 1871, shall be temporarily relaxed as regards loans for works to be executed within the following districts :—

All districts of the Patna and Phaungulpore Divisions.

Dinagepore,

Rungpore,

Bograh,

Rajshahye,

Maldah,

Moorsheadabad,

Burdwan,

Hooghly,

Bancoorah,

Beerbhoom, and the jungle

mehals of Midnapore,

by the addition to it of the following clause :—

Provided that, whenever such a course appears desirable, the Local Government may at the same time that it orders the publication of the copy of the application as required above, conditionally authorize the loan and the commencement of the work, and advance so much of the loan as may be immediately necessary for such work.

But if for any reason the loan is finally disallowed after the publication of the notice, such loan shall not be paid, and any unexpended portion in the hands of the committee shall be refunded. Any portion actually expended shall be treated as a loan repayable under these rules.

NOTIFICATION.

RELAXATION OF LAND IMPROVEMENT ADVANCE RULES.

The 20th November 1873.—With a view to encouraging proprietors and occupants of land in the districts likely to be affected by the failure of the crops to apply for advances under Act XXVI of 1871, The Land Improvement Act, and to give employment to laborers on works undertaken out of such advances, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, under the authority conveyed in paragraph 17 of the resolution by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India dated 7th November 1873, to make the following temporary relaxations in the rules which have been published under section 18 of the said Act, with the sanction of the Government of India, as published in the Gazette of the 9th July 1873.

These relaxations will have effect in the following districts only, viz.—

All the Districts of the	Bograh.	Hooghly.
Patna and Bhaugulpore	Rajshahye.	Bancoorah.
Divisions.	Maldah.	Beerbhoom, and the Jungle
Dinagepore.	Moershedabad.	Mehal of Midnapore.
Rungpore.	Burdwan.

Rule 2.—Applications may be made on unstamped paper, and they may be presented to any Revenue Officer, but can be dealt with only by the Collector of the District, or by any Officer not being below the rank of a Covenanted Deputy Collector, or an Uncovenanted Deputy Collector of the 4th grade, who may be authorized by the Collector, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, to deal with such applications.

The rules laid down for the guidance of Collectors shall apply to all Officers who are authorized to deal with applications, except where the contrary intention is apparent.

Rule 3.—Applications need not necessarily be presented in open court.

Rule 4, Clause 5.—The numbers of fields and plots may be dispensed with in the application where there is no putwarry, but where a survey exists they should be ascertained as soon as possible.

Rule 5.—The rough plan and estimate may be dispensed with, when the amount applied for is below Rs. 2,000, but a sufficient description of the proposed work must be insisted on.

Rule 9.—The following rule is substituted:—

Any officer who is authorized under Rule 2, as modified above, to deal with applications, may direct an officer of lower rank than himself, provided that such officer be of rank not below that of a canoongoe, to hold any enquiry which is required by these Rules, and to report the result to him. All enquiries under these rules should be held with as much publicity as possible, and in the presence of as many of the respectable inhabitants of the village as can be assembled. The record of the proceedings of the enquiry shall be made in writing by the officer holding the inquiry, and shall be signed by the village headmen, the gomastah, the accountant, the chowkedars or other local officials or respectable inhabitants in acknowledgment of its having been explained to them.

Rule 10.—No fees shall be charged for the service of any process under these rules.

Rule 12.—Under Rule 9, as modified above, it is unnecessary to give formal notice for a prescribed period previous to holding the enquiry.

Rule 13.—No charge shall be made for summoning witnesses.

Rule 15.—The officer who has made the enquiry, if not authorized to deal with the application, must forward it to the officer who ordered the enquiry to be made.

Rule 19.—The limits within which officers of different grades may grant certificates for advances, provided that sufficient sums shall have been placed at their disposal, are fixed as follows:—

	Rs.
Sub-divisional officers and officers authorized by the Collector under
Rule 2 as modified above	250
Collectors of the districts	1,000
Commissioners	5,000

Certificates for advances above 5,000 require the sanction of Government.

Rule 20.—If the landlord fail to appear in person or by Agent when summoned to sign the certificate, as required by the first clause of this rule, and does not make any objection in writing within a month of the issue of the notice, he will, under section 12 of Act XXVI of 1871, be deemed "to have assented thereto and to have agreed that the land for the improvement of which the allowance is to be made, shall be pledged as security for the recovery of the advance."

Rule 32 is modified by Rule 2 above.

Rule 33.—The report in this form shall be made to the superior Officer before the certificate is granted, if the sum applied for be in excess of that which the Officer who has dealt with the application is authorized under Rule 19 above to grant. In other cases, it may be submitted after the issue of the certificate.

Reports should also be made under this rule by Collectors of Districts to Commissioners in all cases in which certificates have been granted by themselves or their subordinates.

Rule 34 is modified by Rule 19 above.

Rule 35.—No interest will be charged till after the expiration of one year, on advances below Rs. 500. After that time interest will be charged as in the original Rule 35.

The following rules, which have been drawn up by the Port Commissioners in communication with the Officiating Commissioner of Police, and approved by Government, are published for general information :—

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF THE PORT POLICE.

1. The force will form part of the regular police of the town of Calcutta enrolled under Act IV (B.C.) of 1866, and will be employed under a special Superintendent, to be called Superintendent of Port Police.

2. The general administration of the force as regards appointment, discharge, promotion, transfer, discipline, and the like, over which matters the Port Commissioners shall have no control, shall be vested in the Commissioner of Police.

3. The Superintendent of Port Police will be responsible for the prevention of crime, the detection of criminals, and the general preservation of peace within his division. He is further bound to see that all Inspectors, native officers, and constables under his control, discharge their respective duties with zeal and efficiency.

4. On the commission of an offence punishable by the general laws of the country, the Port Police will act under their Commissioner without reference to the Port Commissioners, and will send the offender with the usual charge sheet before the Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner of Police. The Superintendent will be responsible for the prosecution of offenders arrested for such offences and for the conduct of such cases, and will see that the necessary witnesses are duly sent before the Magistrate.

5. The Port Police will clearly understand that though they form part of the Calcutta Police force, they are also placed at the disposal of the Port Commissioners for the due prosecution of offences against Act XXII of 1855 (the Conservators' Act) and Act V of 1870 (the Port Improvement Act), and all other Acts to be taken with and read as parts of these Acts.

6. The Superintendent will, in addition to reports he may be directed to make to the Commissioner of Police, at once report to the Port Commissioners all offences (punishable under the Acts specified in rule 5 committed on the river or Strand Bank,) and the action taken by the Police thereon, and will from time to time furnish the Commissioners with reports of such offences in such form as may be directed.

7. In offences against the Conservators' or Port Improvement Acts, the Superintendent of Port Police will proceed in accordance with such instructions as he may from time to time receive from the Port Commissioners, who are responsible to Government for the due prosecution of their servants and others guilty of offences against the several Acts. In such cases the Police shall only prosecute when a charge is made and duly signed by the Vice-Chairman. A charge once made, the case will be in the hands of the Police, but the Commissioners, servants will afford every assistance in the shape of providing evidence, witnesses, &c., as required.

8. The Superintendent of Port Police shall, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Police, hold his office in such place as may be appointed by the Port Commissioners. He shall be in regular and frequent communication with the Commissioners, and shall satisfy himself by personal inspection that the orders issued are duly carried out.

9. No change shall be made in the fixed allocation of the force, or any part thereof, without the knowledge of the Port Commissioners.

10. Every policeman shall be furnished with a vernacular copy of the bye-laws of the Port Commissioners, and of the rules drawn up showing the duties of the Port Police.

This Notification will take effect on and from the 1st December 1873.

A. MACKENZIE,

Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[First Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

Under the provisions of Section 2 of Act V (B. C.) of 1873, the following plan for the future lighting of that area of the town of Howrah which is at present lighted with gas is hereby published for general information by order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

PLAN.

1. The portion of the Town which is lighted is bounded as follows:—

On the North by Hurrogunge Road, on the South by Ramkistopore Ghaut Road, on the East by the River Hooghly, and on the West by the Grand Trunk Road. A map of this portion is herewith submitted, on which is shown in blue lines the streets which are lighted, and in red lines those which the Commissioners propose to light on receipt of His Honor's sanction.

2. The following are the names of the streets and the number of lamps in each at present lighted, as also the names of the streets proposed to be lighted and the number of lamps in each.

Names of the streets and the number of lamps in each at present lighted.

Grand Trunk Road	...	52	Brought forward	...	114
Ramkistopore Ghaut Road	..	7	Ghoosery Road	..	4
Telkul Ghaut Road	..	12	Golabaree Road	..	8
Avenue Road	..	7	Baptist Burial Ground Road	..	9
Church Road	.	5	New Street	..	1
Chandmarree Road	..	8	Ross Road	..	4
Tindal Garden Road	..	9	Seal's New Lane	..	2
Lall Diggee Road	..	4	Hurrogunge Road	..	12
King's Road	..	4	Howrah Road	..	44
Rosemarree Lane	..	3	Howrah Ghaut Road	..	3
Salt Gola Lane	..	3
Carried over	...	114	Total	...	201

Names of the streets and the number of lamps in each proposed to be lighted.

Khetter Mitter's Lane	..	10	Brought forward	..	38
Watkins' Lane	..	5	Mackenzie's Lane	..	2
Dobson's Lane	..	15	Ticcapparrah and Jelleapparrah Lane	..	4
Strand Road	..	3
Carried over	..	33	Total	..	39

4. The outlay in erecting the lamps at present lighted, numbering 201, was Rs. 10,628, and the estimated cost of erecting the 39 lamps, which are required to complete the lighted area, is Rs. 2,437-8-0.

5. The cost of erecting the existing lamps was met from general funds, and the Commissioners propose to pay for the erection of the extra lamps from the saving which will be effected in the allotment for lighting charges for the months of January, February, and March next. This of course is calculated on the principle that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will be pleased to authorize the Commissioners to levy the rate from the 4th quarter of the current year 1873-74, viz. January to March 1874, the Commissioners, on their part, undertaking that the extra lamps shall be ready for lighting from 1st January.

6. The cost of lighting the 240 lamps will be Rs. 24,000 per annum. To this cost the Commissioners are bound by the existing contract with the Gas Company from which they have no escape. The contract has still 18 years to run. To this is to be added a sum of Rs. 1,200 for contingent charges of repairs to lamps, making a total of Rs. 25,200 per annum.

7. The total valuation of buildings and lands situated within the area is Rs. 8,72,867. A rate of 3 per cent. on this valuation would yield Rs. 26,186 per annum, and if from this sum a deduction is made of, say, Rs. 486 on account of collection charges, there would remain a net income of Rs. 25,700, which would cover the expenses of lighting and maintaining the lamps within the portion of the Town in which it is proposed to levy the rate for the present.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth Condition or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bona fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. No. 1, certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1872-73, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 8th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March, 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1874, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 45,000 chests of Chests.

Behar	...	26,244

Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing the date of payment, or by selling it at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article, there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christain Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so supplied for provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christain Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."—By order of the Member in charge.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]
NOTIFICATION.

The 17th November 1873.—Under the provisions of Clause 3, Rule XV, of the “Rules for the conduct of business at meetings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,” the following Bills, with Statements of Objects and Reasons, are published by order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

H. L. DAMPIER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

A Bill to amend Act XXI of 1856 of the Council of the Governor-General, and Act II of 1866 of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

WHEREAS by Section 90 of Act XXI of 1856 of the Governor-General in Council (An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Abkari revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) the word “Magistrate” as used in that Act is defined to include a Joint-Magistrate or other person lawfully exercising the powers of a Magistrate, and any Assistant or Deputy Magistrate with special powers stationed at a place other than the sudder station of the Magistrate, and empowered to try cases without reference from the Magistrate; and whereas the cases mentioned in different sections of Act II of 1866 of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council can, under Section 49 of that Act, only be tried by a Magistrate of less than full powers, when they are referred to him by the District Magistrate; and whereas further by Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure) new rules have been enacted assigning and regulating the powers of Magistrates of the first, second, and third classes;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Section 90 of Act XXI of 1856 of the Governor-General in Council so far as it defines the meaning of the word “Magistrate,” and Section 49, Act II of 1866, of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, are hereby repealed.

2. In the said Act XXI of 1856, and in all Acts which are to be read as part of that Act, and also in the said Act II of 1866, the word “Magistrate” shall be deemed to include Magistrates of the first class and Magistrates of the second class, as defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure, and subject to the provisions of that Code in respect of powers and jurisdiction.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

As the law now stands, no Magistrate who does not exercise first-class powers can try even the pettiest cases of breach of the Abkari laws, such as smuggling, illicit sale of spirits, or infraction of conditions of license, unless he be stationed at a place other than the sudder station of the Magistrate, and empowered to try cases without reference from the Magistrate.

At the present time when officers exercising first-class powers are much occupied with more important district work, the restriction has been found particularly inconvenient; and the object of this Bill is to enable any Magistrate having first or second-class powers to dispose of such cases. Subordinate Magistrates will still only be able to take up cases of this description which are specially made over to them for trial, unless they are authorized to receive complaints generally, or complaints of this particular class, or when they are duly empowered to act without complaint.

The opportunity is taken for the same reasons to remove the restrictions which Section 49, Act II of 1866 (B.C.) imposes as to the classes of Magistrates who may try offences under that Act, and to assimilate the powers of each class in respect to such offences to those which they exercise, or with which they may be specially invested, with regard to offences in general under the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Judicial and Legislative Depts.

A Bill to provide for the Voluntary Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows:—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta, of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married, or divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made prima facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

EMIGRATION OF LABORERS FROM THE DISTRESSED DISTRICTS.

RESOLUTION.

STATISTICAL DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 25th November 1873.

READ—

Letter No. 3517, dated 19th November 1873, asking on what terms tea planters would be willing to take laborers whom Government might assist in emigrating from the distressed districts.

Read also—

Letter to the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah, enquiring on what terms he would promote immigration into Burmah.

Read also—

Letter No. 7F, dated 21st November, from the Commissioner of Patna, reporting that the bands of laborers who ordinarily emigrate eastwards from Sarun and other parts of Behar at this time of year, are now returning to Sarun because they find food so dear in the eastern districts.

RESOLUTION.—The Lieutenant-Governor will be very glad, in pursuance of the policy indicated at paragraph 30 of His Excellency the Viceroy's orders of the 7th November, to promote emigration from the distressed districts to Assam and Cachar as soon as he can find employers ready to engage the immigrants on fair terms. He would hope to be able to arrange for marching emigrants from Sarun and Behar across Northern Behar and Bengal to Dhooobree, supplying them with food from the grain depôts in those districts.

2. The papers described above will be published for general information, with an invitation for offers to take laborers for a term of twelve months, as proposed in the Government letter of the 19th November. Persons offering to take immigrants should state whether they require all able-bodied men, or whether they will take whole families.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. BERNARD,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 3517, dated Calcutta, the 19th November 1873.

From—The Officiating Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal in the Statistical Dept.

To—The Landholders' Associations of Calcutta and Debroogurh.

I AM directed to invite your attention to the marginal extract from the PARA. 30. It is to be hoped that, in the populous tracts visited or threatened by distress, unemployed laborers may emigrate to places where food is in comparative plenty, where a special demand exists for their labor, where cultivable waste abounds, such as the tea districts, the Doars, the provinces of Assam, and of British Burmah. If it be found possible for the Government to facilitate such emigration, directly or indirectly, the Governor-General will be glad to receive any suggestions which the Lieutenant-Governor may be able to make.

orders issued by the Government of India regarding the impending scarcity of food in Bengal.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor would ask your Association to favour the Government with any suggestions as to the best mode of promoting immigration to the districts during this exceptional season, and as to the terms on which tea planters may be willing to bear part of the cost of importing immigrants and agree to receive laborers. The Lieutenant-Governor's present view is that immigrants who may be assisted by Government during the present year should not be expected to enter into an agreement for more than twelve months from the date of their arrival in the tea districts. At the end of that period they should be allowed to look about them and make up their minds whether they will stay in the tea districts either as tea coolies, or as ryots on the large surplus of cultivable lands which exists in those districts.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to say at what cost Government Agents may be able to march emigrants across to Dhoobree if they come from North Behar, or to send them by railway and steamer if they come from Western Bengal. But he fears that the cost could not be under 15 to 30 or 40 rupees a head according as they go to near or distant district; and he would wish to know whether tea planters would find it worth while to pay one-half of the cost of carrying emigrants up to a limit of Rs. 10 per head, if they get one year's agreement from each Government emigrant. Further, up to what limit would the planters of each labor district care to take coolies at these terms. •

4. Copies of this letter will be forwarded to the Commissioners of Assam and Dacca, and to the Deputy Commissioners of the five districts above named, for expression of opinion. The Deputy Commissioners will be asked to invite a certain number of representative planters in these districts either to meet and discuss the matter, or to communicate respectively their opinions and suggestions to Government in this department. The Lieutenant-Governor does not mention Darjeeling as a tea district to be operated upon under these orders, as the Labor Act does not apply to the Darjeeling district, and that district is well within reach of voluntary emigration.

5. As any course of action that may be adopted must be decided upon by the 15th January at latest, I am to ask that replies to this letter may be furnished by the end of December next.

6. It may be well to mention that the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah has suggested that relief funds might very usefully be expended in sending down emigrants to Burmah, where labor is always much in demand, where families might be put down in agricultural settlements. The Chief Commissioner considers that perhaps twenty or thirty thousand immigrants could be readily absorbed into British Burmah in a single season.

No. 3504, dated Calcutta, the 19th November 1873.

From—The Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal in the Statistical Department.

To—The Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah.

WITH reference to the Chief Commissioner's telegram of the 14th current to His Excellency the Viceroy, I am directed to forward copy of a letter which the Lieutenant-Governor has caused to be issued to representatives of the tea planting interest on the subject of promoting emigration from Bengal and Behar during the coming season of distress.

2. I am to inquire whether employers of labor, or any of the Government departments of British Burmah, would be disposed to bear a share (up to say Rs. 10 a head) in the cost of conveying emigrants from Bengal to Burmah. I am further to inquire whether able-bodied single men (as suggested in the Hon'ble Mr. Eden's telegram), or families, would be the most acceptable immigrants to Burmah.

No. 7F, dated Bankipore, the 21st November 1873.

From—S. C. BAYLEY, Esq., Commissioner of Patna,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Statistical Department.

I HAVE the honor to forward, for the information of Government, the accompanying copy of a letter, No. 230 of the 18th instant, from the Collector and Magistrate of Sarun, reporting that numbers of people who had lately emigrated from his district are returning owing to their inability to pay for the high price of food on the route. The matter is a serious one, but it is too late now to do much to remedy it. As the ordinary season for emigrating is passing by, I have directed that food depôts be laid in along the line of route, and be sold to emigrants at cost price. The officers in charge of the works under Mr. Stevens, Executive Engineer, Raj Durbhangah, might be expected to do this. I would urge the speedy issue of the orders contemplated in regard to facilitating emigration to Assam, &c.

No. 230, dated Chuprah, the 18th November 1873.

From—J. S. DRUMMOND, Esq., Offg. Collector and Magistrate of Sarun,

To—The Commissioner of Patna.

I HAVE the honor to report that I have been informed that numbers of people who had lately emigrated from this district, intending to proceed to Cooch Behar and Assam, are now returning owing to their inability to pay their expenses in consequence of the high price of food prevailing on the route. I was told by a planter that 300 of such persons had so returned on his own Dehat alone.

2. As it seems very desirable that measures should be taken to facilitate emigration as much as possible, I beg to report the circumstance with a view to such action as the Government may think proper to take in the matter.

THE LATE SURGEON-MAJOR H. C. CUTLIFFE.

Extracts (paragraphs 1 and 2) from a letter from the Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, No. 853, dated 27th October 1873.

I HAVE the honor to submit memorandum No. 3760, dated the 24th instant, from the Deputy Surgeon-General, Presidency Circle, reporting the death of Surgeon-Major H. C. Cutcliffe, F.R.C.S., Officiating Professor of Surgery, Medical College, Calcutta.

2. This very sad and sudden event has deprived Government of the services of a medical officer of high character and intelligence, and superior professional attainments; the Calcutta Medical School, of a distinguished surgeon, an able lecturer, and popular and successful teacher; and the public of this city, of a most efficient, conscientious, and kind practitioner.

Extract (paragraph 1) from a letter from the Additional Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, No. 1242VS., dated 4th November 1873.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 853, dated 27th ultimo, with enclosure, and in reply to express His Honor's great regret at the untimely death of Surgeon-Major H. C. Cutcliffe, F.R.C.S., Officiating Professor of Surgery, Medical College, Calcutta, on the 24th ultimo, and his sense of the very great loss the Government and the public have sustained in being deprived of the services of a medical officer so eminent in his profession, and one so well calculated to forward the great cause of surgical science.

BURDWAN DIVISION.	Western Districts.
	1 Burdwan	Nov. 25th*	Nil	No rain; dew tolerably heavy.	It is becoming clear that the crops in the east and south of the district are not nearly so bad as those in west and some of the northern thannahs.	Fever prevalent.
	2 Bancoorah	" 22nd	Nil	Dry and cold	The sowing of cold weather crops has mostly been a failure. About eight annas of the late or winter paddy expected to come in during December.
	3 Beerboom	" 22nd	Nil	Cold and bright	Early rice harvest over. Reaping of the late rice commencing. Exportation by rail of week ending 15th instant, 7,002 maunds, chiefly to the Bhauulpore and Patna divisions. Prices show a rising tendency.
	4 Midnapore	" 22nd	Nil	Seasonable, dry and cold	Unchanged since last report. Prices are still the same, but if anything, with a tendency to rise. Rice is being imported to the north of the district from the south in large quantities.
	5 Hooghly	" 22nd	Nil	Clear throughout; wind from north-east. No prospect of rain.	The state of the crops is much the same as when last reported. The early rice is being cut generally throughout the district, the outturn is about two annas. The upland rice is continuing to dry up. The cut at the head of the Kana Nuddie is progressing rapidly, and will place a large volume of water for irrigation at the disposal of the cultivators. Prices are rising generally.
PRESIDENCY DIVISION.	Howrah	" 22nd	Nil	Settled, fine; days unseasonably warm; nights comparatively cold; dew very heavy.	The prospects of the crops remain unaltered in all material respects. The water raised from the Damoodah through cuts in the embankments has done much good in many places in Shampore. The Oolooberiah crops are better than what was anticipated, and so are those in Amtah. But these alterations for the better are not large enough to affect the general result materially.	Fever very bad in Shibpur,--about ten deaths a day. Has now appeared in Belgatchea and its neighbourhood, situated at the other extremity of the municipality.
	Central District.
	6 24-Pergunnahs	" 22nd†	Nil	The sky somewhat overcast about the time of the new moon. Weather still warm for the time of the year.	In Diamond Harbour sub-division about a seven-anna crop is expected, and some distress is apprehended in the southern parts of thannahs Sultanpore and Ma-thoorapore, where more than a two-anna crop cannot be hoped for. From Barripore the Deputy Collector reports that the paddy cut contains very little grain, and that the outturn will be very poor. Cold weather crops have been sown here and in Barnaset, wherever water was available. In the latter sub-division the rice crop on the high lands is comparatively destroyed, but some good crops will be taken from the beels and low lands. In Satkherah and Baseerhaut prospects are reported to be getting worse and worse as the drought	Fever still continues in Barripore, Baseerhaut, and Satkherah sub-divisions, and at Alipore. Small-pox has made its appearance in Baseerhaut. Elsewhere public health good.

PRESIDENCY DIVISION.	7 Nuddea	Nov. 22nd	Nil	Sky generally clear; nights cold; days rather hot for the time of the year.	continues. Some distress is felt by the labouring classes in the latter sub-division for want of employment which is generally abundant at this season of the year. Reports from other parts much the same as before. Prices have generally an upward tendency, but as the late rice crop is cut, it is anticipated that they will become easier.
	8 Jessore	„ 22nd	Nil	Clear and sunny, with occasional light clouds.	No material change in the prospects of the crops. From the Ranaghat sub-division it is reported that there will be only a two-anna crop of the late rice; elsewhere a four-anna crop is still expected.
	9 Moorshedabad	„ 22nd	Nil	No rain during the week; occasionally cloudy.	There has been no rain during the week, and the state of the crops is consequently much the same as last week. In the Sudder Sub-division the arhur (pulse) and indigo look pretty well, but the rest of the cold weather crops suffer from want of rain. The tapping of the trees for date-sugar is commencing. This is an important produce throughout a great part of the district, and cold, clear weather in December and January is what it principally wants; some fears are felt as to the effect of the want of rain on the supply of juice, but it is too early to judge. The other cold weather crops are in bad condition owing to want of rain. This is particularly the case with the mustard. Pulses and linseed are in some places better than others. The boro rice crop is grown somewhat largely in the south, and this is the time for sowing and transplanting. The drought is said to be interfering with the growth of the seedlings and an insect known as “majra poka” is damaging the seed beds. The general outturn of the late rice as now estimated will not be materially different from the expectations previously reported. Prices throughout the district are still comparatively low.
RAJSHYEE DIVISION.	10 Dinagapore	„ 22nd	Nil	No rain, dry; north wind prevailing.	Prospects much the same as last week, but from the Collector's personal observation in the western parts of the district, from which the worst reports had been received, they do not appear to be quite so gloomy as represented. A great deal of the crops has been saved by irrigation. In the north the harvest has commenced, and the sub-divisional officer states that an average outturn of seven annas is expected. The cold weather crops generally want rain, but are getting on fairly in some parts. Prices at headquarters—best rice 11 to 12 seers, common rice average 14 seers, early rice 16 seers per rupee.
					No change for the better.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Central Districts.— (Contd.)	1873.
11	Maldah	Nov. 22nd	Nil	Weather hot and dry; nights cold; clouds collect and disappear.	There has been no rain this week, and consequently no improvement in the state of the crops. The cutting of the winter rice crop will commence in a few days. The yield of the whole district is not expected to average more than a four-anna crop. In places where there is still some moisture the plant looks well, but the ears do not swell with grain as they should do. It is thus difficult to tell till the crop is reaped what the exact outturn will be. The cold weather crops may still be fairly good if rain falls before the end of November. Relief work in the shape of repairs to district roads is going on.	Health of the district good.
12	Rajahmundry	" 22nd	Nil	No rain; cloudy and close the first part of the week; latterly the sky has cleared, and the nights and mornings have been cooler.	In the Bhurindro in the west of the district and in the extreme north of Singraha Thannah the late rice has failed. In Baruigaon the crop is a very fair one, in the rest of the district generally the crop will give an average yield of six annas. The cold weather crops are suffering from continued drought. The mulberry crop is a very fair one. Pulses and teel (oil-seed) are promising, but will require rain shortly. Prices of rice show little or no variation.	Small-pox at I leah. Cholera at Poo Ditto at Char Ditto at Belm Ditto and s pox at Natt Small-pox at mara.
13	Rangpore	" 22nd	Nil	The weather continues fine and tolerably cool, but there does not seem to be any prospect of a rainfall.	The state of the rice crop is extremely bad, not much more than a three-anna crop can be expected. In one or two parts of the district it is hoped that a six-anna crop may be obtained, but in other parts it is expected that it will be as low as one-anna. The price of rice throughout the district ranges from Rs. 3 to 5 per maund. Tobacco, wheat, mustard, and different kinds of pulses have been extensively sown, but the continued want of rain is causing great damage. The sugarcane and ginger crops are said to be good in some parts of the district.
14	Bograha	" 22nd	Nil	As previously reported, only a small part of the late rice crop will be saved. Some cold weather crops, sesamum, oilseed, &c., are favorably reported on in parts. Sugarcane prospering. 15 seers of rice per rupee at Bograha market on the 22nd November.
15	Pubna	" 22nd	Nil	Warm for the time of the year; chilly winds however blow from the north-west. There has been no rain at all, and there is no prospect of any at present.	The low ground late rice is still being cut. It will be about an eight-anna crop. The cold weather crops were all sown in proper time, but they are somewhat backward. Their prospects still remain good, but they will fail if the present drought continues long.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS.
Central Districts.— (Contd.)		1873.
16	Darjeeling	Nov. 22nd	Nil	A slight sprinkling of rain on Sunday last, not a drop since. Bright, clear sky generally.	Throughout the district (hills and plains) a ten-anna crop of paddy all round may be expected. Bhoota (maize) in the hills, which has just been gathered in, may be put down as a twelve-anna crop: it has gone up in price, but this is owing to its being bought up through the fear of the supplies of rice from the plains falling short, from the temptation to sell it at high prices beyond the district.
17	Julpigoree	" 22nd	Nil	Fine, clear weather, but sun very powerful, unusually dry, and no signs of rain.	There is little change in the prospect of the crops this week. Rice is selling cheaper generally in the district since new rice has come into the market.
	Cooch Behar	" 22nd	Nil	No signs of rain	The late rice crop is good in the low lands, though very poor in the high lands, and altogether there will be at least a ten-anna crop. Exportation to Rungpore by carts and pack-bullocks is taking place. The cold weather crops are looking well. Rain is not wanted for a month, as at present it would injure the tobacco.
Eastern Districts.
18	Dacca	" 25th*	Nil	Weather not so cool as usual at this season.	Prospects of crop much as before. On the whole the out-turn rather better than was expected. Pulses look well; oil seeds, indifferent.	Fever very bad at Manickgunga. Civil Surgeon is gone there.
19	Furreedpore	" 22nd	Nil	Clear and bright throughout the week; days still hot, but cold in the morning and at night, with heavy dews.	No change in the state of the rice crops since last week. All over the district reaping continues in the low lands, and the weather is favorable for this. In the higher parts the harvest is in, and the paddy is in course of being thrashed and converted into rice. The Deputy Collector deputed to the southern side says that the rice crops in that quarter, for the most part low and marshy, promise to turn out very well, and that no distress is likely to occur there. A Sub-Deputy Collector attached to Goalundo writes from Pangsala, almost at the extreme north-western side of the district, that the harvest in these parts will be about a quarter of last year, that a great number of fields have been abandoned in despair because of the drought, and that the cattle are allowed to feed on the crops. The average price of rice in the district is 18½ seers per rupee. The cold weather crops of pulses, oil-seeds, vegetables, &c., are still in a fair way, especially those sown early. The late sowings are unable to make any progress. Mustard stunted, when 3 or 4 inches high flowers and runs to seed too quickly. The prospects are by no means good, and they must suffer if it does not rain shortly. Sugarcane all over the district has been good.	Cholera still reported from Goalundo.

Eastern Districts.—(Contd.)		1873.
Dacca Divn.—(Contd.)	20 Backergunge	Nov. 22nd	Nil	Cool and pleasant	In the Patuakhally sub-division the crops are generally good, though in some places they have been injured by insects and by the drought. The Collector reports to have never seen finer crops, than some he saw near Galachipa Thannah. A fourteen-anna crop is expected in this sub-division. In Dukhin Sabazpore the sub-divisional officer expects a ten-anna crop, but the Collector thinks more than that quantity. The crop has been injured in some places by insects, but in others it is very good, and on the road between Dhania Mania and Dowlut Khan a magnificent rice plain, many miles in extent, is seen, in the whole of which the crop was apparently at least an average one. The betel-nut cultivation, which is of great consequence in the island, has been very good this year. In the Sudder sub-division the crops round about Burisal are tolerably good, and generally a twelve-anna one is expected. In Jhalokate Thannah the crops are said to be bad. In Madarcepore the crops on the high lands have suffered, but those in low lands are fair.	Not very healthy.
	21 Mymensing	„ 22nd	Nil	No change since last week.	The prospects of the crops are on the whole not quite so favorable as last week.
	22 Sylhet	„ 15th	Nil	Cold weather fairly settling in.	Unfavorable reports from Pergunnah Baniachung in Nabigunge thannah, and pergunnahs Atwajan, Kismit Atwajan, and Sanik Soraita in Chattack thannah, and Pergunnahs Bualjur and Lakhipore in Tajpore thannah, where a blight has set in. Although last week the price of rice fell in the Sudder Bazar, there is a steady rise in price all over the district. Exportation is going on very largely.
Chittagong Division.	23 Cachar	„ 15th	Nil	Fair and cool	Prospects of crops much the same. Insects have disappeared. Reaping will be commenced shortly. An outturn of ten annas on the average crop or more may be expected. Inquiries regarding the stock of rice in hand are being made.
	24 Chittagong	„ 15th	Nil	Bright and fine, with north-easterly winds. Nights clear and cool.	Generally favorable. Insects reported to have disappeared from Meerkaserai and Sectaconnd. The prospects of the district harvest are fair, but prices are rising owing to the anticipated scarcity in Northern Bengal and Behar. Cox's Bazar return not received.
	25 Noakhally	„ 15th	Nil	The cold weather has commenced.	In 106 of the 362 villages in Sudharam ten-anna of the (Rajshail and Chaplais) late paddy are said to have been destroyed, and similar loss is reported from 21 villages in Huti. Loss of four annas of the crops is reported from Sundeep, Luckeepore, and Ameer-gunge, and some loss (nowhere said to exceed two annas) from the remaining thannahs of Rangunge, Begumgunge, and Baumnia.

CHITTAGONG DIVN.	26	Nov. 22nd	Nil	The weather is gradually growing cooler, though the heat is still greater than usual at this period. North wind blowing.	There is reason to think that the crops are not quite so bad as official reports have made them out. The fact is that the Police have not been able to distinguish between a bad crop for an average year and a good crop for a bad year. The canoongoes' reports from the south are re-assuring, and even in the centre of the district matters are believed to be better than was expected. No change reported from Bramunberiah except that the low land crop is being benefited by the heavy dews. The price of rice has fallen again below Rs. 2 which looks hopeful. Sub-divisional canoongoes' reports not yet to hand.
	27	Chittagong Hill Tracts	„ 15th	Nil	Heavy rain in the night. 1 A. M. and cool	The paddy crop has been reaped. The cotton is now being gathered. The prospects of the cotton crop are good. The mustard crop is now being sown. The prospects of the crops on the whole are not bad, although the outturn has not been equal to that of last year. There is no fear of scarcity, but there is not any stock over the local requirements for export.
		Hill Tipperah	„ 15th	Nil	Bright and cool. No rain.	No change to report in the prospects. Here and there paddy cutting has commenced. The joom rice crop appears from recent inquiries to have been a fairly average one. But the cotton crop is not as full as usual.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVISION.	28	Patna	„ 24th*	Nil	Morning and evening cool, days hot. No rain.	Prospects of the district getting daily worse; the cold weather crop has generally germinated well, if it could only get rain to keep it. Insects have appeared in many places and are eating off the young plants.
	29	Gya	„ 22nd	Nil	Cool and fine. No rain has fallen in any part of the district.	The bulk of the paddy has perished, and the prospects of the cold weather crop continue bad. Rain is much wanted for the latter crop. In the western part of the Aurungabad sub-division, the eastern Soane Canal has been opened recently, and it is hoped that the crops on the lands bordering upon it will be much benefited by it. Prices have fallen to a slight extent since last week.
	30	Shahabad	„ 22nd	Nil	West wind. Weather cold and bright.	In Sassemam sub-division canal irrigation continues. Some good has been effected in Bhuboonh by a bund on the Doorgooti. Insects reported in the cold weather crops in places. The cold weather crops in the northern portions of the headquarters and Buxar sub-division promise well.

31	Tirhoot	Nov. 22nd	Nil	Cool. Cloudy at night...	In the Sittamarhee sub-division the paddy on the ground is still suffering from the long drought. In places it has been cut and stacked for the use of the cattle, and in places the ryots are making every effort to improve the paddy by irrigation. The new rice is not yet coming into the market. The mahajuns have abstained from sending their stored grains to market in order to make large profits hereafter. With the aid of irrigation from streams and tanks the general average yield of rice in the sub-division would be about four annas. The grain and rahur, kulthe pulses continue promising; caterpillars have injured the wheat in some places. Poppy coming up well where irrigation is possible. Much land will remain unsown if no rain falls during the month of Ughan (to middle of December). Should rain fall next month the cheena (millet) and moong (pulse) can be sown. In the Hajee-pore sub-division a very small portion of the cold weather crop has been sown; the rest is left unsown for want of rain. In the Tajpore sub-division the cold weather crops on the Dearah lands are so far excellent. In the corner, north of the Bya, south of the Talbaryala, and west of the road west of Shawpore Barneghat, the rice will be quite six annas. There are also three or four churs south of Salimpore Murwah and north of Dembrandan in which a five-anna crop may be expected. East of Dulsing serai there is the Rupowli chur which should give much the same yield. In the south-east corner of the sub-division the outturn may be yet two to three annas. There is also a little paddy between Dulsing serai and Naudnee which may yield four or five annas. Over all the rest of the sub-division the great majority of the paddy has been cut, the north being specially bare, and what yield there may be from what is on the ground is not worth taking into consideration. North of Tajpore, west of Tarbaryala, and to the east of the Dulsing serai road there is three or four annas of the cold weather crop still to be sown. In the centre and south, and south-west of the sub-division, there is less land lying fallow. All the light lands and half of the heavy lands have been sown, and ryots say that they can still sow for fifteen to twenty days the ordinary cold-weather crops, and even after	Public health good. No complaints with regard to cattle.

PATNA DIVISION.—(Contd.)					that cheena (millet) with rain within next fifteen days. There is nothing to prevent a nine or ten annas crop all round. On the Dearah it may well be sixteen annas, and in the south-west, about Puhora, it may be more than ten annas. But except in the Dearah everything depends upon rain within the next fifteen days. The worse part of the sub-division is the north of Tajpore, i.e., north of a line drawn from Nihi Dyhycha to Samashpore. The rukur pulse is generally stunted, but the janera is better. Aus (potatoes) a very important crop, specially in the south-west, are at present poor and without rain cannot yield more than four annas. Suthus (a sort of bulb) have been rather better. In the Durbhangah sub-division close on fifteen annas of rice is gone. Prospects of the cold weather crop very bad. No starvation as yet, though much pressure is being felt. Prices are generally the same as last week. The prospects of the crop in the Sudder sub-division are gloomy; the prices of food-grains are rising high. The cold weather crops sown have germinated, but are withering for want of moisture. In the Madhubani sub-division prospects have by no means improved. No rain as yet; unless it falls very soon there will be no cold weather crops, and even if it does there will be very little.
	32 Sarun	Nov. 22nd	Nil	West wind prevailing	There is nothing to add to former reports unless it be to record that with each successive week of continued drought prospects are of course becoming worse. Paddy, except on inconsiderable areas of low land, has altogether failed. Cold weather crops are being irrigated from wells wherever procurable. Many new wells have been dug, but these can hardly hold out if the drought continues. Price of rice has slightly fallen.
	33 Champaran	" 22nd	Nil	Cool weather; west winds prevailing.	The prospects of the late rice crop is very gloomy. The outturn is estimated at 2 annas. About 6 annas of the cold weather crop lands have been sown, and the remaining ten annas left uncultivated for want of moisture in the ground.
BRABOURN DIV.	34 Monghyr	" 22nd	Nil	Set fair	No change since last week. Much of the cold weather crop, which has sprung up, has been destroyed by insects which have multiplied enormously during the dry season. Similar unfavorable reports have been received from sub-divisions.

BHAUGULPORE DIVISION.—(Contd.)	35 Bhaugulpore	Nov. 25th*	Nil	The early rice is being cut in Bunka sub-division and prices falling. New rice selling at 17 seers. Northern sub-divisional officers report no change from previous week. Prospects of the cold weather crops generally good. The grain recently imported by train is now being exported. Exportations still going on from all parts of the district.	General health remarkably good.
	36 Purneah	Return not received.
	37 Sonthal Pergunnahs	" 22nd	Nil	Cold has now set in. Occasional clouds, but no rain or prospect of any.	From Deoghur sub-division it is reported that the Kartick paddy is nearly all reaped and was poor in yield. No variation in the prospect of the late paddy. In Rajmahal the prospects of the cold weather crops are becoming worse; where seed has germinated it is likely to perish from drought, and in some places is being destroyed by insects.
ORISSH.
ORISSA DIVISION.	38 Cuttack	" 25th*	Nil	Weather cool	Prospects of crops good. The export of rice by merchants to different places for trade has raised slightly the market value.	Public health good.
	39 Pooree	" 15th	Nil	Fair and cool. No rain	The Loghu or second rice crop is being reaped with good outturn, and the harvest is nearing completion. Late rice is coming on. The present state and prospects are fair, and the produce is expected to be average. The cold weather crops are promising. Prices moderate. Advances for export of rice to Calcutta are being made in the Khoordha sub-division. Last year's stock of rice still holds out.	Public health rather bad owing to prevalence of dengue and intermittent fever.
	40 Balasore	" 22nd	Nil	Seasonable	There is no change in the state and prospects of the crops since last week, viz. the crop will be little less than an average one for the whole district. Rice cutting as usual at this time of the year has commenced.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
41 Hazareebaugh	"	" 22nd	Nil	Cold and clear; no rain has fallen in any part of the district.	No change since last report. Complaints are received from all parts of the inability to sow the cold weather crops, owing to the dryness of the soil and water is scarce for artificial irrigation.
42 Lohardugga	"	" 22nd	Nil	Bright and clear, with mornings and evenings cold; no signs of rain.	Things are very much in the same state as last week. As regards the greater portion of the Sudder sub-division, there appears no reason to doubt the correctness of the general estimate made last week that there will be full two-thirds of an average crop; the only part of the Sudder sub-division, where there is fear of actual scarcity, is the Tori Pergunnah. Owing to the want of rain the prospects of the cold weather crops are very bad. In many places sowings

43	Singbhoom	Nov. 15th	Nil	Slight rain in the south of the Colehan about the beginning of the week. General rain very much wanted for the crops on the ground.	have not been made, and where they have been made the crops will be short, unless it rains very shortly. From Palamow the report states that a shorter crop even than was last reported may be expected. The paddy is not expected to be more than a four-anna. Pulse and teel (oil-seed) promise to be about seven or eight-anna crop. Not more than a four-anna of the cold weather crop has been sown. This promise well at present, but of course the outturn depends on an immediate fall of rain, without which there will not be a more than eight-anna crop. With regard to Dhalbhoom, Seraikeyla, and Porahat, much the same as last report. There are good hopes that all the low land crops will be saved by the active measures in course to irrigate the fields, and the outturn is expected to be eight to ten-anna. Tarof Porchali only is very bad. In the Colehan the early crops have failed to the extent of half everywhere, and up to two-thirds in some few places. The low land crops are all more or less good, and will for the most part be saved. The winter crops in the south of the Colehan are turning out very badly. The pulses are all turning yellow and drying up for want of moisture. The oil-seeds may be said to have completely failed. This part of the district in other years is generally a blaze of colour with mustard, &c., but this year a few scattered fields are all that can be seen.
44	Maunbhoom	" 22nd	Nil	Settled. Fine. Wind north-west.	The Nuan rice has been cut and a beginning has been made to cut the late rice, but it is too soon as yet to ascertain what the yield will be; it is, however, believed to be tolerably good, and that a half outturn on all round will be secured; the people are fully employed, and at present there is no distress. The bāts, 41 in number, lately established, are all well attended, and rice and all other supplies freely sold at them. They have been the means of keeping down prices very considerably and made food available to the poorer classes at reasonable rates.
SAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goalparah	" 15th	Nil	No signs of rain; weather cool; nights and mornings foggy.	Another dry week has passed and in consequence no material change to report. Some places are worse off than others, and rain could do little good now to rice crops, but is wanted for winter crops.

ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.—(Contd.)		1873.
46	Kamroop	Nov. 24th*	Nil	Mornings cold, raw, and misty; days dry and clear; slight north-east wind; nights clear, heavy dews.	The late rice and tea crops backward for want of rain. Cotton, sugarcane, mustard, and pulse progressing.	Public health good.
47	Durrung	" 15th	Nil	Fogs in the mornings, bright days, little breeze.	No rain. Crops drying up. No improvement since last report.
48	Nowgong	" 15th	Nil	Weather cool and seasonable, with heavy dews at nights.	The late rice crop is poorer at the western end of the district than to the east of the sudder station, but still an average crop may be expected. Pulse doing fairly. Sugarcane and mustard doing well. Tea operations rapidly slackening. Tea-making season being nearly over.	General health of the district excellent.
49	Seebsaugor	" 15th	Nil	Weather cool; no indication of rain.	No rain has fallen during the week, and there has been no change in the prospect of the outturn of the rice crop. If heavy rain comes now it might do harm to the rice, but it is wanted for the mustard cultivation as also tea.
50	Luckimpore	" 15th	Nil	No rain during the week; the weather perceptibly cooler.	Nothing new to report	Public health fair.
51	Naga Hills	" 8th	Nil	Cold weather coming on fast, although the sun is still very hot at mid-day.	The crops in the hills could scarcely be better. The joom crops both of the Nagas and Kookies have yielded one of the best outturns known for years past, whilst the terrai crop of the Angamies promises to be a bumper one. In the plain the look-out continues to be a very bad one indeed, and the pathar crops can scarcely improve very much now.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	" 15th	Rain did not fall in sufficient quantity to obtain a record.	The weather has been bleak and cloudy, and on the night of the 14th instant a smart shower of rain fell at Shillong and its neighbourhood.	The rice crop has all been harvested, and the produce is already appearing in some of the markets. There is no scarcity in the hills, but as the rice raised in the country is not sufficient to meet the wants of the inhabitants and a considerable quantity of rice has to be imported from the plains, from Sylhet, and from Assam, the price of the staple is rising in the markets owing to an expected scarcity in the plains. Though a good shower of rain has fallen in the hills, yet it is of no great consequence, as the cereals still standing are nearly ready for the sickle and do not require further moisture.
53	Garro Hills	" 15th	Nil	Hazy throughout the week, very dry, but tolerably cool. Nights cold and dew heavy. A few clouds have generally gathered about the Tura range during the afternoons, but soon dispersed again and not a drop of rain has fallen.	Vegetables, yams, and the like, besides cotton, are the only crops which remain uncollected in the hills; much less rice has been brought to Tura during past week from the Mymensingh side, and reports from that direction state that it is unily becoming more difficult to obtain supplies thence. A few of the inhabitants along the foot of the hills and traders still bring up small quantities of rice.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperature given in column 17. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Dippe's tables as given in Guyot's "Meteorological and Physical Tables." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 17 on the preceding page by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Serenity.—This column gives the average proportion of unclouded sky; a cloudless sky being indicated by 10, and one completely overcast by 0.

The above being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which shall show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

CALCUTTA,

Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTE ON THE DEFICIENT RAINFALL OF SEPTEMBER.

THE rainfall during the month has been deficient at all the Bengal stations in the list except Hazareebaugh, where it was about one-half greater than the average of the month. The deficiency has been about the same at most of the stations, viz. between 3 and 6·5 inches, and greatest at Patna, where less than an inch fell, the average being nearly 7½ inches. At Benares the deficiency was about the same as in Bengal, but at Roorkee the fall was nearly four times the usual amount, and at Akyab the average was exceeded by 2 inches. The winds, which in September are generally easterly or south-easterly in the Lower Provinces, were much less so than usual, and in many places very decidedly westerly. This was especially the case at Benares, in Behar, at Cuttack, Hazareebaugh, Saugor Island, Calcutta, and Berhampore; somewhat less so in the eastern districts. At Roorkee, on the other hand, south-easterly winds were unusually prevalent, which accounts for the greater rainfall of that station. The atmospheric pressure was somewhat below the average, especially at Cuttack and Lucknow; but considerably above it at Hazareebaugh, Saugor Island, Chittagong, Silchar, and Darjeeling. This abnormal distribution of the pressure partly explains the generally westerly tendency of the winds, of which the diminished rainfall is a natural consequence; but in the absence of information from Western, Central, and Southern India, and the Punjab, no complete elucidation of these irregularities is possible. The following table gives a complete view of the wind, rainfall, and pressure at several stations :—

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

NOTIFICATION.

The 25th November 1873.—Under the authority of paragraph 16 of the Resolution of the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, dated 7th November, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to order that Rule V of the Rules made by the Governor-General in Council on the 25th of April 1872, under Section 4 of the Local Public Works Loan Act XXIV of 1871, shall be temporarily relaxed as regards loans for works to be executed within the following districts :—

All districts of the Patna and Bhaugulpore Divisions.	Rajshahye, Maldah, Moorshedabad, Burdwan, Hooghly,	Bancoorah, Beerbhoom, and the Jungle Mehals of Midnapore, Dinagpore, Rungpore, Bograh,

by the addition to it of the following clause :—

Provided that, whenever such a course appears desirable, the Local Government may at the same time that it orders the publication of the copy of the application required above, conditionally authorize the loan and the commencement of the work, and advance so much of the loan as may be immediately necessary for such work.

But if for any reason the loan is finally disallowed after the publication of the notice, such loan shall not be paid, and any unexpended portion in the hands of the committee shall be refunded. Any portion actually expended shall be treated as a loan repayable under these rules.

NOTIFICATION.

RELAXATION OF LAND IMPROVEMENT ADVANCE RULES.

The 20th November 1873.—With a view to encouraging proprietors and occupants of land in the districts likely to be affected by the failure of the crops to apply for advances under Act XXVI of 1871, The Land Improvement Act, and to give employment to laborers on works undertaken out of such advances, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, under the authority conveyed in paragraph 17 of the resolution by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India dated 7th November 1873, to make the following temporary relaxations in the rules which have been published under section 18 of the said Act, with the sanction of the Government of India, as published in the Gazette of the 9th July 1873.

These relaxations will have effect in the following districts only, viz.—

All the Districts of the	Bograh,	Hooghly,
Patna and Bhaugulpore	Rajshahye,	Bancoorah,
Divisions.	Maldah,	Beerbhoom, and the Jungle
Dinagepore,	Moershedabad,	Mehal of Midnapore.
Rungpore,	Burdwan,

Rule 2.—Applications may be made on unstamped paper, and they may be presented to any Revenue Officer, but can be dealt with only by the Collector of the District, or by any Officer not being below the rank of a Covenanted Deputy Collector, or an Uncovenanted Deputy Collector of the 4th grade, who may be authorized by the Collector, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, to deal with such applications.

The rules laid down for the guidance of Collectors shall apply to all Officers who are authorized to deal with applications, except where the contrary intention is apparent.

Rule 3.—Applications need not necessarily be presented in open court.

Rule 4, Clause 5.—The numbers of fields and plots may be dispensed with in the application where there is no putwarry, but where a survey exists they should be ascertained as soon possible.

Rule 5.—The rough plan and estimate may be dispensed with, when the amount applied is below Rs. 2,000, but a sufficient description of the proposed work must be insisted on.

Rule 9.—The following rule is substituted:—

Any officer who is authorized under Rule 2, as modified above, to deal with applications, may direct an officer of lower rank than himself, provided that such officer be of rank not below that of a canoongoe, to hold any enquiry which is required by these Rules, and to report the result to him. All enquiries under these rules should be held with as much publicity as possible, and in the presence of as many of the respectable inhabitants of the village as can be assembled. The record of the proceedings of the enquiry shall be made in writing by the officer holding the enquiry, and shall be signed by the village headmen, the gomastah, the accountant, the owkeedars or other local officials or respectable inhabitants in acknowledgment of its having been explained to them.

Rule 10.—No fees shall be charged for the service of any process under these rules.

Rule 12.—Under Rule 9, as modified above, it is unnecessary to give formal notice for a prescribed period previous to holding the enquiry.

Rule 13.—No charge shall be made for summoning witnesses.

Rule 15.—The officer who has made the enquiry, if not authorized to deal with the application, must forward it to the officer who ordered the enquiry to be made.

Rule 19.—The limits within which officers of different grades may grant certificates for advances, provided that sufficient sums shall have been placed at their disposal, are fixed as follows:—

				Rs.
Sub-divisional officers and officers authorized by the Collector under
Rule 2 as modified above	250
Collectors of the districts	1,000
Commissioners	5,000

Certificates for advances above 5,000 require the sanction of Government.

Rule 20.—If the landlord fail to appear in person or by Agent when summoned to sign the certificate, as required by the first clause of this rule, and does not make any objection in writing within a month of the issue of the notice, he will, under section 12 of Act XXVI of 1871, be deemed "to have assented thereto and to have agreed that the land for the improvement of which the allowance is to be made, shall be pledged as security for the recovery of the advance."

Rule 32 is modified by Rule 2 above.

Rule 33.—The report in this form shall be made to the superior Officer before the certificate is granted, if the sum applied for be in excess of that which the Officer who has dealt with the application is authorized under Rule 19 above to grant. In other cases, it may be submitted after the issue of the certificate.

Reports should also be made under this rule by Collectors of Districts to Commissioners in all cases in which certificates have been granted by themselves or their subordinates.

Rule 34 is modified by Rule 19 above.

Rule 35.—No interest will be charged till after the expiration of one year on advances below Rs. 500. After that time interest will be charged as in the original Rule 35.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department.

No. 3048—62.—Read again the following correspondence relating to the manufacture, importation, sale, transport, &c., of arms and ammunition under the provisions of Act XXXI of 1860 as amended by Act VI of 1866:—

Foreign Department Notification No. 1707, dated the 26th November 1869, and the rules published under it for regulating the importation of arms and ammunition into or through the territories under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Letter from the Government of Bengal, No. 3582, dated the 29th July 1870.

To Financial Department, No. 5113, dated 23rd November 1870.

Circular to the Local Governments and Administrations, No. 5104—12, dated the 23rd November 1871, and replies to this circular.

Endorsement from the Foreign Department, No. 1959P, dated 19th November 1870, forwarding certain papers on the subject of the importation of fire-arms into Rajpootana.

Ditto, No. 1590, dated 28th July 1871.

Letter from Government of Bengal, No. 4491, dated 30th September 1870.

From the Financial Department, No. 4119, dated 28th December 1870.

Circular to all Local Governments and Administrations, Nos. 2923 to 2929, dated 14th June 1871, and replies received.

Letter from Government of Bengal, No. 2192, dated 10th May 1871.

Letter to Government of Bengal, No. 2022, dated 14th June 1871.

Endorsement from the Foreign Department, No. 1274P, dated the 22nd June 1871, forwarding, for disposal, replies to a circular issued in May 1869, enquiring how far the rules sanctioned for Bengal to regulate the importation and transport of arms and ammunition would be suitable for the other provinces.

Circular to Local Governments and Administrations, Nos. 40—2630 to 2633, dated 14th August 1873, and replies received.

RESOLUTION.—In May 1869 the Government of India in the Foreign Department sanctioned certain rules for regulating importation of fire-arms and ammunition into the Lower Provinces of Bengal, and their transport from place to place within the limits of those provinces, under the provisions of Sections 17 and 22 of Act XXXI of 1860, and at the same time issued a circular to the other Local Governments and Administrations inquiring how far such rules would meet their respective requirements.

2. From the replies received it appears necessary to frame uniform regulations for placing the importation and inland transport of cannon and arms and ammunition under systematic control throughout British India.

3. And from other portions of the correspondence read, it appears desirable to prohibit the transshipment of cannon and arms and ammunition at certain British Indian ports, and to restrict the granting of passes for the exportation of cannon and arms and ammunition from British India.

4. The Governor-General in Council is therefore pleased to declare as follows:—

*Firstly, as regards the importation of cannon and arms and ammunition, that licenses for import under Section 17, Act XXXI of 1860, will henceforward be granted only at places and by the officials named in the list appended to this Resolution. These orders will supersede the notifications issued from the Home Department in October 1860 and July 1866, which authorized the chief police officer in every town and frontier district to grant licenses, and so much of the Foreign Office notification of 1869 as relates to the importation of arms, &c., by sea or by land into India; also so much of the notification [dated 22nd July 1873] which appeared in the Calcutta Gazette of July 23rd 1873, as relates to the importation of fire-arms and ammunition into the territories under the Government of Bengal.*

Secondly, as regards the transshipment of arms, &c., that a notification has issued under Section 6 of Act VI of 1873, prohibiting such transshipment at the ports to which that Act extends.

Thirdly, as regards the inland transport of arms, &c., from one part of India to another, that the rules of which a copy is appended to this Resolution are approved, and that they be published under Section 22 of Act XXXI of 1860; further that, in order to enable the Local Administrations under the Government of India to make similar rules for interior transport within their respective territories, a notification has issued delegating to the Chief Commissioners the power conferred upon a Local Government by Section 22 of Act XXXI of 1860.

Fourthly, as regards the granting of passes for exporting arms and ammunition, that no such passes shall in future be granted for exportation either by land or sea, except by the Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, and such other officers as the Government of India, or the Governors of Madras and Bombay within their respective Presidencies, may have expressly authorized, or may hereafter expressly authorize, in this behalf. That all such passes shall be granted subject, as far as may be, to the rules for the transport of arms within British India, and that, whenever there is an authorized Political Agent, Cantonment Magistrate, or other British official at the place of destination, the pass shall be delivered to him within six days of the arrival of the articles covered by it, with a view to his satisfying himself that there is no deficiency in the same manner as a Magistrate of a British district is required to do by the inland transport rules.

Import by Land.

The officers authorized to grant licenses to import arms and ammunition [more than the reasonable quantity which requires by law no license] by land into any part of the territories under the Government of India, are—the Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department, the Secretaries to the Governments of Bengal, North-Western Provinces, and the Punjab, and such officers as the Governments of Madras and Bombay shall appoint for those Presidencies respectively.

ORDER.—Ordered, that copy of the above Resolution, with the appended rules and notifications, be forwarded to the Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

No. 3559.—In exercise of the power conferred by Section 6 of Act VI of 1873, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to prohibit the transshipment of cannon and fire-arms and parts of fire-arms, and of gunpowder and other ammunition, at all ports to which the said Act extends or may hereafter be extended, except under license from the officer charged to grant license of import into British India.

No. 3560.—Under the authority vested in him by Section 22 of Act XXXI of 1860, the Governor-General in Council is pleased, in supersession of all previous orders on the subject, to prohibit the transport of fire-arms, and parts of fire-arms and of gunpowder and other ammunition or military stores as described in Section 22 of the Act above cited, from any place in British India within the jurisdiction of one Local Government or Administration to any place in British India within the jurisdiction of another Local Government or Administration, except under the following rules and conditions.

2. Any person desirous of transporting any of the above-mentioned articles [except in reasonable quantities for his own private use] from any of the sea-port towns or frontier stations into which arms can be imported under license into the interior of British India beyond the territorial jurisdiction of the Local Government or Administration within the limits of which such sea-port or station is situated, must apply for a pass to the officer empowered by the Government of India to grant licenses under Section 17 of Act XXXI of 1860 for import to the sea-port or station.

3. When a person is desirous of transporting any such articles from any place in British India other than the sea-ports or stations referred to in the last preceding rule to any place in British India within the territories of another Local Government or Administration, he must apply for a pass to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department, or to the Secretary to the Local Government of the territory out of which he desires to convey the articles, or to such other officer as the Government of India may have authorized by notification to grant such a pass.

4. The application must in either case be in writing; it must specify the town, station, or other place into which the articles are intended to be transported, and must contain full information as to the quantity, quality, and description of the articles and the purpose for which they are respectively designed. Where the articles have been imported from abroad, the license under which they have been imported must be appended.

5. It will be within the discretion of the authorized officer to grant the pass if from the information thus given and otherwise obtained he considers that such pass may be safely granted. A register shall be kept of all passes so granted, and a copy of each pass shall be sent to the Magistrate of the district within which the place to which the articles are to be transported is situated.

6. The articles covered by such pass shall be taken direct to the place of destination mentioned in the pass without being sold or made use of at any intermediate place.

7. On the articles reaching their destination, the person in charge thereof must deliver the pass to the office of the Magistrate of the district within six days. It will be the duty of that officer to satisfy himself that the articles transported correspond with the entries in the pass, and to see that any deficiency that may exist is satisfactorily accounted for. The pass shall then be endorsed and returned to the holder if he may lawfully keep in his possession the articles of which it covers the transport.

NOTIFICATION.

The 25th November 1873.—In supersession of the Notification of the 25th October 1873, published at page 1249 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 12th November 1873, the following revised Notification is published :—

COMMISSIONERS FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

THE Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta hereby give notice, with the approval of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, that the following scale of charges will be levied on certain classes of goods landed or shipped at the Jetties on and after this date, in supersession of the scale of landing charges published in the Gazette of the 9th and 16th October 1872, item No. 21, and in supersession of the scale of shipping charges published in the Gazette of 13th September 1871, items Nos. 51, 52, and 111 :—

SCHEDULE OF LANDING CHARGES AT THE JETTIES.

Revised scale of charges and rent to be paid by Owners, Importers, or Consignees, in respect of the undermentioned goods landed at the Jetties, and for their removal when not cleared within forty-eight hours.

	Landing charges at the jetties.	For removal of goods not claimed within 48 hours to the Custom House or import warehouse.	Rent per month to be charged at the import warehouse, at wharf, and at jetty sheds, on all goods not claimed within 48 hours.
21. Bottles, empty; per dozen	0 0 6	0 0 3	0 3 0.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March, 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1874, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 45,000 chests of Chests.

Behar	...	26,244

Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing the date of payment, or by selling it at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article, there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christain Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so supplied for provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christain Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."—By order of the Member in charge.

Admission of Stock other than for competition.—By special permission of the Managing Committee, persons desirous of exhibiting horse stock (not intended to compete for prizes) will be permitted to do so on a payment of Rs. 16 per head, provided stabling can be found for them.

4. Intending Exhibitors must apply for stalls by post in an envelope addressed—

“ TO THE JOINT SECRETARIES,

Calcutta Horse Show, 1874.”

so as to be received by them not later than the 15th December 1873. On receipt of such applications printed forms will be furnished to the Owners or Exhibitors, to be filled in by them and returned at once to the Joint Secretaries, who will then allot stalls or boxes for the horses described.

5. Superintendent.—A Superintendent and four European Assistants will be appointed by the Managing Committee to undertake the stable management of the Show-yard. It will be his duty to point out the stalls allotted to the Exhibitors, and to see that all orders issued by the Committee are thoroughly and promptly carried out.

6. Date of receipt of Horses.—Horses sent for exhibition will be received by a Veterinary Surgeon and the Superintendent of the Horse Show on Wednesday, the 7th of January, 1874, any time before noon of that day.

7. Health Certificate.—A health certificate, signed by a Veterinary Surgeon, must accompany every horse when first brought to the Horse Show lines. The Veterinary Surgeon attending on the part of Government will also inspect each horse before being finally admitted.

8. Grooms.—Exhibitors are required to engage a reliable groom (syce) for each horse, and it is expected that either the attendant or a substitute will remain night and day at his post.

9. Attention to Regulations.—All attendants must conform to the rules and regulations issued by the Managing Committee; copies will be furnished to the Exhibitors, and will also be posted on the walls of the stables.

10. Complaints.—Complaints may be lodged at any time at the office of the Superintendent, either verbally or in writing, in a book to be kept for the purpose.

11. Complaint Book.—Persons able to read and write will have to enter their complaints in the book; minor complaints will be settled by the Superintendent on the spot; those of a more serious nature will be treated by the Managing Committee.

12. Illness of Horses.—In case of illness of any horse the Owner or Exhibitor must provide medical attendance.

13. All the horses will be daily inspected by a Veterinary Surgeon.

14. All possible care will be taken of horses exhibited, but the Superintendent cannot be held responsible for any injury or accident which may occur.

15. Forage and Grain.—Forage, grain, and water for the stock will be provided by the Exhibitors.

16. Smoking prohibited.—Smoking is strictly prohibited in the stables; particular attention is requested to this rule, which is considered imperatively necessary for the safety of the cattle.

17. Stabling.—A loose stall or box will be provided for each animal so exhibited.

18. Location of Mares.—Every lot of six mares will be stabled close to each other.

19. Inspection by Judges.—The Judges will inspect and examine horses entered for prize competition on Thursday 8th, Friday 9th, and Saturday 10th, of January 1874.

20. Exclusion of Visitors during inspection by Judges.—Under no circumstances will any person be permitted to be within the precincts of the premises at the time of inspection, except grooms (syces) who will be appointed by the Judges to bring up each horse for examination.

21. Owners and Exhibitors similarly excluded.—Owners and Exhibitors are debarred from the privilege of being present as much as the public generally.

22. Horses how to be inspected.—The horses will be brought up without clothing, so that they may not be recognized by any initials or distinctive marks.

23. Judges how guided in arriving at decision.—Exhibitors are informed that Judges in arriving at their decision will be guided by the following points:—

1st.—That under the terms of Military Department Government Notification of the 4th of February last, no prize will be given unless the horses exhibited come up to a high standard of excellence. Importers and competitors are informed that the Judges will be considerably guided by good measurement of girth and leg and blood, combined with power; animals wanting in such essential points will have no chance of obtaining a prize.

2nd.—The horses will be judged as to their merits under the several heads of:—

- A. Soundness.
- B. Blood and power.
- C. General conformation.
- D. Action.
- E. Condition.

The maximum number of marks being 100.

3rd.—“The best horse” must be perfectly sound, but any serious blemish, the result of accident, will be weighed by the Judges.

4th.—Each mare of every lot must be sound for all working and brood purposes.

5th.—If any mis-information is furnished by an Exhibitor in respect of the animals owned or exhibited by him, the whole of his stock will be disqualified for prizes, and will be at once removed from the Show premises. Admission to the Show will be refused to any person coming within the terms of this rule.

6th.—The decision of Judges to be final.

24. Judges' Report.—The Judges' report of their inspection will be prepared and printed by Saturday evening, the 10th of January 1874, but will be confidential until read to His Excellency the Viceroy on the formal opening of the Show.

25. Necessity of Exhibitors' servants attending to Rules.—Particular attention must be given by all Exhibitors to the necessity of their servants carrying out all the rules which may be laid down for efficient sanitary arrangements.

26. Fire Engine.—A fire engine, and a party to work it, will be on the premises during the Exhibition.

27. Police arrangements.—The Commissioner of Police will arrange with the Managing Committee (Judges) for such number of Police as may be requisite for the protection of property and the preservation of order.

28. Lights other than those supplied by Committee prohibited.—Stable lanterns will be provided by the Committee and placed under the orders of the Superintendent. Other lights or lanterns or fire of any kind will not be permitted within the stabling.

29. Removal of horses if attacked with disease.—The Managing Committee are empowered, if they deem it necessary, to direct the removal of a horse attacked with any contagious disease.

30. Removal of horses when prohibited.—No horse brought for exhibition, even in the event of its having been sold, will be allowed to be removed until the Exhibition is closed.

31. Final removal from Show.—Horses must be removed the day following the closing of the Exhibition.

32. Objections.—Any objection to horses exhibited must be made and proved to the satisfaction of the Stewards the day before the prizes are awarded.

33. Objection made after award of prize.—Objections made after the award of prizes will not be attended to during the present Show, but will be recorded against future exhibition of the horses objected to.

34. Onus of proving objection.—The onus of proving an objection will be wholly and entirely on the person making it. All objections must be made in writing.

By Order of the Committee,

1st December 1873.

M. J. TURNBULL, Colonel, } Joint Secretaries.
J. A. CRAWFORD,

Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.] NOTIFICATION.

The following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, and was referred to a Select Committee for consideration and report.

L. A. GOODEVE,
Offg. Asst. Secy to Govt. of Bengal.
Judicial and Legislative Depts.

A Bill to amend Act XXI of 1856 of the Council of the Governor-General, and Act II of 1866 of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

WHEREAS by Section 90 of Act XXI of 1856 of the Governor-General in Council (An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Abkari revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) the word "Magistrate" as used in that Act is defined to include a Joint-Magistrate or other person lawfully exercising the powers of a Magistrate, and any Assistant or Deputy Magistrate with special powers stationed at a place other than the sudder station of the Magistrate, and empowered to try cases without reference from the Magistrate; and whereas the cases mentioned in different sections of Act II of 1866 of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council can, under Section 49 of that Act, only be tried by a Magistrate of less than full powers, when they are referred to him by the District Magistrate; and whereas further by Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure) new rules have been enacted assigning and regulating the powers of Magistrates of the first, second, and third classes;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Section 90 of Act XXI of 1856 of the Governor-General in Council so far as it defines the meaning of the word "Magistrate," and Section 49, Act II of 1866, of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, are hereby repealed.

2. In the said Act XXI of 1856, and in all Acts which are to be read as part of that Act, and also in the said Act II of 1866, the word "Magistrate" shall be deemed to include Magistrates of the first class and Magistrates of the second class, as defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure, and subject to the provisions of that Code in respect of powers and jurisdiction.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

As the law now stands, no Magistrate who does not exercise first-class powers can try even the pettiest cases of breach of the Abkari laws, such as smuggling, illicit sale of spirits, or infraction of conditions of license, unless he be stationed at a place other than the sudder station of the Magistrate, and empowered to try cases without reference from the Magistrate.

At the present time when officers exercising first-class powers are much occupied with more important district work, the restriction has been found particularly inconvenient; and the object of this Bill is to enable any Magistrate having first or second-class powers to dispose of such cases. Subordinate Magistrates will still only be able to take up cases of this description which are specially made over to them for trial, unless they are authorized to receive complaints generally, or complaints of this particular class, or when they are duly empowered to act without complaint.

The opportunity is taken for the same reasons to remove the restrictions which Section 49, Act II of 1866 (B.C.) imposes as to the classes of Magistrates who may try offences under that Act, and to assimilate the powers of each class in respect to such offences to those which they exercise, or with which they may be specially invested, with regard to offences in general under the Code of Criminal Procedure.

The 29th November 1873.

L. A. GOODEVE,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to Govt. of Bengal,
Judicial and Legislative Depts.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon in a month.

A Bill to provide for the Voluntary Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows:—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta, of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married, or divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made prima facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

Acts of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 24th November 1873, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVII OF 1873.

An Act to provide for the liquidation of the debts of the Nawáb Názim of Bengal, and for his protection against legal process.

Whereas divers large pecuniary claims have been made against Sayyid Mansur Ali, the present Nawáb Názim of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, commonly called the Nawáb Názim, which he has not the means of satisfying, and for the purpose of recovering such claims divers suits have been brought against him, and divers attachments have been issued against his property in India :

Preamble.

And whereas, with respect to certain jewels and immoveable property, it is disputed whether they belong absolutely to the said Nawáb Názim or are held by the Government of India for the purpose of upholding the dignity of the Nawáb Názim for the time being, and litigation has consequently arisen between the creditors of the present Nawáb Názim and the Government of India :

And whereas the Government of India is desirous of freeing the said Nawáb Názim and his property respectively from such suits and attachments, and of discharging such portions of the said claims as are proper to be paid : and of settling the said dispute as to the said jewels and immoveable property :

And whereas in the meantime and for the future, it is expedient to exempt the said Nawáb Názim, except as hereinafter mentioned, from the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts, and to render him incapable of contracting further pecuniary obligations ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act may be called “The Nawáb Nazim’s Debts Act, 1873 :”

Short title.

It extends to all persons and places for whom and for which the Governor-General in Council has power to make laws ;

Local extent.

And it shall come into force at once.

Commencement.

2. The Governor-General in Council may, from time to time, nominate and appoint such persons as he thinks fit to be a Commission for the purposes hereinafter mentioned.

All persons so nominated and appointed (hereinafter called “the Commissioners”) shall continue to be members of the said Commission during the pleasure of the Governor-General in Council, and shall hold their sittings at such place or places and time or times as they think fit.

3. The Commissioners shall publish thrice in the Gazette of India in English, and in the Calcutta Gazette in English, Urdu, and Bengálí, and in such other mode and languages as they think fit, a notice calling upon all persons having claims against the said Nawáb Nazim or his property, whether moveable or immoveable, to notify the same in writing to the Commissioners within six months from the date of the earliest of such publications.

4. Every debt or liability to which the said Nawáb Názim is subject, or with which his property, or any part thereof, is charged, and which is not duly notified to the Commissioners within the time and in the manner hereinbefore mentioned, shall be barred :

Bar of debts not duly notified.

Provided that, on sufficient cause being shown to the Commissioners, they may admit such claim within the further period of six months from the expiration of the said period of six months.

Proviso.

5. Every such claimant shall along with his claim present full particulars thereof.

Particulars of claim.

Every document on which he founds his claims, or on which he relies in support thereof, shall be delivered to the Commissioners along with the claim.

If the document be an entry in any book, the claimant shall produce the book to the Commissioners, together with a copy of the entry on which he relies. The Commissioners shall mark the book for the purpose of identification, and after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall return the book to the claimant.

If any document in the possession or under the control of the claimant is not delivered or produced by him to the Commissioners along with the claim, the Commissioners may refuse to receive such document in evidence on the claimant's behalf at the investigation of the case.

The Commissioners may from time to time, call for further and more detailed particulars of any claim preferred before them under this Act, and may, at their discretion, refuse to proceed with the investigation of the claim until such particulars are supplied.

6. For the purposes of this Act, the Commissioners may summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel them to give evidence, and compel the production of documents by the same means, and, as far as possible, in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure.

7. Every investigation conducted by the Commissioners, with reference to any claim preferred before them under this Act, or to any matter connected with any such claim, shall be deemed a judicial proceeding within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

And every statement made by any person examined by or before the Commissioners with reference to such investigation, whether upon oath or otherwise, shall be deemed to be evidence within the meaning of the same Code.

8. Every witness required by the Commissioners, except at the instance of a claimant, to attend and give evidence under the provisions of this Act, shall be entitled to a reasonable sum (to be allowed by the Commissioners) for his expenses in travelling to and from, and remaining at, the place at which he is required to attend.

9. The Commissioners shall, by agreement with the claimant, or, in default of such agreement, after due and full enquiry, determine the amount which, on the consideration of all the circumstances, they may consider each claimant ought in fairness and justice to receive. And in coming to such determination, they shall not be bound by any previous agreement or judicial proceeding.

10. The Commissioners shall certify in each case the amount so determined, and upon the Governor-General in Council, within six months from the date of the certificate, paying or tendering to any claimant the amount so certified, all claims of such claimant against the Nawáb Názim or his property shall be satisfied and extinguished.

11. No suit shall be commenced or prosecuted, and no writ or process shall at any time be sued for, against the person or property of the said Nawáb Názim, unless such suit be commenced, or such writ or process be sued for, with the consent of the Governor-General in Council first had and obtained.

Such consent shall be certified by the signature of one of the Secretaries to the Government of India, and every such signature shall be judicially noticed.

And any suit which at any time shall have been, or shall be, commenced, and any writ or process which at any time shall have been, or shall be, sued for, against the person or property of the said Nawáb Názim shall be of no effect unless and until the consent of the Governor-General in Council, certified in manner aforesaid, is obtained.

12. The Commissioners shall ascertain what jewels and immoveable property are held by the Government of India for the purpose of upholding the dignity of the Nawáb Názim for the time being, and shall certify the particulars of such jewels and property; and their finding thereon shall be binding and conclusive on all persons whomsoever.

13. If any question of law, or as to the construction of a document, arises in any case under this Act, and the Commissioners think it necessary for the purposes of fairness and justice to obtain a judicial opinion thereon, they may draw up a statement of the case and refer it for the decision of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William; and the provisions of sections twenty-four and twenty-five and of the first sentence of section twenty-six of Act No. XI of 1865 shall apply as if, in section twenty-six, for the word "Court," the word "Commissioners" were substituted.

And if, in the opinion of the High Court, the statement is imperfectly framed, the High Court may return it for amendment; and the costs (if any) consequent on any such reference shall be dealt with as the Commissioners shall in each case direct.

14. The said Nawáb Názim shall be incapable of entering into any contract which may give rise to any pecuniary obligation on his part.

15. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to render the Secretary of State for India in Council, or the Government of India, liable for any debt heretofore contracted by, or on behalf of, the said Nawáb Názim, or in respect of any claim to be reimbursed, which may be made by any person supplying him with necessaries.

16. No suit or other proceeding shall be maintained against any person in respect of anything done by him in good faith under this Act.

POWERS OF MAGISTRATES.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved for leave to bring in a Bill to amend Act XXI of 1856 of the Council of the Governor-General and Act II of 1866 of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. He said this Bill had been published by the order of His Honor the President, according to the rule of the Council in that behalf, in anticipation of the Council's permission to introduce it. It was merely a technical Bill. As the thing stood, the Abkari Laws and the Suburbs of Calcutta Law, Act II of 1866 of this Council, restrict the powers of Magistrate in a certain way as regards offences under those special laws. He had nothing more to explain in regard to this Bill than what had been expressed in the Statement of objects and reasons. The object was to assimilate the trial of these offences as regards the tribunals before which they should be tried with the general scheme of the Criminal Procedure Code.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. DAMPIER applied to the President to suspend the Rules for the conduct of business to enable him to move that the Bill be read in Council.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said it was doubtful whether it was necessary to suspend the Rules in regard to this Bill. The principle of the Rules seemed to be, ordinarily, that a Bill should not be read in Council unless it had been for three days in the hands of the members. Under the authority vested in the President, this Bill had been published in the Gazette, and it had been in the hands of the members for more than three days. In order, however, to obviate any doubt as to whether there had been a sufficient compliance with the Rules, and in order to relieve the District Officers from work of the nature to which this Bill referred as soon as possible, he would suspend the Rules.

The Hon'ble MR. DAMPIER then moved that the Bill be read in Council.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Advocate-General and himself: this being a merely technical Bill, he would not trouble other Hon'ble Members to sit in committee.

The motion was agreed to.

MAHOMEDAN MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE REGISTRATION.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved for leave to bring in a Bill to provide for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces. He said this Bill, like the last one, had been published by special order of His Honor the President, and it had been in the hands of members for more than three days. Hon'ble Members were aware that we found in this country, as an established institution, certain Mahomedan functionaries known as Cazees. They were recognised by our law, Regulation XXXIX of 1793, which recited:—

“Cazees are stationed at the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorsshedabad, and the principal towns, and in the pergunnahs, for the purpose of preparing and attesting deeds of transfers and other law papers, celebrating marriages, and performing such religious duties or ceremonies prescribed by the Mahomedan law as have been hitherto discharged by them under the British Government, and also for superintending the sale of distrained property and paying charitable and other pensions and allowances, under Regulations XVII and XXIV, 1793. The nature of the above-mentioned duties renders it necessary that persons of character, and duly qualified with respect to legal knowledge, should be appointed to these offices; and to encourage them to discharge their trusts with diligence and fidelity, they should not be liable to removal unless proved to be incapable or guilty of misconduct to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council.”

And then the law provided that the Governor-General in Council should make the appointment, and that the cazees should not be removable except under his sanction. It was also provided by Section 7 that—

“The head cazeer and the cazees stationed in the cities, pergunnahs, and towns, are to keep copies of all deeds and law or other papers which they may draw up or attest, and are to affix thereto their seals and signatures. They are likewise to keep a list of all such papers; and in the event of their death, resignation, or removal, the list and papers are to be delivered complete to their successors.”

Things remained pretty well in this state until the year 1859, when a discussion began which led to the passing of Act XI of 1864, which abolished the office of cazeer by a stroke of the pen as being unnecessary. In 1859, in the course of that discussion, Sir John Peter Grant, whilst recommending the repeal of the regulation, suggested that the repealing Act should constitute the office of cazeer on a proper footing as that of a Mahomedan marriage registrar. It was pointed out that there was nothing of the nature of a religious ceremony in a Mahomedan marriage, and it was observed that as Mahomedans have by law the power of marrying by civil contract, and an office, which must be held by a Mahomedan, had been created for the legal record of their marriages, it would not be a just or decorous act substantially to abolish that office.

That advice was not adopted; and no trace appeared of it in Act XI of 1864 which abolished the office of cazeer. In recent years the want which was anticipated by Sir John Grant had begun to be realized in practice. The question had been judicially tried, and it had been settled that there could be no legal cazeer according to the Mahomedan law, unless the officer were appointed by the Sultan or ruling power. Therefore the effect of the passing of the law of 1864 was practically to do away with the Mahomedan functionary altogether. No person could be appointed by the Mahomedan community whose appointment would be valid under the Mahomedan law. Some two years ago it was noticed that offences against marriages were increasing amongst the Mahomedans, especially those of the lower classes. Many charges were preferred, but as a general rule the complainants failed to obtain redress from the courts. On analysing the causes it was found that one great moving cause was the want of any functionary to take the place of the old cazeer as regards Mahomedan marriages. No recognised authority acceptable to the community concerned was competent authoritatively to attest marriages and similar contracts. Since the abolition of cazeers marriages were performed in the presence of casual witnesses only; and the proof of the marriage depended on the evidence of such witnesses only. Therefore when these cases were brought and the court insisted, as our courts must do, on legal proof of the marriage, none was forthcoming which satisfied it. The testimony of the witnesses was either not forthcoming or was met by counter evidence which threw doubt on it.

So again with regard to divorces. Sometimes when a marriage happened to be proved, it was met by the plea that the wife had been repudiated according to the forms which the Mahomedan law required. Here again a question of fact arose in regard to which it was often impossible to satisfy the courts.

The object of the Bill was not in any way to interfere with the existing customs, ceremonies, and injunctions of the Mahomedan law and Mahomedan society, but was merely to give those who wished it a safeguard against those questions of the fact of the marriage or divorce being raised in issue,—to give them in fact a popular means of registering the evidence of such acts, which evidence should be accepted by the courts prima facie as authoritative. There was to be no compulsion; and even in the matter of fees the Bill did not attempt to interfere between these Mahomedan registrars and those who voluntarily went to them to register the fact of particular marriages and divorces taking place. The opinions of the law officers and other gentlemen who had been consulted were nearly unanimous that such an opportunity of voluntarily registering marriages and divorces should be given. MR. DAMPIER hoped the Council would allow him to introduce the Bill.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said before he put the question he wished to say one or two words. The object of the Bill, and the reasons which induced the Government to devise such a Bill, had been very clearly stated by the Hon'ble Member. He might say that this was a humble attempt to deal with a great and difficult subject. The difficulty was one which had been felt for many years past. It was one with which he had had occasion to deal in several capacities, and he had for many years had much doubt as regards the solution to which it would be possible to arrive. This Bill was the outcome of a good deal of consideration on the subject. His own feeling had been that it was a doubtful question whether it was or was not advisable to abolish the old cazeers; but he had felt and expressed the opinion that once they were abolished it would be impossible to the British Government to restore them in their old form. If we attempted to restore the cazeers, we would be attempting to restore a Mahomedan officer whose office had many peculiarities and many incidents connected with the Mahomedan law and the Mahomedan religion.

The British Government would have great difficulty in establishing such officers. His Honor also felt this additional difficulty that in the Mahomedan religion, as in most other religions, there were various sects, and if we attempted to set up cazees we should be beset with the difficulty from which sect were we to choose, or whether we were to choose cazees from amongst all the sects. That being so, and the question of the re-establishment of cazees being involved in great difficulty, his feeling, and that of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, had been to confine themselves to the one practical and immediate want before them—to provide a means of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces. The Mahomedan law seemed clear on this point, that the celebration of these most important social contracts and de-contracts must be conducted by officers appointed by the ruling power; it was not essential that he must be a cazee. The best solution therefore would be to meet in practice the want that had arisen by appointing officers on the part of the ruling power who were authorized to perform these acts. His Honor at one time thought that if the ordinary registrars of deeds were authorized to register Mahomedan marriages and divorces it would meet the requirements of the Mahomedan community. But to that course it was found that there were objections. The men most fit and most acceptable to the Mahomedans would be the men whom they themselves would choose to register these contracts; and we now believed that it would be more acceptable to the Mahomedans that they should have special registrars for the purpose. In that view we had devised as an expedient this Bill, which went no further than to appoint a marriage registrar to whom the parties might apply. We had not touched the substantive law. The registrars would only register the contract, and leave it to the ordinary law to decide what validity those contracts had. We had taken for our guide the Christian Marriage Act. Amongst Christians there were several sects, and the policy of that law had been to enable any minister of any sect to celebrate marriages. We had adopted the same essentials as regards Mahomedan marriages. We had said that Mahomedans might have their own registrars who should perform the marriage ceremonies and register the contracts. All we proposed was that those who had hitherto performed these offices, and who were respectable and versed in the Mahomedan law, should receive licenses to ply that trade, and ply it so far as their co-religionists saw fit to employ them for that purpose.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. DAMPIER applied to the President to suspend the Rules for the conduct of business to enable him to move that the Bill be read in Council.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said this was not a Bill which the Government wished to hurry; but as the Bill had been for some days in the hands of members, it would be a mere useless ceremony to postpone the motion that the Bill be read in Council to another day, and on that account he would suspend the Rules so far as was necessary to proceed with the Bill to the next stage.

The Hon'ble Mr. DAMPIER then moved that the Bill be read in Council.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. DAMPIER moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Moulvie Abdul Luteef, the representative of the Mahomedan community in this Council, the Hon'ble the Advocate-General, and the Mover, with instructions to report in a month. This Bill had been prepared, under the instructions of His Honor the President, in the Executive Department of the Government, and was handed over to Mr. Dampier in that stage. He might mention that it appeared to him that it would be necessary to make considerable alterations in it in committee.

The motion was agreed to.

EMBANKMENTS AND WATER-COURSES.

THE HON'BLE Mr. SCHALCH moved that the Bill to amend the law relating to embankments and water-courses be further considered in order to the settlement of its clauses. He said it would be in the recollection of the Council that this Bill was taken into consideration a short time back and its final clauses settled on the 13th of September last. It was then ordered to be printed and published in order to give parties interested a final opportunity of submitting any representations they might wish to make. No representations had since been received; but he had taken advantage of the interval carefully to go through the provisions of the Bill, and the result of that scrutiny had been that he had to move four amendments which he would do seriatim.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. SCHALCH said the first of the amendments which he had to move referred to Section 4, Clause 5. The object of the clause was, where it was found after a road had been constructed that the drainage of the country was impeded, to give power to alter that road and make a water-course for the proper drainage of the surrounding lands. By the clause as it stood the expense of so doing was thrown entirely on the road, whether the impeding of the drainage was caused by insufficient provision being made at the time of the construction of the road for the natural drainage then existing, or whether the impediment to the drainage resulted from causes arising subsequently to the construction of the road.

It seemed fair that if the road when constructed did afford proper means of drainage, the expense should not fall on the road, but on those who would benefit by the alteration required by the contingency which had afterwards arisen. He therefore proposed to throw the cost upon the road only where it was proved that at the time of the construction of the road sufficient provision for drainage had not been made, and in all other cases to levy the cost rateably under the general provisions of the Bill amongst those who would benefit by the alteration. With this view he moved to add to Clause 5 of Section 4 the following words:—

“So far as the same shall have been incurred on account of insufficient provision having been made at the time of the construction of the said road for the natural drainage then existing.”

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. SCHALCH said the second amendment he had to propose was in Section 5. It was there prescribed that a copy should be prepared of the survey map showing the boundaries of the estates to be affected by the work proposed. The survey maps were made, not by estates which very often comprised a large area with scattered villages, but by mouzahs, and it would not be possible to give a survey map of the estates to be affected. He would therefore move that the words “of the villages” be inserted after the word “boundaries” in line 7 of Section 5.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Schalch a similar amendment was made in paragraph 2 of Schedule A.

In Section 19, relating to railroads, an amendment similar to that carried out in Section 4, Clause 5, was made on the motion of Mr. Schalch.

The Hon'ble Mr. SCHALCH said the last amendment he had to propose was in Section 31. By that section no claim to compensation could be entertained which was made later than one year next after the completion of the work by which any right was injuriously affected. It was thought that as this was an ultimate proceeding, and there was no appeal to the Civil Court, and it might not be easily ascertainable within one year after the execution of a work what rights were injuriously affected, it would be better to allow a longer period for the preferring of such claims. It was therefore proposed to extend the period allowed from one year to two years; and he accordingly moved that the word “two” be substituted for “one” in line 2 of Section 31.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. SCHALCH then moved that the Bill be passed. As he had already stated, the Bill since its last amendment had now been before the public more than two months. No representations had been made during that time, and the alterations which had just been proposed and made were not of any great importance. It would therefore be quite within the Rules if the Bill were now passed without further delay.

The motion was agreed to.

EMIGRATION TO THE LABOR DISTRICTS.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said the Council had now concluded the business for that day, but before adjourning to next Saturday, he would intimate that, having in pursuance of his promise consulted the Government of India in regard to the circumstances which might affect our course with respect to the Labor Districts Emigration Bill, the Government of India had informed him that there was a probability that the proposal for separating Assam from Bengal might soon be carried out if Her Majesty's Government should think fit to approve of the proposal. The Government of India further went on to say that "as regards the Labor Districts Emigration Bill the Government of India think it desirable, after the careful consideration that has been given in the Legislative Council of Bengal to the Bill, that it should be passed in that Council and not transferred to the Government of India."

That being the opinion expressed by the Government of India, and it being not improbable that within a short period Assam and the other adjoining districts might be separated from Bengal, His Honor thought the Council were bound to proceed with the Bill as fast as they safely could. Very great difficulty would arise if those districts were separated from Bengal before the Bill was passed. He therefore proposed to bring on the Bill again for consideration at the next meeting.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 6th December next.

SCARCITY AND RELIEF.

In publishing the subjoined correspondence which has passed between the Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division and Rai Luchmeeput Singh, Bahadoor, holding zemindaree estates in the districts of Rungpor and Dinagore, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank this gentleman for the humane course he is taking to relieve the distress of his tenantry, and trusts that his example will be followed by the class he represents in all the districts afflicted by the drought. His Honor would remind these gentlemen of the obligations they are under to show consideration for their ryots at such a period, and that by seizing the opportunity of showing sympathy and good will towards them, they may do more to re-establish friendly relations with their tenantry, where those relations have unhappily been interrupted, than any act whatever of the Government or the Legislature could do for them.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. BERNARD,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 394, dated Berhampore, the 24th November 1873.

From—E. W. MOLONY, Esq., Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Statistical Department.

I HAVE the honor to forward, for His Honor's information, a copy of a letter from Rai Luchmeeput Singh, Bahadoor, and of my reply, and to state that I consider the Baboo's intentions well worthy the commendation of Government.

Dated Baloochur, the 16th November 1873.

From—RAI LUCHMEEPUT SINGH, BAHADOOR,
To—E. W. MOLONY, Esq., Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

I HAVE the honor to bring to your notice the measures that I have decided to adopt with a view to mitigate, if not to remove, the evils of the impending famine likely to affect the people of my zemindaries situated in the districts of Rungpore and Dinagore.

2. I have instructed my people to ascertain the stock of rice and food-grain, and to render me a rough census of the people of that part of the country, in order to test the capabilities of the local markets for meeting the requirements of the people for a given period, viz., until the reaping of the first crop of the next year.

3. The reports when furnished shall enable me to complete the details of the arrangements I have contemplated to make; but that the stock will fall short of the local consumption for the period referred to is a certainty, and as provision at this exigency I intend to import and keep a sufficient stock of rice at hand to be freely supplied to the people when necessity comes, at the average price which they have been paying for food-grain at that time of the year for the past five years.

4. This arrangement has reference to the ryots and people directly under me as their zemindar in contradistinction to those under my putneedars and durputneedars, in whose matters of arrangement and management of the properties I have no control whatever. But I shall, at the same time, be glad to contribute to the relief of the general distress of the country should it come up to the worst anticipations now held.

5. I beg further to inform you that at the places where the people have already begun to feel distress from the total failure of the crops, as Lat Hekundery in Dinagpore, I have, in addition to the remission of the whole year's rents already granted, ordered advance of money to the poorer class to provide themselves and families against the consequences of the impending famine. Such advances bear no interest whatever, and are repayable when the people are in a position to do so.

6. In submitting these measures already taken, and the one I have decided to adopt, to your superior judgment for approval, I have to solicit the favor of your kindly making suggestion or notification you think proper in reference to this famine matter, which shall be promptly and readily responded to by me.

No. 203, dated Berhampore, the 24th November 1873.

From—E. W. MOLONY, Esq., Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division, To—RAI LUCHMEPUT SINGH, BAHADOOR.

I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 16th instant, stating the measures which you intend to adopt to meet the expected calamity of scarcity which threatens your tenants.

2. I congratulate you on the very liberal measures you propose to adopt, which seem sufficient, and would only suggest that possibly, as occasion demands, you may be able to open works for those who have no money to buy, and who would prefer to labor than take the advances.

3. Such work as would provide a good supply of water, as would result in improving the land by drainage or clearance of jungle, would be a real and lasting benefit to your estate.

4. I shall not fail to inform the Government of your intentions, and I shall be glad if you would furnish me with a list of your properties in this division in which distress is likely to occur, in order that I may inform the Magistrates of your plans.

Rainfall, Weather and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 29th November 1878.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BUDDWAN DIVISION.	1 Burdwan, 2nd* Dec. 1878	Nil	Cloudy, but no rain. Were rain to fall now, it would do more harm than good to the late rice crops. Nowan rice has been cut and has lowered the price of common rice in some places. Export of limited quantities to Behar continues. Fever prevalent.
	2 Bancoorah, 29th Nov. "	Nil	Cloudy. The sowings of the cold weather crops are nearly completed, but the extent of cultivation is very small. The reaping of the rice crop continues. There has been some exportation of rice to Raneegunge, but prices have not risen here.
	3 Boerbhoom, 29th " "	Nil	Dry and clear during the first half of the week, cloudy in the latter half. Harvest of late rice progressing; yield of this crop, which is somewhat over two-thirds of the whole, estimated to be about six annas, giving with the ten-anna yield of the early crop a total on the two crops of about eight annas or about 3,500,000 maunds of cleaned rice, only sufficient with economy for home consumption. Export by rail for week ending 22nd November close on 14,800 maunds, chiefly to the Bhagulpore and Patna Divisions. Prices show an upward tendency.
	4 Midnapore, 29th " "	A few drops of rain fell on each of the last three days.	Seasonable, cloudy, and cold. No change needing comment has occurred since last report, except that there has been a slight rise in the price of rice in the town, which is probably due to present cloudy weather, which to some extent affects the preparation and importation of rice in the markets.
	5 Hooghly, 29th " "	0.03	Clear and cloudy. Wind from north-west. Little rain fell on the night of the 28th November. Personal inquiry made by the Collector has shown the irrigation has preserved more of the crop than was thought possible, and he entertains hopes of an eight-anna crop. The slight showers may help the sowing of some cold weather crops, but it is almost too late now for this. The ear sown is, however, larger than previously reported by the police. The sugarcane crop not much below the average. The cloudy weather, if it continues, will injure the pulses and oil-seed.
PRESIDENCY DIVISION.	Howrah, 29th " "	Nil	The sky was cloudy on Thursday, some rain fell last night, more fell on Friday, and on Saturday it rained still more. The rain, though gentle and scanty, was general throughout the district, but too late to benefit the rice crops. It has moistened the ground pretty well, and it is hoped that it has sufficed to enable the people to sow some cold weather crops which could not otherwise have been grown. There is nothing whatever to add to the last report about the rice crops, their state and prospects continue unchanged; the crops at Ooloberriah and Amta are better than at first believed. The fever in Silpore is showing signs of abating, and that in Belgatchea is at least not worse.
	Central Districts.
	6 24-Pergunnahs, 2nd† Dec. 1878.	0.08	Cloudy, with a slight shower on Saturday, which has lowered the temperature. There has been no improvement since last report. While a good shower would have benefited the cold weather sowings, it would have injured the late rice, which is now being rapidly cut except on beel lands. From Satkhirah it is reported that the mustard is being injured by insects. Epidemic fever still prevails in parts of Baranpore and Basirhat. There is some fever in Baraset and the places adjacent. One case of small-pox reported at Satkhirah where fever is abating.
PRESIDENCY DIVISION.	7 Nudder, 29th Nov. 1878	Nil	Heavy clouds for the last three or four days. There was a little drizzling rain at 2 P.M. of the 29th instant, enough to lay the dust. The appearance of the sky is such that in an ordinary season rain would be confidently looked for. The late rice harvest has begun; no change has occurred in the prospect of the outturn. Not more than four annas is to be looked for. Arhur (pulse), teal (oil-seed), chillies, sugarcane, and date-sugar all promise fairly, but all other cold weather crops are miserably poor. In the event of a tolerable fall of rain, grain and other seeds might still be sown. Prices are rising but little. In most parts of the district coarse rice can be had for Rs. 2-8 per maund, and in some for less. The sub-divisional officer reports distress in the part of Meherpore west of Jellinghee, a tract which depends upon the late rice and cold weather crops. By "distress" it is supposed that apprehension is meant rather than actual suffering, since, even under the most favorable circumstances, no crop could have been reaped by this time. A road has been projected by the District Committee for the benefit of this part of the country, which will be taken in hand. The Collector's cold weather tour is so arranged that he hopes to see this tract in about a fortnight.
	8 Jessore, 29th " "	Nil	The last few days have been cloudy, and there have been a few drops of rain on the 29th November. The late rice crop is being reaped. The continued drought has not much affected the previous estimates of the outturn. Prices have made a very marked rise during the week. The price of goor (molasses), the produce of date tree, has risen owing to the commencement of manufacture. The peasantry at this season depend a good deal on this important industry. The prospects of the cold weather crops are generally much the same as last week. They would be much benefited by a gentle rainfall, of which the present hazy state of the atmosphere gives some, though not very certain, promise.

* Telegram of the 2nd December received on the same day. Shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGALE.—(Contd.)
Central Districts.—(Contd.)
9	Moorshedabad, 29th Nov. 1873.	Nil	Somewhat hotter in the day, but cooler at night; the sky was cloudy, with prospects of rain on the 29th November. No change for the better is observed, as there has been no rain during the week. The outturn of the late rice crop in the Jungipore sub-division is still expected to be seven annas; in the Ramporehaut sub-division, not more than a five-anna crop is expected. The cold weather crops are very backward in most places; in the Pulsa thannah no sowings have yet been made. Sugarcane and indigo are progressing favorably in the north. Prices are lowering this week owing partly to importation and partly to the introduction of the newly-cut rice into the markets.
10	Dinapore, 29th " "	Nil	Cloudy during the latter part of the week. Hymunty or winter paddy is being cut; the cold weather crops suffering for want of rain; sugarcane seems to promise a fair crop. The price of rice cheaper at Gungarampore since the relief works have been opened.
	Maldah, 29th " "	Nil	Sky overcast with clouds, but no rain; regular cold weather set in; wind northerly. There has been no rain and no improvement in the state of the crops. The last three or four days have been very cloudy, and there are still hopes of rain. The amun or late rice crop is being reaped; the yield will not be more than a four-anna crop; the hymunty winter crop will be cut in a few days; it is not expected to yield more than three or four-anna crop. The cold weather crops, especially pulses in the low lands, are still looking well, and if rain falls will give an average yield. A few boat-loads of paddy and rice arrive at intervals from the eastern districts. Prices are not quite so favorable this week as last, especially in the north-west of the district, notwithstanding the in-coming crop. Perhaps one-fourth of the cultivating classes have supplies enough to last them from two to six months, but the bulk of the people depend on the local supplies at local markets. Relief work going on on ordinary roads, and new works being projected. Health of the district good.
12	Rajshahye, 29th "		The sky has been overcast with every appearance of rain, but no rain has fallen, and there has been scarcely any dew. The early portion of the amun or late rice crop is being reaped. What little has been sowed in the lowest lands in the Bhurind has yielded from one to two annas. In Nattore the yield will be from six to eight annas. In Poota and the east of Beaulah, about six annas. In Bagmara and part of Singraha and Bhundaikhara, from six to eight annas. In parts of Barraignon the paddy is good, and from eight to twelve annas will, it is hoped, be harvested. In Charchat and Beelmara, from six to eight annas. Horo paddy is being sown for the low lands where there is water, and in some places the seedlings are about three inches high in the nurseries. The paddy just cut near Sahibrunge (a place where the Goor river runs out of the Attrai) has been sown at one rupee per kutchha maund. The mulberry crops are looking well; sugarcane is being cut, and is a very fair crop. Wheat and barley have germinated and look well as yet, but unless it rains they will be seriously damaged. A good deal of moosoor pulse—about three to four inches high: this was sown early; the latter sowings have more or less failed owing to the want of moisture. Mustard is a rather thin crop generally this year, but there are some coming up thick. It is now in flower. Urhur and kalai pulses, and teel—oil-seed—are looking well, but require rain to ensure a crop.
13	Rungpore, 29th " "	Nil	Cloudy, but no rain; weather cool. Cutting of rice has taken place to a small extent, but the produce is scanty, and much of the crop is cut only for the straw. Mustard, millet, and other crops look fair; potatoes have been planted in large quantities. The reports from all parts but the north are very bad, and some emigration has taken place from north-east to Goulparah. Rice is selling at prices from Rs. 3 to 5 a maund throughout the district, and distress is prevalent all to the south and east.
14	Bograh, 29th " "	Nil	The sky has been cloudy of late, but no rain has fallen. The cutting of the new rice has begun. Good has been done in parts by irrigation. No general improvement can be reported with regard to the late rice, but the failure is by no means a total one. In parts the crops are good.
15	Pubna, 29th " "	Nil	The weather is warm for the time of the year. Chiefly winds blow from the north-west. The last three days have been cloudy and the sunrise invisible. A few drops of rain fell on the morning of the 29th November. The low ground late rice is still being cut. There will not be less than an eight-anna crop—probably a full nine-anna crop. The winter crops are backward and much require rain.
16	Darjeeling, 29th " "	Nil	Still no rain and no signs of it. In the plains the people begin to fear that they will not get even a ten-anna crop. In the hills the young crops of wheat, barley, and buck wheat do not progress very favorably for want of rain, but as yet no serious loss is perceptible. Indian-corn has fallen in price during the week.
17	Julpigoree, " "	Return not received.
	Cooch Behar, 29th " "	Nil	Some clouds on the 27th and 28th November. The same as last week being exported to Rungpore.

RAJSHAHYE DIVISION.

COOCH BEHAR DIVN.

they can obtain from the Collector's Road Cess Office, at a very small charge for the mere cost of copying, paper, &c., an extract from their landlord's return (when such has been given in) of the rent noted opposite their names by the zemindar.

Part III.—Road Cess on mines, &c.

18. The cess will be levied but in few districts and in few instances but when necessary books must be kept generally following the form referred to in paragraph 5, and the chelans given in to the Towjee Department and the same rules followed as for the payment of the Land Road Cess.

Part IV —Road Cess on houses.

19. In paragraph 17 of the rules for the levy of the Road House Cess it was ruled that in villages where there are punchayets the collections must be made by them, but that in other cases the assessors, in the capacity of cess collectors, should receive the collections both from the payers and from the punchayets.

20. The great mass of collections will have to be made from villages where there are no punchayets, but before resorting to such an extensive machinery as salaried cess collectors, the plan adopted by the Collector of the only district in which the cess has for the past year been collected should be allowed a fair trial.

21. The plan is to send round a collecting peon with a list of 50 persons or so to go from village to village and bring in the money. As this plan is adopted for sums below one rupee, the amount which one peon is entrusted with is not enough to tempt him to embezzle. This plan seems preferable to the harsher method of distraint, not only because people merely neglect to pay from the smallness of the sum and do not deserve to be punished by distraint, but also because the sum in each case is so small that the cost of distraining would exceed the sum distrained for.

22. The collection of the cess in all the villages within which it has been imposed should be placed under the management of the sub-divisional officers within whose jurisdiction they are situate, and worked immediately under the canoongoes of their subordinate establishments lately organized.

23. The canoongo will perform the duties of the House Road Cess Collector as laid down in paragraphs 17, 20, 21, and 22 of the above Rules, a separate Road Cess Collector only being provided when found to be actually required and he should in every case be placed immediately under the sub-divisional canoongo, the latter being answerable for the entire management of the collections under the sub-divisional officer.

NOTICE.

PURCHASE OF RICE BY GOVERNMENT.

It has been decided by the Government that 950,000 maunds of Government grain shall be provided in this country before the 31st January next for distribution to relief works in the distressed districts of Bengal. Of this amount it is the wish of Government that 400,000 maunds in all should be obtained from Calcutta and the eastern districts. About 160,000 maunds of rice have already been bought by Government; the Commissioner of Dacca is trying to arrange for 100,000 maunds in the eastern districts; and there remain about 150,000 maunds still to be provided; up to this amount the Lieutenant-Governor invites tenders for the supply of ballam, moonghee, kajla, common ballam, or other kinds of Bengal clean rice of fair quality, sound and fit to keep. Each tender to be in the form below, and to be delivered to Mr. G. Toynbee, No. 39, Strand, with samples, not later than 3 P.M. on Wednesday, the 17th December. Notice of accepted tenders will be given in writing by Mr. Toynbee at the above address at noon on Saturday, the 20th December.

Other things being equal, those tenders will be preferred which agree to deliver the grain at the earliest date.

1871, shall be temporarily relaxed as regards loans for works to be executed within the following districts:—

All districts of the Patna and Bhaugulpore Divisions.	Rajshahye, Maldah, Moorshedabad, Burdwan, Hooghly,	Bancoorah, Beerbhoom, and the Jungle Mehals of Midnapore, Dinagepore, Rungpore, Bograh,

by the addition to it of the following clause:—

Provided that, whenever such a course appears desirable, the Local Government may at the same time that it orders the publication of the copy of the application as required above, conditionally authorize the loan and the commencement of the work, and advance so much of the loan as may be immediately necessary for such work.

But if for any reason the loan is finally disallowed after the publication of the notice, such loan shall not be paid, and any unexpended portion in the hands of the committee shall be refunded. Any portion actually expended shall be treated as a loan repayable under these rules.

NOTIFICATION.

RELAXATION OF LAND IMPROVEMENT ADVANCE RULES.

The 20th November 1873.—With a view to encouraging proprietors and occupants of land in the districts likely to be affected by the failure of the crops to apply for advances under Act XXVI of 1871, The Land Improvement Act, and to give employment to laborers on works undertaken out of such advances, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, under the authority conveyed in paragraph 17 of the Resolution by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, dated 7th November 1873, to make the following temporary relaxations in the rules which have been published under section 18 of the said Act, with the sanction of the Government of India, as published in the Gazette of the 9th July 1873.

These relaxations will have effect in the following districts only, viz:—

All the Districts of the Patna and Bhaugulpore Divisions.	Bograh, Rajshahye, Maldah, Moorshedabad, Burdwan,	Hooghly, Bancoorah, Beerbhoom, and the Jungle Mehals of Midnapore.
Dinagepore, Rungpore,

Rule 2.—Applications may be made on unstamped paper, and they may be presented to any Revenue Officer, but can be dealt with only by the Collector of the District, or by any Officer not being below the rank of a Covenanted Deputy Collector, or an Uncovenanted Deputy Collector of the 4th grade, who may be authorized by the Collector, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, to deal with such applications.

The rules laid down for the guidance of Collectors shall apply to all Officers who are authorized to deal with applications, except where the contrary intention is apparent.

Rule 3.—Applications need not necessarily be presented in open court.

Rule 4, Clause 5.—The numbers of fields and plots may be dispensed with in the application where there is no putwarry, but where a survey exists they should be ascertained as soon as possible.

Rule 5.—The rough plan and estimate may be dispensed with, when the amount applied for is below Rs. 2,000, but a sufficient description of the proposed work must be insisted on.

Rule 9.—The following rule is substituted:—

Any officer who is authorized under Rule 2, as modified above, to deal with applications, may direct an officer of lower rank than himself, provided that such officer be of rank not below that of a Canoongo, to hold any enquiry which is required by these Rules, and to report the result to him. All enquiries under these rules should be held with as much publicity as possible, and in the presence of as many of the respectable inhabitants of the village as can be assembled. The record of the proceedings of the enquiry shall be made in writing by the officer holding the inquiry, and shall be signed by the village headmen, the gomastah, the accountant, the chowkeedars or other local officials or respectable inhabitants in acknowledgment of its having been explained to them.

Rule 10.—No fees shall be charged for the service of any process under these rules.

Rule 12.—Under Rule 9, as modified above, it is unnecessary to give formal notice for a prescribed period previous to holding the enquiry.

Rule 13.—No charge shall be made for summoning witnesses.

Rule 15.—The officer who has made the enquiry, if not authorized to deal with the application, must forward it to the officer who ordered the enquiry to be made.

Rule 19.—The limits within which officers of different grades may grant certificates for advances, provided that sufficient sums shall have been placed at their disposal, are fixed as follows :—

Sub-divisional officers and officers authorized by the Collector under
Rule 2 as modified above	250
Collectors of the districts	1,000
Commissioners	5,000

Certificates for advances above 5,000 require the sanction of Government.

Rule 20.—If the landlord fail to appear in person or by Agent when summoned to sign the certificate, as required by the first clause of this rule, and does not make any objection in writing within a month of the issue of the notice, he will, under section 12 of Act XXVI of 1871, be deemed "to have assented thereto and to have agreed that the land for the improvement of which the allowance is to be made, shall be pledged as security for the recovery of the advance."

Rule 32 is modified by Rule 2 above.

Rule 33.—The report in this form shall be made to the superior Officer before the certificate is granted, if the sum applied for be in excess of that which the Officer who has dealt with the application is authorized under Rule 19 above to grant. In other cases, it may be submitted after the issue of the certificate.

Reports should also be made under this rule by Collectors of Districts to Commissioners in all cases in which certificates have been granted by themselves or their subordinates.

Rule 34 is modified by Rule 19 above.

Rule 35.—No interest will be charged till after the expiration of one year on advances below Rs. 500. After that time interest will be charged as in the original Rule 35.

Safety and prevention of Accidents (Part IV of Merchant Shipping Act, 1854).

12. Where the Board of Trade have received a complaint, or have reason to believe that any British ship is by reason of the defective condition of her hull, equipments, or machinery, or by reason of over-loading or improper loading, unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life, they may if they think fit, appoint some competent person or persons to survey such ship, and the equipments, machinery, and cargo thereof, and to report thereon to the Board.

Survey of ships suspected of being unseaworthy.

Any person so appointed may, for the purposes of such survey, require the unloading or removal of any cargo, ballast, or tackle, and shall have all the powers of an inspector appointed under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.

Any person who (having notice of the intention to hold such survey) wilfully does or causes to be done any act by which the person appointed to make such survey is prevented from or obstructed in ascertaining the condition of the ship, her equipments, machinery, and cargo shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

The Board of Trade may, if they think fit, order that any ship be detained for the purpose of being surveyed under this section, and thereupon any officer of Customs may detain such ship until her release be ordered either by the Board of Trade or by any court to which an appeal is given under this Act.

Upon the receipt of the report of the person making any such survey, the Board may, if in their opinion the ship cannot proceed to sea without serious danger to human life, make such further order as they may think requisite as to the detention of the ship or as to her release, either absolutely or upon the performance of such conditions with respect to the execution of repairs or alterations or the unloading or reloading of cargo, as the Board may impose. They may also from time to time vary or add to such order.

A copy of any such order and of the report upon which it was founded, and also of any variation of, or addition to such order, shall be delivered as soon as possible to the owner or master of the ship to which it relates.

When a ship has been detained under this section, she shall not be released by reason of her British register having been closed.

13. If upon the survey of a ship under this Act she is reported to have been at the time of the survey, having regard to the nature of the service for which she was then intended, unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life, the expenses incurred by the Board of Trade in respect of the survey shall be paid by the owner of the ship to the Board of Trade, and shall, without prejudice to any other remedy, be recoverable by them in the same manner as salvage is recoverable.

Costs of survey.

If upon such survey the ship is not reported to have been unfit to proceed to sea, having regard to the nature of the service for which she was intended, the Board of Trade shall be liable to pay compensation to any person for any loss or damage which he may have sustained by reason of the detention of the ship for the purpose of survey or otherwise, in respect of such survey.

Where a complaint has been made to the Board of Trade that a ship is not fit to proceed to sea, they may, if they think fit, before ordering a survey of the ship, require the complainant to give or provide such security as they may think sufficient for the payment of the costs and expenses which they may incur in respect of the survey of the ship and of the compensation which they may be rendered liable to pay for loss or damage caused by her detention for the purpose of such survey, or otherwise in respect of such survey.

Where a ship has been surveyed under this Act in consequence of a complaint made to the Board of Trade, if upon such survey being made it appear that such complaint was made without reasonable cause, the expenses incurred by the Board in respect of the survey of the ship and the amount, if any, which the Board may have been rendered liable to pay in respect of any loss or damage caused by her detention, shall be recoverable by the Board from such complainant.

All moneys payable by the Board of Trade in respect or by reason of the survey or detention of a ship under this Act shall, subject to the right by this section provided of recovering such moneys from the complainant, be paid out of moneys to be provided by Parliament.

14. If the owner of any ship surveyed under this Act is dissatisfied with any order of the Board of Trade made upon such survey, he may apply to any of the following courts having jurisdiction in the place where such ship was surveyed; that is to say:—

In England, to any court having Admiralty jurisdiction:

In Ireland, to any court having jurisdiction under the Court of Admiralty (Ireland) Act, 1897:

In Scotland, to the court of the Sheriff of the county.

The court may, upon such application, if they think fit, appoint one or more competent persons to survey the ship anew; and any surveyor so appointed shall have all the powers of the person by whom the original survey was made. Such survey anew shall, if so required by the Board of Trade or the ship-owner, be made in the presence of any person or persons appointed by them respectively to attend at the survey.

The court to which such application is made may make such order as to the detention or release of the ship, as to the payment of any costs and damages which may have been occasioned by her detention, as to the payment of the expenses of the original survey, and of the survey anew, and otherwise as to the payment of any costs of and incident to, the application as to the court may seem just.

Where an application is made under this section to a county court, or in Ireland to a local court, the matter of the application shall be deemed to be an Admiralty cause within the meaning of the County Courts Admiralty Jurisdiction Act, 1868, and the Court of Admiralty (Ireland) Act, 1867.

15. In the case of any ship surveyed under the fourth part of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, the Board of Trade may, at the request of the owner, authorize the reduction of the number and the variation of the dimensions of the boats required for the ship by section two hundred and ninety-two of that Act and also the substitution of rafts or other appliances for saving life for any such boats, so nevertheless that the boats so reduced or varied and the rafts or other appliances so substituted be sufficient for the persons carried on board the ship.

Section two hundred and ninety-three of the said Act shall extend to any such rafts or appliances in the same manner as if they were boats.

16. In every case of collision between two vessels it shall be the duty of the master or person in charge of each vessel, if and so far as he can do so without danger to his own vessel, crew, and passengers (if any), to stay by the other vessel until he has ascertained that she has no need of further assistance, and to render to the other vessel, her master, crew, and passengers (if any), such assistance as may be practicable and as may be necessary in order to save them from any danger caused by the collision; and also to give the master or person in charge of the other vessel the name of his own vessel, and of her port of registry, or of the port or place to which she belongs, and also the names of the ports and places from which and to which she is bound.

If he fails so to do, and no reasonable cause for such failure is shown the collision shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to have been caused by his wrongful act, neglect, or default.

Every master or person in charge of a British vessel who fails, without reasonable cause to render such assistance, or give such information as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he is a certificated officer, an inquiry into his conduct may be held and his certificate may be cancelled or suspended.

17. If in any case of collision it is proved to the court before which the case is tried that any of the regulations for preventing collision contained in, or made under the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1873, has been infringed, the ship by which such regulation has been infringed, shall be deemed to be in fault, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that the circumstances of the case make departure from the regulation necessary.

Signals of distress.

18. The signal specified in the first schedule to this Act shall be deemed to be signals of distress.

Any master of a vessel who uses or displays, or causes or permits any person under his authority to use or display any of the said signals, except in the case of a vessel being in distress, shall be liable to pay compensation for any labour undertaken, risk incurred, or loss sustained in consequence of such signal having been supposed to be a signal of distress, and such compensation may, without prejudice to any other remedy, be recovered in the same manner in which salvage is recoverable.

Signals for pilots

19. If a vessel requires the services of a pilot, the signals to be used and displayed shall be those specified in the second schedule to this Act.

Any master of a vessel who uses or displays, or causes or permits any person under his authority to use or display any of the said signals for any other purpose than that of summoning a pilot, or uses or causes or permits any person under his authority to use any other signal for a pilot, shall incur a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

20. Her Majesty may from time to time, by order in Council, repeal or alter the rules as to signals contained in the schedules to this Act, or make new rules in addition thereto, or in substitution therefor, and any alterations in or additions to such rules made in manner aforesaid shall be of the same force as the rules in the said schedules.

Private signals.

21. Any ship-owner who is desirous of using, for the purposes of a private code any rockets, lights, or other similar signals, may register such signals with the Board of Trade, and the Board shall give public notice of the signals so registered in such manner as they may think requisite for preventing such signals from being mistaken for signals of distress or signals for pilots.

The Board may refuse to register any signals which in their opinion cannot easily be distinguished from signals of distress or signals for pilots.

When any signal has been so registered, the use or display thereof by any person acting under the authority of the ship-owner in whose name it is registered shall not subject any person to any of the penalties or liabilities by this Act imposed upon persons using or displaying signals improperly.

22. If the managing owner, or in the event of there being no managing owner, the ship's husband of any British ship have reason, owing to the non-appearance of such ship, or to any other circumstance, to apprehend that such ship has been wholly lost, he shall, as soon as conveniently may be, send to the Board of Trade notice in writing of such loss and of the probable occasion thereof, stating the name of the ship and her official number (if any), and the port to which she belongs; and if he neglect to do so within a reasonable time he shall incur a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

23. If any person sends or attempts to send by, or not being the master or owner of the vessel, carries or attempts to carry in any vessel, British or Foreign, any dangerous goods, (that is to say) aqua-fortis, vitriol, naphtha, benzine, gunpowder, lucifer-matches, nitro-glycerine, petroleum, or any other goods of a dangerous nature, without distinctly marking their nature on the outside of the package containing the same, and giving written notice of the nature of such goods and of the name, and address of the sender or carrier thereof to the master or owner of the vessel, at or before the time of sending the same to be shipped, or taking the same on board the vessel, he shall for every such offence incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds; provided that if such person show that he was merely an agent in the shipment of any such goods as aforesaid, and was not aware and did not suspect and had no reason to suspect that the goods shipped by him were of a dangerous nature, the penalty which he incurs shall not exceed ten pounds.

24. If any person knowingly sends or attempts to send by, or carries or attempts to carry in any vessel, British or Foreign, any dangerous goods or goods of a dangerous nature under a false description, or falsely describes the sender or carrier thereof he shall incur a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds.

25. The master or owner of any vessel, British or Foreign, may refuse to take on board any package or parcel which he suspects to contain goods of a dangerous nature, and may require it to be opened to ascertain the fact.

26. Where any dangerous goods, as defined in this Act, or any goods which, in the judgment of the master or owner of the vessel, are of a dangerous nature, have been sent or brought aboard any vessel, British or Foreign, without being marked as aforesaid, or without such notice having been given as aforesaid, the master or owner of the vessel may cause such goods to be thrown overboard, together with any package or receptacle in which they are contained; and neither the master nor the owner of the vessel shall, in respect of such throwing overboard, be subject to any liability, civil or criminal in any court.

27. Where any dangerous goods have been sent or carried, or attempted to be sent or carried, on board any vessel, British or Foreign, without being marked as aforesaid, or without such notice having been given as aforesaid, and where any such goods have been sent or carried, or attempted to be sent or carried, under a false description, or the sender or carrier thereof has been falsely described, it shall be lawful for any court having Admiralty jurisdiction to declare such goods, and any package or receptacle in which they are contained to be, and they shall thereupon be forfeited, and when forfeited shall be disposed of as the court directs.

The court shall have and may exercise the aforesaid powers of forfeiture and disposal, notwithstanding that the owner of the goods have not committed any offence under the provisions of this Act relating to dangerous goods, and be not before the court, and have not notice of the proceedings, and notwithstanding that there be no evidence to show to whom the goods belong; nevertheless, the court may, in its discretion, require such notice as it may direct to be given to the owner or shipper of the goods before the same are forfeited.

28. The provisions of this Act relating to the carriage of dangerous goods shall be deemed to be in addition to, and not in substitution for, or in restraint of any other enactment for the like object, so nevertheless that nothing in the said provisions shall be deemed to authorise that any person be sued or prosecuted twice in the same matter.

Miscellaneous and Repeal.

29. Where, in accordance with the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts, Her Majesty exercises jurisdiction within any port out of Her Majesty's dominions, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by order in Council, to declare such port a port of registry (in this Act referred to as a foreign port of registry), and by the same or any subsequent order in Council to declare the description of persons who are to be the registrars of British ships at such foreign port of registry, and to make regulations with respect to the registry of British ships thereat.

Upon such order coming into operation it shall have effect as if it were enacted in the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1873, and shall, subject to any exceptions and regulations contained in the order, apply in the same manner as near as may be, as if the port mentioned in the order were an ordinary port of registry.

30. There shall be paid in respect of the several measurements, inspections, and surveys mentioned in the third schedule hereto, such fees not exceeding those specified in that behalf in the said schedule, as the Board of Trade may from time to time determine.

Board of Trade may sue in name of its officers.

31. In any legal proceedings under the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1873, the Board of Trade may take proceedings in the name of any of their officers.

32. The following sections of this Act, that is to say, sections sixteen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, shall not come into operation until the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

Certain sections not to come into force until 1st November 1873.

33. Section twenty-nine of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, and sections four and ten of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1871, are hereby repealed; and on and after the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, sections three hundred and twenty-seven and three hundred and twenty-nine of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, sections thirty-three and thirty-eight of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, and section nine of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1871, shall be repealed; but this repeal shall not affect—

- (1.) Anything duly done before this Act comes into operation.
- (2.) Any right acquired or liability accrued before this Act comes into operation.
- (3.) Any penalty, forfeiture, or other punishment incurred or to be incurred in respect of any offence committed before this Act comes into operation; or,
- (4.) The institution of any legal proceeding or any other remedy for ascertaining, enforcing, or recovering any such liability, penalty, forfeiture or punishment as aforesaid.

36 and 37 VICTORIA, CAP. 83.

An Act for consolidating with Amendments the Acts for carrying into effect Treaties for the more effectual suppression of the Slave Trade, and for other purposes connected with the Slave Trade.

[5th August 1873.]

WHEREAS divers treaties for the more effectual suppression of the slave trade have been made by or on behalf of Her Majesty and Her Royal predecessors with foreign States, and the Acts mentioned in the second schedule to this Act have been passed for carrying into effect the said treaties or some of them:

And whereas it is expedient to consolidate the said Acts into one Act, and to make provision for carrying into effect the said treaties, and any treaty which may hereafter be made by or on behalf of Her Majesty with any foreign State for the more effectual suppression of the slave trade:

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Preliminary.

1. This Act may be cited as the Slave Trade Act, 1873.
2. In this Act—

Short title.

Interpretation.

The term "the Treasury" means the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury:

The term "the Admiralty" means the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral:

The term "vessel" means any vessel used in navigation:

The term "British Possession" means any plantation, territory, settlement, or place situate within Her Majesty's dominions, and not forming part of the United Kingdom:

The term "Governor" includes the officer, for the time being, administering the government of any colony; and where there is a local governor or Lieutenant-Governor under a Governor-General, means the local governor or Lieutenant-Governor:

The term "the Slave Trade Act, 1824," means the Act of the session of the fifth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, chapter one hundred and thirteen, intituled "An Act to amend and consolidate the laws relating to the abolition of the slave trade:"

The term "Foreign State" includes any foreign nation, people, tribe, sovereign, prince, chief, or headman :

The term "vessel of a Foreign State" means a vessel which is justly entitled to claim the protection of the flag of a foreign state, or which would be so entitled if she did not lose such protection by being engaged in the slave trade :

The term "Treaty" includes any convention, agreement, engagement, or arrangement :

The term "Slave Trade," when used in relation to any particular treaty, does not include anything declared by such treaty not to be comprised in the term or in such treaty :

The term "Vice-Admiralty Court" does not include any Vice-Admiralty Court which at the time being has under its commission a limited jurisdiction only in matters relating to the slave trade :

The term "British Slave Court" means the High Court of Admiralty of England, every Vice-Admiralty Court in Her Majesty's dominions out of the United Kingdom, and every West African Court for the time being within the meaning of the Slave Trade (East African Courts) Act, 1873 :

The term "Slave Court" means every British Slave Court, every mixed commission or court established under any existing slave trade treaty, and the court of any foreign State having jurisdiction to try and condemn a vessel engaged in the slave trade :

The term "existing Slave Trade Treaty" means a treaty made by or on behalf of Her Majesty or Her Royal predecessors with any foreign State for the more effectual suppression of the slave trade and in force at the passing of this Act.

Seizure of slave ships.

3. Where a vessel is, on reasonable grounds, suspected of being engaged in or fitted out for the slave trade, it shall (subject in the case either of the vessel of a foreign State, or of the commander or officer of a cruiser of a foreign State to the limitations, restrictions, and regulations, if any, applicable thereto contained in any existing slave trade treaty made with such State) be lawful :—

(a.) If the vessel is a British vessel, or is engaged in the slave trade within British jurisdiction, or is not a vessel of a foreign State, for any commander or officer of any of Her Majesty's ships, for any officer bearing Her Majesty's commission in the army or navy, for any officer of Her Majesty's Customs in the United Kingdom, Channel Islands, or Isle of Man, for the governor of a British possession, or any person authorised by any such governor, and for any commander or officer of any cruiser of a foreign State authorised in pursuance of any existing slave trade treaty : and

(b.) If the vessel is the vessel of a foreign State, for any commander or officer of any of Her Majesty's ships, when duly authorised in that behalf, in pursuance of any treaty with that State, and for any commander or officer of any cruiser of that foreign State, to visit and seize and detain such vessel, and to seize and detain any person found detained or reasonably suspected of having been detained as a slave, for the purpose of the slave trade, on board any such vessel, and to carry away such vessel and person, together with the master and all persons, goods, and effects on board any such vessel, for the purpose of bringing in such vessel, person, goods and effects for adjudication.

All vessels, slaves, persons, goods, and effects which may be forfeited under the enactments with which this Act is to be construed as one as hereinafter mentioned, may be visited, seized, and detained by any commander, officer, governor, or person authorised by this section to seize a British vessel.

4. Where any of the particulars mentioned in the first schedule to this Act are found in the equipment or on board of any vessel visited, seized, or detained in pursuance of this Act, such vessel shall, unless the contrary be proved, be deemed to be fitted out for the purposes of and engaged in the slave trade, and in such case, even though the vessel is restored no damages shall be awarded against the seizer under this Act in respect of such visitation, seizure, or detention, or otherwise upon such restoration.

Provided that this section shall not extend to the vessel of any foreign State except so far as may be consistent with the treaty made with such State.

Courts.

5. The High Court of Admiralty of England and every Vice-Admiralty Court in Her Majesty's dominions out of the United Kingdom shall have jurisdiction to try and condemn or restore any vessels, slaves, goods, and effects alleged to be seized, detained, or forfeited, in pursuance of this Act, and on restoring the same to award such damages in respect of the visitation, seizure, and detention, of such vessels, goods and effects, and of any person on board such vessel, and in respect of any act or thing done in relation to such visitation, seizure, or detention, or in respect of any such matters, and in any case to make such order as to costs as, subject to the provisions of this Act and of any existing slave trade treaty, the court may think just.

Provided that nothing in this section shall give to any court any jurisdiction inconsistent with any existing slave trade treaty over a vessel which is shown to such court to be the vessel of any foreign State, and which has not been engaged within British jurisdiction in the slave trade, but where any vessel of a foreign State is liable to be condemned by a British slave court, such court shall have the same jurisdiction as if she were a British vessel.

Each of the said courts shall have the same jurisdiction in regard to any person who has been seized, either at sea or on land, on the ground that he has or is suspected to have been detained as a slave, for the purpose of the slave trade, as the court would have under this section if he had been so detained on board a vessel that was seized and brought in for adjudication.

6. Where any vessel or slave seized by the commander or officer of the cruiser of any foreign State is brought in for adjudication in a British slave court, all proceedings for the condemnation of such vessel and slave, and the goods and effects on board such vessel shall be taken in the name of Her Majesty by some person duly authorized in that behalf.

Proceedings upon seizure by a foreigner.

Mixed Courts.

7. Where any existing slave trade treaty contains provisions, for the time being in force, for the appointment of any mixed court or commission for deciding cases under such treaty, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty from time to time to appoint such commissioners, judges, arbitrators, secretary, registrar, and other officers as are mentioned in such provisions.

Appointment of judges, arbitrators, secretary, &c., to mixed courts and commissions.

There shall be paid to every commissioner, judge, arbitrator, secretary, registrar, and other officer so appointed, such salary as the Treasury may from time to time direct.

In case of the death, or sickness, or absence, either on leave or from any other lawful impediment of any such commissioner, judge, arbitrator, secretary, registrar, or other officer, whether British or not, the vacancy shall be temporarily filled in the manner provided by the treaty.

8. The regulations contained in any existing slave trade treaty for the time being in force, with respect to any mixed court or commission, shall have effect as if they were enacted in this Act, and such court or commission shall have all necessary jurisdiction for the purpose of carrying into effect any treaty referring to them, and in particular shall have jurisdiction to try, condemn, and restore British vessels seized in pursuance of such treaty, on suspicion of being engaged in the slave trade, and shall for the purpose of their jurisdiction have the same power as any Vice-Admiralty Court in Her Majesty's dominions has, and may accordingly take evidence, administer oaths, summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and require and enforce the production of documents in like manner as any such court.

Regulations as to powers of mixed courts.

Disposal of Vessels and Slaves.

9. A vessel seized in pursuance of this Act, when condemned by a slave court, may be taken into Her Majesty's service upon payment of such sum as the Admiralty deem to be a proper price for the same (which sum is in this Act called the appraised value of such vessel), or if not so taken, shall be broken up; and the materials thereof shall be publicly sold in separate parts.

Disposal of condemned vessels.

Provided that nothing herein shall prejudice the right of the government of any foreign State, under any treaty, to require such vessel to be broken up, or to take such vessel into its service upon payment of a sum fixed in accordance with such treaty, and any sum paid by the government of a foreign State for a vessel taken into its service after condemnation by a slave court shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be the appraised value of the vessel.

10. Where any slaves are seized in pursuance of this Act, they shall, for the purpose only of seizure, prosecution, and condemnation, be deemed to be property, and shall be condemned as forfeited to the sole use of Her Majesty for the purpose only of divesting all other right or interest therein, and shall not be treated as slaves, but shall be provided for, pending the proceedings for their condemnation, in such manner, and shall on condemnation be disposed of in such manner, or delivered over to such persons, as the court having cognizance of the case may adjudge, subject to the regulations (if any) which are from time to time made by the Treasury; and the Treasury may, from time to time, make, alter, and revoke regulations for this purpose so that they be consistent with any provisions in this behalf contained in any existing slave trade treaty.

Disposal of slaves.

Bounties.

11. Where a vessel (whether British or not), or slave, goods or effects, seized in pursuance of this Act by any commander or officer of any of Her Majesty's ships have been condemned by a slave court, there shall be paid to the commander, officers, and crew of such ship the following sums:—

Bounty and other payments to seizers when British cruisers.

(1.) A slave bounty of five pounds for every slave so condemned who is delivered over, or, if the commander of the ship so elect, a tonnage bounty of four pounds for every ton of the tonnage of the vessel condemned.

(2.) That part to which Her Majesty is entitled of the appraised value of the vessel condemned, or, if such vessel was broken up and the materials thereof publicly sold in separate parts, of the net proceeds of such sale after deducting the charges of prosecution.

(3.) Where the condemned vessel

- (a) was brought into port, and was broken up in pursuance of the order of the slave court, and the materials thereof publicly sold in separate parts; or
- (b) was abandoned or destroyed prior to condemnation, and the slave court by the decree of condemnation declared that, after full consideration by the court of the circumstances of the case, the seizers had satisfied the court that such abandonment or destruction was inevitable, or otherwise under the circumstances proper and justifiable;

a further tonnage bounty at the rate of thirty shillings for every ton of the tonnage of the vessel; and (4.) The net proceeds to which Her Majesty is entitled (after deducting the charges of prosecution) of any such goods and effects which the slave court ordered to be sold.

Where any slave so condemned is not delivered over in consequence of death, sickness, or other inevitable circumstances, the Treasury may, if they think fit, pay to the seizers of such slave one moiety of the slave bounty which would have been due in respect of such slave if he had been delivered over.

12. Where any vessel, slave, goods, or effects seized in pursuance of this Act otherwise Bounty and other payments where vessel, slave, or goods not seized by cruisers.

than by the commander or officer of one of Her Majesty's Ships, or of the cruiser of a foreign State, have been condemned by a slave court, there shall be paid the following sums:—

- (1.) Two-thirds of the appraised value of the vessel or (if the vessel was broken up and the materials thereof publicly sold in separate parts) of the net proceeds of such sale, and two-thirds of the net proceeds of such goods and effects (after deducting from such appraised value or net proceeds the charges of prosecution) for the use of Her Majesty, to such persons as the Treasury may from time to time appoint, to be carried to the Consolidated Fund.
- (2.) The remaining third part of the said appraised value or net proceeds of the vessel, and of the net proceeds of such goods and effects to the person who lawfully seized and prosecuted the ship, goods, and effects respectively to condemnation.
- (3.)—For every slave so condemned who is delivered over, a slave bounty of five pounds to the person who prosecuted the same to condemnation.

Where any slave so condemned is not delivered over in consequence of death, sickness, or other inevitable circumstances, the Treasury may, if they think fit, pay in respect of such slave one moiety of the slave bounty which would have been due in respect of such slave if he had been delivered over.

13. Where any vessel, goods or effects have been seized in pursuance of this Act

Payment of proceeds of vessels, &c., when seized by a foreign cruiser.

by the commander or officer of a cruiser of any foreign State and been condemned by a British slave court, such portion of the appraised value of the vessel, or (if the vessel was broken up and the materials thereof publicly sold in separate parts) of the net proceeds of such sale, and of the net proceeds of the goods and effects, as is, under any treaty with such state, payable to the seizers, shall be paid to such person as the Treasury may direct, to be disposed of in accordance with such treaty.

14. In order to obtain payment of the bounty, there shall be produced to the Treasury

Regulations as to payment of bounty.

the following evidence, or such other evidence as the Treasury may deem sufficient; namely:—

- (a.) A copy, duly certified, of the decree of condemnation of the vessel or slave.
- (b.) If any tonnage bounty is claimed, a certificate from some person authorised for the time being to act as a registrar of British ships of the dimensions and tonnage of the vessel.
- (c.) If a slave bounty is claimed, a certificate from the person appointed to receive the slaves of the number of slaves condemned and delivered over.

For the purpose of bounty the tonnage of a vessel shall be calculated and ascertained in the like manner in which, for the time being, the tonnage of a vessel is calculated and ascertained for the purpose of registering the same as a British vessel, or if the same cannot be satisfactorily ascertained in that manner, shall be ascertained in such manner as the Treasury may consider satisfactory.

15. Where any visitation, seizure, detention or prosecution purports to have been made or instituted in pursuance of this Act, the Treasury when required under any treaty shall, and in any other case may, if they think fit, pay the whole or any part of any costs, expenses, compensation, and damages which may have been awarded against the person making or instituting such visitation, seizure, detention, or prosecution, or any costs and expenses which may have been incurred in respect of the same, or on account of any person on board any vessel so visited, seized or detained; but nothing in this section shall exempt the commander or officer of the ship or other person by whom the visitation, seizure, detention, or prosecution was made or instituted from his liability to make good any sum so paid when required by the Treasury so to do and when any such commander or officer, or other person serving under the Admiralty, or any person serving under any other department of the Government, is so required to make good any sum, that sum shall, if the Treasury so direct, be deducted by the Admiralty or other department of the Government, under whom such person is serving, from any payment to which such commander, officer, or person is entitled on account of salary, pay, prize, or bounty.

Payment by Treasury of costs, damages, and expenses.

Payment and distribution of bounties and other sums.

16 The bounties and all other sums payable by the Treasury in pursuance of this Act shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament for the purpose.

The provisions of "The Naval Agency and Distribution Act, 1864," shall apply to all money payable to the commanders, officers, and crews of Her Majesty's ships in pursuance of this Act.

Miscellaneous.

17. All person authorized to make seizures under this Act shall, in making and prosecuting any such seizure, have the benefit of all the protection granted to persons authorized to make seizures under any Act for the time being in force relating to Her Majesty's customs in the United Kingdom, in like manner as if the enactments granting such protection were herein enacted, and in terms made applicable thereto.

18. In either of the following cases, namely :—

Pendency of suit or decree a bar to proceeding for recovery of vessel, damages, &c.

(a.) Where any proceeding has been instituted in any slave court for the condemnation or restitution of any vessel, slave, goods, or effects purporting to have been seized in pursuance of this Act, and is still pending; or

(b.) Where any vessel, slave, goods, or effects purporting to have been seized in pursuance of this Act, have been condemned or restored, or any other final judgment have been pronounced thereon by any slave court, the pendency, of such proceeding, or the condemnation or restitution, or other final judgment thereon, as the case may be, shall be a complete bar to every legal proceeding whatever for the recovery of such vessel, slave, goods, or effects, or of damages for any costs, expenses, loss, or injury sustained by any person by or in consequence of the visitation, seizure, or detention of such vessel, slave, goods, or effects, or of any person on board such vessel, or by or in consequence of any act or thing done in relation to such visitation, seizure, or detention, or in pursuance of this Act or any existing slave trade treaty, and may be pleaded in bar, or given in evidence under the general issue.

19. The High Court of Admiralty of England shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine any question arising with respect to the right of any person to any payment in pursuance of this Act in respect of any condemned vessel, slave, goods, or effects, and any question of joint capture or seizure which may arise in respect of any vessel, slave, goods, or effects seized in pursuance of this Act, and also as well to review as to enforce any decree, declaration, or order of any British slave court made in pursuance of this Act.

20. The registrar of the High Court of Admiralty of England may, on the application of any person aggrieved, or of the Treasury, tax or review the taxation of any costs, charges, or expenses incurred or alleged to be incurred in any proceeding taken in any British slave court, or in any mixed commission or court in Her Majesty's dominions, and shall for this purpose have the same jurisdiction and powers as he has in the taxation of any costs, charges, or expenses incurred in any proceeding in the High Court of Admiralty.

21. The Treasury may appeal from any decree, order, or declaration which is made by any British slave court in pursuance of this Act, and involves the payment by the Treasury of any bounty, costs, expenses, compensation, damages, or other moneys in like manner as if they were parties to the proceeding in which such decree, order or declaration was made.

22. Any person who wilfully gives false evidence in any proceeding taken in pursuance of the Act in any slave court shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall be liable to the like penalty as if he had been guilty of perjury, or in British possession, of the offence by whatever name called, which if committed in England would be perjury.

23. The registrar of every British slave court, and, if appointed by Her Majesty, of every other slave court, shall from time to time make returns of the cases adjudged in such court in pursuance of this Act, at such times and in such form and containing such particulars as may be from time to time directed by any rule established with respect to such court under the Vice-Admiralty Courts Act, 1868, or if there is no such rule by Order in Council.

Slave Trade Act, 1824.

24. This Act shall be construed as one with the enactments of the Slave Trade Act 1824, and any enactments amending the same, so far as they are in force at the time of the passing of this Act, and are not required by this Act, and the expression "this Act," when used in this Act, shall include those enactments.

Incorporation with unrepealed portions of 5 Geo. 4, c. 113.

25. All pecuniary forfeitures and penalties imposed by the said enactments, with which this Act is to be construed as one, may be sued for, prosecuted, and recovered in any Court of Record or of Vice-Admiralty in any port of Her Majesty's dominions wherein the offence was committed, or where the offender may be, in like manner as any penalty or forfeiture incurred in the United Kingdom under any Act for the time being in force relating to Her Majesty's Customs, or (in the case of the High Court of Admiralty or of a court of Vice-Admiralty) in like manner as any vessel seized in pursuance of this Act.

Recovery of forfeitures under 5 Geo. 4, c. 113.

Such pecuniary penalties and forfeitures shall, subject to the express provisions of the said enactments, be paid and applied in like manner as the net proceeds of a vessel seized otherwise than by the commander or officer of one of Her Majesty's ships, or of the cruiser of a foreign State.

26. Any offence against this Act or the said enactments with which this Act is to be construed as one, or otherwise in connection with the slave trade, shall for all purposes of and incidental to the trial and punishment of a person guilty of such offence, and all proceedings and matters preliminary and incidental to and consequential on such trial and punishment, and for all purposes of and incidental to the jurisdiction of any court constable, and officer with reference to such offence, be deemed to have been committed either in the place in which the offence was committed, or in the county of Middlesex or in any place in which the person guilty of the offence may for the time being be, either in Her Majesty's dominions or in any foreign port or place in which Her Majesty has jurisdiction; and the offence may be described in any indictment or other document relating thereto as having been committed at the place where it was wholly or partly committed, or as having been committed on the high seas or out of Her Majesty's dominions, and the venue or local description in the margin may be that of the place in which the trial is held.

Jurisdiction of court over offences under 5 Geo. 4, c. 113.

Where any such offence is commenced at one place and completed at another, the place at which such offence is to be deemed to have been committed shall be either the place where the offence was commenced or the place where the offence was completed.

Where a person being in one place is accessory to or aids or abets in any such offence committed in another place, the place at which such offence is to be deemed to have been committed shall be either the place in which the offence was actually committed or the place where the offender was at the time of his being so accessory, aiding, or abetting.

Where it appears to any court or the judge of any court having jurisdiction to try any such offence that the removal of an offender charged with such offence to some other place in Her Majesty's dominions for trial would be conducive to the interests of justice, such court or judge may by warrant, or instrument in the nature of a warrant, direct such removal, and such offender may be removed and tried accordingly; and section two hundred and sixty-eight of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, shall apply to the removal of an offender under this section in the same manner as if the term "consular officer" in that section included the court or judge making such warrant or instrument.

17 and 18 Vict., c. 104.

27. Offences committed against this Act or the enactments with which this Act is to be construed as one or otherwise in connection with the slave trade, whether committed on the high seas or on land, or partly on the high seas or partly on land, shall be deemed to be inserted in the first schedule to the Extradition Act, 1870, and that Act, and any Act amending the same, shall be construed accordingly.

Extension of 33 & 34 Vict., c. 62, to slave trade offences.

Application of Act.

28. This Act shall apply to all cases of vessels, slaves, goods, and effects, seized and adjudicated upon by any slave court, whether before or after the passing of this Act.

Application of Act to cases already adjudicated.

29. Where any treaty in relation to the slave trade is made after the passing of this Act, by or on behalf of Her Majesty, with any foreign State, Her Majesty may by Order in Council direct that as from such date, not being earlier than the date of the treaty, as may be specified in the order, such treaty shall be deemed, and thereupon (as from the said date, or if no date is specified as from the date of such order) such treaty shall be deemed to be an existing slave trade treaty within the meaning of this Act, and all the provisions of this Act shall apply and be construed accordingly.

Extension of Act to future treaties.

Her Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent order referring to the same treaty, render the application of this Act subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications as may be deemed expedient.

Every such order shall recite or embody the terms of the treaty so far as they relate to the slave trade, and shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament within six weeks after it is made, or, if Parliament be not then sitting, within six weeks after the then next meeting of Parliament, and shall also be published in the London Gazette.

A treaty, whether made before or after the passing of this Act, which ceases to be in force, shall cease to be an existing slave trade treaty within the meaning of this Act.

Repeal.

Repeal of Acts in schedule.

30. The Acts specified in the second schedule to this Act are hereby repealed.

Provided that—

- (1.) All bounties and other sums purporting to have been paid in pursuance of any enactment hereby repealed before the passing of this Act, shall be deemed to have been duly paid.
- (2.) This repeal shall not affect—
 - (a.) Anything duly done or suffered under any enactment hereby repealed; or
 - (b.) Any right, privilege, obligation, liability, or forfeiture acquired, accrued, or incurred under any enactment hereby repealed; or
 - (c.) Any investigation, legal proceeding, or remedy in respect of any such right, privilege, obligation, liability, or forfeiture as aforesaid, or any legal proceeding, taken or commenced under any enactment hereby repealed; and any such investigation, legal proceeding, and remedy may be carried on, and all acts consequential thereon done, as if it had been commenced under this Act.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

Equipments which are prima facie evidence of a vessel being engaged in the slave trade.

First.—Hatches with open gratings, instead of the close hatches which are usual in merchant vessels.

Secondly.—Divisions or bulkheads in the hold or on deck more numerous than are necessary for vessels engaged in lawful trade.

Thirdly.—Spare plank fitted for being laid down as a second or slave deck.

Fourthly.—Shackles, bolts, or handcuffs.

Fifthly.—A larger quantity of water in casks or in tanks than is requisite for the consumption of the crew of the vessel as a merchant vessel.

Sixthly.—An extraordinary number of water casks or of other vessels for holding liquid, unless the master shall produce a certificate from the custom-house at the place from which he cleared outwards, stating that a sufficient security had been given by the owners of such vessel that such extra quantity of casks or of other vessels should only be used for the reception of palm-oil, or for other purposes of lawful commerce.

Seventhly.—A greater quantity of mess tubs or kids than are requisite for the use of the crew of the vessel as a merchant vessel.

Eighthly.—A boiler or other cooking apparatus of an unusual size, and larger or fitted for being or capable of being made larger than requisite for the use of the crew of the vessel as a merchant vessel, or more than one boiler or other cooking apparatus of the ordinary size.

Ninthly.—An extraordinary quantity either of rice or of the flour of Brazil, manioc, or cassada, commonly called farinha, of maize, or of Indian-corn, or of any other article of food whatever, beyond what might probably be requisite for the use of the crew, such rice, flour, maize, Indian-corn, or other article of food not being entered on the manifest as part of the cargo for trade.

Tenthly.—A quantity of mats or matting larger than is necessary for the use of the crew of vessel as a merchant vessel.

Eleventhly.—Any other equipment, article, or thing which is declared by any existing slave trade treaty to be prima facie evidence of a vessel being engaged in the slave trade.

- " VI.—Statement showing excess of payments and drawings to and from Treasuries on account of each Office.
- " VII.—Transactions, management and revenue from 1862 to 1873.
- " VIII.—Statement of profits and losses.
- " IX.—Statement showing the proportionate strength and cost of establishment, &c.
- " X.—Statement of lapsed orders.
- " XI.—Statement of Orders outstanding on the 31st March 1873, vide para. 38.

3. Thirteen new Offices were opened during the year —

One in the L. P. of Bengal	Nawada Sub-division of Gya District.
One in the N. W. Provinces	Chuckrata Sub-division of Dehra Doon.
			{ Nandgaum { Pundharpore { Yeola.

			{ Mhow.
			{ Bhuj.
			{ Khair, Poona Collectorate.
Three in the Madras Presidency	{ Villapuram, South Arcot District.
			{ Conjeveram, Chingleput District.
			{ Devipatam, Madura District.
One in the Mysore Circle	Chickka Ballapura, Kolar District.

4. The number of Offices in which there have been transactions during the year is —

In Lower Provinces of Bengal	101
" North-Western Provinces	39
" Oudh	12
" Punjab	36
" Central Provinces	19
" British Burmah	13
" Political Treasuries, Government of India	7
" Bombay	43
" Madras	76
" Berar	11
" Mysore	10
					TOTAL	366

5. The number of Offices closed during the year was—

L. P., Bengal	43	Bombay	7
N. W. Provinces	1	Madras	10
Punjab	3	Mysore	2
						TOTAL	66

large reduction is mainly owing to the abolition in February of agencies at many places where are no Revenue Treasuries.

3. The number of Offices open at the close of the year was—

In Lower Provinces of Bengal	58
" North-Western Provinces	38
" Oudh	19
" Punjab	29
" Central Provinces	19
" British Burmah	19
" Political Treasuries, Government of India	7

TOTAL						6

8. The transactions of the year may be summarized as follows :—

	In 1871-72.	In 1872-73.
Offices open
Number of orders issued
Amount of orders issued
Number of orders paid
Amount of orders paid
Commission
Lapsed orders
Charges
Profit

* Including Sassecram, in which there were no transactions.

9. The result of the year's operation is, on the whole, satisfactory.

10. The following detailed statement shows in each province an increase in the number of Orders issued, and it is satisfactory to find, that with the exception of Bombay and Berar, this increase in number is concurrent with a decrease in the aggregate amount of the orders.

11. In Bombay the result is also favourable, the moderate increase in the total amount of Orders issued being accompanied by a marked increase in the number.

It is in Berar alone that the Department appears to have been availed of for purposes foreign to its avowed object, the safe remittance, namely, of small sums of money.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March, 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1874, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 45,000 chests of Chests.

Behar	...	28,244
Benares	...	18,756

Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing the date of payment, or by selling it at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article, there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so supplied for provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."—By order of the Member in charge.

Notice

Is hereby given that in consequence of the construction of the new road from Giridi on the Karharbari Branch of the East Indian Railway to Hazaribagh, all goods can most conveniently be sent to Hazaribagh by that route instead of by the railway to Barakar only. The undersigned therefore invites all Government officers, tradesmen and other gentlemen who may not be specially instructed to the contrary by their consignees, and who do not avail themselves of the Government parcel post, to send their consignments and goods to the care of the Station Master, Giridi

This request is made as the transport agency has been removed from the Barakar, and the route by Giridi is shorter and less expensive.

THE Advertisement under which the Meeting was held having been read, it was—Resolved—"That the Resolutions passed at the Extraordinary General Meeting held on "the 22nd ultimo, be now confirmed, viz.—

"That the Articles of Association of the said Company be amended, by substituting the following Clauses in lieu of the existing Clauses No. XVIII and XXII, viz.—

"CLAUSE XVIII.—The Directors shall in every half-year out of the nett profits of the said Company, before any declaration of Dividend, set apart a percentage of not less than five per cent., and not more than ten per cent., on such nett profits, and place the sum so set apart to the credit of an Account in the Books of the Company, to be styled "The Wear and Tear Account." Such monies shall form a fund to cover all ordinary and extraordinary repairs and replacements of all plant and machinery, and for sinking and opening new pits and shafts, and mines to replace those existing on any portion of the property of the Company, and for making and maintaining proper ways, leads, and approaches thereto; and for improving the ways, leads, and approaches of any shafts or pits; and for otherwise improving the workings and means of communications of any of the Collieries of the said Company, provided always that when and so often as such Wear and Tear Account shall at the close of any half-year exhibit a balance of not less than Rs. 50,000 to credit thereof, the Directors shall not be bound to set apart any sum of money out of such nett profits, anything hereinbefore contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

"CLAUSE XXII.—The Company shall not be obliged to register the transferee under the Regulations mentioned above unless he be approved of by the Directors, nor so long as the transfer or is indebted to the Company, or is under any liability to or engagement with the Company which may eventuate in a debt."

"That the following additions be made to the Articles of Association, viz.—

"CLAUSE XXIIIA.—The Company shall have a lien upon the shares of each Shareholder, and upon the dividends due or accruing due thereon for the amount in which he may be indebted to them, and the said Company may, upon giving three months' notice of their intention so to do, proceed in default of payment to enforce such lien by the sale of the shares of such indebted and defaulting Shareholder, and may apply the sale proceeds thereof, and also the dividends due or accruing due on such shares, in payment or reduction of the debt of such Shareholder, without suit or other proceeding at law.

"CLAUSE XXIIIB.—In the event of any sale being effected under the last preceding clause of these Articles, the Directors shall, if they approve of the purchaser, register his name in the share register of the Company in the place of that of the indebted and defaulting Shareholder, and in respect of the shares purchased by such purchaser shall issue to such purchaser certificates in respect of such shares in cancellation and supersession of those held by the indebted and defaulting Shareholder and bearing the same number."

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Fifth Publication.]

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon in a month.

A Bill to provide for the Voluntary Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows:—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta, of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married, or divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made prima facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

Judicial and Legislative Depts.

[First Publication.]

THE following Bill, as settled by the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal on the 13th December 1873, is, by orders of the President, published for general information:—

A Bill to amend the law relating to the emigration of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and to regulate contract labor and service.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law regulating the emigration of native inhabitants of India from or through the provinces subject to the Government of Bengal to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and the manner of engaging and contracting with native inhabitants of the said provinces to proceed to the said districts, and providing for the protection of the persons so proceeding, and for the enforcement of the contracts of service entered into by them; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.—PRELIMINARY.

Chapter I.—Application and Miscellaneous.

1. This Act may be called "The Labor Dis-Short title. tricts Emigration Act."
2. Bengal Act II of 1870 (to consolidate and amend the law relating to the transport of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and their employment (herein)) is hereby repealed. All contracts entered into, appointments made, and licenses granted, under the said Act, or any of the Acts thereby repealed, shall be deemed to have been respectively entered into, made, and granted under this Act.
Repeal of Act II of 1870.
3. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—
Interpretation clause.
"India" means the territories for the time being vested in Her Majesty by the Statute 21 and 22 Vic. cap. 106, entitled "An Act for the better government of India," other than the settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca.
India.
"The Labor Districts" means the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and "a labor district" means one of those districts.
Labor Districts.
"Magistrate" includes a magistrate of a district or of a division of a district, and any magistrate of the first and second class, and any magistrate of police for the town of Calcutta.
Magistrate.
"Employer" means the chief person for the time being in charge of any lands upon which laborers may be employed.
Employer.

"Garden Sirdar" means any person authorized by certificate by an employer to engage natives of India to proceed to a labor district under a contract to be made and executed according to the provisions of this Act.

Garden Sirdar.

"Recruiter" means any person licensed under the provisions of this Act as a recruiter.

Recruiter.

"Contractor" means any person licensed under the provisions of this Act as a contractor.

Contractor.

"Emigrant" means any native of India above the age of sixteen years who has engaged with any garden-sirdar or recruiter or any other person to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring herein for hire.

Emigrant.

"Laborer" means any emigrant who has been conveyed to a labor district in accordance with a contract made under the provisions of Bengal Act III of 1863, Bengal Act VI of 1865, Bengal Act II of 1870, or this Act, during the duration of such contract.

Laborer.

"Vessel" includes a steamer, a flat, a boat, and anything made for the conveyance by water of human beings or property.

Vessel.

"Master" means the person for the time being in charge of a vessel.

Master.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time make rules consistent with this Act, and from time to time alter, vary, and revoke such rules:—

Power of the Lieutenant-Governor to make rules.

(1)—To regulate the subordination of the several officers of emigration to the superintendent.

(2)—To prescribe the periodical returns and reports to be made by the emigration officers, by magistrates, and by the inspectors of laborers.

(3)—To prescribe the amount of the several fees to be paid under the provisions of this Act.

(4)—To provide for the management and regulation of contractors' depôts and of hospital depôts.

(5)—To provide for the medical care of emigrants during their residence at the depôts, and for luring transport to a labor district.

(6)—To prescribe the nature, quality, and quantity of medical drugs and other stores to be carried in vessels taking emigrants.

(7)—To prescribe the clothing to be supplied to migrants while proceeding to a labor district.

(8)—To prescribe the description, quantity, and quality of provisions to be taken by vessels carrying emigrants, and the daily allowance to be issued to each emigrant during the journey.

(9)—To provide for the ventilation and cleanliness of vessels during the journey, to prescribe the number of officers, cooks, and other servants, and to provide for their control; and to provide generally for the accommodation of emigrants.

(10)—To provide for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of all emigrants detained at any place by order of a magistrate on account of sickness.

(11)—To provide for the periodical inspection of laborers, and the books to be kept by inspectors of laborers.

(12)—To provide for the house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and supply of rice to be provided by employers for their laborers.

(13)—To provide for the hospital accommodation and medical care of laborers, and to prescribe the nature, quality, and quantity of medical drugs and other stores to be provided for them.

The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time fix penalties not inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Act for infringements of any such rules, which may be enforced and recovered as other penalties under this Act on conviction by a magistrate: Provided that no penalty shall exceed five hundred rupees.

All such rules, with the penalties (if any) for their infringement, shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall be separately printed and sold to the public at 4 annas for each copy.

5. Every contract made with an emigrant, and all arrears of wages due under any such contract, and all fines imposed on any employer under the provisions of this Act, shall be a charge upon the lands upon which such laborer has been engaged to work.

Contract made with emigrant is a charge upon the land;

The owner of such lands for the time being shall have all rights and remedies against such laborer, as if such owner had been originally the party executing such contract as employer.

No person, after he has ceased to be the owner of such lands, nor his property nor effects, shall be in anywise liable or responsible for any breach of such contract which may have occurred after he has ceased to be such owner.

Determination of ownership determines liability.

6. Any engagement or contract made under the provisions of this Act by a native of India, who is above the age of sixteen years, shall be held valid.

Any person above the age of 16 years may contract.

7. No contract to labor in the Labor Districts for more than one year shall be binding upon an emigrant, unless it is made in accordance with this Act; and no emigrant shall be bound to fulfil any contract of labor upon any estate or portion of an estate which has been declared unfit for the residence of laborers under the provisions of Sections 118 and 119.

No contract binding for more than one year, unless under the Act.

No contract binding where estate declared unfit for residence.

8. For every offence against the provisions of this Act, for which no special penalty or amount of fine is prescribed, the offender shall on conviction by a magistrate be punished with a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees. Wherever in this Act no special term of imprisonment is appointed in default of payment of the fine, the offender shall be liable to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding one month.

Penalty for any offence not especially provided for

9. All offences against this Act committed without the town of Calcutta shall be inquired into and tried according to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and all offences against this Act committed within the said town shall be inquired into and tried by a police magistrate of the said town according to the provisions of the laws regulating the investigation and trial of offences within the said town, which shall be for the time being in force.

Procedure on trial of offences created by Act.

PART II.—EMIGRATION.

Chapter 2.—Restrictions and Appointment of Officers.

10. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in case he shall be of opinion that the emigration of natives of India from any district, or to any particular part of any labor district, for the purpose of laboring, is likely to be attended with danger to the health of any native of India so emigrating or others, or if the Lieutenant-Governor has reason to believe that a political disturbance is likely to occur in any labor district, to prohibit, by an order under his hand, the emigration of such natives from such district, or to such labor district or particular part thereof, and from time to time to revoke or vary any such order; and every such order or variation or revocation thereof shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

11. Any person who shall knowingly engage any native of India so to emigrate while any such emigration shall be prohibited under the provisions of the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every native who may have been so engaged.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor may appoint a proper person to be the superintendent of emigration at Calcutta, and may also appoint any proper person to be Superintendent of emigration at any other place with all or any of the powers of a superintendent of emigration, and may also appoint proper persons to be embarkation agents and medical inspectors of emigrants at any places where he may think proper, and define by notification in the Calcutta Gazette the local limits within which each such officer shall exercise the powers and authority conferred upon him by this Act. He may at any time suspend or remove any such officer.

13. Any employer may, by certificate, authorize a garden sirdar to engage natives of India to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring therein for hire upon lands of which such employer is in charge, under contracts to be made and executed according to the provisions of this Act.

14. It shall be lawful for the superintendent of emigration to grant to such persons as he may think fit licenses to act as contractors for engaging and supplying persons for the purpose of laboring for hire in the labor districts, or to act in behalf of some contractor as recruiters for engaging persons to proceed to the said districts for the purpose of laboring therein for hire.

15. A contract registered under this Act shall in no case exceed the term of three years from the date of the arrival of the emigrant on the estate of his employer in the labor district or which he is engaged.

Every such contract shall be in the form in Schedule (A) annexed to this Act, and shall be reduced to writing, and shall specify the monthly amount of wages in money, the period of service, the name of the district in which the service is to be performed, and the price at which rice is to be supplied to the laborer.

Chapter 3.—Garden-sirdar.

16. Every garden-sirdar, authorized by an employer under the provisions of section 13 to engage natives of India to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring therein for hire, shall, before proceeding to engage any such native, personally present to the magistrate of the district, or division of the district, within which is situated the estate of the employer, a certificate signed by such employer, in which shall be stated the name and description of such garden-sirdar, the name and description of the lands for the purpose of laboring upon which he is about to engage such natives, the district (or the town of Calcutta, as the case may be) in which he is about to engage them, the number which he is authorized to engage, and, if the number exceeds twenty, the name of the contractor to whose depot they shall be conveyed. The certificate shall be in the form set forth in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act.

17. Such magistrate shall inquire into the facts stated in such certificate, and, upon being satisfied that the same are true, shall, unless it appears to him that the person presenting such certificate is unfit to be employed for the purpose of engaging natives to proceed to a labor district to labor therein for hire, countersign and date such certificate; and every such certificate shall be in force for six months from the date last mentioned, and no longer.

18. If, under his certificate from his employer any garden-sirdar is authorized to engage more than twenty natives of India, he shall be in all respects, save as regards his certificate, subject to the provisions of this Act which relate to recruiters. The following rules of this chapter shall apply to every garden-sirdar who is not authorized to engage more than twenty such natives.

Garden-sirdar who is not a Recruiter.

19. A garden-sirdar shall not have authority in any district under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to engage or attempt to engage a native of India to become an emigrant, until his certificate has been countersigned by the magistrate of such district or of such division of the district; or in Calcutta, until his certificate has been countersigned by the commissioner or the deputy commissioner of police in Calcutta.

It shall be lawful for such magistrate, in case of misconduct or disobedience to or neglect of any of the provisions of this Act by garden-sirdar, to cancel the certificate of such garden-sirdar.

20. Every native of India, who enters into an engagement with a garden-sirdar to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring for hire, shall appear with the garden-sirdar before the magi-

Power to prevent emigration of laborers.

Garden-sirdar to obtain certificate from employer, and to present it to magistrate.

Penalty on engaging natives contrary to such order.

Appointment of superintendent of emigration, embarkation agents, and medical inspectors.

Employer may recruit by garden-sirdar.

Superintendent may license contractors and recruiters.

Magistrate after inquiry to countersign it.

Garden-sirdar authorized to engage more than twenty natives to be subject to provisions relating to a recruiter.

Has no authority until certificate is countersigned by magistrate.

Magistrate may cancel certificate.

Every native to appear before magistrate before removal from district.

trate of the district or of the division of the district within which the engagement was made, or through which he shall first pass on the road to his destination. The garden-sirdar shall at the same time produce his certificate to the magistrate.

21. On the appearance of such native the magistrate shall examine him with reference to his engagement; and, if it appears that he understands such engagement as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, the rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the magistrate shall register, in a book to be kept for the purpose, the following particulars, viz.—

(1)—The name, the name of the father, and the age of such native;

(2)—The name of the village or place of which such native is a resident;

(3)—The labor district to which he is engaged to proceed;

(4)—The period of service;

(5)—The rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied.

Provided that the magistrate may, if he thinks fit, require such native to appear before such medical officer as he may direct, and may refuse to register such native, unless the medical officer certifies in writing that he is in a fit state of health and able in point of physical condition to journey to and work for hire in a labor district.

22. If the magistrate finds that such native does not understand the nature of the engagement, or has been induced to enter into the engagement by fraud or misrepresentation, or if the garden-sirdar shall not have produced his certificate, he shall refuse to register such native.

23. For the registration of every such native the garden-sirdar shall pay to the registering officer a fee not exceeding one rupee and eight annas.

24. When such registration has been made, the emigrant shall execute a contract with the employer with whom he intends to contract. Such contract shall, in the presence of the magistrate, be signed in duplicate both by the emigrant and by the garden-sirdar on behalf of his employer. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper. An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the magistrate for the purpose; and after such abstract has been so entered, one of the duplicates shall be given to the emigrant and the other to the garden-sirdar.

The magistrate shall forward a certified copy of every such abstract so entered as aforesaid to the superintendent of emigration, by whom it shall be forwarded, after entry in his own register, to the magistrate of the district within which the service under such contract is agreed to be performed.

25. The provisions of the six last preceding sections shall be applicable to natives of India engaged by a garden-sirdar within the town of Calcutta, except that they shall appear for registration and execution of contract before the superintendent of emigration.

26. Every native of India who shall be brought or induced to come by any garden-sirdar from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract to proceed to the labor districts to labor therein for hire, shall be presented by the garden-sirdar for registry under the provisions of this chapter at some place within the district under the control of the said Lieutenant-Governor into which he shall first come, or at Calcutta, if he shall first come there.

27. The garden-sirdar shall personally accompany natives of India engaged by him throughout their journey from the place in which the engagement was made to the place in which they are to be employed.

28. It shall not be lawful for two or more garden-sirdars to proceed together towards a labor-district accompanied by emigrants, if the total number of such emigrants exceeds twenty, or unless the permission of the superintendent of emigration or embarkation agent shall have been first obtained.

29. Every garden-sirdar, by whom any emigrant is accompanied, shall provide such emigrant with proper and sufficient food and lodging throughout such journey. If it shall appear to any magistrate, on the complaint of any such emigrant, at any place on the journey that he has suffered any ill-treatment during the journey or that the garden-sirdar has failed to provide him with proper and sufficient food and lodging; or if it be found on examination by a medical officer appointed by a magistrate for such purpose, that any such emigrant is not in a fit state of health to proceed to or to labor in a labor-district; such magistrate may order the garden sirdar to pay to such emigrant a sum of money by way of compensation, or may cancel the contract and order the garden-sirdar to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged.

30. If any garden-sirdar, who may be ordered under the provisions of the last preceding section to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the magistrate to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the emigrant named in such order, and to recover from his employer the sum so advanced with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

31. On the arrival in Calcutta of any emigrant whose contract has been executed by a garden-sirdar on behalf of his employer, any person empowered to act as the agent or representative of such employer may require the emigrant to appear before the superintendent of emigration for the purpose of cancelling the contract. The superintendent of emigration shall, on the appearance of such emigrant, declare that the contract is cancelled, if a sum of money sufficient for his support during his return to the place at which he was engaged, be paid to him before himself, and not otherwise, and shall make an endorsement to that effect on the contract, and shall attest it with his signature. Provided that the contract of any husband or wife or parent or child of such emigrant, who may have executed a contract at the same time with the same employer, shall be cancelled at the request of such person, and in such case an equal sum of money shall be paid to such person.

32. As soon as possible after the arrival of the garden-sirdar with emigrants at the place of disembarkation, or at the nearest civil station in the district within which the emigrant has engaged to labor, the garden-sirdar shall report himself to the magistrate of the district or to any subordinate magistrate whom the magistrate may depute for that purpose, and such magistrate shall check the number of emigrants landed with the number of those registered, and shall report to the superintendent of emigration any deaths which may have occurred on the journey. Any garden-sirdar who neglects to report himself as aforesaid shall on conviction by a magistrate be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to three months.

Must report arrival in labor district.

Chapter 4.—Contractor.

33. The license granted to a contractor under section 14 shall be in the form set forth in the schedule (C) annexed to this Act. For every license there shall be paid to the superintendent of emigration a fee not exceeding one hundred rupees. Every such license shall be in force for one year and no longer; and in case of misconduct or disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act by a contractor, the superintendent may cancel his license before the expiration of such period.

in case of misconduct or disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act by a contractor, the superintendent may cancel his license before the expiration of such period.

34. It shall be the duty of every contractor to afford such information to the superintendent of emigration, and to make such returns and reports to him as the superintendent, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, may from time to time require.

To give information to superintendent.

35. Every contractor shall forthwith, upon obtaining his license, establish a depôt in a place to be approved of by the superintendent of emigration. Every such depôt shall be maintained by such contractor for the reception of natives of India to be supplied or forwarded by or through him. All such natives shall on their arrival at or in the neighbourhood of the depôt so established by the contractor, by, through, to, or for whom they were engaged or forwarded, be forthwith received therein; and shall receive in such depôt, at the expense of such contractor, suitable lodging, food, clothing, and medical attendance, until such native shall be declared by the superintendent to be no longer thereto entitled. Every such depôt as aforesaid shall be under the supervision of the superintendent, and shall be open to his inspection and the inspection of the medical inspector at all times.

36. A contractor may without other license act as a recruiter, and shall in such case be subject to all the provisions hereinafter contained with regard to recruiters.

37. In addition to the depôts for the reception of emigrants which the contractors are required to establish and maintain, the Establishment of hospital depôt.

Lieutenant-Governor may at any time direct that a separate depôt shall be established and maintained at any place for the reception of emigrants who are affected with cholera or other contagious disease. Whenever such hospital depôt is established, every contractor may be required to contribute to the expense of establishing and maintaining it in such proportion as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct. Such hospital depôt shall be under the charge of the medical inspector, who shall be competent at any time to direct the transfer thereto of any emigrants on or after their arrival at any depôt.

Contractor to contribute to expense.

Under charge of medical inspector.

Chapter 5.—Recruiter.

38. The license granted to a recruiter under section 14 shall be in the form set forth in schedule (D) annexed to this Act. For every license there shall be paid to the superintendent of emigration a fee not exceeding sixteen rupees. Every such license shall be in force for one year and no longer; and in case of misconduct or disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act by a recruiter, the superintendent may cancel his license before the expiration of such period.

Form of license.

39. Every recruiter shall hold a written pass signed by the contractor or on whose behalf he is licensed to act.

Recruiter must hold a pass.

40. A recruiter shall not have authority in any district under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to engage or attempt to engage a native of India to become an emigrant until his license has been countersigned by the magistrate of the district, or of the division of the district, or in Calcutta, until his license has been countersigned by the commissioner or the deputy commissioner of police in Calcutta; and such magistrate or commissioner or deputy commissioner of police shall, unless it appears to him that the person to whom a license has been granted is unfit to be employed as a recruiter, countersign such license.

No authority till license is countersigned by magistrate of recruiting district.

The magistrate or commissioner or deputy commissioner of police may at any time for any sufficient reason withdraw such license, provided that in any such case he shall record his reasons in writing, and shall forward a copy thereof without delay to the superintendent of emigration.

41. The magistrate or the commissioner or deputy commissioner of police in Calcutta, to whom any recruiter's license shall have been exhibited for countersignature, shall not countersign the same until he shall be satisfied that sufficient accommodation has been provided and is available for such natives of India as may be engaged by such recruiter pending their removal to a depôt.

The magistrate of the district, or division of the district, in which there may be any such accommodation provided, shall have, for the supervision, management, and regulation of such accommodation, all such and the same powers and authorities as are vested in the superintendent of emigration for the supervision, management, and regulation of depôts which are subject to the powers and authority of the superintendent.

42. Every native of India who shall, in any place or town within the said provinces, enter into any engagement with any recruiter to proceed to a labor district, for the purpose of laboring for hire, shall be brought by such recruiter before such medical officer as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time appoint to examine such natives within such place or town; or, if no such officer has been appointed, before such medical officer as the magistrate may direct. The medical officer shall thereupon examine the native brought by the recruiter, and shall reject him or shall certify in writing that he is in a fit state of health and able, in point of physical condition, to journey to and work for hire in a labor district.

43. Every such native who is certified by the medical officer, as required in the last preceding section, to be fit to emigrate to a labor district, shall thereupon appear with the recruiter before the magistrate of the district or division of the district within which the place or town where the engagement was entered into is situate. The recruiter shall at the same time produce his license to the magistrate.

On the appearance of such native the magistrate, after inspecting the medical certificate, shall examine him with reference to his engagement, and if it appears that he understands such engagement as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, the rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the magistrate shall register in a book to be kept for the purpose—

(1.) The name, the name of the father, and the age of such native;

(2.) The name of the village or place of which such native is a resident;

(3.) The contractor's depôt to which it is intended that he shall proceed;

(4.) The labor district to which he is engaged to proceed;

(5.) The period of service;

(6.) The rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied.

If the magistrate thinks that such native does not understand the nature of the engagement, or has been induced to enter into the engagement by fraud or misrepresentation, or if the recruiter shall not have produced his license, he shall refuse to register such native.

44. A certified copy of his registration, written on substantial paper, shall be furnished by the magistrate to each emigrant.

45. A certified copy of every such registration and the original certificate of the medical officer shall be forthwith forwarded by the magistrate to the superintendent of emigration.

46. For the registration of every such native the recruiter shall pay to the registering officer a fee not exceeding one rupee and eight annas.

47. The provisions of the five preceding sections shall be applicable to all natives of India engaged by recruiters within the town of Calcutta, except that they shall be brought for registration before the superintendent of emigration therein.

48. Every native of India who shall be brought or induced to come by any recruiter from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract in a district under such control, shall be presented by the recruiter for medical examination and registry under the provisions of this chapter at some place within the district under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor, into which he shall first come, or at Calcutta, if he shall first come there.

49. Every recruiter, who forwards or accompanies any native of India from the district or division of the district within which the place or town where he has been recruited is situate, or into which, under the last preceding section, he has first come, or who induces any such native to leave such district or division of district for the purpose of proceeding to a labor district, without being duly registered as above required; or who forwards, accompanies, or induces any such native to proceed to any depôt other than the depôt registered under section 35, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished in respect of every such native so forwarded, accompanied, or induced, with a fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term which may extend to one month.

50. All emigrants proceeding to a depôt shall be accompanied throughout the journey by the recruiter himself, or by a competent person appointed by him with the approval of the magistrate, by whom such emigrants have been registered. The magistrate shall give to the person so appointed a certificate under his signature stating that he has been appointed for the journey to the depôt.

51. Every recruiter, by whom any emigrant is forwarded or accompanied to a depôt, shall, throughout the journey, provide such emigrant with proper and sufficient food and lodging. If it shall appear to a magistrate, on the complaint of any such emigrant at any place on the journey, that the recruiter has failed to provide him with proper and sufficient food and lodging, at such place, such recruiter shall, on conviction by such magistrate, be punished with fine which may extend to fifty rupees. The whole or any portion of such fine may be awarded to such emigrant as compensation. If the fine be not paid within twenty-four hours, the recruiter shall be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to one month.

Chapter 6.—Depôt.

52. Within twenty-four hours after the arrival at any depôt of any emigrant, the contractor by whom such depôt is maintained shall give to the superintendent of emigration a notice in writing of such arrival, which notice shall be in such form and shall contain such particulars as the superintendent shall prescribe.

53. The copy of the registration and the medical certificate of every emigrant received by the superintendent as provided in section 45 shall be shown to the medical inspector; and all emigrants shall be inspected by the medical inspector at the depôt. If he be satisfied that an emigrant is in a fit state of health, and able in point of physical condition to journey to and labor in a labor district, he shall countersign the copy of the registration; if he be not satisfied thereof, he shall give a certificate to that effect to the superintendent.

The medical inspector shall examine any emigrant in regard to whom a medical certificate is not forthcoming, and shall certify whether such emigrant is in his opinion in a fit state of health and able in point of physical condition to journey to and work for hire in a labor district; and if satisfied of his fitness, he shall countersign the copy of the registration.

54. If the medical inspector shall certify that any emigrant so examined is in such a state of health that his journey to a labor district would be dangerous to himself or to others, or that he is unfit for labor in a labor district, the superintendent may order the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, if such emigrant has been forwarded or brought to the depôt by a garden-sirdar, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged. Provided that any such person, who from his state of health is, in the opinion of the medical inspector, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was engaged, shall, until he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey, be fed, clothed, lodged, and medically attended at the expense of such contractor, or of such garden-sirdar, as the case may be. If such contractor or garden-sirdar negligently or wilfully omits to provide food, clothing, lodging and medical attendance for such person, the superintendent may order such contractor or garden-sirdar to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation.

55. Whenever an emigrant remains behind or is detained under the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant, as the case may be, to remain with the emigrant so remaining behind or detained. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain behind with the father or mother.

56. If upon the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, it shall appear to the superintendent of emigration on the complaint of such emigrant, that he has suffered any ill-treatment on the journey, or that the recruiter or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, has failed to provide him with proper and sufficient food and lodging, the superintendent may cause him to be removed from the depôt, and may order the contractor or garden-sirdar, for or by whom he shall have been taken to such depôt, to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation, or sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged, and in such latter case he shall not be bound to execute any contract.

57. Every emigrant, who is passed by the medical inspector as in a fit state of health and able, in point of physical condition, to journey to and labor in a labor district, shall execute a contract with the employer with whom he intends to contract before he is forwarded from the depôt. Such contract shall, in the presence of the superintendent of emigration, be signed in duplicate both by the emigrant and by the employer with whom he intends to contract or his agent. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper. Before the emigrant signs the contract, the superintendent shall personally explain it to him; and shall attest such contract and certify at the foot thereof that he has personally explained the same. An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the superintendent for the purpose, and after such contract has been so entered, one of the duplicates shall be given to the emigrant, and the other to the person with whom he has contracted or his agent.

The superintendent shall, within seven days after the entry of such abstract, send by post a certified copy of every such abstract to the magistrate of the district in which the service under such contract is agreed to be performed.

58. Any emigrant who, without reasonable cause, refuses to execute such contract in conformity with the engagement previously registered shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with a fine equal in amount to the entire cost incurred by, or on behalf of, the contractor, or the Recruiter must provide food and lodging for emigrants on journey.

Family of detained emigrant may remain with him.

Emigrant ill-treated during journey may obtain compensation.

Contractor to report arrival of emigrants.

Emigrants to be inspected by medical inspector immediately on arrival.

Contract to be explained by superintendent and executed in duplicate, and abstract to be entered in book to be kept by superintendent.

Medical inspector to examine emigrant if medical certificate not given.

Emigrant rejected by medical inspector to be sent back.

Penalty on emigrant refusing to execute contract.

garden-sirdar, as the case may be, in engaging, registering, and bringing or forwarding him to the depôt, and shall forthwith be discharged from such depôt. Every fine levied under the provisions of this section shall be paid to the contractor or garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom the person from whom such fine shall have been levied was originally registered.

59. If within thirty days after the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, the contractor or, if he has been engaged by a garden-sirdar, the garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom such emigrant has been registered, shall not tender to him for execution such contract as under the provisions of the preceding sections he would be bound to execute, the superintendent may order the contractor or the garden-sirdar, as the case may be, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place where he was engaged, and in such case such emigrant shall not be bound to execute any contract.

60. If any contractor or garden-sirdar who may be ordered, under the provisions of sections 54, 56, and 59, to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the superintendent to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the person named in such order, and to recover from such contractor or garden-sirdar or his employer the sum so advanced, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

Chapter 7.—Transport.

61. When the contract of any emigrant has been executed under the provisions of this Act he may, with the permission of the superintendent of emigration, be forwarded to the labor district in which he has engaged to labor by the contractor in whose depôt he is residing, or by the employer with whom he has made the contract or his agent. Every such emigrant shall be furnished with a pass in the form set forth in schedule (E) annexed to this Act, signed by the contractor or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, and countersigned by the superintendent of emigration and by the embarkation agent at the place at which the laborer embarks, specifying his name and age, the name of his father, the place of his destination, and the name of his employer. Every such pass shall be entered in a book to be kept by the embarkation agent, and shall be dated and numbered in a consecutive series.

62. It shall not be lawful for the master of any vessel, without a license granted by the embarkation agent within the local limits of whose authority any emigrant may embark, to convey more than twenty emigrants at any one time to or towards any labor district.

A fee not exceeding four annas for every emigrant shall be paid for every such license, and it shall be in the discretion of the embarkation agent to whom application is made to grant or withhold any such license. Such license shall be in force for only one voyage to one or more of the labor districts, and shall specify the number of emigrants which the vessel is licensed to carry and the number of persons (including the crew) other than emigrants whom such vessel is licensed to carry.

The master of any vessel, in which at one time more than twenty emigrants are conveyed without a license having been obtained as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

63. Such license shall state the date on which the vessel shall leave the place at which the emigrants are to embark. If the vessel does not leave such place and proceed on its voyage within 24 hours of the day fixed, the master thereof shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for each day during which the vessel remains at or within five miles of the place of embarkation. Provided that such penalty shall not be incurred if the delay is caused by or with the sanction of the embarkation agent or by any casualty incidental to or attending navigation, or is due to other reasonable and sufficient cause.

64. If the master of any vessel, after having obtained a license as aforesaid, fraudulently does or suffers to be done any act or thing whereby the state of the vessel is altered, so that such vessel is unfit for the accommodation of the number of emigrants mentioned in such license, such master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

65. The master of any vessel licensed to carry emigrants, who receives on board his vessel a greater number of emigrants or other persons than the number specified in his license shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with a fine for every emigrant or other person so received in excess of the licensed number.

66. In computing under this Act the number of persons on board of any vessel, two children under the age of ten years shall be reckoned as one person only.

67. It shall not be lawful for the master of any vessel, whether licensed or not, to embark any emigrants on board his vessel for conveyance to, or towards a labor district, if the total number of persons to be carried by such vessel (exclusive of the crew, and of any garden sirdar or other person accompanying the emigrants,) exceeds twenty, unless the emigrants are furnished with a pass by the embarkation agent in the form set out in Schedule (E) of this Act.

The master shall, on conviction by a magistrate be punished with a fine not exceeding ten rupees for every emigrant illegally taken on board.

The embarkation agent shall not grant any such pass without a certificate from the medical inspector that such emigrants may be allowed to embark without danger to the health of other persons on board the vessel.

68. The master of a licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall not proceed on the voyage towards a labor district until he has received from the embarkation agent a list of all the emigrants on board.

Such list shall contain all the particulars noted in the pass of each such emigrant; but if all the emigrants whose names are entered in any one pass embark on board the same vessel, it shall be sufficient if the number and date of such pass are noted in the list. The embarkation agent and the master of the vessel shall together personally ascertain that the number of emigrants on board corresponds with the number entered in such list.

List what to contain.
To be compared with emigrants by agent and master.

If the master of such vessel allows any emigrant not entered in such list to proceed in the vessel, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty for admitting emigrants not in list.

The embarkation agent shall send a copy of the said list or an extract from it to the magistrate of the labor district to which any of the emigrants are proceeding.

Copy of list to be sent to magistrate.

69. There shall be laden under the supervision of the embarkation agent on board of any licensed vessel carrying emigrants to or towards any labor district, at the time of the embarkation of such emigrants, such supplies of provisions, clothing, medical drugs, and other stores, and such medical and other officers, and such cooks and other attendants, as may be required under the rules made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act.

Provisions, medical and other stores, medical officers, cooks, &c.

The master of any such vessel who shall commence the voyage without having on board such supplies of provisions, clothing, medical drugs, and other stores, and such medical and other officers, and such cooks and other attendants, as may be required as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Penalty if master proceeds without.

70. No vessel carrying two hundred emigrants shall be allowed to proceed on the voyage unless a medical officer, who is a licentiate in medicine, or who is declared to be qualified for such charge by order of the Lieutenant-Governor, has been appointed to the charge of such emigrants. And any master who shall commence the voyage without having on board such medical officer as aforesaid shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and, in default of payment, imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

Vessel carrying 200 emigrants must carry a qualified medical officer.

71. If the master of any licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall, save as hereinafter is provided, cause or permit any emigrant, whose contract has been executed under the provisions of this Act, finally to leave such vessel at any place other than that named as the destination of such emigrant in his pass, such master shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for each such offence. Provided always that this section shall not be deemed to prevent the master of any vessel from permitting emigrants to disembark at any place or places on the voyage so long as such disembarkation is not intended or known to be likely to be final; nor to prevent the final disembarkation of any emigrants in case of accident or other unavoidable necessity, if such accident or necessity be forthwith reported to the embarkation agent by whom the license of such vessel was granted, and to the nearest magistrate in the district within which such accident may occur or necessity arise.

72. Every licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall stop at every place in which a magistrate is stationed, intermediate between the places of embarkation and disembarkation of such emigrants, and shall remain during not less than six hours of daylight. The master of every such vessel shall immediately on arrival report to the magistrate, or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 89, the number of emigrants on board, the general state of their health, and the number of deaths (if any) which have occurred among the persons who embarked on such vessel.

Any master who wilfully omits to comply with the provisions of this section shall on conviction be punished with fine.

73. A magistrate may at any time go on board of any licensed vessel carrying emigrants while within the limits of his jurisdiction, and may inspect the vessel, the emigrants, and all persons on board. The master and officers of such vessel shall be bound to afford to such magistrate all reasonable facility for such inspection, and to give him all such information respecting the emigrants or other persons on board as may be reasonably required, and respecting any deaths which may have occurred on board, and respecting any other facts which may affect the health of the emigrants.

Magistrate may at any time inspect vessel.

Master bound to give all information required.

Any master or other officer, who wilfully omits to give any such information to such magistrate, shall on conviction be punished with fine.

Penalty for omission.

74. On the arrival of any licensed vessel, or at any time while it is within the limits of his jurisdiction, the magistrate may regulate the communication between such vessel and the land, and may prohibit all persons from leaving the vessel and all persons on land from proceeding on board. And any person not complying with any order made under this section shall on conviction be punished with fine.

Magistrate may regulate communication between vessel and land.

75. A magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that any emigrants on board any licensed vessel within the limits of his jurisdiction are or are likely to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, detain such vessel, and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the emigrants on board such vessel, and to report on their health, and whether any or what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease. After the submission of such report the magistrate may detain the vessel for a further period not exceeding five days for the purpose of carrying out such measures, if any, recommended by the medical officer in his report, and he may further detain at such station for medical treatment any emigrant who is affected with any infectious or contagious disease.

Magistrate may detain vessel for inspection and for removal of disease, and may detain sick emigrants.

76. If it appears to a magistrate expedient that any emigrant, whose contract has been executed under the provisions of this Act, should not be allowed to proceed towards a labor district, in consequence of ill health, he may order the detention of such emigrant; and in such case he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of such emigrant.

Magistrate may detain sick emigrants, and shall arrange for their accommodation and treatment.

77. All expenses incurred under Section 76 by a magistrate or other officer deputed by him under the provisions of section 89, in respect of any emigrant so detained, shall, with interest at six per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the contractor by whom the emigrant has been engaged or forwarded; or in the case of an emigrant engaged by a garden-sirdar, from the employer from whom such garden-sirdar received his certificate.

Expenses how to be recovered.

78. If it appears to a Magistrate that the health of any emigrant (other than an emigrant mentioned in the last preceding section) is such, that he cannot proceed without endangering the health of those on board, he may order the detention of such emigrant.

Detention of emigrants, having infectious diseases.

79. If it appears to a magistrate making an inspection of any licensed vessel that the number of emigrants on board is larger than the number specified in the license, he may remove the excess number and detain them until another opportunity of forwarding them to their destination is found. The necessary expense of maintaining such emigrants, and of conveying them to their destination, shall be recoverable by such magistrate or other officer who may have been deputed as aforesaid from the master of such vessel.

Measures to be taken if excess number of emigrants is found on board.

80. In any case in which, on making an inspection of a licensed vessel, a magistrate shall find that any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act have not been complied with, he shall report the same to the embarkation agent by whom the license to carry the emigrants was granted to such vessel; and, if the circumstances of the case are such as in such magistrate's opinion make it necessary so to do, he may detain the vessel until the provisions of this Act, or any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor as aforesaid, have been complied with, so far as to make it possible for the voyage to be further prosecuted with safety and reasonable comfort to the emigrants.

Infraction of the Act and rules to be reported.

Vessel may be detained.

81. Whenever any licensed vessel carrying emigrants arrives at a civil station at which it is intended that any of such emigrants shall disembark, the master shall immediately give notice of the arrival to the magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 89, and shall forward to him at the same time the list furnished to him by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 68, or a copy of so much of the said list as relates to the emigrants who are to disembark. The master shall not permit any emigrants, whose contracts have been executed under the provisions of this Act, to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate.

On arrival of licensed vessel at the place of disembarkation, the master shall give information to the magistrate.

Immediately on the receipt of such notice the magistrate shall send information of the arrival of the emigrants to the employers with whom they have contracted, or to the agents of such persons. And he shall at the same time direct the civil medical officer of the station, or other qualified medical officer, to go on board such vessel and to inspect such emigrants.

Magistrate shall send information to employer or agent.

And direct medical inspection.

Such medical officer shall, without delay, make a careful inspection of all such emigrants; and, after making such inspection, shall prepare and sign a report, in which he shall certify the state of health and general condition of each emigrant so inspected.

82. The magistrate shall detain at the station for medical treatment any emigrant, whose contract has been executed under the provisions of this Act, who is, in the opinion of the medical officer, in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the place at which he has contracted to labor. In such case he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for the accommodation, support, and medical treatment of such emigrant, and all expenses so incurred by the magistrate in respect of any emigrant so detained shall, with interest at six per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the employer with whom such emigrant has contracted.

Sick emigrants to be detained at station.

83. The magistrate shall also ascertain whether reasonable provision has been made for the support and lodging of emigrants, whose contracts have been executed under the provisions of this Act, from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination. If he is satisfied that such reasonable provision has been made, the employer with whom such emigrants have contracted or his agent shall forthwith take charge of such emigrants except those, if any, detained under the provisions of the last preceding section. But if such reasonable provision has not been made, or if the employer or his agent shall not be present at the place of disembarkation, the magistrate shall order such arrangements to be made, and incur such expenses as under the circumstances may seem to him necessary; and the amount of expenses so incurred by him in the disembarkation, or in respect of the food, lodging, medicines, hospital attendance, or clothing of the laborers, shall, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, be recoverable by him from the employer with whom such emigrants have contracted.

If necessary provision has been made for the support and lodging of the emigrants, they shall be made over to employer or agent.

If not made, or if employer or agent not present, magistrate to make arrangements.

Expenses recoverable from employers.

84. If it is intended that emigrants, whose contracts have been executed under the provisions of this Act, on board of any licensed vessel shall disembark at a place which is not a civil station, the master of such vessel shall report the arrival, as required in section 81, to the magistrate or such officer as may have been deputed by the magistrate in that behalf under the provisions of section 89, at the last civil station which such vessel shall pass before arriving at the said place of disembarkation, and shall not proceed on his voyage until the medical inspection of such emigrants has been made as provided in the said section. The master shall not permit any such emigrants to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate. Immediately on the receipt of such notice, the magistrate shall send information of the arrival of the emigrants to the employers with whom they have contracted, or to the agents of such persons. When such inspection has been made, the magistrate shall, without delay, authorize the master to proceed on his voyage, provided that he may, if he thinks fit, detain any emigrant who is unfit to proceed under the provisions of section 76.

make a report under the provisions of this chapter, shall submit such report to the magistrate, and shall enter therein the name and age of each emigrant, the name of his father, the place of his destination, and the name of his employer, as set forth in the list prepared by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 68.

88. The magistrate or other officer deputed by

Magistrate to report arrival of all emigrants, and all proceedings, to the superintendent of emigration;

him under the provisions of section 89, shall make a detailed report to the superintendent of emigration, of the arrival of all emigrants carried in a licensed vessel, and of all proceedings taken and orders passed by him under the provisions of this chapter, and shall forward with such report a copy of every report made to him by a medical officer relating to emigrants proceeding to a labor district. He shall also forward to the superintendent any observations which he or the medical officer may think fit to make in regard to the state of health and general condition of the emigrants. Whenever such reports or observations relate to emigrants carried in a licensed vessel, he shall forward them to the embarkation agent by whom such emigrants were despatched, and the agent shall transmit them to the superintendent with any remarks which he may desire to record.

89. The magistrate of a district, or of a division of a district, may depute any subordinate magistrate to exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on a magistrate under the provisions of sections 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 79, 80, 81, 82, 84, and 88.

Magistrate may depute a subordinate magistrate to discharge the functions of the magistrate.

90. Every master of a vessel, or medical officer executed under the provisions of this Act, who deserts while in transit from the district in which he has been registered to the district in which he has engaged to labor may, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a period which may extend to three months. Such offence may be inquired into and tried in the district in which such emigrant is apprehended, or in the district in which the desertion took place, or in the district in which he was registered.

93. The provisions with regard to engaged natives of India and emigrants contained in sections 27, 29, 30, 31, 51, 54, 56, 69, 75, 76, 80, 82, 83, and 84 to apply to children, &c., accompanying emigrants. this Act, shall be applicable to such women, children, and aged relatives of such natives and emigrants as may, with the consent of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, and with the written permission of the registering magistrate or superintendent, accompany them without having entered into an engagement.

94. The provisions of this Chapter shall not apply to domestic servants, or to any person proceeding alone or accompanied by his wife and family only.

Provisions of this Chapter not to apply to domestic servants &c.

PART III.—LABOR DISTRICTS.

Chapter 8.—Inland Labor Transport Fund.

95. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, fix a yearly rate, not exceeding one rupee and eight annas per laborer, for the purpose of defraying the expense of carrying out the purposes of this Act; and the sum or rate so fixed shall be paid half-yearly by each employer on the last day of July and the last day of January in each year for each laborer entered in the last return of laborers furnished (as is hereinafter provided) by such employer before such date.

96. If any employer shall fail to comply with the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to notify such default to him; and if within one month from the receipt of such notification, or such longer period as it may, under special circumstances, appear to the magistrate reasonable, such employer shall not so comply, the magistrate shall, by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer, levy the sum so payable.

If there shall be no such moveable property, or insufficient moveable property so found, the amount shall be recoverable by a civil regular suit from the person for whose benefit the laborers in respect of whom the same may be payable shall have been employed. In every such suit the Government shall be named as plaintiff, and the cause of action shall be taken to have arisen within the limits of the jurisdiction of any court having jurisdiction at any place where any such laborers may have been employed by such employer.

97. Subject to the powers conferred on a magistrate by this Act or by the Code of Criminal Procedure, of awarding fines in whole or in part as compensation to or for the benefit of any complainant or other person, all fines, fees, and rates levied and paid under this Act shall be credited to a fund which shall be called the "Inland Labor Transport Fund," and such fund shall be at the disposal of the Lieutenant-Governor for defraying the expenses of carrying out the purposes of this Act.

Chapter 9.—Inspector's Returns and Magistrates' Inspections.

98. The Lieutenant-Governor may appoint in any labor district so many inspectors and assistant inspectors of laborers as he may think proper, and may define, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, the local limits within which each such inspector and assistant inspector shall exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on him by this Act. Such inspectors and assistant inspectors may be by the said Lieutenant-Governor vested with all or any of the powers of a magistrate.

99. The Lieutenant-Governor may authorize inspectors and assistant inspectors to entertain such establishment as he may think fit. An assistant inspector shall perform all such duties and exercise all such powers of an inspector as he is authorized in writing by the inspector to perform or exercise.

100. Every employer shall, on or before the last day of January and the last day of July in each and every year, make out in writing, and deliver to the inspector of laborers, a return of the number of all laborers (as well laborers defined by this Act as others) employed by such employer on the last day of the preceding month, and return of the sickness and mortality among the laborers during the preceding six months.

Such returns shall be kept separate with regard to each class of laborers as above mentioned, and, in the case of laborers as defined by this Act, the return of laborers employed shall specify the date on which the contract of each laborer commenced, and the period of service contracted for.

Copies of such returns shall be entered in a book to be kept by the employer at his place of business or on his estate.

101. If any laborer shall die, desert, complete his contract, or obtain a release therefrom during the six months preceding any such return as in the last preceding section is mentioned, the fact of such death, desertion, completion of contract, or release, shall be entered, in the book to be kept as aforesaid by the employer, opposite the name of such laborer.

102. On the arrival of any laborer, as defined by this Act, on the estate of his employer, the name and description of such laborer shall be entered in the book to be kept as aforesaid by the employer, and in like manner the name and description of every person, who shall contract to labor otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, shall be so entered. Such book shall be open to the inspector of laborers, who shall have power to muster all laborers and other persons lastly hereinbefore mentioned, and to verify the accuracy of the entries in such book.

Appointment of inspectors and assistant inspectors.

Establishment.

Duty of assistant inspector.

Half-yearly report of laborers employed, of their state of health, and of mortality.

Separate returns of each class of laborers to be kept.

Copies to be kept.

Entry to be made of death, desertion, &c.

Entry to be made of name and description of laborer.

103. If any employer shall refuse or wilfully omit duly to send in any such return, or shall knowingly send in an incorrect return, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty for omission to furnish such report or for submitting false report.

104. Every inspector of laborers shall once within each of such periods as may be fixed for such purpose by the Lieutenant-Governor, visit all lands time to enter and inspect any hospital, tent, camp, or building, wholly or partially used by or for laborers, and to require that any laborer shall be brought before him with his contract, and to make any inquiries which he may think proper touching the condition or treatment of any laborer.

If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, wilfully obstructs or impedes any entry, inspection, or inquiry, made under either of the two preceding sections, such employer or other person as aforesaid shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each such offence.

Penalty for obstructing inspection or inquiry.

Chapter 10.—Regulation of Labor.

106. Every employer shall from time to time, with the sanction of the inspector previously obtained, fix the daily tasks to be executed by the laborers employed by such employer, and shall frame a schedule of such daily tasks, and publish the same by posting a copy thereof in the Bengali language upon the door of each place of payment of the laborers employed by such employer, and by sending a copy thereof in the English language to the inspector.

107. No laborer shall be bound to work under his contract more than six days in one week, or more than six hours consecutively, or more than nine hours on any one day.

Maximum amount of labor.

108. If at any time the inspector considers such schedule of daily tasks or any part thereof to be unreasonable, he shall refer the consideration of such schedule to a committee consisting of the inspector, of some employer to be nominated by him, and of some person to be nominated by the employer whose schedule is to be considered, or on his default by the inspector.

Inspector may submit schedule to a committee.

109. In case the said committee or the majority in number thereof are of opinion that the daily tasks in such schedule contained, or any of them, unreasonable, they shall modify and reduce such daily tasks in such manner as they shall deem reasonable, and such schedule so modified shall be published in manner aforesaid, and every schedule published as aforesaid shall have effect as between the employer and laborers in substitution for any former schedule.

Committee to revise schedule.

Chapter 11.—Incapacity for Labor.

110. It shall be lawful for the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority any laborer may be employed, to suspend, for such period as he shall consider advisable, the contract of such laborer, or any particular term thereof, if such laborer shall be, in the judgment of such inspector, temporarily unfitted for the performance thereof by reason of sickness, pregnancy, or other sufficient cause. Provided that every such suspension shall be endorsed by the inspector on the contract. Provided also that every such laborer shall, during such incapacity, receive such subsistence money from his employer as shall be considered sufficient by the inspector, and that the time during which the suspension continues shall not be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve.

Inspector may suspend contract of any laborer temporarily unfitted for labor.

111. If it shall be found that any laborer has been compelled to perform any species of labor for which he was at the time unfit, the employer by whom he was so employed shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Penalty for compelling laborer to perform work for which he is unfit.

112. If, in the opinion of the inspector of laborers, any laborer shall be permanently incapacitated for the performance of his contract or any material part thereof, the inspector shall certify to that effect in writing, and deliver such certificate to the employer of such laborer or some one on his behalf, and from the date of such certificate the contract of such laborer shall wholly cease and determine. The inspector shall make a return of all such cases of determination of contract in his report under section 103. Every laborer whose contract shall have been determined as aforesaid, shall be entitled to receive from his employer such sum, not exceeding three months' wages, as the inspector may award, and such sum shall be recoverable before a magistrate in the manner hereinafter provided for the recovery of wages.

Discharge of laborers permanently incapacitated.

Chapter 12.—Necessary Provision for Laborers.

113. Whenever any laborers shall be employed in any labor district, the employer of such laborers shall be bound to provide for them sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and rice.

Sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, and sanitary arrangements to be provided.

114. Every employer shall be bound to provide for his laborers such sufficient hospital accommodation, and such medicines of such quality and description, and according to such scale, as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor; and if three hundred or more laborers shall be employed by any employer, it shall be the duty of such employer to place in medical charge of such laborers a medical officer holding a medical diploma as licentiate in medicine, from some Indian or European collegiate institution authorized to grant diplomas, or an officer for the time being licensed by the local Government to act in such medical charge of laborers.

Hospital, medicines, &c., to be provided.

115. It shall be lawful for any inspector or assistant inspector who is himself a magistrate, to institute within his jurisdiction, on the lands in charge of any employer, or at some place within his jurisdiction not more than ten miles distant from such lands, an inquiry whether such employer has provided for his laborers sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice. On the complaint of any inspector or assistant inspector a similar inquiry may be made by a magistrate.

Inquiry whether employer has failed to provide as required by the rules.

116. If the employer is convicted of gross neglect in not having provided sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice, such employer shall be punished with a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees. In any case where a magistrate shall find that proper or sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice, has not been provided, he may order the employer to provide such proper and sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and rice. If the employer wilfully omits to comply with such order, he shall, on conviction, be punished with a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees a day for every day that such omission continues. In default of payment by the employer of the last mentioned fine, the person on whose account such employer has been acting shall be liable to pay the fine.

Punishment for gross neglect as to house accommodation, &c., and for wilfully omitting to comply with the order of the magistrate in such respect.

117. Wherever such sufficient hospital accommodation or such medicines of such quality and description, and according to such scale, or such medical officer as aforesaid, shall not have been provided, the employer or other person through whose wilful default the same shall not have been provided shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine for every week during which any such default continues.

Penalty for failure to provide hospital accommodation, &c.

Chapter 13.—Localities unfit for the Residence of Laborers.

118. If an inspector of laborers shall at any time have reason to believe that any estate or portion of an estate situated within the limits of his jurisdiction is by reason of climate, situation, or condition unfit for the residence of laborers, he shall give notice in writing of his opinion to the magistrate of the district, and such magistrate shall forthwith summon a committee to inquire into the fitness of such estate or portion thereof for the residence of laborers. Such committee shall consist of the magistrate, the inspector of laborers, the medical officer of the district, and one or more employers of laborers, when such persons are available. If the magistrate is unable to procure the service on such committee of any employer of laborers he may, with the sanction of the commissioner of the division, appoint one or more persons whom he may deem qualified.

Inspector to report.

Magistrate to summon committee.

Such committee shall proceed, with as little delay as possible, to inquire into the healthiness of the estate or portion thereof to which the order appointing the committee has reference, and shall hear such information on the subject as the owner of the estate, or the employer or inspector, may desire to place before it; and if such committee, or the major part in number thereof, shall be of opinion that such estate or any portion thereof be unfit for the residence of laborers, it shall record a finding to that effect; and the contract of every laborer who shall have contracted to serve on such estate shall thereupon be void as regards such estate or portion of estate as may be found unfit for the residence of laborers.

Proceedings of committee.

If committee finds unfit, contract to be void as regards such locality.

Provided that every such contract shall continue valid with regard to any other portion of such estate or to any other estate of the same employer in the same district.

Provide as regards other localities.

119. If it shall at any time appear that the number of laborers (as well laborers defined by this Act as others) who have died on any estate or portion of an estate during the preceding twelve months, bears a larger proportion to the whole number of laborers (as well laborers defined by this Act as others) employed thereon during such period than 7 per centum, or if the average annual number of laborers (as well laborers defined by this Act as others) who have died on such estate or portion thereof during the preceding three years bears a larger proportion to the whole number of laborers (as well laborers defined by this Act as others) employed thereon during such period than 7 per centum, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to direct the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inquire into and report on the following matters:—

Lieutenant-Governor how to proceed if mortality in 1st year exceeds 7 per cent. or if the average of 3 years exceeds 5 per cent.

Matters to be inquired into.

- (1) The cause or causes of such mortality.
- (2) The want (if any) of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures, on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer, causing or contributing to such mortality.

(8) The fitness or otherwise of such estate or portion thereof for the residence of laborers and the reasons thereof.

Such medical officer shall proceed with as little delay as possible, and shall hear and record such information on the subject of the several matters aforesaid as the owner of such estate or portion thereof, or the employer, or inspector may desire to place before him, and shall visit and inspect such estate or portion thereof, and shall make his report expressing the reasons of his opinion and transmit the same with the recorded information and notes of his inspection of such estate or portion thereof to the Lieutenant-Governor.

If the Lieutenant-Governor, after perusal and consideration of the said report, information, and notes, shall be of opinion that such mortality was caused the two preceding sections may have been found to be unfit for the residence of laborers, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine. Provided always that in case it shall appear to the inspector that any such estate, or portion of an estate, or any part of such portion, has become fit for the residence of laborers, he shall, with the sanction of the magistrate of the district, give under his hand a certificate of such fitness, and no employer shall be liable to fine by reason of his causing or permitting laborers to reside in any place respecting which such certificate of fitness shall have been given.

Chapter 14.—Offences committed by Laborers.

121. Any laborer, who shall absent himself from his labor without sufficient cause, may, on conviction by a magistrate, be sentenced to lose all claims to wages or allowances during the period of such absence, and also to forfeit to his employer a sum not exceeding four annas for each day during which such absence shall be continued; and in case such absence shall have exceeded seven days, or in case such laborer shall have been already convicted of the same offence within a period of three months, such laborer shall be furthermore sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for fourteen days.

service, and no magistrate is resident within ten miles of the place where such laborer may be found, such employer or any other person acting in his behalf may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any police officer (who, nevertheless, shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so), apprehend such laborer. Provided, nevertheless, that if such laborer be found in the service of another employer, he shall not be arrested without a warrant. Provided also that any person, who shall apprehend a laborer under the provisions of this section, shall without delay give the said laborer in charge at the nearest police station, and there enter the charge upon which he shall have apprehended such laborer.

Any laborer so given in charge shall be conveyed, without delay, to the nearest magistrate; and, if such magistrate be authorized to deal with the case, he shall himself adjudicate upon the charge; but if not, he shall forward the said laborer, under custody, to the magistrate or bench of magistrates authorized to deal with such case, who shall thereupon adjudicate upon such charge.

Upon complaint made to a magistrate by an employer, or any person acting on his behalf, that a laborer has deserted from his employer's service, such magistrate may issue a summons for the attendance of such laborer, or a warrant for his arrest, and appoint a day for the hearing of the complaint without previously examining the complainant.

Every laborer who deserts from his employer's service shall on conviction be punished with rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month; and every laborer, who after having been convicted of desertion, shall again desert from his employer's service, shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a period which may extend to two months; and every laborer who, after having been twice convicted of desertion shall again desert shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to three months.

If it appears to the magistrate or to the bench of magistrates adjudicating upon such charge, that such laborer has been apprehended without sufficient cause, it shall be lawful for such magistrate or bench of magistrates to impose a fine not exceeding fifty rupees on the employer, at whose instance such laborer has been apprehended, or to award compensation not exceeding fifty rupees to such laborer, and such compensation shall be paid by the employer at whose instance such laborer has been apprehended.

123. On the expiry of any sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, save as is provided in section 124, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to make over such laborer to any person appointed on the part of his employer to receive charge of him; and no conviction under this Act, or imprisonment under such conviction, shall, save as is provided in section 124, be held to operate as a release to any laborer from the terms of his contract. Provided, nevertheless, that the period of imprisonment shall in no case be prolonged by reason of their being no person present on the part of the employer to take charge of the laborer at the expiry to his sentence; but such laborer shall in that case be sent to the principal place of business of such employer, and the expense of such conveyance shall be levied from the employer in the manner provided in section 96.

124. Whenever any laborer shall have actually suffered imprisonment amounting in the whole to six months for desertion from his employer's service, it shall be lawful for the inspector, and he is hereby required, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the inspector on the back of the contract.

125. The employer, or any person authorized to act for the employer, of any laborer imprisoned for any offence under this Act, may apply to a magistrate, at any time previous to the expiry of such sentence, that such laborer be made over to him for the purpose of completing his contract; and such magistrate may, if he see good cause, make over or forward such laborer to his employer; and in that case such magistrate shall cancel the remainder of the sentence passed on him, and shall endorse on the contract of such laborer a memorandum signed by him of such cancellation.

126. Every employer who obtains an order for the return or forwarding of any laborer who has deserted, shall pay the expense incurred in such return or forwarding, and shall, before the order is issued, deposit with the magistrate such sum as such magistrate may in his discretion deem to be sufficient for defraying the expense of such return or forwarding.

127. The duration of every unlawful absence from labor, of which any laborer may be convicted, and every sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, shall be endorsed on the contract, at the time of its being passed, by the officer passing it; and no such period of imprisonment or unlawful absence so endorsed shall be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve, but such term shall extend to such further period as shall be equivalent to the aggregate amount of the imprisonment and unlawful absence so endorsed.

128. Any person who knowingly and wilfully entices away, harbours, or employs, or attempts to entice from his employment, any laborer, before such laborer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall on conviction by a magistrate be punished with fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such laborer.

Chapter 15.—Complaints made by Laborers.

129. If any laborer states to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the inspector of laborers of personal ill-usage or breach of contract.

of any provision of this Act on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement is made shall, within forty-eight hours send notice thereof in writing to the inspectors and in default of so doing, such person shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

130. Whenever any inspector of laborer receives such notice in writing as aforesaid, or whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid, is made to him by any laborer against his employer or any person acting for such employer, or whenever the inspector has other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid has been suffered by a laborer, such inspector shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situated within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the inspector within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such inspector shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

131. For the purposes of such inquiry the inspector may summon such laborer and any witnesses. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, in any way wilfully obstructs the service of, or obedience to, such summons; or if the laborer or any witness summoned intentionally omits to attend as required in such summons, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

132. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a laborer, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall enter in his book the particulars of such complaint, and a short statement of the grounds of his opinion respecting it, and shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period of the contract of such complainant.

133. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is well-founded, he shall, if himself a magistrate, dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the inspector shall not be a magistrate, he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest magistrate, and such magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case according to due course of law.

134. If, upon the complaint of any laborer, it is proved to the satisfaction of a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear for two months, it shall be lawful for the magistrate to award to such laborer the amount high shall appear to be then due to him; and also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to such magistrate to be just; and in case of default, the magistrate shall levy the entire sum by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer.

135. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any laborer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such laborer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the court of session; or if any such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such laborer triable under the

or if wages are in arrear for four months;

of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for four months; or if a magistrate shall, on the report of the inspector and after due inquiry, upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any laborer has been compelled to perform any labor while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer, or any other person placed in authority over the laborer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the laborer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the magistrate on the back of such contract.

Chapter 16.—Determination of Contract.

136. Every laborer who has completed the term of his contract shall be forthwith entitled to appear before the inspector or assistant inspector in order that the completion of his contract may be registered.

Penalty if employer detains, or omits to report. If an employer detains such laborer after the completion of his contract, or fails to give notice of such completion to the inspector within one month after the date of such completion, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

137. If any laborer is able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such laborer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on his depositing such sum in the hands of such inspector, such inspector shall give notice to the employer that such laborer requires him within one week to show cause why the contract of such laborer should not be released; and, in case no sufficient cause should be shown, such inspector shall require the production of the contract of such laborer, and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such laborer. If any employer, or other person authorized to act for the employer, shall neglect to comply with such demand as aforesaid, such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

The value of the unexpired term of contract shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third year, of the original term of the laborer's engagement.

138. Every laborer the period of whose contract has expired, or whose contract has been rescinded by the mutual consent of the parties thereto, or whose contract has been cancelled or redeemed under the provisions of this Act, shall be entitled to receive forthwith from the inspector a certificate of release in the form set forth in Schedule (F) annexed to this Act.

Acts of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 24th November 1873, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XVII OF 1873.

An Act to provide for the liquidation of the debts of the Nawáb Názim of Bengal, and for his protection against legal process.

Whereas divers large pecuniary claims have been made against Sayyid Mansur Ali, the present Nawáb Názim of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, commonly called the Nawáb Názim, which he has not the means of satisfying, and for the purpose of recovering such claims divers suits have been brought against him, and divers attachments have been issued against his property in India:

And whereas, with respect to certain jewels and immoveable property, it is disputed whether they belong absolutely to the said Nawáb Názim or are held by the Government of India for the purpose of upholding the dignity of the Nawáb Názim for the time being, and litigation has consequently arisen between the creditors of the present Nawáb Názim and the Government of India:

And whereas the Government of India is desirous of freeing the said Nawáb Názim and his property respectively from such suits and attachments, and of discharging such portions of the said claims as are proper to be paid: and of settling the said dispute as to the said jewels and immoveable property:

And whereas in the meantime and for the future, it is expedient to exempt the said Nawáb Názim, except as hereinafter mentioned, from the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts, and to render him incapable of contracting further pecuniary obligations;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called "The Nawáb Nazím's Debts Act, 1873:"

Short title. It extends to all persons and places for whom and for which the Governor-General in Council has power to make laws;

Local extent. And it shall come into force at once.

Commencement. 2. The Governor-General in Council may, from time to time, nominate and appoint such persons as he thinks fit to be a Commission for the purposes hereinafter mentioned.

All persons so nominated and appointed (hereinafter called "the Commissioners") shall continue to be members of the said Commission during the pleasure of the Governor-General in Council, and shall hold their sittings at such place or places and time or times as they think fit.

3. The Commissioners shall publish thrice in the Gazette of India in English, and in the Calcutta Gazette in English, Urdu, and Bengali, and in such other mode and languages as they think fit, a notice calling upon all persons having claims against the said Nawáb Názim or his property, whether moveable or immoveable, to notify the same in writing to the Commissioners within six months from the date of the earliest of such publications.

4. Every debt or liability to which the said Nawáb Názim is subject, or with which his property, or any part thereof, is charged, and which is not duly notified to the Commissioners within the time and in the manner hereinbefore mentioned, shall be barred:

Provided that, on sufficient cause being shown to the Commissioners, they may admit such claim within the further period of six months from the expiration of the said period of six months.

Bar of debts not duly notified.

Proviso.

5. Every such claimant shall along with his claim present full particulars thereof.

Every document on which he founds his claims, or on which he relies in support thereof, shall be delivered to the Commissioners along with the claim.

If the document be an entry in any book, the claimant shall produce the book to the Commissioners, together with a copy of the entry on which he relies. The Commissioners shall mark the book for the purpose of identification, and after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall return the book to the claimant.

If any document in the possession or under the control of the claimant is not delivered or produced by him to the Commissioners along with the claim, the Commissioners may refuse to receive such document in evidence on the claimant's behalf at the investigation of the case.

The Commissioners may from time to time call for further and more detailed particulars of any claim preferred before them under this Act, and may, at their discretion, refuse to proceed with the investigation of the claim until such particulars are supplied.

6. For the purposes of this Act, the Commissioners may summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel them to give evidence, and compel the production of documents by the same means, and, as far as possible, in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure.

7. Every investigation conducted by the Commissioners, with reference to any claim preferred before them under this Act, or to any matter connected with any such claim, shall be deemed a judicial proceeding within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

And every statement made by any person examined by or before the Commissioners with reference to such investigation, whether upon oath or otherwise, shall be deemed to be evidence within the meaning of the same Code.

8. Every witness required by the Commissioners, except at the instance of a claimant, to attend and give evidence under the provisions of this Act, shall be entitled to a reasonable sum (to be allowed by the Commissioners) for his expenses in travelling to and from, and remaining at, the place at which he is required to attend.

9. The Commissioners shall, by agreement with the claimant, or, in default of such agreement, after due and full enquiry, determine the amount which, on the consideration of all the circumstances, they may consider each claimant ought in fairness and justice to receive. And in coming to such determination, they shall not be bound by any previous agreement or judicial proceeding.

10. The Commissioners shall certify in each case the amount so determined, and upon the Governor-General in Council, within six months from the date of the certificate, paying or tendering to any claimant the amount so certified, all claims of such claimant against the Nawáb Názin or his property shall be satisfied and extinguished.

11. No suit shall be commenced or prosecuted, and no writ or process shall at any time be sued for, against the person or property of the said Nawáb Názin, unless such suit be commenced, or such writ or process be sued for, with the consent of the Governor-General in Council first had and obtained.

Such consent shall be certified by the signature of one of the Secretaries to the Government of India, and every such signature shall be judicially noticed.

And any suit which at any time shall have been, or shall be, commenced, and any writ or process which at any time shall have been, or shall be, sued for, against the person or property of the said Nawáb Názin shall be of no effect unless and until the consent of the Governor-General in Council, certified in manner aforesaid, is obtained.

12. The Commissioners shall ascertain what jewels and immoveable property are held by the Government of India for the purpose of upholding the dignity of the Nawáb Názin for the time being, and shall certify the particulars of such jewels and property; and their finding thereon shall be binding and conclusive on all persons whomsoever.

13. If any question of law, or as to the construction of a document, arises in any case under this Act, and the Commissioners think it necessary for the purposes of fairness and justice to obtain a judicial opinion thereon, they may draw up a statement of the case and refer it for the decision of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William; and the provisions of sections twenty-four and twenty-five and of the first sentence of section twenty-six of Act No. XI of 1865 shall apply as if, in section twenty-six, for the word "Court," the word "Commissioners" were substituted.

And if, in the opinion of the High Court, the statement is imperfectly framed, the High Court may return it for amendment; and the costs (if any) consequent on any such reference shall be dealt with as the Commissioners shall in each case direct.

14. The said Nawáb Názin shall be incapable of entering into any contract which may give rise to any pecuniary obligation on his part.

15. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to render the Secretary of State for India in Council, or the Government of India, liable for any debt heretofore contracted by, or on behalf of, the said Nawáb Názin, or in respect of any claim to be reimbursed, which may be made by any person supplying him with necessaries.

16. No suit or other proceeding shall be maintained against any person in respect of anything done by him in good faith under this Act.

EMIGRATION TO THE LABOUR DISTRICTS.

THE further consideration of the Bill to amend the law relating to the emigration of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and to regulate contract labor and service, in order to the settlement of its clauses, was resumed.

THE HON'BLE THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL said, before proceeding with the amendments of which he had given notice, he had one remark to make, namely that the amendments before the Council were necessarily due to the altered character of the Bill. By reason of the amendments adopted at the last meeting and the omission of the penal clauses against recruiting outside the Act, it became necessary to introduce the Advocate-General's present amendments. Some further amendments were also due to this, that while the Bill allowed recruiting outside the Act, it subjected emigrants above a certain number to the provisions of the transport sections.

THE HON'BLE THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL then moved the insertion of the following definitions after the definition of "employer" in Section 3 :—

"' Garden sirdar' means any person authorized by certificate by an employer to engage natives of India to proceed to a labor district under a contract to be made and executed according to the provisions of this Act.

' Recruiter' means any person licensed under the provisions of this Act as a recruiter.

' Contractor' means any person licensed under the provisions of this Act as a contractor."

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE the ADVOCATE-GENERAL moved the omission of Section 4. It would be seen that in lieu of this section another section would be introduced at the end of the chapter on transports; but the section proposed to be re-enacted was not so wide as that proposed to be omitted. Under the transport sections nineteen emigrants travelling by themselves could go without restriction; consequently it was not necessary to restrict emigration in the manner in which it was done by Section 4.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE the ADVOCATE-GENERAL moved the omission, in Section 10, lines 6 and 7, of the words "for the purpose of becoming laborers," and the substitution for them of the words "for the purpose of laboring." This was a necessary consequence of the definition of "emigrant" now adopted, and the definition of "laborer," which had a technical meaning in the Bill, namely, a man who was conveyed to the labor districts under a contract under the Act. He had also a verbal amendment in line 8 of the same section, to give uniformity to the language, namely to insert the words "of India" after "native."

The motions were severally agreed to.

On the motion of the Advocate-General verbal amendments were made in Section 11.

The HON'BLE the ADVOCATE-GENERAL moved the omission of Section 13 and the substitution of the following :—

" Any employer may by certificate authorise a garden sirdar to engage natives of India to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring therein for hire upon lands of which such employer is in charge, under contracts to be made and executed according to the provisions of this Act."

The section was not necessary, the penal clauses of the Bill having been abolished. But in order to render the Act more easily intelligible, he had thought it better not only to omit Section 13, but to insert the proposed new section. It would be just as well to have a key to the following chapter relating to garden sirdars.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE the ADVOCATE-GENERAL moved the omission of Sections 34 and 64. He proposed to omit the penalty imposed under Section 34 on a garden sirdar embarking emigrants without a pass on board a vessel carrying more than twenty persons. He thought one penalty on the Master of the vessel sufficient. Section 64 was an analogous section, and should also be omitted.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the Advocate-General the word "duly" in the second line of Section 65, which was considered of dubious import, was omitted, and the words "under the provisions of this Act" were inserted after the word "executed."

In Section 66 the proviso in the first clause, and the words in the third clause relating to the number of persons allowed on board without a pass, were omitted as a necessary consequence of the omission of Section 34.

On the motion of the Advocate-General, Section 71 was recast so as to stand thus :—

“It shall not be lawful for the Master of any vessel, whether licensed or not, to embark any emigrants on board his vessel for conveyance to, or towards a labor district, if the total number of persons to be carried by such vessel (exclusive of the crew, and of any garden sirdar or other person accompanying the emigrants,) exceeds twenty, unless the emigrants are furnished with a pass by the Embarkation Agent in the form set out in Schedule (E) of this Act. The Master shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding ten rupees for every emigrant illegally taken on board.”

And the following clause, taken from the latter part of Section 64, which had been omitted, was added to the section, so as to enable Embarkation Agents to hold an examination :

“The Embarkation Agent shall not grant any such pass without a certificate from the Medical Inspector that such emigrants may be allowed to embark without danger to the health of other persons on board the vessel.”

The HON^{BLE} the ADVOCATE-GENERAL moved the insertion, after the word “emigrant” in line four of Section 75, of the words “whose contract has been executed under the provisions of this Act.” It was necessary, in consequence of the enlarged definition of “emigrant,” to restrict the meaning of the word “emigrant” in this section.

The motion was agreed to. Verbal amendments were, on the motion of the Advocate-General, made in Sections 77 and 78.

On the motion of the Advocate-General the word “licensed” was inserted before the word “vessel” in the third line of Section 79, so as to restrict the provisions of the section to licensed vessels.

Section 80, which gave the Magistrate power to stop emigrants proceeding by land, was, on the motion of the Advocate-General, omitted.

On the motion of the Advocate-General, the following new section was inserted after Section 97 :—

“The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to domestic servants, or to any person proceeding alone or accompanied by his wife and family only.”

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said the first of the amendments which he had to propose was a merely verbal one. The section to which the amendment referred, Section 17, was altered at the last meeting, but it was found that the words “said labor districts” were left without meaning. It was therefore proposed to insert the words “for which he is engaged” after the words “labor district” in the 10th line.

The motion was agreed to.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said it was necessary to alter Section 81 in some degree to meet the altered character of the Bill. It was not proposed that power should be given to the Magistrate to interfere with the transit of free laborers who were not proceeding in numbers exceeding twenty. It was therefore proposed to omit from the beginning of the section the words “If in any case whatever it appears to a Magistrate expedient that any emigrant, in consequence of ill-health, should not be allowed to proceed towards a labor district,” and to substitute for them the following words :—

“If it appears to a Magistrate expedient that any emigrant, whose contract has been executed under the provisions of this Act, should not be allowed to proceed towards a labor district in consequence of ill-health.”

The motion was agreed to.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT moved the introduction of the following new section after Section 81 :—

“If it appears to a Magistrate that the health of any emigrant (other than an emigrant mentioned in the last preceding section) is such that he cannot proceed without endangering the health of those on board, he may order the detention of such emigrant.”

The effect of this would be that ordinarily the Magistrate would not interfere with emigrants proceeding alone or in small parties by land. But if any free emigrant was proceeding in a crowded vessel, and his health was such that he could not proceed without danger to others, by reason of his having the small-pox or any other infectious or contagious disease, then the Magistrate might interfere, and if his condition was such as to be dangerous to the health of others, the Magistrate would be bound to detain him.

The motion was agreed to.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT moved that in Section 82, the words and figures "Section 81" be substituted for the words and figures "Sections 79, 80, or 81." Section 80 had been omitted from the Bill; Section 79 referred only to the detention of vessels, and did not involve any extra expense, and the new section which had been added we did not propose to bring within the purview of Section 82. Accordingly if the Council would accept this amendment, Section 82 would read thus:—

"All expenses incurred under Section 81 by a Magistrate, or other officer deputed by him under the provisions of Section 93, in respect of any emigrant so detained (that is in regard to contract coolies), shall with interest at six per centum per annum be recoverable by him from the contractor by whom the emigrant has been engaged or forwarded, or, in the case of an emigrant engaged by a garden-sirdar, from the employer from whom such garden-sirdar received his certificate."

The motion was agreed to.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said he had now to move a series of small amendments which were merely intended to carry out the object of the amendments already made, and to restrict the operation of certain provisions of the Act to those particular emigrants whose contracts were made under the Act. The following amendments were then agreed to:—

Section 85.—In line 15, omit the word "such," and after "emigrants" insert "whose contracts have been executed under the provisions of this Act."

Section 86.—In the third line, after "emigrant," insert "whose contract has been executed under the provisions of this Act."

Section 87.—In the fourth line omit the word "the," and after "emigrants" insert "whose contracts have been executed under the provisions of this Act."

Section 88.—In the first line omit the word "the," and after "emigrants" insert "whose contracts have been executed under the provisions of this Act."

Section 89.—In the fourth line omit the word "the," and after "emigrants" insert "whose contracts have been executed under the provisions of this Act."

Section 96.—In the first line, after "emigrant," insert "whose contract has been executed under the provisions of this Act."

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT moved that the following clauses be added to Section 103:—

"Such returns shall be kept separate with regard to each class of laborers as above mentioned, and, in the case of laborers as defined by this Act, the return of laborers employed shall specify the date on which the contract of each laborer commenced, and the period of service contracted for."

"Copies of such returns shall be entered in a book to be kept by the employer at his place of business or on his estate."

The object of this amendment was that inasmuch as we should in future have two classes of laborers in the tea districts, we should be enabled in the returns to distinguish between laborers bound under the Act, and consequently falling under the special provisions of the Act, from laborers entertained outside the Act.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the President the following fresh sections were inserted after Section 103:—

"(1.) If any laborer shall die, desert, complete his contract, or obtain a release therefrom during the six months preceding any such return as in the last preceding section is mentioned, the fact of such death, desertion, completion of contract, or release, shall be entered in the book to be kept as aforesaid by the employer, opposite the name of such laborer."

"(2.) On the arrival of any laborer, as defined by this Act, on the estate of his employer, the name and description of such laborer shall be entered in the book to be kept as aforesaid by the employer, and in like manner the name and description of every person who shall contract to labor otherwise than under the provisions of this Act shall be so entered. Such book shall be open to the Inspector of Laborers, who shall have power to muster all laborers and other persons lastly hereinbefore mentioned, and to verify the accuracy of the entries in such book."

•HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said he now came to an amendment of some importance. The Council were aware that two meetings ago a proposition was submitted to the Council to omit what had been called the fugitive slave clauses of the Act, that was to say, to take away from the employers of laborers, the planters, the power of seizing a run-away laborer. This subject had given to the Government a great deal of anxious consideration. On the one hand we had felt that the time had come when this power might to some degree be modified; on the other hand we had been inclined to yield in some degree to the representations of the planters that a too sudden change in the procedure in such cases would disturb their relations with the laborers and injuriously affect their interests. Accordingly he had the honor to submit an amendment of the nature of the clauses specified in the amendment paper. Originally it was proposed to take away the power of arrest from the planter, and that a summary proceeding before the Magistrate should be given. But it had been said, and somewhat reasonably said, that the Magistrates in these districts were few and far between; that the power of summary proceeding before the Magistrate would be a somewhat illusory gift; and that until we were prepared to provide Magisterial Officers at reasonable distances, it would not be fair to take away this power and give a practically inoperative remedy. We had in some degree yielded to these representations. We hoped gradually to increase the number of Magistrates, and to form Benches of Magistrates composed of planters and native gentlemen. But until these Benches were established, we were inclined to think that planters had some reason to exclaim against the too sudden withdrawal of the power of arrest. The effect of the amendments would be that where the magisterial power was established within ten miles of a plantation, there the summary power of arrest would cease; but in parts of the country where there was no Magistrate within a reasonable distance, a reasonable power of arrest would be retained in a modified form and subject to certain provisions as to fine and payment of reasonable compensation in cases of arrest without sufficient cause. That was the proposal His Honor had to submit to the Council, and with a view to carry that out he would propose certain amendments which, if accepted by the Council, would make the 1st and 2nd clauses of Section 123 run thus:—

“If any laborer deserts from his employer’s service, and no Magistrate is resident within ten miles of the place where such laborer may be found, such employer, or any other person acting in his behalf, may, without first procuring a warrant and without the assistance of any police officer, who nevertheless shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so, apprehend such laborer; provided nevertheless that if such laborer be found in the service of another employer he shall not be arrested without a warrant. Provided also that such employer or other person shall without delay give the said laborer in charge at the nearest Police Station, and there enter the charge upon which he shall have apprehended such laborer.

“Any laborer so given in charge shall be conveyed without delay to the nearest Magistrate, and if such Magistrate be authorized to deal with the case, he shall himself adjudicate upon the charge; but if not, he shall forward the said laborer under custody to the Magistrate or Bench of Magistrates authorized to deal with such cases, who shall thereupon adjudicate upon such charge.”

The HON’BLE MR. DAMPIER said he had an entirely verbal amendment to suggest. As the last limb of the first clause stood, it required the employer to whose protection the laborer had run away without delay to give the laborer in charge. The words “such employer” referred to the last mentioned employer, not the employer to whose estate the laborer had run away. Therefore he proposed to leave out the words “such employer or other person,” and substitute for them the words “the person who shall apprehend the laborer under the provisions of this section.”

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT having agreed to adopt the amendment, the motion as amended was agreed to.

On the motion of the PRESIDENT a verbal amendment was made in the 3rd clause of Section 123.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT then moved the introduction of the following clause after Clause 3 of Section 123. It was proposed that if the arrest was unreasonable and unjustifiable it should be competent to the Magistrate to inflict a fine and award compensation to the party aggrieved. His Honor hoped the Council would not think this an improper proposal:—

“If it appears to the Magistrate, or to the Bench of Magistrates adjudicating upon such charge, that such laborer has been apprehended without sufficient cause, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate or Bench of Magistrates to impose a fine not exceeding fifty rupees on the employer at whose instance such laborer has been apprehended, or to award compensation not exceeding fifty rupees to such laborer, and such compensation shall be paid by the employer at whose instance such laborer has been apprehended.”

The motion was agreed to.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said he had an amendment to move in Section 12 which might be of some consequence. He found throughout the Bill that important functions were exercised by the Superintendent of Emigration. The Superintendent referred to could only be the Superintendent at Calcutta. His Honor did not quite understand how the Bill would have worked under these provisions; because although it was not now contemplated that contractors' depôts should be established elsewhere than in Calcutta, he believed garden-sirdars were entitled to enlist emigrants and convey them direct to the labor districts. In that case he did not see how the contracts could be signed before, and be attested by, the Superintendent of Emigration. His Honor was very much desirous that facilities should be given for the emigration of laborers and others from the over-populated districts of the west to the eastern districts. We were engaged in opening out roads and otherwise giving facilities for traffic from the west to the east. He was impressed with the belief that the excessive mortality in transit was due to the cholera infection at Goalundo and in the neighbourhood of Dacca. He had not the statistics before him at that moment, but he had found, as the result of very close investigation, that these outbreaks occurred soon after the vessel left Goalundo, and before it got well into Assam. If, therefore, the transit through these parts of the country could be avoided, great loss of life might be saved. It was desirable to encourage direct emigration from the over-populated districts of the west to the under-populated eastern districts. It might be desirable to give facilities for the establishment of depôts on the direct route. In that case we must either alter the frame-work of the Bill or give some of the authorities in other parts of the country the powers of the Superintendent of Emigration. With that view he would move that in the fourth line of Section 12, after the word “Calcutta,” the following words be inserted:—

“and may also appoint any proper person to be Superintendent of Emigration at any other place, with all or any of the powers of a Superintendent of Emigration.”

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the PRESIDENT verbal amendments were made in Schedules (A) and (E.)

THE HON'BLE THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL said, in consequence of the amendment of the clauses of Section 123, he proposed to withdraw his amendment as to the omission of Clauses 1 and 2, and to proceed with the amendment which he proposed to put as a fourth clause, and which stood as follows:—

“Upon complaint made to a Magistrate by an employer, or any person acting on his behalf, that a laborer has deserted from his employer's service, such Magistrate may issue a summons for the attendance of such laborer, or a warrant for his arrest, and appoint a day for the hearing of the complaint without previously examining the complainant.”

That clause was rendered necessary for the purpose of giving summary jurisdiction to Magistrates. Under the Criminal Procedure Code it was provided that whenever in regard to an offence under any law there was no procedure provided, the procedure of the Code of Criminal Procedure should be adopted. The Code of Criminal Procedure provided that in all applications for arrest there should be an examination of the complainant; and as it would be a hardship to require this in all applications for the arrest of deserting laborers, it was proposed to give this summary jurisdiction. It might be that the employer might be more than ten miles from the place of the apprehension of the laborer. If the Magistrate was satisfied of the fact of desertion, he might issue his warrant for detention without an examination of the complainant. No possible harm could arise, because under the third clause of the section, which was introduced on the motion of His Honor the President, all persons apprehending laborers without sufficient cause were liable to punishment.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said he hoped the Council would accept this amendment. It would merely give a summary and quick mode of proceeding by one instead of two processes.

The motion was agreed to.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said the Council had now gone through all the amendments that had been proposed, and if any hon'ble member had any further amendment he would have an opportunity of bringing it forward at the next meeting. The intention of the Government was that the Bill should be carefully printed and circulated, and that the Bill should be taken on the further stage that day week.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 20th December.

Rainfall, Weather and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 13th December 1873.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVISION.	1 Burdwan, 16th Dec. 1873	1.38	Slight rain in all thannahs of sudder sub-division and of Jehannabad. Rain has done harm to aman crop, good to sugarcane, and winter crop, except mustard. Price of rice little cheaper. Export continues. Fever decreasing.
	2 Bancoorah, 13th " "	0.07 on the 11th	Cloudy in the middle of the week. The rest of the week dry. The hymunti paddy is being reaped. There has been no change in the prospects of the sugarcane and other rubbee crops. The rainfall at the sudder station on the night of the 10th has slightly injured the ripe paddy in the fields, and has done no good to the rubbee crops.
	3 Beerbhoom, 13th " "	Nil	Unseasonably warm and frequently cloudy. Harvest of late rice still in progress. Cold weather sowings small. Sugarcane declining from continued droughts 6,149 maunds exported by rail to Bhauulpore and Patna Divisions. Prices slightly fallen.
	4 Midnapore, 13th " "	.04	From the 9th to the 12th cloudy and close, like August weather; one shower fell on the morning of the 11th. At Garbetta .5 inches of rain fell. It has generally benefited the sugarcane and the cold weather crops; gardens and grazing grounds are also benefited. Apparently it has done no harm to the rice which is being harvested, whether standing or cut. Water in drinking and bathing reservoirs decreasing very rapidly.
	5 Hooghly, 13th " "	.76	Clear and cloudy; rain on the morning of the 11th. The rain is of no use except for the potato crop. Prospect of other crops generally as before,—a six-anna crop of late rice and a four-anna crop of pulses, &c.
PRESIDENCY DIVISION.	Howrah, 13th " "	.72	Heavy rains on the 11th all over the district. Weather seems again to be settled and fine. The crops remain unchanged. The harvest has begun in many places. No variation to make in last report. There is no noticeable change in the prices anywhere; it is believed that the harvest, which has just begun, will bring prices down greatly.
	Central Districts.
	6 24-Pergunnahs, 15th Dec. 1873.	0.41	Cloudy in the morning during the early part of the week. A good fall of rain on the 11th, the weather has since cleared up, but continues warm for the time of the year. No change in the prospects of the late rice crop, the reaping of which is going on rapidly. The rain on the 11th in the Sudder, Barrackpore, Dum-Dum, and Baraset Sub-divisions, has benefited the cold weather crops without, as far as known, injuring to any appreciable extent the rice crop on the ground. In Busseerhat the people are anxious to sow all suitable land with boro dhan. Fever continues unabated in Busseerhat. In Barriepore it is spreading eastwards. In Setkhira and Baraset it is abating.
RAJSHAHY DIVISION.	7 Nuddea, 13th " "	0.36	Cloudy until the 11th, when rain fell. Dry and clear since that date. The late crop in the Kushtea Sub-division is expected to yield a six-anna outturn; in Meherpore an eight-anna crop of the principal cold weather food-grains may be expected; prospects have not otherwise altered. The rain of the 11th has probably done more harm than good. A few cases of cholera have been reported from Choudangah.
	8 Jessore, 13th " "	.08	Generally clear, with one or two cloudy days. Slight drizzling rain in some places on one or two days. Prospects of cold weather crops much as before. The out-turn of the rice crop may be expected on the whole to be an eight-anna one. There has been a general fall in the price of coarse rice since last week.
	9 Moorshedabad, 13th Dec 1873.	Nil	The weather same as last reported. Heavy clouds at intervals, but no rain. A very slight drizzle at Ramporehat on the 11th. The cutting of the late rice crop continues, and the produce is already being brought into the market. The cold weather crops have not improved, and rain is much needed for them. The only successful crop is kalai, which will be quite up to the average in most parts. Oil-seed (teel) and arhar are also pretty fair and may yield average crops. Boats with unhusked rice (dhan) from the eastern district have arrived at the mouth of the Khariyandi in Jalangi, and their cargoes are being bought up by the inhabitants of that neighbourhood at the rate of 27½ seers the rupee. Prices are stationary in the bazars. Small-pox has broken out in thannahs Sooty and Kaliaungunge and at Kandhee.
RAJSHAHY DIVISION.	10 Dinagepore, 13th " "	Nil	Cloudy towards evening for the last two or three days; days clear and bright. Rice is slightly cheaper. A pretty fair rice crop is expected from Thakurgaon, the northern thannah of the district, where some rain fell in October. Wheat, barley, and other cold weather crops are suffering for want of rain.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.—(Contd.)
Central Districts.—(Contd.)
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.—(Contd.)	11 Maldah, 13th Dec. 1873	Nil	Clouds collect and disperse; weather dry and cool; wind northerly. The ryots are busily engaged in reaping and harvesting the winter rice crop. The yield of the winter rice crop varies in places, but all round will not be more than a four-anna crop. The cold weather crops require rain. Pulse (kalai) ripening. Prices stationary. Supply of grain at local markets sufficient for local requirements. Between 2,000 or 3,000 labourers are at work on ordinary district roads and those newly projected, but much of the local labour will be occupied for some days in harvesting the rice crop. A district relief committee has been formed. Subscriptions raised, and small sums placed at the disposal of each police officer at out stations for relief of any casual cases of actual want or distress. No sign of anything like distress or want at present. Arrangements in progress for importing and storing grains for relief works.
	12 Rajshahye 13th " "	Nil	No change in the weather, neither any apparent prospect of rain, the continued want of which is telling considerably on the growing crops (excepting arhar and mashkalai), as well as impairing the chance of successfully completing the sowings still unfinished. The latest sowings are not germinating freely in consequence of the very dry state of the soil. The cultivation of cold weather crops generally is less than usual owing to the unfavorable state of the ground for receiving seed. In some places sugarcane is being cut early for fear of the yield of juice being shortened by the continued drought. Rahar and mashkalai are the best crops in the district and are as yet unaffected by want of rain. Boro dhan cultivation is being pushed on with much energy, especially in the west and north-west (the Blairind tract), where the preparations for this crop are more extensive than in ordinary years. Young plants are being removed from the nurseries to the banks of tanks and khals, whence they will be finally transplanted to the fields. Mulberry and indigo are thriving, and there is promise of good outturn of silk cocoons. The only change in prices is a slight fall in the north-western and north-eastern portion of the district. Cases of cholera are decreasing in frequency, but they have not altogether ceased.
	13 Rungpore, 13th " "	Nil	Cloudless, with foggy mornings. Cutting of crops going on. Prospects the same as before. Spring crops being sown, but rain is wanted. Rice slightly dearer; Rs. 3-8 to Rs. 5.
	14 Bogra, 13th " "	Nil	Weather dry still, not a drop of rain as yet. Fever is prevailing more or less in almost all the police stations of the district. Reaping of the late amun paddy has commenced throughout the district; a poor outturn is to be expected. In parts where irrigation was carried on, the yield is much less than in previous years. Cold weather crops in low lands are somewhat favorable, but those on high lands are greatly in need of rain. Mulberry is doing pretty well still. Sugarcane promises well. Price of ordinary rice at the Bogra bazar on the 13th is 12 seers and 12 chittacks per rupee.
	15 Pubna, 13th " "	Nil	Weather cold, with chilly winds from the north-west. No rain at all. The amun dhan now being cut; of the winter crops the moog and mashkalai are being reaped, which in some parts are fair. The prospects of sugarcane and turmeric good. The prospect of the rest of the winter crops is daily growing worse for want of rain, which is urgently required for their growth.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, 13th " "	Nil	Cloudy, misty weather during half the week, but not a drop of rain. Common rice a little cheaper than during last week. Bhoota has also fallen in price.
	17 Julpigoree, 13th " "	Nil	Bright, clear weather, no signs of rain. The mornings are not as cold as they should be at this time of the year. The sun is unusually powerful, and the middays and evenings are more like early March weather than December. Dews have been rather heavier for the last few days. Hymunti dhan is being cut all over the district, and as far as can be ascertained is some twelve or thirteen annas in the Dooars all round, ten and twelve annas north of Julpigoree, ten annas towards Titilyah, and twelve annas round and immediately south of Julpigoree. Boda six or seven annas all round. Cold weather crops promising well. Sugarcane very good. Old stock of dhan mostly exported from the district, and exportation going on briskly. Prices are falling. New dhan coming into the market. In some of the hats in the Dooars this week, mus dhan is selling at 14 annas per maund, hymunti at Rs. 1. Hymunti rice, coarse, Rs. 1-12; hymunti rice, best, Rs. 2-4; and mus rice Rs. 1-8. The rates, though cheap for the present season, are just double what the rates were at this time last year. At the Fallacota hat old hymunti rice is selling at 20 seers per rupee, new at 26 seers.
DACCA DIVISION.	Cooch Behar, 13th " "	Nil	The mornings are foggy. No change in the prospects of the crops. A shower of rain will now do much good to the cold weather crops.
	Eastern Districts.
	18 Dacca, 16th " "	Nil	Weather still warm. Prospects of crops as before. Oil-seeds will be a short crop. Fever abating.
	19 Furreedpore, 13th " "	Nil	No change in the condition of the rubber crops. There has not been rain for 11 weeks. Barometer is steadily rising and marks nearly 30 inches, which indicates settled fine weather. The temperature is more that of February. Clouds on the 11th. In most villages there are probably one or two richer ryots or jotedars who keep some little extra grain for exchange purposes, usually to loan out to poorer ryots, returnable in kind after the harvest. There are 2,307 villages, and supposing 50 maunds is estimated all round for each village, this would give 1,15,350 maunds; none of this would be available for export. In a year like the current one this would be doled out to such villages as have none in hand. As this rice is loaned out just before the harvest is due, it is therefore questionable whether any of this remains in stock.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
Eastern Districts.—(Contd.)
Dacca Divn.—(Contd.)	20 Backergunge,	Return not received.
	21 Mymensing, 13th Dec. 1873	Nil	Cloudy at the beginning of the week; afterwards bright, clear weather, with occasional morning fogs. Little change in the state of the crops since last report. The price of food has risen somewhat throughout the district. No present sign of rain. Pulses are being harvested in some places. The new aman rice is beginning to come into the market. Fever still prevalent in parts of the Attia sub-division. An outbreak of cholera is reported in the town of Kissengunge.
	22 Sylhet, 6th " "	Nil	Close all through the week, and very cloudy up to Wednesday. The late rice is being cut, half nearly cut, the outturn will be a good twelve-anna crop.
	23 Cachar, 6th " "	0.12	Cloudy and too warm. Slight rain followed the earth-quake of last Saturday. The river has risen about two feet since the morning of the 6th December. The crops are doing well, insects having altogether disappeared; outturn may exceed anticipations. Late rice is being cut all over the district.
	24 Chittagong, 6th " "	.95	Up to Thursday night dull, with drizzling rain. Since then the weather has cleared up and is fine and bright. The rain has put a stop to harvest operations. Insects have again appeared in the Chukerea and Satkanea thannahs.
CHITTAGONG DIVISION.	25 Noakhally, 6th " "	1.34	Weather for the most part rainy or cloudy. It is reported that the "sani" insect is attacking the crops in the neighbourhood of Sudharam. Its appearance is attributable to the prevalent close cloudy weather. In Sundeeep, Luckheepore, and other outlying thannahs the prospects are generally good. The late rice is being reaped. Exportation is going on and prices slightly rising. There is cholera both in the interior and the Sudder Station.
	26 Tipperah, 12th " "	Nil.	Weather seasonable. The aman dhan is being reaped and prospects have not varied since last report. Large exportations to districts, even as far as Benares and Ghazipore, are going on, but in spite of this there has been a slight fall in prices, indicating that the store of aman dhan must be larger than was estimated. The prospects of the winter crops are somewhat better, and the recent rain has done good to so much of the mustard as had not flowered. Cholera has not abated.
	27 Chittagong Hill Tracts, 6th Dec. 1873.	.75	Cloudy from the 1st to the 5th December, with slight and occasional falls of rain. There has been no cold weather throughout the whole week, and the temperature has been most unseasonable. The cotton is now being collected. The seeds of tobacco, mustard, and other cold weather crops are being sown; in some places they have germinated, and the prospects are generally good. There seems no dread of scarcity, but in some of the local markets there has been a rise in the price of rice, which is attributable to a corresponding rise in the Chittagong markets.
	Hill Tipperah, 6th " "	0.76	Cloudy and showery throughout the greater part of the week; unseasonably warm both day and night. The paddy is being reaped and is generally turning out better than was anticipated. The showery weather, though good for whatever cold weather crops there are, has given rise to apprehensions of damage by insects to the paddy still uncut. Prices have risen probably in consequence of this.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVISION.	28 Patna, 15th " "	Nil	Mornings and evenings very cold. No rain has fallen, but the heavy dews at night do much good to the young rubbee crops which look well where they have germinated. The rice is being cut in Behar and a one-third crop is expected. The health of the district good.
	29 Gya, 13th " "	Nil	Cool, cloudy on the 10th, but no rain fell. The rice crop is being harvested. A six-anna crop is expected. The rubbee is thriving well wherever water is available, but rain is much wanted. The prices are about stationary. The health of the district is good.
	30 Shahabad, 13th " "	Nil	Cloudy and threatening on the 10th, clear and cold during the rest of the week. Little change since last week. Prices are stationary. The rice crop, where it has been sown, is being harvested. Land is still being ploughed and sown with cold weather crops wherever possible.
	31 Tirhoot, 13th " "	Nil	Seasonable, cold and clear. In Sectamarhee sub-division the dhan is being cut and harvested in places where it has not already been cut as fodder for cattle. In Pergunnahs Basotri Mahnid, Laduari, and Nanpore there will be an one to two-anna crop. The time for sowing the rubbee crop is now passed. But if rain falls cheena and moog will be sown at once. The rahur, mustard, and wheat are coming on well where irrigation has been practicable. In the Durbhungah sub-division the rice that has come to maturity is being reaped. The crop will not exceed all round an average of two annas. No change in the rubbee prospects. Rahur and janera still look well. In the Mudhobani sub-division a three-anna rice crop is expected. The rubbee crops which have only been sown over little more than one-fifth of the ordinary area are languishing for want of rain. In the Sudder, Hajeeopore, and Tajpore sub-divisions the crops hold out surprisingly. The outturn of the rice crop for the whole district cannot be estimated at more than two to three annas.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Contd.)
PATNA DIVISION.—(Contd.)	32 Sarun, 13th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Seasonable and cold, west wind prevailing. Paddy is being harvested. It is believed that three-fourths of the ordinary rubbee area have been sown, and where sown the crops have germinated, and with the exception of one-tenth on unfavorable soils, which has since been killed by the long drought, are still doing fairly, and will yield half an average outturn in the event of rain falling within this month. Irrigation is steadily going on where practicable. Poppy has been sown nearly everywhere and has germinated well. Indigo fields are being prepared for the coming season. Prices of food-grains steady.
	33 Champaran, 13th „ „	Nil	Weather cool. West winds. The yield of late rice crop would be at the most about two annas. The rubbee plants are looking healthy on account of the beneficent night dews of the season. If it rains even in the latter end of December there is every hope of the cultivators harvesting ten to twelve-anna crop as then the season of sowing would not be over. To meet the scarcity in the face to some extent, the Koeris have largely planted cucumbers and pumpkins and other little vegetables.
	34 Monghyr, 13th „ „	Nil	Little or no change since last week. Rain is much wanted. It is doubtful whether the rubbee can come to maturity without rain. The crop however hitherto sown looks generally fair. No prospect of fresh sowings. Rice crops in Jamui gathered; yield two to six annas.
BHAUGULPORE DIV.	35 Bhaugulpore, 16th „ „	Nil	Aghani rice being rapidly reaped; about two annas outturn expected in Soopool sub-division; about nine annas in Modhepore; about eight annas in Sudder, and about ten annas in Banka sub-divisions. Rubbee still promising. General health very good.
	36 Purneah, 13th „ „	Nil	No change in weather. The mustard still promises well, as also the arhar and janera. The rice crop in the west of Dhurmpore near the Kosi is wonderfully good, but is being exported. The wheat and pulses require rain sadly. Prices, owing to the large importation, have fallen. New rice is coming into the market. No change on last week's report as regards eastern and northern parts.
	37 Southal Pergunnahs, 13th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Prospect of rain on the 11th and 12th, but only a few drops fell: the weather has now become bright and cold. No change in the state and prospect of the crops since last week.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	38 Cuttack, 16th „ „	1.29	Weather very cool. Sarud crop is being reaped; outturn a fair average. Cold weather crops promising well. Public health excellent.
	39 Pooree, 5th „ „	.88	Weather extremely bad; it is cloudy, with almost incessant rain and keen and chilly wind. The harvest of the loghoo or second rice crop is nearly completed. The recent rains have suspended all agricultural operations. The late rice crop is ripening. Cold weather crops coming on; both these crops are yet in good condition, but the continued bad weather prevailing the past eleven days will damage both the crops if it continues longer, otherwise the produce is expected to be fair. The rain and wind have laid down the paddy in some places and beat out the grains from the ears, while the ripening is retarded for want of sun. Considerable injury to the crops may be expected if the weather continues for some days more.
	40 Balasore, 13th „ „	.60	Warm during the middle of the week. Rain on the 11th, since then the weather seasonable. Most of the paddy (quite twelve annas) has been cut. Miscellaneous crops doing well. Prices rather high throughout the district: at Bhadrakh twenty-five seers, and at Jellasore twenty-four per rupee.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
	41 Hazareebaugh, 13th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Unsettled. Rain still holds off, though the cloudy weather give every promise of rain. It is now clear, bright, and cold. The greater portion of the rice crop has been harvested, but nowhere has the outturn been a favourable one, ten annas being about the estimated quantity. The prospect of the rubbee is unfavourable, and unless revived by timely rain short crop is inevitable, especially as much land usually cultivated lies fallow from want of moisture. Prices much the same as in last week's report. Imports are being received in the north from Behar district. Rice is selling at Gawan at 15 seers to the rupee; on the east of Hazareebaugh it is selling at 15 and 14½ seers. Pergunnahs Alaree, Datura, Kunda, with part of Kurumpura and Chaie are said to have at least 32,000 maunds stored in mahajun's godahs. Petty thefts of standing crops have increased in frequency. No heinous crime during the last four weeks.
	42 Lonardugga, 12th „ „	Nil	Cloudy and warm for the season. There was a sharp shower of rain on the evening of the 10th, but which appears to have been very partial. The whole of the dhan has been cut. The general average outturn in the sudder division is nearly twelve annas; the oil-seeds are not so good and will scarcely give a ten-anna crop on the whole. The prospects of the rubbee crops are very bad owing to the total absence of rain in the district. In Palamow a six-anna crop of dhan is still expected and about an eight-anna crop of oil-seeds. The rubbee crops there are dying for want of rain, and in some parts are suffering from the attacks of insects.

CHOTA NAGPORE.—(Contd.)
	South-West Frontier Agency.—(Contd.)
43	Singbhoom, 6th Dec. 1873	Nil	No rain, but weather still threatening. Nothing to add to the last weekly report. The crops have nearly all been cut and matters stand as before. There has been a slight rise in the price of rice since last week.
44	Maunbhoom, 13th „ „	0.26	A good shower fell in the Sudder Station on the night of the 10th. No rain whether similar rain has fallen in the interior. The state of things same as last report; only the influx of new rice into the market has caused the price to fall a little, the average price now being 18½ seers for the rupee. No known as to the effect of the rain in the interior.
ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS
45	Goalparah, 6th „ „	Nil	Weather cool, nights and mornings foggy. No material change in the state or prospects of the crops.
46	Kamroop,	Return not received.
47	Durrung, 5th „ „	Nil	Bright weather, easterly breeze, daily range of temperature high. No change in prospect of the outturn of the rice crop.
48	Nowgong, 5th „ „	Nil	Weather clear again and seasonable, with heavy dews at night and dense fogs in mornings. The clouds at the beginning of the week passed away and on a few drops of rain fell. The rice crop, ripe and being rapidly cut and gathered. The crop on the whole will be an average one. Kalai crop poor; mustard and sugarcane doing well. Tea operations over for the season, and pruning of bushes already commenced on some estates. The general health of the district good.
49	Seebaungor, 6th „ „	Nil	No change in weather. A slight shock of earth-quake was felt at Golaghat on 2nd instant. The prospect of the rice crop unchanged. Harvesting has commenced. Mustard crop backward for want of rain.
50	Luckimpore, 6th „ „	Nil	Heavy fogs every morning. Nights cold. A hot sun during the day. Thermometer, maximum 73°, minimum 53°. Sali rice crop being cut is expected to prove not far short of an average one. Mustard sowing completed; cold weather crops generally continue promising. Public health much the same as before, low fever rather prevalent.
51	Naga Hills, 28th Nov. 1873.	Nil	Weather seasonable, mornings and evenings chilly and cold. Cotton is being gathered and stored, the yield is below the average. A small quantity of rice was brought down to Samagoodting for sale by Nagas from the higher ranges.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills, 5th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Morning bright sun, afternoon generally cloudy. There is no rice standing in the whole of it has been harvested; the murwah is doing well.
53	Garo Hills, 6th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Fair. On some days rather hazy; less clouds this week, and nights clear. There has been no wind to injure the cotton which is still uncollected. The Garos have commenced jooming in some parts. Little to be said regarding the crops in the hills.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

[First Publication.]

The 17th December 1873.—The following Rules for Native Civil Service Examinations and Civil Service Classes coming into force after the Examination of 1874, are published for general information :—

NATIVE CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS AND CIVIL SERVICE CLASSES.

[Rules to come into force after the examination of 1874.]

INTRODUCTORY.

Now that there have been held two annual examinations for the Native Civil Service, and that a third examination is to take place in February 1874, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes to place the Native Civil Service examinations and the preparatory classes for those examinations on a permanent footing.

2. All appointments in the Subordinate Executive Service, and all posts of Rs. 50 monthly salary and upwards in the sub-divisional establishments, both in Regulation and Non-Regulation Provinces, will ordinarily be reserved for persons who pass the Native Civil Service examination. Gazetted appointments in the Police and Opium Departments will generally be conferred on persons who pass this examination; but candidates will not be eligible for these departments save under a special certificate, which can only be granted under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor. A list* of the persons who passed the Native Civil Service examinations of 1872 and 1873 showing the appointments they now hold, is appended to these rules. Lists of successful examinees will be published in the Gazette, so that Commissioners, Magistrates, and Educational Committees may select for ministerial or other appointments passed candidates for whom vacancies in the Native Civil Service may not be immediately available.

* Appendix A.

ELIGIBILITY AND PRELIMINARIES TO THE EXAMINATION.

3. All candidates eligible for appointments under rules 5 and 6 (below), who satisfy the preliminary requirements, will be admitted to the Native Civil Service Examination. No candidate will be admitted to the special examination for the Police, Non-Regulation Service, or the Opium Department without a special certificate, which can only be granted under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Admissible to examination.

4. The preliminary requirements which all candidates must satisfy are—

(a) Certificate of Character.

A certificate will be required from every candidate of his character, respectability and general moral fitness, such certificate being signed by two gentlemen of his own nationality, resident in the district of which he is a native or where he usually resides, and also signed by the Judge or Magistrate of such district. The certificate of the two first named is expected to be based upon personal knowledge, and the certificate of the Judge or Magistrate to indicate that the gentlemen who have signed it are qualified by their position and character to give such a certificate, and that the Judge or Magistrate himself knows nothing to the prejudice of the candidate. In the case of the town of Calcutta, instead of the signature of the Judge or Magistrate, the certificate should bear that of any Judge of the High Court, or the Commissioner of Police, or the Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

(b) Certificate of Sound Health.

Each candidate will be required to produce a certificate from a Government medical officer, stating that the candidate is generally a man of sound health, that he has expressed his willingness to serve in any district of the Lower Provinces, and that he (the medical officer) believes him to be capable of doing so, so far as can be judged antecedently.

(c) Certificate of ability to Ride or Walk.

Every candidate for the higher appointments will also be required to prove that he can ride, and for this purpose he may apply to the Magistrate of the district, who will either satisfy himself on the point, or select some other person he thinks competent for that purpose. The examiner must satisfy himself from his own personal observation that the candidate can ride not less than 12 miles at a rapid pace, and is in this respect competent for all practical purposes of district work; and if such examiner be not the Magistrate himself, the certificate must be countersigned by the Magistrate.

All the candidates who have not been locally examined will be required to appear before some person in Calcutta who will be selected for the purpose.

Every candidate for an appointment of less than Rs. 100 will be required to prove either that he can ride as above, or that he can walk twelve miles within $3\frac{1}{2}$ hours without difficulty or prostration, to be certified in the same manner as the riding.

5. The following persons having passed the required standard will be eligible to the Native Civil Service in all appointments:—

Persons eligible for all appointments.

- (a) Persons who have served Government for six years.
(b) Persons who have passed the Entrance Examination and have served Government for three years.

Provided that they have in cases (a) or (b) attained and have held for not less than one year a responsible permanent appointment, above that of copyist, with a salary not less than Rs. 25 in one of the civil departments of the Government service, and can produce a sufficient certificate of ability, good conduct, and fitness for promotion from their official superiors.

(c) Persons who have taken a University degree in arts, law, medicine, or engineering.

(d) Persons who, having passed the First Arts Examination or an examination of corresponding degree in one of the special colleges, attend the Civil Service classes for one year and acquit themselves well at the Native Civil Service examination.

(e) Persons who having passed the Entrance Examination attend the Civil Service classes for two years and acquit themselves well at the Native Civil Service Examination.

(f) Persons who may be specially declared eligible for all appointments by a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to Government.

6. The following persons having passed the required standard will be eligible to the Native Civil Service in appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem:—

Persons eligible for appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem.

(a) Persons who have served Government with credit and efficiency for not less than three years, whose thorough facility in the use of the vernacular is certified, and who pass a preliminary examination in English.

(b) Natives of Hindustan, Orissa, and A-sam, natives of Bengal of Mahomedan families, and natives of any other districts which may be hereafter specially notified, who have served Government with credit and efficiency for not less than three years, and who can show that they have received a thoroughly good education in the vernacular. This privilege is limited to two years from this date, and it must be understood that such persons cannot expect advancement unless they qualify in English, that being the language of official correspondence in Bengal.

(c) Persons who have passed the Entrance Examination.

(d) Persons who may have been specially declared eligible for appointments of the lower grade by a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to Government.

7. Candidates who have not served Government for three years, and one year of whose service has not been passed in a post such as is described in rule 5 (above) are required to pass in—

The Vernacular.	Drawing.
Chemistry.	Engineering.
Botany.	Surveying.
Law.	Gymnastics.

Candidates who have served Government for three years as above, are required to pass in—

The Vernacular.
Law.
Drawing.
Surveying.

With these latter candidates the other subjects will be optional, but will count for a place in the list of successful candidates.

8. Candidates who produce certificates of having passed the undermentioned examinations will be exempted from liability to pass in the following subjects, namely—

- (a) Persons, who have passed the University First Arts Examination in chemistry, are exempt from liability to pass in that subject.

- (b) Persons, who have passed the B. A. Examination, Branch B, group 3 or group 4 (or any corresponding science course to be hereafter notified by Government), will be exempt from liability to pass in chemistry and botany.
- (c) Persons, who have gained a Civil Engineering College certificate of the overseer's or of any higher grade, will be exempt from liability to examination in drawing, surveying and engineering.
- (d) Persons, who have taken a degree in Indian law, or who have gained a first grade pleader's certificate, will be exempt from liability to examination in law.

Candidates who are entitled to exemption under this rule will be credited at the examination with two-thirds of full marks for the subject for which such exemption is allowed.

PROCEDURE TO GAIN ADMISSION.

9. Applications for admission to the Native Civil Service examination may be made—

- (a) By persons who attend Civil Service classes to the Principal of the College where the classes may be held.
- (b) By persons who have not attended Civil Service classes to the Magistrate of any one of the following districts:—

Alipore,	Rajshahye,	Chittagong,	Purneah,
Kishnagurh,	Rungpore,	Comillah,	Cuttack,
Jessore,	Julpigoree,	Patna,	Ranchee,
Burdwan,	Dacca.	Gya,	Gowhatty,
Hooghly,	Furreedpore,	Arrah,	Durrung,
Midnapore,	Burrisaul,	Mozufferpore,	Debroogurh,
Berhampore,	Mymensing,	Chuprah,
Dinagapore,	Sylhet,	Bhaugulpore,

where the medical officers will also examine candidates and grant certificates of sound health under Appendix B.

10. Every candidate when submitting his application for admission to examination should state the subjects in which he desires to be examined, and annex certificates in any subjects in which he is required or permitted by these rules to show that he is duly qualified. He must at the same time tender a fee for each subject in which he has to be examined, computed according to the scale given below, if he is a candidate for the higher class of appointments:—

	Rs.
Elementary English examination for European candidates	8
Law	8
Surveying and engineering	8
Each vernacular	4
Medical examination	4
Riding or walking examination	4

Candidates for appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem will pay fees at half the above rates.

11. The authority receiving the application, if he is satisfied that the candidate is admissible to the examination under these rules, shall receive and credit the fees, will desire the candidate to undergo the required medical and riding or walking examination, if he has not already obtained certificates thereof, and when all certificates are complete, shall forward the application with the certificates of health, character, &c., riding or walking, of payment of fees, and certificates in any subject described in Rule 8, to the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal (Examination Department). No fee is required when a certificate is sufficient and is produced.

12. A preliminary examination in English and the vernacular of those candidates who have not already qualified in those subjects, will be held. Preliminary examination of native candidates at outstations. Persons who have passed the First Arts Examination, or the Entrance Examination in the first division, or who possess a University degree or certificate in Law or Engineering, will not be liable to the preliminary examination in English. Persons who have gained vernacular scholarships, or who have served with credit in vernacular offices, will not be liable to the preliminary examination in the vernacular. The preliminary examinations will be held on some date in December, to be locally notified by the Magistrate of the District, at the stations named in Rule 9 (above).

ANNUAL EXAMINATION AT CENTRES.

13. The annual examination of candidates for admission into the roll of persons qualified for admission into the Native Civil Service under this Government will be held on some day in the month of January, 1875, not later than the 20th of that month, at Hooghly, Dacca, Patna, Cuttack, and Gowhatty. There will, if need be, be special examinations for the Police, the Non-Regulation

Provinces, and the Opium Department. For the ordinary branches of the service there will be two standards—one higher, qualifying for all appointments, and another lower, qualifying for appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem only.

14. Previous to the other examinations, European candidates who have not passed any University examination will be required, besides passing an examination in English, to show that they possess a thorough knowledge of writing and arithmetic. They must be able to write well, quickly, and correctly, from dictation, to compose a report, and to do all ordinary arithmetic correctly and quickly, which must be duly certified by the examiners.

By European is meant any person whose native language is English or any other European tongue.

15. The Native Civil Service examination on the subjects named in rule 6 will be conducted so as to test the knowledge of the candidates as follow:—

Examination in the Vernacular.

16. All native candidates will be required to show that they can read and write office papers and orders in the vernacular with complete facility. All European candidates will be examined as to their ability to speak and understand a vernacular language, to read it in print, and translate it. Their knowledge of it must be sufficient to enable them to do business easily immediately on appointment.

The vernacular language in which candidates will be required to pass under the two preceding rules may be either Bengali or Hindustani, Ooriah or Assamese.

Candidates who pass in Bengali only will not be eligible for vacancies in Behar, nor will candidates who pass in Hindustani only be eligible for vacancies in Bengal or Orissa.

Examination in Drawing, Surveying, and Engineering.

17. Candidates will be examined in the following subjects:—

I.—Drawing.

II.—Surveying, in which are included—

- 1.—Mensuration.
- 2.—Surveying with chain, and with compass and chain.
- 3.—Levelling.
- 4.—Construction of field-book, plotting, tracing on the ground.
- 5.—Construction and use of scales.

III.—Engineering, in which are included—

- 1.—General knowledge of properties of building materials in most common use, and of constructive trades.
- 2.—Estimating for a simple building or bridge.
- 3.—Construction of simple buildings.
- 4.—Construction of simple roof and bridge trusses for small spans.
- 5.—Elements of road-making (including the construction of culverts and small bridges).

Examination in Law.

18. Candidates will be examined in the elements of the law prevailing in Bengal in the following branches:—

(a) To qualify for the Police and Non-Regulation appointments—

Criminal Law.

Penal Code.
New Code of Criminal Procedure.
Police Act V of 1861.

In this examination books will be allowed.

(b) To qualify for Subordinate Executive Service and other civil appointments—

1. Criminal Law as in (a).
2. Revenue and General Law as follows:—

Regulations I, VIII, and XLVIII of 1793, and XII of 1817.

Ditto I, II, and VIII of 1819.

Ditto VII of 1822, IX and XI of 1825, and IX of 1833.

- ° Acts IX of 1847, XXXI of 1858, and IV (B.C.) of 1868.
- „ XI of 1859.
- „ VII (B.C.) of 1868 and VIII (B.C.) of 1869.
- „ XXI of 1856, XXIII of 1860, and modifying Act of the Bengal Council.
- „ V of 1861.
- „ VIII of 1871.
- „ X (B.C.) of 1871.

Municipal Acts in force in Lower Bengal.

In the examination in Revenue and General Law books will not be allowed.

(c) To qualify for the Opium Department—

Act XXI of 1856.

„ XIII of 1857.

The Board's Rules for the guidance of officers in the Opium Department.

In this examination books will not be allowed.

19. The examination papers for candidates for both grades of the service will be the same; but the passing marks will be considerably higher for the higher than for the lower grade; Candidates for the higher grade of appointments must do their papers in English; candidates for the lower grade may write their answers in their vernacular. A candidate who passes for the lower grade only will not be eligible for promotion to the higher grade of appointments until he passes for the higher grade at some future examination in at least two of the following subjects:—(1) Law, (2) Chemistry with Botany, (3) Drawing, Surveying and Engineering. Candidates who pass for the higher grade will be subject to no further examination except the higher standard departmental examination, and the opium laws examination for those candidates who are appointed to the Opium Department without having taken the opium papers.

At each examination the passed candidates will be ranked in order of merit in each subject and on the whole.

20. To every candidate who passes the examinations above prescribed, a certificate will be given, stating the subjects and the grade in which he has passed, and the place which he held in each subject and on the whole. But appointments can only be given to successful candidates as vacancies occur, and the Government does not guarantee that every successful candidate shall get an appointment.

Certificate of qualification.

NATIVE CIVIL SERVICE CLASSES.

21. As some of the subjects required for the Native Civil Service examination are not taught in the ordinary course of Bengal colleges, the Lieutenant-Governor has arranged for instructing persons who desire to qualify for that examination. Under the foregoing rules there are two classes of persons eligible for the higher class of Native Civil Service appointments, namely—

Two kinds of Civil Service Classes.

Non-service holders.

(1) Young men who have not served Government for three or more years in responsible posts.

Service-holders.

(2) Men who have served Government for three or more years.

The former class of candidates have to pass in more subjects than the latter. For those who have not served the Lieutenant-Governor would establish a Civil Service course at the Hooghly and Patna Colleges; and for those who have served special classes will, if there be a sufficient number of candidates, be established at the Presidency, Hooghly, and Patna Colleges.

22. For candidates who have passed the F. A. or B. A. examination, or any corresponding examination in the special colleges, there will be a one-year Civil Service course, which will include—

(1) The Chemistry lectures being delivered to the II year students reading for the F. A. examination.

(2) The Botany lectures being delivered to the III or IV year students.

(3) A special course of law lectures from the Civil Service classes lecturer.

(4) A special course of teaching from the teacher of surveying, &c.

The students of this one-year Civil Service course will have to go up for the ordinary University F.A. and B.A. examination papers in chemistry and botany; and will be examined in law and surveying, &c., at the Native Civil Service examination.

23. From candidates who have passed only the Entrance Examination a two-year Civil Service course will be required. These candidates will, during their first year, attend the ordinary college lectures for first year students in English, in history, in mathematics, and in natural science; while they will attend special classes in drawing, surveying, &c., in place of learning a second language—or Psychology. They will not be allowed to go on to the second year unless the Principal of the College certifies that they have done creditably in the first year.

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th December 1873.—In continuation of the Notification, dated 1st March 1873, regarding the planting and cutting of trees, and the cutting of branches which interfere with telegraph wires, published at pages 335-36 of the Calcutta Gazette, the attention of all officers subordinate to the Government of Bengal is drawn to the following orders contained in a Resolution recorded in the Public Works Department, of the Government of India, dated 23rd October 1873, No. 1551—77SB, on the subject of cutting trees which interfere with the construction of railway lines:—

“1. The Government of the Punjab has represented that for 5 miles on the west side of the Grand Trunk Road in the Goojrat District the trees planted and reared with the utmost trouble and great expense have been cut down by the orders of the officials of the Railway and Telegraph Departments. The Lieutenant-Governor, believing this wholesale destruction to have been unnecessary, trusts that no trees will in future be destroyed without the permission of the Deputy Commissioner of the District. On receiving this communication the Government of India ordered that inquiry should be instituted concerning the circumstances under which the trees were injured.

“2. The Telegraph Department explain that their wires were for the use of the railway, and that they believed the trees were in charge of the Railway Officers, whose permission being obtained, only such trees were removed or pruned as obstructed the setting up of the telegraph wires.

“3. The Superintendent of Works on the Chenab Bridge believes that the actual amount of damage caused by the Railway and Telegraph Officers has not been so great as is supposed. He explains that all the trees were young and too close together to permit their proper development, so that the pruning was an improvement. He says that it was absolutely necessary to remove trees which stood on places now occupied by the ballast of the line. He describes the growth near the railway as keekur bushes, and says that in many of the curves drivers of engines could not have obtained a sufficiently clear look-out if they had been allowed to remain, and that the removal of some trees was also desirable to prevent accidents in the case of their being blown down across the railway.

“4. The Chief Engineer of the Punjab Northern (State) Railway states that he is impressed with the importance of protecting trees in the Punjab as much as possible, and he regrets that the Superintendent of Works did not place himself in communication with the Deputy Commissioner. The Chief Engineer also observes that it was clearly wrong to cut the trees before it became absolutely necessary to do so.

“5. The Officiating Chief Engineer of the Punjab Northern (State) Railway has further represented the damage done to trees by the camp followers with troops marching along the road. This matter appears to require the attention of the military authorities.

“6. The Governor-General in Council believing the removal of the trees to have been unnecessary before locomotive engines were placed on the Railway, is of opinion that the Railway Officers must have acted with undue precipitancy when they pruned and cleared away the young trees along the Grand Trunk Road in the vicinity of the Railway without consulting the civil authorities. The Government of India desire to encourage the growth of trees throughout the Punjab in every way possible, and the Governor-General in Council expects that all Railway and other Officials will act in concert with the civil authorities in the preservation of trees. Circular No. 74T on this subject has been issued to the Officers of the Telegraph Department, and His Excellency in Council desires that Officers in charge of Railways will in future consider these orders applicable to themselves in principle and spirit.”

No. 2862P.—The following notification, which appeared in the London Gazette of the 3rd October last, is republished for general information :—

At the Court at Balmoral, the 30th day of September 1873.

PRESENT :

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the thirty-third and thirty-fourth years of the reign of Her Present Majesty, intituled "An Act for Amending the Law relating to the Extradition of Criminals," it was, amongst other things, enacted, that where an arrangement has been made with any foreign State with respect to the surrender to such State of any fugitive criminals, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that the said Act shall apply in the case of such foreign State; and that Her Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent order, limit the operation of the order, and restrict the same to fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in the part of Her Majesty's dominions specified in the Order and render the operation thereof subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications as may be deemed expedient :

And whereas a Treaty was concluded on the twenty-sixth day of June last between Her Majesty and the King of Sweden and Norway for the mutual extradition of fugitive criminals, which Treaty is in the terms following :—

H^{ER} Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Majesty the King of Sweden and Norway, having judged it expedient, with a view to the better administration of justice, and to the more complete prevention of crime within the respective countries, that persons charged with or convicted of the crimes hereinafter enumerated, and being fugitives from justice, should, under certain circumstances, be reciprocally delivered up; their said Majesties have named as their Plenipotentiaries to conclude a Treaty for this purpose; that is to say :—

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the Honourable Edward Morris Erskine, a Companion of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the King of Sweden and Norway;

And His Majesty the King of Sweden and Norway, Henrick Wilhelm Bredberg, Grand Cross of the Order of the Polar Star, His Majesty's Councillor of State and Acting Minister for Foreign Affairs;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles :—

ARTICLE I.

The High Contracting Parties engage to deliver up to each other those persons who, being accused or convicted of a crime committed in the territory of one Party, shall be found within the territory of the other Party, under the circumstances and conditions stated in the present Treaty.

ARTICLE II.

The crimes for which the extradition is to be granted are the following :—

1. Murder (child murder and poisoning included) or attempt to murder.
2. Manslaughter.
3. Counterfeiting or altering money, uttering or bringing into circulation knowingly counterfeit or altered money.

4. Forgery or counterfeiting or altering or uttering what is forged, or counterfeited or altered, comprehending the crimes designated in the Swedish and Norwegian Penal Codes as counterfeiting or falsification of paper money, bank notes or other securities, forgery or falsification of other public or private documents, likewise the uttering or bringing into circulation or wilfully using such counterfeited, forged or falsified papers.

5. Embezzlement or larceny.

6. Obtaining money or goods by false pretences, except as regards Norway, cases in which the crime is not accompanied by aggravating circumstances according to the law of that country.

7. Crimes by bankrupts against bankruptcy law.

8. Fraud by a bailee, banker, agent, factor, trustee, or director, or member or public officer of any company, made criminal by any law for the time being in force.

9. Rape.

10. Abduction.

11. Child-stealing.

12. Burglary or house-breaking.

13. Arson.

14. Robbery with violence.

15. Threats by letter or otherwise with intent to extort, except as regards Norway, cases in which this crime is not punishable by the laws of that country.

16. Sinking or destroying a vessel at sea, or attempting to do so.

17. Assaults on board a ship on the high seas, with intent to destroy life or to do grievous bodily harm.

18. Revolt, or conspiracy to revolt, by two or more persons on board a ship on the high seas against the authority of the master; except, as regards Norway, conspiracy to revolt.

The extradition is also to take place for participation in any of the aforesaid crimes, provided such participation be punishable by the laws of both the Contracting Parties.

ARTICLE III.

No Swedish or Norwegian subject shall be delivered up to the Government of the United Kingdom; and no subject of the United Kingdom shall be delivered up to the Swedish or Norwegian Government.

ARTICLE IV.

The extradition shall not take place if the person claimed has already been tried and discharged or punished, or is still under trial in the country where he has taken refuge, for the crime for which his extradition is demanded.

If the person claimed should be under examination for any other crime in the country where he has taken refuge, his extradition shall be deferred until the conclusion of the trial, and the full execution of any punishment awarded to him.

ARTICLE V.

The extradition shall not take place if, subsequently to the commission of the crime, or the institution of the penal prosecution, or the conviction thereon, exemption from prosecution or punishment has been acquired by lapse of time, according to the laws of the country where the criminal has taken refuge.

ARTICLE VI.

A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered if the offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded, is one of a political character, or if he prove that the requisition for his surrender has in fact been made with a view to try or punish him for an offence of a political character.

ARTICLE VII.

A person surrendered by either of the High Contracting Parties to the other, cannot, until he has been restored or had an opportunity of returning to the country from whence he was surrendered, be triable or tried for any crime committed in the other country other than that on account of which the extradition shall have taken place.

This stipulation does not apply to crimes committed after the extradition.

ARTICLE VIII.

The requisitions for extradition shall be made through the Diplomatic Agents of the High Contracting Parties respectively.

The requisition for the extradition of an accused person must be accompanied by a warrant of arrest issued by the competent authority of the State requiring the extradition, and by such evidence as, according to the laws of the place where the accused is found, would justify his arrest if the crime had been committed there.

If the requisition relates to a person already convicted, it must be accompanied by the sentence of condemnation passed against the convicted person by the competent Court of the State that makes the requisition for extradition.

The requisition ought, as far as possible, to be accompanied by a description of the person accused or convicted, in order to identify him.

A requisition for extradition cannot be founded on sentences passed in contumaciam.

ARTICLE IX.

If the requisition for extradition be in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the competent authorities of the State applied to shall proceed to the arrest of the fugitive.

The prisoner is then to be brought before a competent Magistrate, who is to examine him and to conduct the preliminary investigation of the case, just as if the apprehension had taken place for a crime committed in the same country.

The extradition shall not take place before the expiration of fifteen days from the apprehension, and then only if the evidence be found sufficient, according to the laws of the State applied to, either to justify the committal of the prisoner for trial, or to prove that the prisoner is the identical person convicted by the Courts of the State which makes the requisition.

ARTICLE X.

In the examinations which they have to make, in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the authorities of the State applied to shall admit as entirely valid evidence the sworn depositions or statements of witnesses taken in the other State, or copies thereof, and likewise the warrants and sentences issued therein, provided such documents are signed or certified by a Judge, Magistrate, or Officer of such State, and are authenticated by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister of Justice, or some other Minister of State.

ARTICLE XI.

If sufficient evidence for the extradition be not produced within two months from the date of the apprehension of the fugitive, he shall be set at liberty.

ARTICLE XII.

All articles seized, which were in the possession of the person to be surrendered at the time of his apprehension, shall, if the competent authority of the State applied to for the extradition has ordered the delivery thereof, be given up when the extradition takes place; and the said delivery shall extend not merely to the stolen articles, but to everything that may serve as a proof of the crime.

ARTICLE XIII.

Each of the High Contracting Parties shall defray and bear expenses incurred by it in the arrest, maintenance, and conveyance of the individual to be surrendered till placed on board ship, as well as in keeping and conveying the articles which are to be delivered up in conformity with the stipulations of the preceding article.

The individual to be surrendered shall be conveyed to the port specified by the applying Government, at whose expense he shall be taken on board the ship to convey him away.

If it be necessary to convey the individual claimed through the territories of another State, the expenses incurred thereby shall be defrayed by the applying State.

ARTICLE XIV.

The stipulations of the present Treaty shall be applicable to the Colonies and Foreign Possessions of the two High Contracting Parties.

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in a Colony or Foreign Possession of either Party shall be made to the Governor or Chief Authority of such Colony or Possession by the Chief Consular Officer of the other in such Colony or Possession; or, if the fugitive has escaped from a Colony or Foreign Possession of the Party on whose behalf the requisition is made, by the Governor or Chief Authority of such Colony or Possession.

Such requisitions may be disposed of, subject always, as nearly as may be, to the provisions of this Treaty, by the respective Governors or Chief Authorities, who, however, shall be at liberty either to grant the surrender, or to refer the matter to their Government.

Her Britannic Majesty shall, however, be at liberty to make special arrangements in the British Colonies and Foreign Possessions for the surrender of Swedish and Norwegian criminals who may there take refuge, on the basis, as nearly as may be, of the provisions of the present Treaty.

ARTICLE XV.

The present Treaty shall come into force ten days after its publication, in conformity with the forms prescribed by the laws of the High Contracting Parties. It may be terminated by either of the High Contracting Parties, but shall remain in force for six months after notice has been given for its termination.

ARTICLE XVI.

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Stockholm, as soon as may be possible.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto their seals.

Done at Stockholm, the twenty-sixth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

And whereas the ratifications of the said Treaty were exchanged at Stockholm on the twenty-eighth ultimo.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Act, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the seventeenth day of October one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, the said Act shall apply in the case of the said Treaty with the King of Sweden and Norway.

EDMUND HARRISON.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Financial Department, are re-published for general information :—

LEAVE AND ALLOWANCES.

Fort William, the 16th December 1873.

No. 3735.—The Governor-General in Council directs that the words “and junior furlough under the rules in force before the 8th June 1855” be inserted after “(a 5)” in Rule 1 under Section 8 of the Civil Leave Code (second edition), and that the word “are” be substituted for the word “is” in the said Rule.

No. 3751.—The 17th December 1873.—The Governor-General in Council directs that the following addition be made to Rule 9 under Section 21 of the Civil Leave Code :—

“But a Military officer who has availed himself in any calendar year of the privilege leave which is admissible to him for that year, under the rules of the Military Department, will not begin to count service for privilege leave in the Civil Department until the first day of the following year.”

No. 3801.—The 18th December 1873.—The Governor-General in Council directs that the following be added as Rule 4 under Section 12 of Supplement A to the Civil Leave Code :—

“4. An officer or seaman attached to a pilot or light vessel at the Sandheads may, in addition to the privilege leave admissible under this section, be allowed one month's leave on shore after four months' continuous duty at the Sandheads.”

His Excellency in Council also directs that the following paragraph be added to Rule 9 under Section 27 of the Civil Leave Code :—

“An officer or seaman serving on a pilot or light vessel at the Sandheads is considered to have returned to duty on the day on which he reports himself to the Master-Attendant in Calcutta.”

PENSIONS AND GRATUITIES.

The 18th December 1873.

No. 3755.—The following Resolution is published for general information :—

Read the following :—

Letter from the Officiating Accountant-General, Bengal, No. ^P₃₁₁, dated 18th October 1873, to the Financial Secretary.

I have the honor to submit the returns of pensioners prescribed in Section 84 of the Civil Pension Code.

2. The returns are in four sets, namely—

1. India pensioners paid in Calcutta.

2. Bengal “ “

3. Bengal “ “ Mofussil.

4. Marine “ “ Calcutta, many of whom are females.

3. Headings 2 and 3 are blank in the first year's returns, because they are intended to contain the corrections for age as compared with the previous years, and in this case there are no previous years.

4. In examining them with reference to the rate of mortality to be expected, I would put down the following as the probable rates on à priori grounds, being those given by Mr. Brown as the result of statistics affecting Indian Native Army pensioners :—

Age.	Rate of mortality per cent.
51—60	4·5
60—65	6·5
65—70	8·
70—75	10·
75—80	12·
80—85	12·5
85	14·

5. The following shows the total of the “India” pensioners of all age :—

Age.	Total on Roll on March 31, 1871.	Died in 1871-72.	Died in 1872-73.	Total deaths.	Expected deaths in 2 years.
51	111	6	2	8	9·
60	40	..	5	5	5·
66	26	1	2	3	4·
70	12	2·5
76	9	3	1	4	2·
80	5	2	2	4	1·
86	1	1	..	1	...
	<hr/> 204			<hr/> 25	<hr/> 24·5

6. On these no remark appears to be called for, and an inspection of the tables shows that the deaths seem to be very fairly distributed among the three classes of pensioners under Rs. 10, under 50, and over 50.

7. In the next class of pensioners—Bengal pensioners paid in the Mofussil—the separate grades are sufficiently numerous to be examined separately.

The figures of the 1st Grade, those under Rs. 10, are as follows:—

Age.	No. on Roll, 31st March 1871.	Died in 1871-72.	Died in 1872-73.	Total deaths.	Expected in 2 years.
Under 50	79	4	7	11	5
" 51	155	16	11	27	14
" 61	94	5	11	16	13
" 66	70	7	3	10	11
" 71	60	..	6	6	12
" 76	23	3	3	6	6
" 81	13	2	1	3	3
" 86	6	3	..	3	2
	500			82	66

8. The following are the figures of the 2nd Grade pensions not exceeding Rs. 50:—

Under 50	43	3	..	3	3
" 51	145	10	2	12	13
" 61	67	7	3	10	9
" 66	55	3	2	5	9
" 71	27	3	2	5	5.5
" 76	16	..	1	1	4
" 81	3	1	..	1	1
" 86	1	..	1	1	..
	357			38	44.5

9. Of pensions exceeding Rs. 50, the following are the figures of two years:—

Under 50	8	2	..	2	.5
" 51	41	3	2	5	4
" 61	22	3	3	6	3
" 66	19	4	2	6	3
" 71	9	2	2	4	2
" 76	4	2	1	3	1
" 81	..	1	..	1	..
" 86	2	1	1	2	.5
	105			28	14

10. In all these cases the deaths seem to be very fairly up to expectation, and even exceed it in several. It is possible that this is due to the fact that the numbers include people who have gone off through six months' absence, and are not dead, but I have made such allowance, as was possible for this, by taking as the number of deaths, not the whole number under heading 2, but that number diminished by the entries under heading 6.

11. I shall direct the Collector's attention to the 16 persons entered under age 76 to 81 in the list of pensioners exceeding Rs. 10. Their mortality falls exceedingly short of expectation, and it may be well to enquire whether the alleged survivors are beyond doubt the original pensioners, and whether the real pensioners are really all alive.

12. Taking next the Bengal pensioners paid in Calcutta, we get the following statistics:—

Not exceeding Rs. 10.

Under 50	22	1	..	1	1
" 51	22	..	2	2	2
" 61	19	1	2	3	2.5
" 66	45
" 71	7	1	1	2	1.5
" 76	5	1	..	1	1
" 81	25
" 86	25
	83			9	9.5

Not exceeding Rs. 50.
Under 50	25	1.5
" 51	86	4	5	9	8.
" 61	29	2	3	5	3.5
" 66	20	5.
" 71	18	1	1	1	4.
" 76	6	1	...	1	1.5
" 81	25
" 86
	186			16	24.

Exceeding Rs. 50.
Under 50	8	5.
" 51	58	2	4	6	5.
" 61	14	...	1	1	2.
" 66	9	1	1	2	1.5
" 71	7	1	1	2	1.5
" 76	5	1.
" 81	1.
" 86	1.
	99			11	13.5

13. There seems to be in all these tables a smaller rate of mortality among the very high ages than should be expected. The pensioners are all people paid in this office, and I shall cause renewed attention to be given to the question of their identification with the original pensioners.

14. The Marine pensioners are the only ones remaining, and the following are the figures for the three classes combined:—

Under 50	20	1.
" 51	28	1	1	2	2.5
" 61	10	1.
" 66	45
" 71	6	2	...	2	1.
" 76
" 81
	69			4	6.

15. No remarks appear to be called for, and the cases are too few to permit any deductions from the divergence from expectation, especially as five persons, who are excluded from the list, as their ages are not known, furnish three cases of death, which being added to the above statistics bring the fact still more near to the expectation.

16. The following is a summary of the whole of these statistics:—

Description of Pensioners.	Rate of Pension.	Number.	Actual mortality.	Expected mortality.
INDIA	... All ...	204	25	24.5
BENGAL—Mofussil	Under 10	500	82	66.
" "	Under 50	357	38	44.5
" "	Over 50	105	28	14.
" Calcutta	Under 10	83	9	9.5
" "	Under 50	186	16	24.
" "	Over 50	99	11	13.5
MARINE	... All ...	69	4	6.
TOTAL	1,603	213	202.

17. It would be wrong rashly to assume that the number of deaths shown in the above figures is the actual number that have taken place, because, on the one hand, the figure may be swelled by mere absences for a prolonged period, and on the other, it may be diminished by substitutions of fictitious pensioners. However, the fewness of the renewals of pension argues the fewness of the lapses included in the above figures, and I think the figures contain intrinsic evidence that there has not been much, if any, substitution. I think, therefore, it is a pretty fair conclusion that, so far as can be judged by information and calculations, so rough in their nature, the mortality rates, with which we above started, are not far from the average applicable to the case.

18. It is worthy of remark that the younger pensioners show a tendency to excessive mortality (compared without initial figures), which is easily accounted for by the fact that they are, by the nature of the case, mostly invalids; and that, as we might have expected, the pensioners of the class between 10 and 50 seem to be more healthy than those on higher or on lower pensions.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council desires that a copy of the above letter be forwarded to the several Officers of Account concerned as indicating the kind of examination to which statements submitted under Section 84, Civil Pension Code (second edition), should be subjected. The table of mortality used by Mr. Westland should be used by the other Officers of Account until further order.

NOTIFICATION.

The 22nd December 1873.—With reference to the Notification of the 11th instant, published at page 1400 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th idem, and other previous Notifications of the kind, the Lieutenant-Governor desires it to be distinctly understood that the powers thereby vested in Joint-Magistrates or other Senior Assistant Magistrates, of hearing appeals from convictions by Magistrates of the Second and Third Classes, are to last for six months only. His Honor is wholly opposed to giving appellate powers to any but very high and competent officers or Courts, and has always refused to recognize that the hearing of criminal appeals entails undue labor on Magistrates of districts. In the instances above referred to these powers have been given only temporarily, as a very special case, in distressed districts in order that there may be no shadow of reason for supposing that the District Magistrates are tied down by work at Head-Quarters.

A. MACKENZIE,

Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[First Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th December 1873.—Under the provisions of Section 3, Act III of 1864 of the Bengal Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to notify that from and after the 1st April 1874 the limits of the Darjeeling Municipality, in supersession of those specified in notification* of the 29th April 1865, shall be as follows:—

* Published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th May 1865, page 874.

Beginning from the junction of the Rungbee and cart roads the south boundary of the Goompahar forest reserve to a point due south of the south-west angle of the boundary of the municipal grazing ground, thence a line through the reserve joining the two points above mentioned, thence the west and north boundaries of the municipal grazing ground to the cart road; thence the cart road to the boundary of location No. 99 (Rose Bank), with the south and west boundaries of which the municipal boundary will coincide. From the north-west angle of the Rose Bank boundary the municipal boundary will be a straight line to the south-west angle of location No. 121. From here it will coincide with the west boundaries of locations Nos. 121, 98, 100, 139, 77, 80, 79, and 78, to the north-west angle of the last mentioned location. Thence straight line to the south-west angle of No. 107. Thence the west boundary of that location, and the south and west boundaries of No. 122; from the north-west angle of No. 122 a straight line to the south-west angle of No. 142. Thence the boundary of that location to its north-west angle, thence a straight line to a point two hundred yards due west of the north-western angle of location No. 136. Thence a line connecting the above points to the north and east boundaries of that location. From the south-east angle of No. 136 a line to the north-east angle of No. 141; thence the east boundary of that location. From the south-east angle of the boundary of No. 141 a line to the north-east angle of No. 110, then the east boundary of that location, then a line connecting its south-east angle with the north-east angle of location No. 43, then the north-east boundary of that location. Thence a line from its eastern angle in a south direction to the Birch Hill road. Thence that road to its junction with the Lebong road, the Lebong road to its junction with the Runjeet road, and the Runjeet road to the Bundum Jobro. Thence a straight line to the Chowrasta, thence the Calcutta road to its junction with the Cantonment road, and thence a straight line to the point where the Rungbee road cuts the eastern boundary of Harrington Location, thence the east boundary of Harrington Location as far as the north boundary of Graham's Town Location, thence the south and east boundaries of Graham's Town Location and the east boundary of Enfield Location to the cart road. Thence the west boundary of the cart road reverse to the junction of the Rungbee and cart roads.

[First Publication.]

The 23rd December 1873.—The following Rules framed under Section 69 of the Indian Registration Act, 1871, are published for general information :—

1. Registrars and Sub-Registrars, on giving or receiving charge of their respective offices, shall report the fact to the Inspector-General. In the case of Sub-Registrars, such reports shall be made through the District Registrar.
2. Whenever a District Registrar makes a temporary appointment under section 12, he shall at once report the fact to the Inspector-General.
3. The report referred to in section 13 shall be submitted to Government by the Inspector-General at the end of each month.
4. Head-Quarter Sub-Registrars having been permanently placed in charge of district registry offices, special appointments under section 11 are no longer necessary.
5. When a Sub-Registrar is absent, or his office is temporarily vacant, if the District Registrar is unable to appoint a suitable substitute, he may himself assume charge of the sub-registry office, until the return of the Sub-Registrar or appointment of a successor; and, in such cases, the extra or additional fee chargeable for registration by a Registrar under section 30 (a) shall not be charged upon registrations effected during the absence of the Sub-Registrar.
6. Rural Sub-Registrars are not subject to the uncovenanted leave rules. Leave should not generally be granted to them. But in cases of urgent necessity, leave may be granted to them and substitutes appointed by the Registrar. But no leave exceeding one month shall be granted without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General. All leave granted to rural Sub-Registrars shall be at once reported to the Inspector-General and included by him in the monthly report submitted under rule 3.
7. The seals of District Registrars and Deputy Registrars made under section 12 of Act XVI of 1864 shall be taken to be seals of Registrars and Sub-Registrars under this Act.
8. The seal shall always remain in the personal custody of the registering officer.
9. The following languages shall be considered to be commonly used in the districts named, viz.—
 In the Patna Division and the districts of Bhaugulpore and Monghyr—English, Hindi, and Hindustani.
 In the Chota Nagpore and Cooch Behar Divisions, and in the district of Purneah and the Sonthal Pergunnahs—English, Hindi, Hindustani, and Bengali.
 In the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca, and Chittagong Divisions—English, Bengali, and Hindustani.
 In the Orissa Division—English, Bengali, Hindustani, and Uriya.
 In the Assam Division—English, Bengali, Hindustani, and Assamese.
10. When a copy of a Bengali, Uriya, or Assamese document is forwarded under section 65 of the Act to a Registrar in another presidency, it shall be accompanied by information in English respecting the names and additions of all persons executing and claiming under it, and a description of the property situated in the Registrar's district sufficient for its identification.
11. A power of attorney intended for use in another Presidency, if authenticated in Bengali, Uriya, or Assamese, by an officer unacquainted with English, may, if the parties desire it, be forwarded by him to the District Registrar for the endorsement on it of an English translation of the authentication.
12. A power of attorney authenticated in a language unknown to a registering officer, to whom it may be presented, may, if the parties desire it, be by him submitted to the Registrar or Inspector-General of Registration, Bengal, as the case may be, who will procure an English translation of the authentication.
13. When the executant of any document appears personally, he shall be required to attest all interlineations, &c. When he appears by agent, &c., the attestation of such agent, &c., shall be accepted unless the interlineations, &c., are of an important character. A registering officer shall also be at liberty on due cause being shown to accept the attestation of an agent, &c., in case of important interlineations, &c.

Changes of incumbency to be reported.

Temporary appointments to be reported.

Registrar may assume charge of the office of absent sub-registrar.

Leave to rural sub-registrars.

Section 15.

Seals.

Languages commonly used—section 19.

Copies of Bengali, Uriya, or Assamese documents sent to other presidencies.

Interlineations, &c.—section 30.

Territorial divisions. 14. The territorial divisions to be recognized under section 21 (b) shall be registration districts, sub-districts, and thanahs; also parganahs and mauzahs, where they are known, and collectorate districts if different from registration districts.

Maps and plans. 15. Copies of maps or plans shall be attested by the signatures of the persons executing the document or their agents; and the original map or plan contained in the document shall at the time of registration be signed and sealed by the registering officer.

16. Whenever under section 30 (b) the Registrar of Calcutta registers a document accompanied by a map relating to property, no part of which lies within his own district, a copy of the map shall be supplied for record in his own office in addition to the number required by section 21 (c).

17. When a document containing a map or plan is presented for re-registration under the proviso to section 23, it shall not be necessary for the parties to deposit fresh copies of the map or plan under section 21 (c). But the registering officer shall certify against the copy in the register book that the map or plan attached to the document is the same as that which was attached to it on its first presentation.

Documents presented or admitted after four months, -sections 24 and 34. 18. When a document is presented or admitted more than four months after execution, the Registrar may either register it himself, in which case an extra fee under heading K, as well as the penalty under heading O, shall be levied, or he may direct its registration (on payment of the penalty under heading O) by any Sub-Registrar in whose office it could have been registered if presented within four months. In such cases the date on which the application was made to the Registrar shall be regarded as the date of presentation.

Daily sittings, holidays, -section 26. 19. Every Sub-Registrar shall sit daily during certain hours which shall be approved by the Registrar, and made known to the public by a notice in some conspicuous place outside the office. The holidays to be observed in registration offices shall be the days on which the Bank of Bengal is closed by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

Commissions, under sections 33 and 38. 20. A commission shall ordinarily be issued by a registering officer to some salaried member of his establishment, and the order shall be briefly endorsed on the document in words to this effect:—

“A commission is hereby issued under section 33 (or 38) of the Indian Registration Act, 1871, to (name and designation of the officer) for the purpose of inquiring whether the within power (or document) has been executed by A B, son of C D of _____, by whom it purports to have been executed.”

21. If the person to be examined under section 38 be not resident within the district or sub-district of the registering officer, a commission shall be directed to the Registrar of the district in which such person resides, who may redirect it to the Sub-Registrar, who may, if he cannot personally attend, redirect it to any officer of his establishment.

22. When the commission has been executed, the commissioner shall return the document to the office from which it was issued, with a report which shall be endorsed upon the document in the following terms:—“Having visited the residence of A B, son of C D, at _____, have this day examined the said A B, who has been identified to my satisfaction by E F, son of G H, &c., residents of _____, and the said A B admitted (or denied) the execution of the within power (or document).”

Full signature of executant.

Full signature of witnesses.

Full signature of commissioner.

Sections 33 and 38, and section 180 of Act VIII 1859. 23. A commissioner may examine witnesses in the same manner as a registering officer, and persons refusing to give testimony to a commissioner, on being required to do so, shall be subject to the same penalties and punishments which they would incur for the same offence if committed in a registration office.

Idem. 24. It shall be competent to a registering officer to examine the commissioner personally in his office, touching any of the matters referred to by him or mentioned in his report, or the manner in which he may have conducted the investigation.

25. All applications for visits under section 31, 33 or 38, or for the issue of commissions under section 33 or 38, shall be accompanied by the amount of fees chargeable as well as the amount of travelling allowance claimable by the registering officer or commissioner.

26. A separate commission fee shall be charged upon every signature which requires attestation, but travelling allowance shall only be charged for the actual distance travelled. Provided that where two or more persons who execute the same document or documents relating to the same transaction reside together, only one commission fee shall be charged so far as those persons are concerned.

27. The distances for which travelling allowance is charged shall be calculated according to the table which is drawn up in the Collector's office for the service of processes. A copy of this table shall be exhibited in every registration office.

Powers of attorney. 28. The form of authentication of powers of attorney shall be as follows :—

(1)—When the principal executing the power appears at the registration office—

“Executed in my presence on the day of 18 , by A B, son of C D, of , who is personally known to me (or whose identity was proved by the testimony of E F, son of G H, of), and recorded as No. for 18 .”

Full signature of attorney.

Full signature of witness or witnesses.

Seal and signature of registering officer and date.

(2)—When the principal is exempted from appearance—

“Having visited and examined at his (or her) residence the principal A B, who is personally known to me (or whose identity was proved by the evidence of C D, son of E F, of), I am satisfied that this power of attorney has been voluntarily executed by him (or her), and I accordingly authenticate it under section 33 of Act VIII of 1871, and record it as No. for 187 .”

Full signature of attorney.

Full signature of witnesses.

Seal and signature of registering officer.

When the Sub-Registrar himself does not examine the executant, he should make the following endorsement below the report of the commissioner as provided for in Rule 22 :—

“From the above report, I am satisfied, &c.” (as above).

29. Interlineations, blanks, erasures, or alterations in powers of attorney authenticated under section 35, should be attested by a note under the Sub-Registrar's signature at the time of authentication. When there are no interlineations, &c., the fact should be noted in the same way.

30. General powers of attorney are available under this Act, if they contain or imply an authority to appear in a registration office, and are executed in accordance with section 33. Powers already executed may be made available by the execution, in accordance with section 33, of an additional clause empowering an attorney to appear in a registry office.

31. If an authority to register be included in a document to be registered, the document must of course bear the additional stamp duty chargeable on the power of attorney.

32. Powers which do not contain or imply an authority to appear in a registration office shall not be authenticated under section 33.

33. Whenever a power of attorney is used in a registration office, an endorsement shall be made upon it in the following form :—

Presented this day.

Date

Seal

(Sd.) A. B.,

Registrar or Sub-Registrar of

34. All powers of attorney shall be returned when no longer required to the parties by whom they were presented.

35. The summonses referred to in sections 36 and 37 shall be executed through the revenue authorities, and the peon's fee shall be regulated according to the rules for the service of processes by such authorities. Provided that when, for special reasons, the local Government shall so direct the processes required in any particular office may be executed through the court of the moonsiff within whose jurisdiction such office lies. In such cases the peon's fee shall be regulated by the rules for the service of processes in civil court.

36. If the summons be addressed to a person who is alleged to have executed the document, it shall require him to attend in person, or by agent; if it be addressed to any person whose evidence is required to prove a fact, it shall require him to attend in person.

37. Every application for summons must be accompanied by the amount of expenses payable to the witness, as well as the amount of peon's fees usually chargeable by the revenue authority or civil court through which the summons is to be issued; and in forwarding for compliance an application for summons, the registering officer shall also forward the witnesses' expenses and the peon's fee.

38. In case of a person summoned under section 37 neglecting to appear, or if a summons under that section cannot be served, the registering officer may call upon the revenue officer or civil court through whom his summonses are served to take any further action authorized by the law for the time being in force for the purpose of securing the attendance of the person whose evidence is required, and such a requisition must be accompanied by the proper fee. It rests with the registering officer to specify the form of action to be taken.

39. No Rural Sub-Registrar shall issue a requisition under the preceding rule without the previous sanction of the District Registrar, or (in the case of an additional Sub-Registrar) of the ex-officio Sub-Registrar to whose sub-district he is attached.

40° A will shall not be received for deposit otherwise than in the manner laid down in Wills deposited under section 42. A will received through the post office shall be returned to the testator bearing.

41. Every entry made in Book V under the provisions of section 43 shall be signed in full and dated by the Registrar.

42. When a sealed cover is withdrawn under section 44, the fact shall be noted in register No. V, and the entry shall be signed by the person by whom the withdrawal is made as well as by the Registrar.

43. When a sealed cover is opened under section 45, the fact shall be noted in register V, and the entry signed by the Registrar. If a cover is opened under order of a civil court, this shall be mentioned in the entry.

44. When a will is forwarded to any court under section 46, it shall be accompanied by a memorandum of the fee for opening the cover and copying charges, and it shall be the duty of the court to levy and remit such fee and charges to the Registrar.

Wills to be examined. 45. Sealed covers deposited with a Registrar under section 42 shall be examined monthly, and their condition reported to the Inspector-General.

46. On the presentation of a document for registration, the registering officer shall first satisfy himself—

(1) That it has been presented at the proper office (sections 28, 29, and 30) ;

(2) That it bears the proper stamp ;

and if it purport to be, or is known to be, a counterpart—

That it is “available” under the proviso of article 16, Schedule II of the General Stamp Act, 1869.

(3) That it is in the usual language of the district, or is accompanied by a translation and a true copy (section 19) ;

(4) That in the case of important interlineations section 20 and rule 13 have been complied with ;

(5) That (if the document refers to immovable property) the description is sufficient (section 21) ;

(6) That it has been presented within the proper time (sections 23, 25, and 26) ;

(7) That it has been presented by a person authorized to do so (section 32).

Certificate of admissibility.

47. If the requirements of the law have been complied with in all these particulars, the following certificate shall be entered on the face of the deed :—

Admissible under rule 46. Correctly stamped under the General Stamp Act, schedule No. .

48. After entry of the certificate under rule 47, the registering officer shall receive the fee or any fine payable under section 24, and enter the amount on the document close to such certificate, and at the same time the requisite entry shall be made in the fee book.

First endorsement. 49. The document shall now be endorsed to the following effect :—

“Presented for registration at A.M. (or P.M.) on the day of 187 , at the sub-registry office (or elsewhere), by A B, son of C D, of [attorney for E F, one of the claimants under a power (No. for 187) executed in the presence of Sub-Registrar of].” (Sd.) A. B.

50. The amount of the fee paid shall be entered on the receipt given under section 52.

51. If [rule 46 (1)] the deed has not been presented in the proper office, it shall be simply returned to the presenting party. In this case no entry need be made in Book II.

52. If [rule 46 (2)] the stamp is incorrect, the deed shall be impounded and forwarded to the Collector (section 23 of the General Stamp Act).

NOTE.—If the executant of a deed who is in doubt about the proper stamp consults a registering officer on the subject before formal presentation, the required information may be given to him without impounding the deed. But any deed formally presented with an insufficient stamp must be impounded.

53. If Rules 46 (3) to (7) have not been complied with, or if the presenting party refuses to pay the proper fee, the deed must be returned to the presenting party with the endorsement “Registration refused,” an entry being made at the same time in Book II.

NOTE.—Orders under this rule may be deferred at the request of the parties in order to enable them to comply with the requirements of the law, or for a reference to the Registrar under section 24. But in such cases an order of refusal shall be passed if the requirements of the law have not been complied with within eight months from the date of execution.

Fines under sections 24 and 34. 54. When a fine has already been paid under section 24, a second fine shall not be levied under section 34.

Second endorsement.

55. The endorsement under section 58 shall be to the following effect :—

“Execution is admitted by A B, son of C D, of _____, zamindar (or cultivator, &c.,) by caste—

Identified by E F, son of G H, of _____
The _____ of _____ 18 _____

(Sd.) A. B.

, zamindar (or cultivator, &c.,) by caste—

(Sd.) E. F.

Sub-Registrar of _____

When execution is admitted by an agent, the following words shall be added :—

“Agent for K L, under a power of attorney (No. _____ for 187 _____) executed in the presence of the Sub-Registrar of _____.”

When the executant or his agent is personally known to the registering officer, the words “personally known to me,” should be substituted for the identification clause.

When receipt of consideration is acknowledged, the following clause should be added :—

“The receipt of rupees _____ as consideration is admitted by the above A B”

56. The endorsement referred to in the preceding rule shall invariably be recorded in the handwriting of the registering officer.

57. When a person who cannot write signs his name by means of a mark, his name shall be recorded at length, and the writer of the name shall also sign his own name in attestation that the said mark was affixed in his presence.

58. Whenever a registering officer administers an oath, he shall separately record the evidence of the witness examined.

59. When a document is presented which has only been executed by some of the parties to it, the other executants may attend and execute the document and admit their execution without the payment of any further fee, so long as the certificate of registration under section 60 has not been endorsed thereon; but if the registration of the document has been completed, it must be presented afresh for re-registration and a second fee shall be payable.

60. When all the persons executing a document, or their representatives, assigns or agents, have appeared and admitted its execution, the document shall be copied in the register.

Document to be copied after admission.

61. When two or more copies of the same document are brought for registration at the same time, it shall not be necessary to enter the document more than once in the register, but all the endorsements shall be written upon each copy.

62. All endorsements shall be made in red ink, excepting signatures, which may be made in black ink.

63. When there is not room on a document for the necessary endorsements, they shall be made on a separate quarter sheet of hand-laid medium paper which should be supplied by the office and attached to the document, a note being at the same time made on the document itself and signed by the registering officer.

Final endorsement.

64. When a document has been copied, the registering officer shall proceed to make in the following form the endorsement required by section 60 :—

“Registered in Book _____, Volume _____

65. The register copy of every document shall be compared with the original by some person other than the copyist, and both the copyist and the comparer shall append their signatures. The registering officer shall authenticate by his initials all corrections in the copy and all notes which may be necessary under section 20 of the Act. He shall also affix his initials to each page, and shall certify with his full signature each copy to be a true one.

Copyist and comparer to sign their name.

66. No erasures shall be made with a knife in any register book, but mistakes shall be corrected when necessary with the pen, and shall invariably be attested by the registering officer.

67. The register books shall have two margins. On the left hand margin shall be copied in red ink the value of the stamp and all the endorsements made in the office; in the centre shall be copied the deed itself in black ink, and the right hand margin shall be left vacant for notes under section 20 and rule 13.

68. Several volumes of Books I and IV may, if necessary, be kept in use simultaneously when the documents registered are so numerous as to make this course necessary. Books II, III, and V shall be continued from year to year until they are full, and in small offices where the number of documents registered is inconsiderable, the same volume (Books I and IV may also be used for two or more years.

Certificate of closure.

69. When a book is closed, a certificate to that effect shall be appended at the close of the written portion, and a certificate showing the number of pages written upon shall be entered on the first page.

70. When, owing to omission or error in any document which has been registered, a supplementary document rectifying such mistake or omission is presented for registration, a note of such rectification shall be made in the margin of the register in which the original document is registered.

71. When a document occupies more than one sheet of paper, the seal and the signature of the registering officer shall be attached to every sheet.

Refusal of duly presented documents.

72. The circumstances under which a document should at once be refused on presentation are given in rules 51—53. A document duly presented and accepted for the purpose of enquiry, will not be admitted to registration under the following circumstances:—

- (1) If one or more of the executing parties deny execution.
- (2) If one or more of the executing parties fail to appear and to admit execution.
- (3) If a person by whom the document purports to be executed be dead, and his representative or assign deny execution. (Section 35.)
- (4) If a person purporting to have executed the document appear to be a minor, an idiot or a lunatic. (Section 35.)
- (5) If the registering officer be not satisfied of the identity of any person appearing before him and alleging that he executed the document. (Section 35.)
- (6) If the registering officer be not satisfied as to the truth of the allegation that a person who executed the document is dead. (Section 35.)
- (7) If the admitting agent's power of attorney has not been made in accordance with the Act; or if an alleged representative or assign has failed to prove his status. (Section 35.)

73. In cases (1) and (4) registration must be at once refused. In cases (2), (3), (5), (6), (7) the order of refusal should ordinarily be deferred till eight months have elapsed from the date of execution. But if the parties declare their inability to comply with the requirements of the law, or for any other reason wish that the document should at once be refused and returned to them, this may be done. The reasons of refusal must be given in Book II.

74. In recording the reasons for refusal to register, the particulars should be fully and clearly stated in each particular case. When one out of several executants declines to comply with the requirements of the law, his name should be given; when the registering officer is doubtful as to the identity of a party admitting execution, the grounds of his suspicion should be stated.

75. Applications for the remission of fines under section 70 may be filed with the registering officer, but no such application shall be received until the fine has been paid. The application shall be forwarded to the Inspector-General with any remarks which the registering officer may wish to make.

76. In addition to the bound volume of Book I, every registering officer shall keep a file in which he will file copies and memoranda of registered documents which have been forwarded to his office under sections 64, 65, 66 or 67 of the Act. This file shall be bound into a volume or volumes of convenient size at the end of the year. The entries in this volume shall be numbered consecutively, but in a series distinct from that of original registrations in Book I.

77. These copies shall be made on paper of the same size and description as the sheets of the bound books. Memoranda shall be drawn up in the prescribed form.

78. Memoranda for sub-districts in another district shall be enclosed to the Registrar of that district, together with the copy for his own office; but no memorandum need make mention of any property other than that which is situated in the sub-district to which the memorandum is to be sent.

79. When a copy of a document is sent to the Registrar of another district under sections 65—67 of the Act, a memorandum need not be sent to any Sub-Registrar whose office has been amalgamated with that of the Registrar of such district.

80. The date on which copies and memoranda are despatched under the last rule, shall be entered in the right-hand margin of the book in which the document has been copied.

81. When a memorandum or copy under sections 64—67 is transmitted from one office to another, it shall be accompanied by a receipt in the prescribed printed form, which shall at once be signed and returned by the receiving officer. If delay occurs in the return of the receipt, the despatching officer should takeed for it. All such receipts when returned should be filed separately.

82. The copies and translations of documents required to be filed under sections 19 and 62 shall be made upon hand-laid medium paper. They shall be kept in a separate file, a reference being made to this in the right-hand margin of the page on which the translation is copied in the register book. The file shall be bound from time to time, when it contains a sufficient number of copies and translations to form a volume. For the purposes of this rule the requisite paper may be sold to the public at one anna per sheet.

83. The personal index No. 1 shall contain the following headings:—

Index of persons.

1. Name of person.
2. Addition.
3. Interest in the transaction, as purchaser, mortgagee, decree-holder, &c.
4. Office of registration.

5. Serial number.
6. Book.
7. Volume.
8. Page.

Index of places.

84. The local index No. II shall contain the following headings:—

1. Name of property or of mauzah; or, in towns, of street.
2. Name of parganah or thanah.
3. Sub-district in which the property is situated.
4. Nature of the transaction, as sale of land, decree for possession of house, &c.
5. Office of registration.
6. Serial number.
7. Book.
8. Volume.
9. Page.

Index III.

85. Index III shall contain the same headings as No. 1.

86. Except in rural offices, all indexes shall be kept in English.

87. English indexes shall be kept according to the letters of the alphabet, the entries under each letter being arranged according to the vowel of the first syllable, if the word begins with a consonant; or according to the second vowel in the word if it begins with a vowel.

88. If the documents to be indexed are written or executed in English, the names of the persons and places shall be spelt in the same way in which they are written in the documents. If the documents are written or executed in a vernacular language, the spelling shall be regulated according to Professor H. H. Wilson's system of transliteration, as modified by the Syndicate of the Calcutta University.

89. In the case of Europeans and of those Hindus who have hereditary family names, the surname or family name shall be taken as the index word. In all other cases native names shall be indexed as they stand. A mere title or designation of caste shall not be taken as the index word.

90. When a document is executed on behalf or in favour of Government, the index entry shall be made under G., Government, the name of the officer executing the document being entered in the column headed Addition; if on behalf or in favour of the Court of Wards, under W., Wards, Court of; and in the case of any other Court, under C. The names of companies shall be entered as they stand, the article only being omitted; thus—Land Mortgage Bank of India, Limited, under L.; Ganges Steam Navigation Company, Limited, under G.

91. The name of the depositor of a sealed cover shall be entered in index I.

92. When there are two or more executants or claimants, their names shall be separately entered in index I or III. Similarly, when two or more properties are conveyed by a single document, they shall be separately entered in Index II. But no Sub-Registrar need enter in his Index II any property which does not lie in his own sub-district.

93. Copies and memoranda of documents shall be indexed in the same way as original documents, but the entries relating to them shall be made in red ink.

94. In rural offices, the indexes shall be kept in the vernacular, the names being merely arranged according to their first letters. One copy of indexes I, II, and III, shall be made for office use in a bound volume; and a duplicate of the entries made each month in indexes I and II shall be submitted at its close to the Sub-divisional Sub-Registrar. In the Head Quarters Sub-division, and wherever the Sub-divisional system has not yet been introduced, the duplicate will be sent to the Registrar. Rules 83, 84, 85, 89, 90, and 92, above, apply to the indexes of Rural Sub-Registrars.

95. The Sub-Registrar, on receiving the indexes I and II from the Rural Sub-Registrars, shall translate the same, and incorporate them in his own indexes, noting the place of registration of each document. He shall also, at the end of each year, or at such shorter intervals as the Registrar shall direct, prepare on hand-laid medium paper a copy of the incorporated index, and submit it to the Registrar.

96. Where the office of a Registrar has been amalgamated with that of a Sub-Registrar, the duplicate indexes of the duplicate copy of the Sub-Registrar's indexes shall be sent for safe custody to the office of the Registrar of Calcutta, or to such other place as the Inspector-General may direct.

97. The Registrar's office shall be a central office of record for each district, and the books and papers of subordinate offices (which are not to be destroyed) shall be transferred to it from time to time.

98. The following records belonging to the period anterior to the enactment of Act XVI of 1864 shall be henceforward permanently preserved in district registry offices:—

All registers of documents and their indexes.

Duplicate copies of documents required to be filed under Regulation XX of 1812.

- Registers of powers of attorney.
- Original powers required to be filed under Regulation XX of 1812.
- Kazis' records.

Books to be kept in all offices. 99. Besides register books I, II, III, and IV, and indexes I, II, and III, the following records shall be kept in all registry offices:—

- A register of powers of attorney in the prescribed form.
- A register of visits and commissions in the prescribed form.
- A fee book in the prescribed form.
- A cash book in the form prescribed by the Accountant-General.
- A catalogue in the prescribed form.
- A chalan book in the prescribed form.
- A file of receipts given under section 52 and returned on delivery of registered documents.
- A file of receipts for copies and memoranda under rule 81.

Additional books in district offices. 100. The following additional books shall be kept in all district offices:—

- Book V.
- A register of letters received.
- A register of letters despatched.

Transfer of books. 101. In January of each year the following records for the previous year shall be transferred from sub-registry offices to the district office:—

- Book I (including the file of copies), and book IV under Act VIII of 1871, and index III.

Copies and translations filed under section 19.

102. Books II and III, and the register of attested powers of attorney, shall be transferred to the district office as soon as they are filled.

103. In the case of all rural offices, and wherever the sub-registry office is not a masonry building, each volume of the register books shall be forwarded to the district office as soon as it has been filled and indexed without waiting till the end of the year.

Records to be preserved in perpetuity. 104. For the period since Act XVI of 1864 came into force the following records shall be preserved in perpetuity in all district offices:—

- All register books and their indexes prescribed by Acts XVI of 1864 and XX of 1866 and VIII of 1871, as well those of the district registry offices as those received from the sub-registry offices.

Registers of powers of attorney.

Catalogue.

Cash book.

Fee book.

Reports of the destruction of records, and lists of the papers destroyed.

105. The following records shall be preserved in perpetuity in all sub-registry offices:—

Book III, under Act XVI of 1864, and Book V, under Act XX of 1866.

The rough indexes, under Act XVI of 1864.

Original indexes I and II, under Acts XX of 1866 and VIII of 1871.

Cash book.

Fee book.

Section 83. 106. When a registered document is destroyed under section 83, a note to that effect shall be made in the book in which it is registered.

Records to be destroyed after three years. 107. The following records may be destroyed after the expiration of three full years from the period to which they relate:—

Registers of visits and commissions.

Chalan books.

The receipts referred to in section 52.

Receipts referred to in rule 81.

All correspondence, whether in English or in the vernacular, which is of an ordinary routine character, and which the Registrar considers may be destroyed.

Monthly returns, petitions, and other records and papers not otherwise specified.

108. No books or papers whatever shall be destroyed at a sub-registry office without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General.

109. The register books and indexes of the general registry offices under Act XVI of 1864 and Act XX of 1866, shall be preserved in the Calcutta Registry Office.

110. All applications for search or for copies should be made to the registering officer himself.

Applications for search or copies. If an application is made in writing, the registering officer should initial it at once, giving the date. If an application is made vid voce, the registering officer should write on a slip of paper, "Give copy," or some such brief order, adding his initials and date. All such applications and orders should be preserved on a separate file, the date on which a search has been made or copy completed being noted. Applications made through Sub-Registrars for copies from registers deposited in the district office must be in writing, and should be at once transmitted to the Registrar for compliance. No stamp is required on applications for searches or copies.

111. Registrars shall permit search and grant copies of entries in the registers kept up previous to the enactment of Act VIII of 1871, at the same rate of fees, and to the same extent as in the case of registers under that Act.

112. A call for information from any court or revenue authority shall, if it necessitates search in the registers, be accompanied by the necessary fee for search. Officers of Government shall be permitted to inspect the registers without fee; but if the production of a register book in any court is required, it shall be produced by an officer of the registration establishment deputed for that purpose, who will be entitled to claim payment of his expenses like any other witness.

113. Registering officers shall take care that their clerks have no dealings with the public, except in their presence. They shall themselves receive documents which are tendered for registration; and when they are registered, shall return them with their own hands.

114. The serial number of the last document in each book completed and ready for return shall be daily notified in some conspicuous place outside every office.

115. A catalogue in the prescribed form shall be kept up and permanently preserved in every registry office. On the occasion of every permanent change in the incumbency, the officer receiving charge should compare his books with the catalogue, and certify therein that he has found them correct.

Catalogue.

Table of fees.

116. A printed table of fees in English and the vernacular of the district shall be suspended in some conspicuous place in every registry office.

117. Columns 1, 7, and 13 in the fee book should be filled up as soon as any document is presented, except in the case of documents presented at the wrong office and returned under rule 51; columns 8 and 9 should be filled up as soon as a document is admitted or refused; columns 10 and 11, as soon as registration has been completed; column 12, as soon as the document has been delivered and column 14, as soon as the required copies and memoranda have been despatched.

118. Where the Sub-Registrar is a salaried officer, and only receives commission, in addition to his salary, he should remit the fees to the treasury daily. Remittances to the treasury should be accompanied by the Chalan Book duly filled up in duplicate. One copy of each chalan will then be kept by the treasury officer and the other returned with his signature.

119. Before the 1st of September of each year, every Sub-Registrar shall submit to the Registrar to whom he is subordinate, an indent in the prescribed form for all register books and other registration forms which will be required in his office during the following calendar year.

120. Every Registrar shall submit to the Inspector-General before the 15th September of each year an indent in quadruplicate in the prescribed form for all register books, and other registration forms which will be required for his own office, and those of the Sub-Registrars subordinate to him during the following calendar year. When it is desired that the supply of register books, &c., should be forwarded to any sub-registry office direct instead of being sent through the office of the Registrar to whom he is subordinate, an intimation to that effect should accompany the Registrar's indent, and the indents of such Sub-Registrars should be submitted separately in quadruplicate with the Registrar's endorsement instead of being embodied in the Registrar's indent.

121. When delay occurs in supplying register books and other registration forms, reminders should be addressed, not to the Inspector-General of Registration, but to the Superintendent of the Alipore Jail Press, the number of the Stationery office order being quoted. Reminders are useless without it.

122. Indents for the forms enumerated in the margin which have been prescribed by the Accountant-General should be submitted in triplicate in March of each year direct to the Superintendent of Stationery.

1A. Accountant-General's form indent form.

116. Commission list of Sub-Registrars.

117. Salary list of gazetted officers of the Registration Department.

118. Salary list of sanctioned establishments of the Registration Department.

119. Bill for contingent charges of the Registration Department.

120. Travelling allowance of Registrars.

121. Travelling allowance of ministerial officers of the Registration Department.

126. Refund of registration fees.

127. Bill for refund of registration fees for sudder sub-registry office.

128. Bill for refund of registration fee for sub-divisional and rural sub-registry office.

138. Detailed bill of contingent charges for countersignature.

141. Leave statement.

183. Cash book of registration.

184. Acquittance roll of establishment.

200. Monthly chalan of officers paid by fees only.

123. Rural Sub-Registrars may be supplied with registration ink and other stationery from the district office at cost price, which should be ascertained from the Superintendent of Stationery. The hand-made medium paper required for copies under sections 64 and 65 will be supplied to them gratis.

Indents for stationery.

JUNE.—Patna, Bhaugulpore, and Rajshahye Divisions, except the district of Rajshahye.

JULY.—Dacca, Cooch Behar, and Assam Divisions.

AUGUST.—Calcutta offices, viz., those belonging to the Judicial, Revenue, Financial, Public Works, Telegraph, and Post Office Departments.

SEPTEMBER.—Calcutta offices, viz., the Secretariat Offices, and those belonging to the Military, Ecclesiastical, and Marine Departments, and all not included in the foregoing.

OCTOBER.—Burmah, Straits Settlements, Tenasserim, Arracan, and the Chittagong Divisions.

NOVEMBER.—Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, and the Rajshahye district (Rampore Beaulah).

DECEMBER.—Chota Nagpore, Cuttack, and Hyderabad.

before these dates. The Registrar's indent should include all ink and other stationery likely to be required by rural Sub-Registrars under rule 123 above.

125. All official letters and covers sent by post from any Sub-Registry or District Registry office must be prepaid by service labels. These labels will be supplied to Sub-Registrars (on application) by District Registrars who will disallow unreasonable and excessive demands. A monthly statement of the distribution of service postage labels should be submitted by each District Registrar for the information of the Inspector-General. A permanent advance of Rs. 20 for postal charges is allowed to District Registrars. All bills for bearing covers must be accompanied by the covers on which the payments were made as vouchers. Service labels will be purchased by District Registrars as they require them, the expenditure being included in their monthly postal bill supported by the treasury officer's receipts as vouchers.

126. When an officer is temporarily placed in charge of the office of a special Sub-Registrar during his absence on inspection duty in the interior of his district, he is not entitled to draw commission which the Special Sub-Registrar retains.

127. The security bonds of head-clerks should be examined at the close of each financial year, the result being reported to the Inspector-General.

128. The receipts entered in the fee book need not be entered in detail in the cash book. Their daily totals will be sufficient. But all other receipts and all payments whatsoever must be entered in full detail in the cash book. All cash received must at once be entered either in the fee book or in the cash book. No money should under any circumstances be kept out of account. The cash book should be balanced every day, and signed after careful examination by the registering officer.

129. All permanent advances must be repaid into the treasury on the 31st of March of each year, and drawn again in the following month.

130. Registrars and Sub-Registrars who are paid by fixed salaries will draw their pay in Accountant-General's form No. 117, and the bill may be paid without the countersignature of superior authority.

131. Salaried Sub-Registrars who are also entitled to a percentage on the fees, will draw their commission at the end of each month in Accountant-General's form No. 116, at such rate as may have been sanctioned by Government, but upon such fees only as shall have been actually paid into the treasury during the month. No commission is payable on fines, or on the extra fees for registration by a Registrar, or on the receipts for the sale of paper. Commission bills require the Registrar's countersignature before payment.

132. Sub-Registrars who are paid by fees only, and receive 50 per cent. and upwards of those fees will retain them until the end of each month, and then remit the Government share of them to the treasury, with an account current in duplicate in the prescribed form A. G. B. No. 200.

133. Salary bills for permanent establishments will be drawn in Accountant-General's form No. 118, by the head of the office. They do not require the countersignature of higher authority.

134. Bills for extra establishments paid by salary may be drawn in the same way as those for fixed establishments, the orders sanctioning their entertainment being always quoted in the bill.

135. Bills for wages of extra writers paid at contract rates require the countersignature of the Inspector-General before payment.

136. Travelling allowances of registering officers and their clerks will be drawn in Accountant-General's form Nos. 120 and 121 respectively; and in both cases they must invariably be submitted to the Inspector-General for countersignature before payment, whatever may be the amount of the bill.

137. When ministerial officers of the department are deputed to give evidence or to produce records before any court, their travelling expenses will be paid by the court.

138. House and office rent sanctioned by Government may be drawn by the head of the office without the countersignature of higher authority, the number and date of the Government order being always quoted in the bill.

139. Office furniture must not be purchased without the sanction of the Inspector-General. An estimate of the probable cost should accompany all applications for such sanction.

140. The salary of sweepers cannot be charged to contingencies. The wages of pankha-pullers may be so charged when their employment has been sanctioned.

124. Before the several dates noted in the margin all District Registrars should send to the Superintendent of Stationery an indent in duplicate in the prescribed form for the stationery (including registration ink) which will be required for the registry offices in their districts during the next twelve months; indents from Sub-Registrars should be submitted to the district office at least 15 days

141. No charges for printing may be incurred without the special sanction of the Inspector-General. Such printed forms as are necessary will be printed at the Alipore Jail Press under the authority of the Inspector-General.

142. English stationery procurable from the Stationery Office may not be purchased in the local market, but charges for petty articles, such as sealing-ink, paste, thread, country paper, &c., may be included in the monthly contingent bill.

143. Sub-Registrars' contingent bills should be presented for payment at the end of each month, and if the total charge does not exceed Rs. 10, the Registrar's countersignature is sufficient for audit.

144. Registrars' contingent bills not exceeding Rs. 10 in amount, do not require countersignature.

145. A permanent advance of Rs. 10 is allowed to all Registrars and ex-officio Sub-Registrars for ordinary contingent charges. When the expenditure during any month on account of contingencies in any Registrar's or ex-officio Sub-Registrar's office exceeds the amount of the permanent advance the amount expended may be drawn by an abstract bill or bills (see Accountant-General's form No. 119) submitted during the month under the Registrar's signature or countersignature. But in such cases a detailed bill (see Accountant-General's form No. 138) accompanied by vouchers must also be submitted at the end of the month.

146. A duplicate bill should never be submitted unless the original is lost in transit or otherwise, in which case a certificate should be attached to the effect that the bill has not been cashed at the treasury.

147. Bills, monthly returns, and regular indents, should not be accompanied by covering letters. The envelopes containing them should be marked "Returns." Letters and urgent indents should be separately sent.

The following are the conditions of Sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertized for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth Condition or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. No. 1, certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1872-73, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 8th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March, 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1874, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 45,000 chests of

Behar	...	Chests.	26,244
Benares	...		18,756
Total			45,000

Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing the date of payment, or by selling it at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article, there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so supplied for provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."—By order of the Member in charge.

The Calcutta Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1873.

PART II.

Advertisements.

N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of lands, no longer required by the Government, situated in the district of Bhargulpore, will be put up to sale at the Collector's Office, at Bhargulpore, at 12 o'clock on Monday, the 2nd February 1874, corresponding with 21st Maug B.S.

The purchasers of these plots will be subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—If the amount of purchase money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

3rd.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

4th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector confirming the sales. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final sanction of the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge should not be accorded to the proceedings.

Admission of Stock other than for competition.—By special permission of the Managing Committee, persons desirous of exhibiting horse stock (not intended to compete for prizes) will be permitted to do so on a payment of Rs. 16 per head, provided stabling can be found for them.

4. Intending Exhibitors must apply for stalls by post in an envelope addressed—

“ TO THE JOINT SECRETARIES,

Calcutta Horse Show, 1874.”

so as to be received by them not later than the 15th December 1873. On receipt of such applications printed forms will be furnished to the Owners or Exhibitors, to be filled in by them and returned at once to the Joint Secretaries, who will then allot stalls or boxes for the horses described.

5. Superintendent.—A Superintendent and four European Assistants will be appointed by the Managing Committee to undertake the stable management of the Show-yard. It will be his duty to point out the stalls allotted to the Exhibitors, and to see that all orders issued by the Committee are thoroughly and promptly carried out.

6. Date of receipt of Horses.—Horses sent for exhibition will be received by a Veterinary Surgeon and the Superintendent of the Horse Show on Wednesday, the 7th of January 1874, any time before noon of that day.

7. Health Certificate.—A health certificate, signed by a Veterinary Surgeon, must accompany every horse when first brought to the Horse Show lines. The Veterinary Surgeon attending on the part of Government will also inspect each horse before being finally admitted.

8. Grooms.—Exhibitors are required to engage a reliable groom (syce) for each horse, and it is expected that either the attendant or a substitute will remain night and day at his post.

9. Attention to Regulations.—All attendants must conform to the rules and regulations issued by the Managing Committee; copies will be furnished to the Exhibitors, and will also be posted on the walls of the stables.

10. Complaints.—Complaints may be lodged at any time at the office of the Superintendent, either verbally or in writing, in a book to be kept for the purpose.

11. Complaint Book.—Persons able to read and write will have to enter their complaints in the book; minor complaints will be settled by the Superintendent on the spot; those of a more serious nature will be treated by the Managing Committee.

12. Illness of Horses.—In case of illness of any horse the Owner or Exhibitor must provide medical attendance.

13. All the horses will be daily inspected by a Veterinary Surgeon.

14. All possible care will be taken of horses exhibited, but the Superintendent cannot be held responsible for any injury or accident which may occur.

15. Forage and Grain.—Forage, grain, and water for the stock will be provided by the Exhibitors.

16. Smoking prohibited.—Smoking is strictly prohibited in the stables; particular attention is requested to this rule, which is considered imperatively necessary for the safety of the cattle.

17. Stabling.—A loose stall or box will be provided for each animal so exhibited.

18. Location of Mares.—Every lot of six mares will be stabled close to each other.

19. Inspection by Judges.—The Judges will inspect and examine horses entered for prize competition on Thursday 8th, Friday 9th, and Saturday 10th, of January 1874.

20. Exclusion of Visitors during inspection by Judges.—Under no circumstances will any person be permitted to be within the precincts of the premises at the time of inspection, except groom (syces) who will be appointed by the Judges to bring up each horse for examination.

21. Owners and Exhibitors similarly excluded.—Owners and Exhibitors are debarred from the privilege of being present as much as the public generally.

22. Horses how to be inspected.—The horses will be brought up without clothing, so that they may not be recognized by any initials or distinctive marks.

23. Judges how guided in arriving at decision.—Exhibitors are informed that Judges in arriving at their decision will be guided by the following points:—

1st.—That under the terms of Military Department Government Notification of the 4th of February last, no prize will be given unless the horses exhibited come up to a high standard of excellence. Importers and competitors are informed that the Judges will be considerably guided by good measurement of girth and leg and blood, combined with power; animals wanting in such essential points will have no chance of obtaining a prize.

2nd.—The horses will be judged as to their merits under the several heads of:—

- A. Soundness.
- B. Blood and power.
- C. General conformation.
- D. Action.
- E. Condition.

The maximum number of marks being 100.

3rd.—“The best horse” must be perfectly sound, but any serious blemish, the result of accident, will be weighed by the Judges.

4th.—Each mare of every lot must be sound for all working and brood purposes.

5th.—If any misinformation is furnished by an Exhibitor in respect of the animals owned or exhibited by him, the whole of his stock will be disqualified for prizes, and will be at once removed from the Show premises. Admission to the Show will be refused to any person coming within the terms of this rule.

6th.—The decision of Judges to be final.

24. Judges' Report.—The Judges' report of their inspection will be prepared and printed by Saturday evening, the 10th of January 1874, but will be confidential until read to His Excellency the Viceroy on the formal opening of the Show.

25. Necessity of Exhibitors' servants attending to Rules.—Particular attention must be given by all Exhibitors to the necessity of their servants carrying out all the rules which may be laid down for efficient sanitary arrangements.

26. Fire Engine.—A fire engine, and a party to work it, will be on the premises during the Exhibition.

27. Police arrangements.—The Commissioner of Police will arrange with the Managing Committee (Judges) for such number of Police as may be requisite for the protection of property and the preservation of order.

28. Light other than those supplied by Committee prohibited.—Stable lanterns will be provided by the Committee and placed under the orders of the Superintendent. Other lights or lanterns or fire of any kind will not be permitted within the stabling.

29. Removal of horses if attacked with disease.—The Managing Committee are empowered, if they deem it necessary, to direct the removal of a horse attacked with any contagious disease.

30. Removal of horses when prohibited.—No horse brought for exhibition, even in the event of its having been sold, will be allowed to be removed until the Exhibition is closed.

31. Final removal from Show.—Horses must be removed the day following the closing of the Exhibition.

32. Objections.—Any objection to horses exhibited must be made and proved to the satisfaction of the Stewards the day before the prizes are awarded.

33. Objection made after award of prize.—Objections made after the award of prizes will not be attended to during the present Show, but will be recorded against future exhibition of the horses objected to.

34. Onus of proving objection.—The onus of proving an objection will be wholly and entirely on the person making it. All objections must be made in writing.

By Order of the Committee,

1st December 1873.

FROM THE AUDITORS OF THE ACCOUNTS OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

GENTLEMEN,

We have the honor to report that we have examined and found correct your cash accounts for the half-year ending the 30th September 1873. We have not examined your store accounts.

The financial results of the half-year may be described as follows:—

DESCRIPTION OF TRANSACTION.				Wharves and Jetties Division.	River Division.	Total.
RECEIPTS.				Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Net Earnings	1,37,272	21,088	1,58,360
Debt incurred	3,00,000	...	3,00,000
Deposits received	2,752	20	2,772
Cash Balance reduced	1,26,319	29,830	1,56,149
Total	5,66,343	50,938	6,17,281
CHARGES.
Capital outlay	4,61,522	50,938	5,12,460
Repayment of Loan	1,04,821	...	1,04,821
Total	5,66,343	50,938	6,17,281

Your financial position on 30th September 1873 is shewn by your books of account to have been as follows:—

LIABILITIES AND ASSETS.				Wharves and Jetties Division.	River Division.	Total.
LIABILITIES.				Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Capital Debt	17,95,179	17,65,000	35,60,179
Net Earnings	10,36,069	5,19,999	15,56,068

Cash Balance	76,946	*29,484	1,06,430
Total	28,34,010	22,85,179	51,19,189

We would call attention to the change made during the half-year under report in the method of keeping the "Depreciation Account" in the River Division of the Trust. Hitherto the depreciation allowance has been credited to a distinct head, the value of "block" remaining unchanged. Now the depreciation allowance is credited to "block," the value of which, as recorded in the accounts, is reduced pro tanto.

We have the honor to be,

GENTLEMEN,

Your most obedient servants.

Notice

Is hereby given that in consequence of the construction of the new road from Giridi on the Karharari Branch of the East Indian Railway to Hazaribaugh, all goods can most conveniently be sent to Hazaribaugh by that route instead of by the railway to Barakar only. The undersigned therefore invites all Government officers, tradesmen and other gentlemen who may not be specially instructed to the contrary by their consignees, and who do not avail themselves of the Government parcel post, to send their consignments and goods to the care of the Station Master, Giridi.

This request is made as the transport agency has been removed from the Barakar, and the route by Giridi is shorter and less expensive.

Acts of the Bengal Council.

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

THE following Act passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 2nd December 1873, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Governor General on the 20th idem, is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. VI OF 1873.

An Act to amend the law relating to Embankments and Watercourses.

WHEREAS it is expedient that provision should be made for the better construction, maintenance, and management of embankments and watercourses in the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; It is enacted as follows:—

PART I.

Preliminary.

1. This Act may be called "The Bengal Embankment Act, 1873."

It extends to the whole of the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, except the province of Orissa and the Soonderbuns as defined under the provisions of Clause 2, Section 13, Regulation III of 1828.

And it shall come into force on the day of the passing thereof.

2. From such day, Act No. XXXII of 1855 (relating to embankments) and

Repeal of former Acts. Bengal Act No. VII of 1866

(to make better provision for the acquisition of land for embankments and other matters relating thereto) shall, except so far as relates to the province of Orissa and the said

3. The following words shall, for the purposes of this Act, have the meanings hereby declared, save more zemindars are jointly holders thereof, they shall be jointly and severally

"Tenure" includes all interests in land other than estates as above defined, held permanently at a fixed rental, or held lakhiraj.

"Proprietor." "Proprietor" means the holder of a tenure.

"Public Embankment" means an embankment maintained by the officers of Government.

"Public watercourse" means any watercourse under the charge of the officers of Government.

"The Engineer" means the District Engineer or any Engineer specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of an Engineer under this Act.

"Collector" means any Collector, Deputy Collector or other Revenue Officer in independent charge of any district or portion of a district, or specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act.

"District" means the portion of territory throughout which any person vested with the powers of a Collector is authorized to exercise such powers.

"Land" includes interests in land and benefits arising out of land and things attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth.

PART II.

Powers of Collector and procedure thereon.

4. Under the conditions and in the manner hereinafter provided—

(1.) The Collector may cause any embankment which connects public embankments, or forms, by junction with them, part of a line of embankments, or any embankment or watercourse which is necessary for the protection or drainage of the neighbouring country, to be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government.

(2.) The Collector may cause to be removed or altered any embankment which endangers the stability of a public embankment, or any obstruction of any kind which interferes with the general drainage of any tract of land.

(3.) The Collector may, when necessary, change the line of or lengthen any public embankment; or make a new embankment in the place of or renew any public embankment; or make an embankment in any place in which he may deem such embankment required for the protection of any lands, or for the improvement of any watercourse; or make a sluice in any public embankment.

(4.) The Collector may construct any sluice or watercourse, or effect any alteration in any public watercourse, when such construction or alteration may be required for the improvement of the health, or for the protection of any village or cultivable land.

(5.) The Collector may call upon the person in charge of any road which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land to alter such road, or to construct any watercourse under or through such road. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Collector shall prescribe, the said Collector may cause the road to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the person in charge of the said road, so far as the same shall have been incurred on account of insufficient provision having been made at the time of the construction of the said road for the natural drainage then existing.

(6.) If any landholder, farmer, or cultivator be desirous of having a sluice made in any public embankment for the purpose of drainage or irrigation, he shall make an application in writing to the Collector of the district in which such embankment is situate. The application shall contain such particulars of the land to be drained or irrigated as may enable the Collector to judge of the advantage which may be derived from the work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

(7.) Whenever any person is desirous that any new embankment be erected, or that any new watercourse be made, or that any watercourse be obstructed or diverted, if such work is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede any public embankment or any public watercourse, he shall apply to the Collector, and at the time of making such application shall deposit with him a statement of the proposed work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

5. When it shall appear expedient to the Collector that any of the works specified in the last preceding section should be executed, he shall cause to be prepared plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map showing the boundaries of the villages of the various estates likely to be affected by the said works, and he shall cause a proclamation to be issued giving notice of his intention to cause such works to be executed. Such proclamation shall be in the form, and state the particulars mentioned in Schedule (A) annexed to this Act; and the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as aforesaid, shall be kept at the office of the Collector and shall be open to the inspection of any interested persons who shall be allowed to take copies thereof. The Collector shall not commence any of such works until final order made in respect thereto under the provisions of Sections 8, 59, and 60 of this Act.

6. Every such proclamation shall be published by affixing the same at the cutcherry of the Collector, and in the manner provided in the third clause of Section 57.

7. Every such proclamation shall be published not less than thirty days before the day appointed for hearing the persons interested.

8. The Collector shall, on the day appointed for the hearing, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing shall be adjourned, hear the objections of any persons who may appear, and, after recording any evidence which they may adduce, shall pass an order in regard to the execution of the proposed works. Notice of such order shall be served on such persons as may have appeared in pursuance of the proclamation.

9. If the lands, which are likely to be affected by any such proposed works, are situated within the limits of different districts, the Collector of any district, within which any portion of such lands is situated, shall apply to the Commissioner of the division for authority to proceed in such matter; and the Commissioner of the division, if all the lands are situated within his division, may give authority to such Collector, or to any other Collector within whose district any portion of such lands is situated, to proceed in respect of all the lands likely to be affected by such works.

If the districts, within which the lands likely to be affected by any such works are situated, are subject to the Commissioners of different divisions, the Collector shall apply to the Commissioner of the division within which his district is situated, and such Commissioner may, with the concurrence of the Commissioner to whom the other district is subject, give authority to proceed in such matter.

10. All the powers vested in the Collector by Section 4 of this Act, may be exercised by the Engineer in cases referred to him by the Collector subject to the general orders of the Collector.

The Collector may delegate certain powers to Engineer.

PART III.

Procedure in cases of imminent danger to life or property.

11. Whenever the Collector shall be of opinion that the proceedings commenced by notice under Sections 5 to 8 of this Act would cause delay in the exercise of any of the powers conferred upon him by Clauses 2, 3, and 4 of Section 4, likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to commence to exercise such powers. Provided that he shall forthwith cause to be prepared the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as provided in Section 5, and shall cause a proclamation to be issued as provided in that section giving notice that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall be had as in and by Part II of this Act are directed.

12. Whenever any land, or earth from any land the property of any person, is required for the purposes of any works commenced in pursuance of the provisions of the last preceding section, or for the purposes of Section 18 in cases where the Collector shall be of opinion that proceedings for the acquisition of such land according to the provisions hereinafter contained in Section 25, would cause delay as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act, giving notice thereof at convenient places in the locality in which such land is situated, and he may at the same time take possession of the same for the said purposes.

13. The Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of the crops and trees (if any) standing on such land, and shall offer adequate compensation to the persons interested. If such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions of Section 29.

14. The Collector may depute to the Engineer the powers described in Sections 11, 12, and 13 subject to his own general orders, and in that case when the Collector is not present the Engineer may, if he shall be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Collector would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, exercise the powers conferred on him by the Collector.

15. Whenever, upon an inquiry had under the provisions of this Part, it has been determined in the final order to be passed on such inquiry that anything done by the Collector, or by the Engineer under the last preceding section was unnecessary, the land or the embankments or drainage shall, so far as any alteration thereof shall appear to be unnecessary, be at the expense of the Government restored as nearly as possible to the state in which they were when the Collector commenced to act under the provisions of this Part; and any person who shall have sustained loss, damage, or injury by the execution of such works, shall receive compensation from the Government to be assessed according to the provisions contained in Part V of this Act.

Section 9 to apply to proceedings under this Part.

16. The provisions of Section 9 shall be applicable to proceedings taken under this Part.

PART IV.

Powers of Engineer.

17. The power conferred on the Engineer under this Part shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Collector.

18. The Engineer may make any repairs in, and may do all acts necessary and proper for the maintenance of any public embankment, public watercourse, or other work executed or taken charge of under the provisions of this Act, or of any of the Acts repealed by this Act.

19. The Engineer may call upon the manager, or other person in charge of any railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land, to alter such railroad or to construct any watercourse under or through such railroad. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Engineer shall prescribe, the Engineer may thereupon, with the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, cause the said railroad to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager, or other person in charge of the said railroad, so far as the same shall have been incurred on account of insufficient provision having been made at the time of the construction of the said railroad for the natural drainage then existing.

20. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary watercourse should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public watercourse, he shall apply to the Engineer, who shall communicate the application to the Collector, and the Collector shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making and closing or removing such watercourse or dam. If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

21. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated; and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, in accordance with the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870," or other law for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes, for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

22. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

23. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair, or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of towing to enlarge an existing towpath, or to construct a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

24. It shall be lawful for the Engineer, or any person whom he may authorize in that behalf, in order to carry out any of the purposes of this Act, to enter upon, and survey, and take levels of any land;

to dig or bore into the sub-soil;

to do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted to the purpose projected by such Engineer; or by the Collector;

to set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon;

to mark such levels, boundaries, and line, by placing marks and cutting trenches; and, where otherwise the survey cannot be completed or the levels taken, to cut down and clear away any part of any standing crop, fence, or jungle.

Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of issuing the proclamation), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than two years next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

32. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, bermes, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

35. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the time of the passing of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein, or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule except under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act, shall be paid by the Government.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (D), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule. Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification, published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (D), be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

36. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

37. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

38. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the true amount of all such expenses, and the names of the estates chargeable for, and of the estates and villages affected by, the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by a person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages, and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimate, the Collector shall inquire into such objection and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

39. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under a certificate incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts II and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the persons by whom, or in respect of other works the estates in respect of which the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay, otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained.

Interest may be charged upon any sum payable as compensation from the date of payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding 5 per centum per annum as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

40. The said total sum, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed. Provided that where any specific sum has hitherto been annually demanded in respect of any embankment not included in Schedule (D), and when the said embankment is at the time of this Act coming into operation being maintained by Government, then such special payments shall, after the passing of this Act, thenceforth cease and determine.

Every zemindar, who is liable under this Act for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of every tenure which is declared to be a part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure by the Collector, under the provisions of Section 45. And similarly, every proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of any subordinate tenure which is declared to be a part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure by the Collector, under the said provisions.

2. Apportionment thereof.

41. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause notice to be served for every one of the said estates and villages mentioned in Section 38. Every such notice shall specify the estates and villages aforesaid, and that an inquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and proprietors the said total sum, with interest and the costs of apportionment.

42. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. In making this inquiry he shall receive such evidence as may be tendered by, or on behalf of, the said zemindars and proprietors, and by, or on behalf of, any other persons who may claim to be interested therein.

43. In any such inquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be proprietors of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein, and shall adjourn the inquiry till such date.

44. At such or any subsequently adjourned inquiry, the Collector, if there be only one estate liable, shall charge the zemindar thereof with the total amount payable; and if there be two or more estates, he shall apportion the same amongst the zemindars thereof, rateably in proportion to the respective benefits derived by such estates from such works or repairs; or in proportion to the areas of the lands benefited or protected thereby, and comprised within such estates respectively; or with the sanction of the local Government in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates, if, before the passing of this Act, such proportion has been usually adopted.

Provided that the said total amount payable in respect of the embankments on the right bank of the river Gunduk shall be chargeable, in accordance with the custom in force for such estates, to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the district of Sarun, in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates.

Provided also that the sum standing to the credit of a pergunnah in Schedule (E) in the account kept by the Collector, at the time when the total amount payable is fixed under the provisions of Section 39, shall be deducted from the total amount payable in respect of such portion of any embankment as is situated in such pergunnah; and that the zemindars of the estates situated therein shall be charged only with the balance of the amount (if any) which may remain payable.

45. The Collector shall, in like manner, apportion, except in respect of the said Gunduk embankments, the amount payable in respect of each estate amongst all the tenures therein rateably, in the proportion of benefit so received or area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as, on the like principle of proportion, is payable in respect of such portion of the estate as is not included within any tenure.

46. All lands held without payment of rent not being estates entered in the register of revenue-free tenures, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal and signature, declare.

47. The amount apportioned to any estate or tenure shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of the same becoming due until payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time determine.

48. On the completion of the apportionment the Collector shall make an order specifying the estates and tenures, and the several sums payable in respect thereof, the instalments of such sums, and the dates on which the same are payable.

3. Recovery thereof.

49. The Collector shall, within thirty days from the final order of apportionment, make and serve for every estate therein mentioned an order, stating the amount with interest due in respect thereof, and that the same is payable to him, and the date or dates at which such amount or instalments thereof shall become payable to him.

50. If such sum or any instalment thereof be not, pursuant to the said order, paid, the same with interest shall be recoverable as arrears of a demand under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue).

51. Every zemindar or proprietor to whom any sum or instalment thereof is payable under the said order, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of putnee tenures by the provisions of Clauses 2 and 3 of Section 8, Sections 9, 10, 14, 15, and Clauses 1, 2, and 3 of Section 17 of Regulation VIII of 1819, as amended by Bengal Act VIII of 1865; provided that the right or interest of any person holding from the proprietor of such tenure shall not be affected by any sale held under these provisions.

PART VII.

Miscellaneous.

52. Whoever wilfully obstructs any person three last preceding sections, the convicting Magistrate may order that he shall remove the embankment or obstruction, or repair the damage, in respect of which the conviction is held, within a period to be fixed in such order. If such person neglects or refuses to obey such order within the fixed period, the Engineer may remove such embankment or obstruction or repair such damage, and the cost of such removal or repair shall be levied from such person in addition to any other penalty in the manner provided in Section 307 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

57. Every proclamation, notice or order in and

by this Act required to be served may, unless when otherwise provided, be served—

(1) by delivering a copy of the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service by posting a copy on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person resides, or by delivering a copy to any agent authorized to appear generally for the person to whom such proclamation, notice or order is directed; or

(2) by sending a registered letter containing a copy of such proclamation, notice or order directed to the said person at his usual place of abode, or at the place where he may be known to reside; or

(3) by posting a copy of the proclamation, notice or order at the mal-cutcherry of the estate, village or tenure to which the same relates; or if no such mal-cutcherry be found, on some conspicuous place on the said estate, village or tenure, and by delivering, in the case of estates paying their annual revenue by four instalments, another copy thereof to the agent who shall have paid an instalment of revenue next before or after the preparation of such proclamation, notice or order. In all cases where two or more persons are holders of an estate, village or tenure service under this clause shall be deemed to be good and sufficient service on each and all of such persons.

58. No proceedings under this Act shall be

Act, the Collector and the Commissioner shall respectively have the same powers as those conferred on Courts by the Code of Civil Procedure of summoning and examining witnesses and compelling the production of documents.

62. All the powers of a Collector under this Act shall be exercised under the general control and orders of the Commissioner of the Division, and all the powers of Collectors and Commissioners shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Board of Revenue and of the Government.

63. Whenever the maintenance of any public embankment, or the retention of any land appropriated to the purposes thereof, may no longer be required, and the permanent relinquishment of the same may be deemed expedient, such land shall be conveyed by the Collector to the proprietor of the land, within the limits of which it may be situated, on payment of the compensation, if any, which was paid for such land when the same was taken for the purpose of the embankment. If the proprietor of such lands refuse or neglect to pay such price within a reasonable time after demand, the same shall be sold by the Collector for such price as he can obtain for the same. All sums obtained for the conveyance of lands under the provisions of this section shall, after the payment of all expenses incurred on account of the same, be applied to the payment of the cost of any new embankment or drainage works affecting the said lands, and in such case the residue only of the cost of such new works shall be charged upon the zemindars of estates benefited as hereinbefore provided.

64. A Collector may delegate any of his powers under this Act to a Deputy Collector, but from any order passed by a Deputy Collector to whom powers have been so delegated, an appeal shall lie to the Collector if presented within thirty days of the date of the order.

65. All offences created by this Act shall be inquired into and tried by a Magistrate of the first or second class.

66. Nothing in this Act shall affect the provisions of "the Hooghly and Burdwan Drainage Act 1871."

SCHEDULE OF FORMS.

SCHEDULE A.—(Referred to in Section 5.)

All persons interested are hereby required to take notice that it is my intention to [here state the nature of the work to be undertaken] for the purpose of [state the purpose]. For the execution of this work the undermentioned land will be required to be taken up:—

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Sixth Publication.]

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon in a month :—

A Bill to provide for the Voluntary Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal ; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows :—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married, or divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made prima facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

EMIGRATION TO THE LABOR DISTRICTS.

THE further consideration of the Bill to amend the law relating to the emigration of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar and Sylhet, and to regulate contract labor and service, in order to the settlement of its clauses, was resumed.

THE HON'BLE THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL said he had to move a few verbal amendments in order to render the terms of the Act homogeneous, namely, to express, as far as possible, throughout the Bill the same idea by the same words. The first amendment he had to move was a verbal one, to substitute the word "contracts" for "a contract" in line 4 of Section 3.

The motion was agreed to.

The following amendments were also made on the motion of the Advocate-General :—

In Section 7, line 5, the words "and executed according to the provisions of" were substituted for "in accordance with."

In Section 49, line 13, "a depôt in a place approved of" were substituted for "the depôt registered": depôts not being registered but approved of under Section 35.

In Section 109, line 5, the word "are" was inserted after "or any of them," to complete the grammatical construction of the sentence.

In Section 122, which was a new section, there were two kinds of seizure of deserters spoken of. The term "apprehend" was used where an employer apprehended a deserter upon his own motion under the provisions of the law. The term "arrest" was used where the apprehension was made under a warrant. The words "or arrested" were, on the motion of the Advocate-General inserted after "apprehended" throughout the 5th clause of the section so as to make it more clear that the fine might be imposed or the compensation awarded in both classes of cases, that was to say, where either the apprehension or arrest was made without sufficient cause.

The first clause of Section 5 stood as follows:

"Every contract made with an emigrant, and all arrear of wages due under any such contract, and all fines imposed on any employer under the provisions of this Act, shall be a charge on the lands upon which such laborer has been engaged to work."

THE HON'BLE THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL said it was quite obvious that the word "emigrant" there used meant a laborer as defined under the Bill. The emigrant became a laborer after he got up to the tea districts. He did not think it was intended to give emigrants contracting outside the Act a lien on the estate: such a person would have whatever rights he acquired under his contract outside the Act. The Advocate-General moved the substitution of "laborer" for "emigrant" in line 1.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said there was no doubt that the amendment which the Advocate-General proposed was somewhat confusing; but inasmuch as the words "every contract made with an emigrant" would operate only as regards emigrants outside the Act under one-year contracts, the section as it stood would not apply to the ordinary laborers under the Act. The result of the amendment would be to put contracts made outside the Act on the footing of any other ordinary contract. His Honor's only doubt was whether there might not be some obscurity involved in the section as proposed to be amended, because under the definition a man was an emigrant until he arrived in the labor districts.

THE HON'BLE THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL said the contract was made with an "emigrant." When he got up to the labor districts he became a "laborer." As was suggested to the Advocate-General by the Hon'ble Member on his right (Mr. Dampier), the section might be made clearer by using the words "any contract made under the provisions of this Act," it not being the intention to give contracts made outside the Act any privileges or rights beyond what would be given to them under the law. But if the language of the section was allowed to stand as it was, emigrants with contracts for one year would acquire certain rights and claims upon the land. If an emigrant by his contract got a lien upon the land, well and good; but if he did not get it by the law, he would not get it by this section. The amendments which the Advocate-General would propose in lieu of what he had previously moved, would be as follow:

In line 1 to substitute the words "every contract made according to the provisions of this Act" for "every contract made with an emigrant."

In lines 7 and 8 to substitute the words "any person has been engaged to labor under such contract" for "such laborer has been engaged to work."

In clause 2, line 3, to substitute "person" for "laborer."

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said, by the amendments now proposed any laborer under a free contract would not become a special charge upon the land. His position would not depend upon the special provisions of Section 5. It was proposed that a free contract should fall under the operation of the ordinary law, and not under this section.

The motion was then agreed to.

Verbal amendments were, on the motion of the Advocate-General, made in Sections 15 and 78, and in the note to schedule (A).

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT moved that in Section 89, in the last line but one, the figures "78" be inserted after "76," and in the last line the figures "83" be inserted after "82"; the effect of the amendments would be that the section as amended would run thus:—

"The Magistrate of a district, or of a division of a district, may depute any subordinate Magistrate to exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on a Magistrate under the provisions of Sections 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, and 88."

He might mention that the judicial powers of Magistrates under this Act were entrusted only to Magistrates of the higher grades, those exercising the powers of Magistrates of the 1st and 2nd classes; but under the provisions of this section certain powers which did not require to be exercised by high judicial officers—the executive powers of inspection of vessels and such like, might be deputed by superior Magistrates to subordinate Magistrates of any class. In order to render this procedure uniform HIS HONOR proposed to add these two sections, which were on all fours with the other sections in the list, and to make the rule complete under which certain duties, and certain duties only, could be executed by any subordinate officer who was deputed for the purpose by his superior officer.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the PRESIDENT, verbal amendments were made in Section 122 and in the note to schedule (A).

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said, it had been pointed out to him that in some cases it would be inconvenient if a steamer were detained unnecessarily during six hours of daylight at every station in which a Magistrate was posted. We hoped to render the transit of steamers on the Berhampooter more rapid than at present. It might be that a halting station was not a Magistrate's station, and it would be necessary to halt again on reaching the Magistrate's post. We thought it necessary that the Magistrate should have the power proposed of inspecting these emigrant vessels; but it did not seem necessary that practically a whole day should be lost in all cases. We therefore proposed the insertion of certain words which would give a discretion to Magistrates. The first part of the section, with the addition of the words proposed, would read thus:

"Every licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall stop at every place in which a Magistrate is stationed intermediate between the places of embarkation and disembarkation of such emigrants, and shall remain during not less than six hours of daylight, unless the Magistrate shall permit an earlier departure."

The consequence of the amendment would be that, when everything was in order, the Magistrate might go on board for half an hour, and if satisfied that everything was right, might allow the vessel to proceed on its voyage.

The motion was agreed to.

THE HON'BLE THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL moved that the Bill as amended be passed.

THE HON'BLE MR. ROBINSON said, before the final vote was taken on this Bill, he would trouble the Council with a very few words. On the introduction of the Bill, a desire was expressed by him, on behalf of the Tea interest, that ample time should be given for the consideration of the Bill, and full enquiries made upon the effect of the many alterations proposed by it. He was now anxious to say that the promise that was made at that time by the Government that that should be the case had been most fully and completely fulfilled. No Bill that had ever been before the Council had taken, he believed, so long a time to pass, or had received such ample discussion, or in regard to which so much and such a variety of information had been collected from both official and non-official sources, as in regard to this Bill. And he rejoiced the more, that that had been the case, because he thought it must be admitted that the enquiries that had been made tended to show that the planters as a body had treated their laborers fairly and humanely, and had shown every disposition to act in accordance with the law in all matters connected with their business. The Bill, like all Bills, had been finally settled by a series of compromises, and as it would now be passed, he thought that those compromises, having been made in a spirit of fairness, had brought it into a state equitable to the interests concerned. He thought that every question that had been raised had been fully and fairly considered, and there had been every disposition on the part of the Government to consult the interests both of planters and coolies. He trusted that, in the course of a few years, legislation of this kind would be no longer necessary for the Tea districts; that their condition would be so changed that the execution and enforcement of contracts might safely be left to the operation of the ordinary law of the land. Meantime, he earnestly hoped that there would be no further legislation on this subject, which had been now so often and carefully discussed, and that no measure relating to it would again be brought before this or the Supreme Council, unless it was the introduction of a short Act to repeal this Bill entirely.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said, before putting the question to the vote, he thought it right that he should, on the part of the Government, express the very great gratification with which he had listened to the observations of the Hon'ble Member. We did value extremely the testimony that he had been good enough to bear as to the fairness and fullness with which the questions which had been raised had been discussed. His Honor was glad that the Hon'ble Member had been good enough to bear testimony to the fact that ample opportunity for full discussion by all parties had been given. He trusted they had now, by the labors of the Committee and the Council, and more especially by the labors of the learned Advocate-General, who was in charge of this Bill, arrived at a conclusion satisfactory to all parties. He took it that he might receive the expression of opinion which the Hon'ble Member had now given as a testimony to the belief of those whom he represented, as it was our belief, that the compromises to which we had arrived at were the best compromises which the wisdom of this Council could devise; and so far as human foresight could foresee, we hoped that they would work well. His Honor thoroughly endorsed what the Hon'ble Member had said with regard to the enquiries that had been made, that they did show that the planters, as a body, had treated their coolies fairly and well; and he was sure that it was the wish of Government, and of all of us, that we should do the utmost that we could to promote this great Tea industry; to promote the development of those districts which were so lately covered with jungle; to do everything in our power, to promote the welfare of these districts, the increase of tea cultivation, and the general development of the productions and the revenue of the country.

In regard to the question which had lately most occupied the attention of the Council, and which had been settled by a compromise, he was more and more sanguine that we had made a fair compromise. Assam was a long way off, and some of the opinions from that district did not arrive until a late stage of our proceedings; but he was happy to find that they went to corroborate and endorse the views the Council had arrived at. He found that in Assam, although the planters were not so sanguine as they were in Cachar, there seemed to be a general concurrence of opinion that it was desirable that free labor should, to some extent, be tried. It was suggested by several experienced planters and others that it was quite possible that free labor might sooner or later find its way into Assam. We were told that recruits for the regiments in Assam came of themselves from various parts of the North-Western Provinces, and it was suggested that when the roads which were now being opened were put into proper order, and resting and cooking-places and other conveniences for travelling provided, free labor would find its way into Assam. That would be an extremely desirable result. His Honor not only concurred in most of the observations* that had been made by the Hon'ble Member, but he thoroughly concurred in the last observation, that he hoped legislation on this subject might not be further necessary. His Honor hoped and trusted that the Bill, which was now about to be passed through its final stage—if the Council should see fit to pass the Bill and it should receive the assent of the Viceroy—might suffice for some time to come, and be beneficial in its results; and he hoped that the next occasion on which legislation might be proposed, it might be in the shape the Hon'ble Member had suggested, namely, that all special legislation be brought to an end, and that the labor districts being fitted for free emigration, might be brought under the operation of the ordinary law of the land.

The motion was agreed to.

REGISTRATION OF MAHOMEDAN MARRIAGES AND DIVORCES.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the Voluntary Registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces was required to report within one month. But the Hon'ble Member whose knowledge was most special on the subject had only just returned to his place in Council. It would therefore be impossible to submit a report within the month, and he now asked that the Committee be allowed to report within two months of the date of appointment.

The motion was agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to a day of which notice would be given.

EMIGRATION FROM DISTRESSED DISTRICTS.

Dated Calcutta, the 1st December, 1873.

From—A. WILSON, Esq., Secretary, Landholders' and Commercial Association.

To—The Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Statistical Department.

I AM in receipt of your letter No. 3517 of 19th ultimo, regarding the impending scarcity of food in Bengal, and requesting the Association to favor His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor with any suggestions that the members may be able to make, as to the best mode of promoting emigration to the districts during this exceptional season, and as to the terms on which planters may be willing to bear part of the cost of importing emigrants, and agree to employ them as laborers.

2. In reply, I am directed to say that the members of the Association are deeply affected by the emergency of the present threatened famine, and avail themselves of this opportunity of recording with pleasure their cordial approval of the measures taken by His Honor in conjunction with the Government of India, to avert, so far as human agency can, the impending calamity.

3. After careful consideration, the committee instruct me to submit the following suggestions relative to the emigration of laborers into Assam and Cachar, as one means of relieving to some extent the famine districts of a portion of their surplus population.

4. They are of opinion that if His Honor has decided on promoting the emigration of these laborers, the first point that Government must see to and arrange for at once, is the establishment of central depôts at the principal haunts on the rivers where steamers and boats usually call on their upward voyage, and, where the laborers and their wives and families can be inspected by the planters, or their agents, desirous of employing them. Planters could not enter into any special agreements as proposed with laborers to work on their gardens, until such inspection had been held, and people fitted for the work carefully selected.

5. The committee are of opinion that efficient able-bodied men and women of the working class from Behar, would readily find employment on the different gardens in Assam and Cachar, on the condition that the charge per head did not exceed Rs. 15, landed at any of these central depôts referred to above, and that these special agreements between planters and laborers did not terminate before the end of the tea season of 1875.

6. I am also instructed to convey to Government the opinion of the committee that an immediate and favorable settlement of the waste land rules, now in abeyance, would enable planters to assist His Honor's Government to a very much greater extent, by the employment of a larger number of people from the famine districts than they can be expected to do at present.

Many planters are now most anxiously waiting for the publication of these new rules, as in several cases, which have been brought to the notice of the Association, serious pecuniary loss has been sustained by bona fide proprietors of tea gardens, anxious to extend and improve their property, but at present unable to do so.

The committee feel it necessary to refer to His Honor's Resolution of the 25th April, 1872, in which he strongly deprecates sending any Up-country or Hindustani coolies from above Bhaugulpore as laborers to any of the tea districts, on account of their unsuitableness for work in such a climate as that of Assam and Cachar.

The opinion of the majority of planters coincides with that of His Honor, and the committee beg, therefore, that it may be had in remembrance, should any great mortality take place amongst these emigrants, that they were sent to the tea districts under the exceptional circumstances now existing, and engaged by planters with the view to assist Government in its measures for the relief of the districts most seriously threatened with distress from the failure of their crops.

No. 4092, dated Calcutta, the 22nd December, 1873.

From—The Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Statistical Department.
To—The Secretary to the Landholders' and Commercial Association.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 1st December, offering the suggestions of the Association as to the best mode of promoting emigration to the tea districts during the present season of high prices, and in reply to communicate the following observations made by the Lieutenant-Governor.

2. The last paragraph of your letter, regarding the suitability of the tea districts for Hindustani laborers, raises very important questions. It is the case that after visiting Assam in 1871 the Lieutenant-Governor did, as noticed by the Association, express grave doubts as to the suitability of the Assam climate for this class of laborers. That opinion of His Honor was based on what he heard from planters and others in Assam. The Association now say that the majority of planters coincide in that opinion, and your letter begs that this may be held in remembrance should any great mortality occur among the people whose emigration it is now proposed to promote. Such a suggestion, however, His Honor thinks, lays a very grave responsibility on the Government, and the Lieutenant-Governor has very gravely considered the matter. In consequence of the opinion which the Lieutenant-Governor had formed in 1871, a full inquiry was made into the question whether the tea districts really are unsuitable to the Hindustani constitution. There was a good deal of variety of opinion, but the general result of the opinions of those best qualified to judge and of the most experienced officers of Government, was that if these people are at once sent to remote, jungly, and unhealthy gardens, they suffer more than other classes, especially in the first year, before they have become acclimated, and have accustomed themselves to a diet different from that they have in their own country. But there was a very general opinion that if they are put on well-cleared and healthy gardens in parts of the country we opened out, where there are bazars and markets, and are carefully acclimatized, and enabled to procure the food they like, they become very good laborers, and thrive just as well as others; and that they do very well for tea-house and indoor work, and in the cold weather particularly, as well as any other class of laborers.

3. It is admitted that the classification of laborers for mortuary return is not very exact or reliable; but still, even allowing for a large margin of errors of classification, the following table seems strongly to militate against the conclusion that in most large gardens the Hindustani laborers are more unhealthy than others. In his annual report the Commissioner of Assam wrote that—

“The percentage of deaths in 1872 according to nationality was—

4. The result of the inquiry made in accordance with the orders quoted by your Association was that the Lieutenant-Governor determined not to stop the emigration of people from the Up-country Hindustani districts to the tea districts. At the same time Sir George Campbell quite feels that if in this time of scarcity such emigration is specially promoted, Government must be very careful that Hindustanis from the open cultivated districts of Behar are not bound down to labor in jungly and unhealthy tea gardens. I am therefore to request that in any applications for coolies to be supplied by aided emigration, full particulars regarding the situation and character of the gardens in which they are to be employed may be furnished.

5. Looking to all the circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor would not like to bind down laborers supplied by aided emigration for a larger term than the one year for which it is proposed to allow free contracts by the new labor districts rule. In addition to the one year the planters will have what may be called the good-will of the coolies, that is, he will have the first chance of re-engaging the people settled in his estate. As regards the proposal for the establishment of river-side depôts, I am to say that it would not be possible to import coolies and then let planters choose or reject from among them, but Government would form depôts in the districts whence they come, and where planters might send agents to satisfy themselves.

7. With reference to paragraph 6 of your letter, I am to say that the Government of India has been moved to publish the new rules for the sale of waste lands as early as possible.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to know if the Association thinks that emigration can be advantageously promoted on the terms above set forth.

LIBERALITY OF BABOO JOYKISSEN MOOKERJEA.

THE following papers are published with an expression of the Lieutenant-Governor's satisfaction at Baboo Joykissen Mookerjea's thoughtful liberality to his ryots, and of his confidence that this good example will be followed by many other zemindars in Bengal:—

No. 157, dated Burdwan, the 18th December, 1873.

From—C. T. BUCKLAND, Esq., Commissioner of Burdwan.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Statistical Department.

At the suggestion of the Collector of Hooghly, I have the honor to submit, for the information of Government, extract from a letter from Baboo Joykishen Mookerjea regarding the measures which he proposes to adopt for the alleviation of distress among the ryots on his estates. Mr. Pellew makes the following remarks:—

“It is needless for me to speak of the active benevolence always displayed by Baboo Joykissen Mookerjea in season of need, as it is well known to Government. I think that the publication of his letter may have a good effect in stirring up other zemindars to do their duty.”

2. I have requested the Collector to convey my thanks to Baboo Joykissen Mookerjea for his conduct, and trust that it will meet with the further approbation of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Extract from a letter from Baboo JOYKISSEN MOOKERJEA of Ooterparah to the Collector of Hooghly, dated 10th December, 1873.

“I BEG leave to add that I have been trying to do, in a humble way, what I can to prevent and mitigate the distress of the people in those of my villages which are likely to suffer most by the failure of the crops. I have issued orders to my mofussil agents to suspend the collection of more than half the balance of the current year's rent in Dwarbasini, Hasnan, and several other villages. One-half of the portion thus remitted will be realized next year if there be a good amun crop, but the other half will be given up altogether. I have also sent trustworthy agents to visit my estates, and to exempt altogether from the payment of rent all ryots who are too poor to pay and to give advances to those of them who have no food-grain, such advances being recoverable next year without interest if there be a good crop. I also intend to buy large quantities of rice and store them for sale at cost price in those villages where food-grain is likely to be scarce. This last measure will not become necessary before the beginning of February, when in addition to the food-grain I shall have to advance large quantities of rice.”

Rainfall, Weather and State and Prospects of the Crops.

showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 20th December 1873.

District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
Western Districts.
Medan, 23rd Dec.* 1873	Nil	Weather fair and cold. Reaping of the late paddy crop is going on; an average five-anna crop is expected. Prospects of winter crops and sugarcane are fair. Grain market shows tendency to rise. Export continues, particularly from Nadunghat in Culna sub-division by boats. Fever in statu quo
Bancoorah, 20th Dec. 1873	3. Nil	Dry and clear weather. The reaping of the hymunty or winter paddy is still in progress. The new rice is being extensively sold in the Bancoorah bazar. The price of rice is much the same as last week. The sugarcane and cold weather crops must suffer from the continued want of rain. The harvesting of the teel (oil-seed) has begun in many places.
Barbhoon, 20th " "	Nil	Bright and unseasonably warm weather. No change in the prospects of the crops; harvest of late rice approaching completion; sugarcane declining and being cut, immature in some places. Exportation by rail chiefly to Bhaugulpore and Patna Divisions 8,445 maunds.
Chhapore, 20th " "	Nil	Weather cold and clear. The rain last week is said to have done some damage to the standing rice at Contai, otherwise it has improved the prospects of the cold weather crops. It was confined to the north and eastern portions of the district.
Chhily, 20th " "	Nil	Clear weather throughout; wind from north and north-east. The rain of last week has done more good than was expected to the cold weather crops, and ploughing and sowing is going on to some extent. Rice crop is the same as before.
Chhura, 20th " "	Nil	Fine weather everywhere. The late rice is now about two-thirds reaped. There is no doubt that at the least a full eight-anna crop will be gathered. The Sham-pore and Oollooberiah thanahs have a good twelve-anna, but the purchases made by the Calcutta grain dealers are absolutely enormous and seem to be denuding the district of rice. The ryots are selling their crops at Rs. 2 the maund, and seem to be selling actually all not required for their own households. Towns-folk and the large class of poor people who do not cultivate are bitterly complaining that no food will be left in the district for them.
Central Districts.
Bargunnahs, 23rd Dec. 1873.	Nil.	The weather has been cooler during the week, but not so cold as it is usually at this time of the year. No rain has fallen. The harvest of the late rice crop is going on rapidly. In Baraset and parts of Diamond Harbour the outturn is better than was expected. In the northern and southern parts of Satkhira, prospects are reported to be bad, and in other parts of the sub-division an eight-anna crop is still expected. Cold weather sowings in Baraset and Barriepore are doing pretty well. The outturn of kulai and khesary pulses in Diamond Harbour has not been good, and the price of the latter has risen to nearly three times its ordinary rate. There has been no change in other sub-divisions of the district since last report. Fever prevails in parts of the south suburban town, Bascherhat, Diamond Harbour, and Barrackpore. It is reported to be abating in Satkhira, Baraset, and Barriepore.
Medan, 20th " "	Nil	Fine weather throughout the week. The reports of the late rice crop from Meherpore and Ranaghat sub-divisions are somewhat more favorable than before, otherwise prospects are unaltered. Arhur (pulse) and teel (oil-seed) appear to have everywhere given a fair outturn. Prices show a tendency to decline except in the sudder sub-division. Public health good.
Chhapore, 20th " "	Nil	Weather cold and clear, no rain has fallen. The Chotan paddy is nearly harvested and the Boran paddy is coming on well. There is no change in the prospects of the winter crops. Prices of rice remain low. It would appear that there will be at least an eight-anna crop of rice if not more.
Medanabad, 20th Dec. 1873.	Nil	The cloudy weather continues, but the clouds disperse without rain. The late rice is nearly all cut. The cutting of mashkalai (pulse) and teel (oil-seed) has also begun with prospects of good crops; the former may yield fourteen anna; in some parts. Boro paddy seedlings are ready, and the ground has also been prepared for transplantation, but except on the borders of "beels," cultivators are waiting for rain before transplanting. Sugarcane is in fair condition, but the drought has weakened its juice. It may still yield an average crop. Indigo looks well. For the other cold weather crops rain is much wanted. Small-pox continues in places mentioned in last report, and has also broken out in Sujagunge and Burwa.
Chhapore, 20th " "	Nil	No rain, but clouds gathering and looks as if rain would fall soon. No alteration in the state and prospects of crops from last week.

*am of the 23rd December received on the same day. Shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

Central Districts.—(Contd.)
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.—(Contd.)	11 Malda, 20th Dec. 1873	Nil	Mornings occasionally foggy, days sunny, and nights cold. Clouds still collect at times. No change in the weather. The winter rice crop, which is being harvested, will not be more than a four-anna crop. The halai crop now ripening will be an average one, and the cold weather crops, wheat, peas, &c, still promise a fair average yield; rain would do these much good. Prices stationary and supplies at local markets more plentiful; work going on on the ordinary district roads and on those newly projected as relief works. Places for storing grain for relief works selected, and arrangements for store golahs progressing. Rice arriving from Godagari for relief works in Dinagapore.
	12 Rajshahye 20th " "	Nil	No change in the weather. There having been no change in the weather, there is very little to be said in addition to last week's report. Urhur and kalai (pulses) and mulberry are still doing well, and there is a promise of a fair crop of indigo. In some parts of Nattore the mustard crops are very good. The other cold weather crops require rain very much. In some parts of Singraha there is already a scarcity of water, and it is feared that later this will aggravate in no small degree the sufferings of the poorer class of inhabitants in that tract of country. Every effort is being made to induce these people to sink wells and to improve their tanks. Prices remain steady. A few cases of cholera have occurred in several parts of the districts, chiefly in Nattore.
	13 Rungpore, 20th " "	Nil	Days becoming colder with fogs occasionally. Cutting of rice crops still progressing; new rice is coming into the market and prices are easier, from Rs. 2-8 to 4 a maund. Sugarcane favorable, mustard generally good; other winter crops are being sown and ploughing going on everywhere.
	14 Bogra, 20th " "	Nil	No signs of rain. As might be expected no improvement is reported with respect to the late rice crop. Sugarcane in certain parts is doing fairly. Maskalai (pulse) is being gathered in parts. Yield of sesamum (oil-seed) in Dhunat outpost is four annas only.
	15 Pubna, 20th " "	Nil	Sky clear, weather cold, no rain at all; heavy fogs in the mornings. The ryots are now reaping the Boro amun dhan—late paddy. Of the winter crops, moog (pulse) has nearly been collected from the fields. Maskalai (pulse) and teel (oil-seed) have been commenced to be cut. Prospects of sugarcane and turmeric good. Heavy rain is required for the growth of the other winter crops, viz. wheat, barley, gram, and mottor and khesari (pulses) and mustard, which are daily becoming worse for the drought. Fever very prevalent. Many deaths reported from the sub-division, and a very large proportion of the population invalided.
COCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, 20th " "	Nil	Misty and chilly weather, little sunshine, very cold. The hymunty or late rice crop is being reaped and still gives the prospect of a ten-anna outturn; common rice maintains the same price as during previous week, viz. Rs. 4 per maund. Bhoota (Indian-corn) has fallen still lower than last week, being now Rs. 2 per maund.
	17 Jalpigoree, 20th " "	Nil	Clear and fine weather, but decidedly hotter than is usual at this time of the year. The hymunty or late rice crop is rapidly being reaped, three-fourths of it being already cut. Cold weather crops promising well. There is no change of any importance to note, the crop being cut comes up to the estimate previously made. Exportation goes on largely, and the people generally are now consuming new rice. Manufactured jute is selling at twice the price it did this time last year.
	Cooch Behar, 20th " "	Nil	No signs of rain. The mornings are not so foggy as in other years. There is no improvement in the prospects of the crops since last report. The tobacco and the mustard crops have already suffered from want of rain. Large quantities of rice are still being exported to Rungpore and other districts.
Eastern Districts.
	Dacca, 23rd " "	Nil	Weather still warm for the season. Heavy dews, prospects of crops fair, rice nearly all cut.
	Furcedpore, 20th " "	Nil	There has been no rain up to date, but some clouds about. The weather is cool and looks to be settled fair. The reports from every side on the cold weather crops are bad, and the condition of the district is not altered except for the worse by another week without rain. Early rice is being sown on the Cachi Chur, or recently formed chur lands. Boro paddy is being sown in the beels in the south of the district.
	Backergunge, 20th " "	Nil	Weather clear and cold. State and prospects of the crops are good. The harvest is turning out better than was expected, and the high prices are doing good to the ryots, i. e., to three-fourths of the population.
	Mymensing, 20th " "	Nil	Fine calm weather and considerably colder than last week. Heavy dew at night. Teel (oil-seed) and pulses will be a good average crop. The rice crop is still being harvested, and the accounts from most parts of the district are tolerably favorable. Price of food has fallen somewhat this week. Fever is still reported prevalent in the Atten sub-division.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL. — (Contd.)
Eastern Districts. — (Contd.)
Dacca Divn. — (Ctd.)	22 Sylhet, 13th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Not so cool as might be expected at this time of the year. Very severe shock of earth-quake at 5-45 A.M. of Tuesday the 9th December. The whole of the kataria and ten annas of the late rice crops reaped. 9,944 maunds of rice and 5,500 maunds of paddy exported from the district. Price of rice falling. Cholera broken out at Lakhai, Laskharpur, and Chattak. Small-pox at Nabigunge.
	23 Cachar, 13th " "	Nil	Weather cooler, with foggy mornings. Rice crops are being rapidly cut. Price of rice has fallen in the sudder station.
	24 Chittagong, 13th " "	Nil	Weather clear, fine, and seasonable. Paddy is being cut all over the district. Insects are disappearing, and the damage done appears to be slight. Cold weather crops generally doing well. Cholera reported from Meerkaserai, Pota, Rangonia, and fever stationary.
	25 Noakhally, 13th " "	Nil	Weather fair, still hot during the day. The fair sunny weather is causing the "semi" insects to disappear. The reaping of the late rice is still going on. The prospects of the standing crops are favorable. The cold weather crops, — khesary (pulse) and chillies are doing well. Price of rice has fallen slightly. This is partly due to the in-coming of the new rice. Sporadic cases of cholera are met with in the town and suburbs.
	26 Tipperah, 20th " "	Nil	Weather fine and cool. No change in the state of the crops to report since last week. Exportations continue very busy without forcing prices. Small winter crops are thriving fairly. Cholera has appeared in many places in the district and more specially in Comillah, where cases have been rather frequent for the last few days.
	27 Chittagong Hill Tracts, 13th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Cool throughout the whole week, foggy in the morning. The cotton is being gathered. Mustard is in flower, prospects of which are good. The outturn of the cotton will not be equal to that of an average year, owing to the early cessation of rain. There is no fear up to date of scarcity. The rain of last week has given an impetus to the mustard and other cold weather crops and has not damaged the standing rice crop.
	Hill Tipperah, 13th, " "	Nil	Weather bright and cold. Reaping of the paddy crops continues; the danger apprehended from insects has passed. Mustard and chillie crops fair.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVISION.	28 Patna, 22nd* " "	05	A very light rain fell on the night of the 21st December. It is expected to have been heavier to the south. The rice crop is still being cut in Behar, and the reports of the cold weather crops are even more favorable than last week. The insects which were destroying them having in a great measure disappeared. Health of the district good.
	29 Gya, 20th " "	Nil	Weather cool, no rain fell in any part of the district. The rice crop is being harvested. The prospects of the cold weather crops are better than at first reported. In the western part of the district, where the fields are watered by the canal water, a good crop is expected. Up to 13th December about 9,500 begahs were irrigated. Health of the district is good.
	30 Shahabad, 20th " "	Nil	Weather clear, west wind all the week; cloudy, warm, and threatening rain on the 20th December. The cold weather crop which has germinated shows no change for the worse since last week. Rain is required. A slight fall in prices. Private importations of food-grains have considerably fallen.
	31 Tirhoot, 20th " "	Nil	In the Madhoolani sub-division rice crop is being gathered in now, and it cannot be said that the outturn would be greater than the former estimate, perhaps less. Cold weather crops are withering from lack of rain, and will all perish if rain does not come soon. In Setanarhee there is nothing particularly to report, the prospect of the crop continues same as reported last week. In the Tajpore sub-division the prospects have not materially altered since last week; no more land has been sown, but some of the paddy lands have been prepared. The little paddy that has survived the drought is being cut; everything looks very lean and dry in the north of the sub-division. Prices nearly stationary. In the Durbhanga sub-division three-fourths of the rice crop cut down. By the end of the week the harvest will be pretty right completed. Rahur (pulse) and mustard continue to look well, also janerah (millet), the latter being a fair crop in the Rosserah and a good one in Nagarkuttee police jurisdictions. The small portion of the cold weather crop, e.g., barley, wheat, and peas, which have been sown, looks better in the Durbhanga than in Rosserah. Rain, however, being much wanted in both places. No decrease from last week's position is observable either in those localities in Bahayrah. The continued drought has had a worse effect in Singhya. The prospects of the Sudder and Hajepore are the same as reported last week.
	32 Saran, 20th " "	Nil	Weather clear and cold during the week, but cloudy on the 20th December. Wind prevailing. The paddy harvest almost completed and in some places yet fairly, but the outturn for the district has not probably been estimated at a tenth of an average crop. There has been no change in the price of the cold weather crops except for the worse as regards the crops in the un-gated fields which are being sickened by the long drought. The cultivators however, nowhere backward in irrigating wherever practicable, and the irrig crops are still doing well. Rahur (pulse) is in full blossom and looks promising. Singarene is being manufactured and yielding fairly. There seems to be scarcity of supplies in the bazars. Prices of food-grains stationary.
	33 Chumparun, 20th " "	Nil	Weather cool, west-wind and cloudy with a promise of rain. Little or no change in the state of the crops since last week, everything depends upon the next week.

* Telegram of the 22nd December received on the 23rd. Shows rainfall during the seven days including the 22nd idem.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Contd.)
BRABHULPORE DIV.	34 Monghyr, 20th Dec. 1873	Nil	Weather set fair. The rice crop, such as it is, is being cut and harvested. After visiting every rice pergunnah the Collector finds his first estimate of an average three-anna crop all round generally correct. The part of the district which grows cold weather crops, at least equal to the rice area, is generally looking well, though backward. At present a fair cold weather crop is hoped for, whether rain falls or not.
	35 Bhagulpoore, 23rd* „ „	Nil	Weather seasonable. The cold weather crops still promise to be very good, except in Mudhopoorah, where the seeds have not germinated in parts. General health good.
	36 Patneah, 20th „ „	Nil	No change in the weather. No change from last week's report as regards outturn of rice. All the cold weather crops except mustard in the south wants rain. Importation of grain in the south from Sahibganje and Rajmehal and in the north from Julpigoree, and the good crop in Knsi is keeping prices down. The tobacco especially wants rain. In the neighbourhood of Kuddah and Kushba Amour insects are said to be destroying the cold weather crops.
	37 Sonthal Pergunnahs, 20th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Cold everywhere, with occasional clouds, but no rain. Rice is being cut everywhere. The crop is stated to be eight or nine annas in the west. Kurthi is a little better than was feared some time ago. There is a good deal of fair sugarcane in Deoghur. The rest of the cold weather crops, mustard and pulses, is hardly anything.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	38 Cuttack, 23rd* „ „	Nil	Seasonable weather. Prospects of crops favorable. Prices have risen very slightly; average of common rice throughout the district 26 seers per rupee. Public health good.
	39 Pooree, 13th „ „	1.5	The weather was cloudy, with north wind during the greater part of the week; rain fell on the 6th and 7th December, and for the last three days it has been fair with changing wind blowing from the south and north. The weather at the time of the report was bright and warm, but rather lazy, but it was variable with tendency to cloudiness. The reaping of the Laghoo or second rice crop is well nigh completed, and the outturn is good. The late rice has ripened and is beginning to be reaped and a fair yield is expected. The sowing of the Balua (Boro) rice crop has in part commenced. The bad weather which lately prevailed has not done so much injury to the crops as was expected. Stocks of grain are as usual, and the supply is equal to the demand. Purchases are being made by merchants in the town and in the interior for export to Bengal and Madras and foreign ports. Prices are still moderate in the mofussil.
	40 Balasore, 20th „ „	Nil	Seasonable weather. On inquiring from those best calculated to give an opinion, it appears probable that the outturn of rice from the whole district will be twelve annas. The cold weather crops which are only of small extent, except those about Jellalore, where there was no rain last week, are doing well. Rice selling at Balasore town 19 seers per rupee. Bhadruck sub-division.—Harvesting of rice continues. Rice is scarce and difficult to get in many of the markets. The price however has fallen somewhat, 32 seers per rupee of moderately clean rice being procurable at Bhadruck market. Crops have failed in Pergunnah Soso and its neighbourhood, and relief measures are urgently required there. Public health good, excepting a little fever.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
	41 Hazareebaugh, 20th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Weather clear and bright and cloudy and threatening alternately. The greater portion of the rice crop has now been harvested, and the estimate of outturn is said to be about ten annas. The prospect of the cold weather crops is unfavorable. The small quantity sown is said to be suffering from the drought, and blight caused by the cloudy weather has fallen on the mustard; if rain hold off much longer a short cold weather crop will be inevitable. Prices much the same as last week. There have been no special reports received this week from the south and west. In the Pachamba or Kurnekdiha sub-division, the outturn of the later rice crop in the lower lands has been far better than was expected. In some parts quite up to an ordinary year. Husked rice was this day selling at Pachamba for sixteen seers to the rupee, closing prices being about fourteen seers. The importation from Behar noticed in last week's report have ceased; it was very trifling and possibly owing to unfounded rumours. The kurti and tel crops have been poor. There has been no rain.
	Lohardugga, 20th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Weather clear for the greater part of the week. There was a slight shower which appears to have been pretty general over the district. There is little to add to last week's report. The slight shower of rain have done good, but more is very much wanted for the cold weather crops. From Palamow the reports are much the same as before. The paddy having been thrashed out shows an outturn of about five annas for the whole sub-division. There was a little rain on the 10th, but not enough to do much good.
	Sitabhoon, 13th „ „	0.25	A little rain has fallen. Sky again clear. Days and nights cool and pleasant. Nothing to add to the last report. The paddy has all or nearly all been cut. The late rain will do some good to the musuri pulse and gram still on the ground.

Telegram of the 23rd December received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
CHOTA NAGPORE.—(Contd.)
	South-West Frontier Agency.—(Contd.)
44	Maunbhoom, 20th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Weather cool. Mornings and evenings cold, bright sun during the day. No material change in the prospects of the crops since last week. The rain which fell on the 10th instant appears to have been very partial. In the Chilcama pergunnah the crops have been very bad, and in many villages there is but a two-anna to four-anna crop. All the paddy has now been cut. Wheat and barley are doing well. Public health good.
ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS
45	Goalparah, 13th " "	Nil	The whole week was fair and bright. The prospects of the late rice which is now being harvested are more or less disheartening everywhere, except the tracts near the Bhootan, Garo, and Kurribaree Hills, where a twelve-anna crop is expected. The outturn in Dhoobree sub-division, where most part was parched up, is six, and in the sudder sub-division eight annas; on the whole eight annas may be obtained.
46	Kamroop, 22nd* " "	Nil	Mornings raw and misty, days clear and cold; dry wind chiefly north-east and east. Want of rain does not promise favorably for the sugarcane and mustard crops. Late rice is still being reaped, but a fair outturn is not expected. Public health good.
47	Darrung, 13th " "	Nil	Temperature rather high for this time of the year; heavy fogs in the mornings, little north-east breeze. No change in the state and prospects of the crops. Since last report. There will be an eight-anna rice crop all round, but in some mouzahs the crop has entirely perished. The cold weather crops also greatly need rain.
48	Nowgong, 13th " "	Nil	Weather seasonable, with heavy dews at night and foggy mornings. The rice crop being rapidly cut and gathered in. Cold weather crops doing poorly; mustard and sugarcane doing well. Tea operations quite over and bushes being pruned. General health good.
49	Seebsaugor, 13th " "	Nil	No change in the weather and no rain. No change also in the state and prospects of the crops.
50	Luckimpore, 13th " "	Nil	No rain during the week, the middle of the day is still hot, but the mornings and evenings are very cold. Nothing new. Cold weather crops continuing promising. Public health improving, but fever still hangs about.
51	Naga Hills, 6th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Weather dry and cool, but warm at noon. The pothar crops are now in course of being cut. They are below the average from want of rain. The terrai and joom crops have all been cut and gathered in, and the outturn is reported to have been a remarkably good one.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills, 13th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Fine weather. The only crop standing is murwah , which is doing well.
53	Garo Hills, 13th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Weather very hazy; clouds have sometimes collected about the Tura range, but no rain has fallen. Yams and such like are the only crops which remain uncollected. Jooming has been commenced.

* Telegram of the 22nd December received on the 23rd. Shows rainfall during the seven days including the 22ndnd Jan.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means are derived from twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

RELAXATION OF LAND IMPROVEMENT ADVANCE RULES.

The 22nd December 1873.—In continuation of Notification of the 20th November 1873, it is notified that the relaxation of the above rules therein published will have effect in the District of Nuddea in the Presidency Division.

H. L. DAMPIER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Second Publication.]

The 17th December 1873.—The following Rules for Native Civil Service Examinations and Civil Service Classes coming into force after the Examination of 1874, are published for general information:—

NATIVE CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS AND CIVIL SERVICE CLASSES.

[Rules to come into force after the examination of 1874.]

INTRODUCTORY.

Now that there have been held two annual examinations for the Native Civil Service, and that a third examination is to take place in February 1874, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes to place the Native Civil Service examinations and the preparatory classes for those examinations on a permanent footing.

2. All appointments in the Subordinate Executive Service, and all posts of Rs. 50 monthly salary and upwards in the sub-divisional establishments, both in Regulation and Non-Regulation Provinces, will ordinarily be reserved for persons who pass the Native Civil Service examination. Gazetted appointments in the Police and Opium Departments will generally be conferred on persons who pass this examination; but candidates will not be eligible for these departments save under a special certificate, which can only be granted under the orders of the

Lieutenant-Governor. A list* of the persons who passed the Native Civil Service examinations of 1872 and 1873 showing the appointments they now hold, is appended to these rules. Lists of successful examinees will be published in the Gazette, so that Commissioners, Magistrates, and Educational Committees may select for ministerial or other appointments passed candidates for whom vacancies in the Native Civil Service may not be immediately available

* Appendix A.

ELIGIBILITY AND PRELIMINARIES TO THE EXAMINATION.

3. All candidates eligible for appointments under rules 5 and 6 (below), who satisfy the preliminary requirements, will be admitted to the Native Civil Service Examination. No candidate will be admitted to the special examination for the Police, Non-Regulation Service, or the Opium Department without a special certificate, which can only be granted under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor.

4. The preliminary requirements which all candidates must satisfy are—

(a) Certificate of Character.

A certificate will be required from every candidate of his character, respectability and general moral fitness, such certificate being signed by two gentlemen of his own nationality, resident in the district of which he is a native or where he usually resides, and also signed by the Judge or Magistrate of such district. The certificate of the two first named is expected to be based upon personal knowledge, and the certificate of the Judge or Magistrate to indicate that the gentlemen who have signed it are qualified by their position and character to give such a certificate, and that the Judge or Magistrate himself knows nothing to the prejudice of the candidate. In the case of the town of Calcutta, instead of the signature of the Judge or Magistrate, the certificate should bear that of any Judge of the High Court, or the Commissioner of Police, or the Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

(b) Certificate of Sound Health.

Each candidate will be required to produce a certificate from a Government medical officer stating that the candidate is generally a man of sound health, that he has expressed his willingness to serve in any district of the Lower Provinces, and that he (the medical officer) believes him to be capable of doing so, so far as can be judged antecedently.

(c) Certificate of ability to Ride or Walk.

Every candidate for the higher appointments will also be required to prove that he can ride, and for this purpose he may apply to the Magistrate of the district, who will either satisfy himself on the point, or select some other person he thinks competent for that purpose. The examiner must satisfy himself from his own personal observation that the candidate can ride not less than 12 miles at a rapid pace, and is in this respect competent for all practical purposes of district work; and if such examiner be not the Magistrate himself, the certificate must be countersigned by the Magistrate.

All the candidates who have not been locally examined will be required to appear before some person in Calcutta who will be selected for the purpose.

Every candidate for an appointment of less than Rs. 100 will be required to prove either that he can ride as above, or that he can walk twelve miles within 3½ hours without difficulty or prostration, to be certified in the same manner as the riding.

5. The following persons having passed the required standard will be eligible to the Native Civil Service in all appointments:—

Persons eligible for all appointments.

(a) Persons who have served Government for six years.

(b) Persons who have passed the Entrance Examination and have served Government for three years.

Provided that they have in cases (a) or (b) attained and have held for not less than one year a responsible permanent appointment, above that of copyist, with a salary not less than Rs. 25 in one of the civil departments of the Government service, and can produce a sufficient certificate of ability, good conduct, and fitness for promotion from their official superiors.

(c) Persons who have taken a University degree in arts, law, medicine, or engineering.

(d) Persons who, having passed the First Arts Examination or an examination of corresponding degree in one of the special colleges, attend the Civil Service classes for one year and acquit themselves well at the Native Civil Service examination.

(e) Persons who having passed the Entrance Examination attend the Civil Service classes for two years and acquit themselves well at the Native Civil Service Examination.

(f) Persons who may be specially declared eligible for all appointments by a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to Government.

6. The following persons having passed the required standard will be eligible to the Native Civil Service in appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem:—

Persons eligible for appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem.

(a) Persons who have served Government with credit and efficiency for not less than three years, whose thorough facility in the use of the vernacular is certified, and who pass a preliminary examination in English.

(b) Natives of Hindustan, Orissa, and Assam, natives of Bengal of Mahomedan families, and natives of any other districts which may be hereafter specially notified, who have served Government with credit and efficiency for not less than three years, and who can show that they have received a thoroughly good education in the vernacular. This privilege is limited to two years from this date, and it must be understood that such persons cannot expect advancement unless they qualify in English, that being the language of official correspondence in Bengal.

(c) Persons who have passed the Entrance Examination.

(d) Persons who may have been specially declared eligible for appointments of the lower grade by a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to Government.

7. Candidates who have not served Government for three years, and one year of whose service has not been passed in a post such as is described in rule 5 (above) are required to pass in—

The Vernacular.	Drawing.
Chemistry.	Engineering.
Botany.	Surveying.
Law.	Gymnastics.

Candidates who have served Government for three years as above, are required to pass in—

The Vernacular.
Law.
Drawing.
Surveying.

With these latter candidates the other subjects will be optional, but will count for a place in the list of successful candidates.

8. Candidates who produce certificates of having passed the undermentioned examinations will be exempted from liability to pass in the following subjects, namely—

(a) Persons who have passed the University First Arts Examination in chemistry, are exempt from liability to pass in that subject.

- (b) Persons who have passed the B. A. Examination, Branch B, group 3 or group 4 (or any corresponding science course to be hereafter notified by Government), will be exempt from liability to pass in chemistry and botany.
- (c) Persons who have gained a Civil Engineering College certificate of the overseer's or of any higher grade, will be exempt from liability to examination in drawing, surveying and engineering.
- (d) Persons who have taken a degree in Indian law, or who have gained a first grade pleader's certificate, will be exempt from liability to examination in law.

Candidates who are entitled to exemption under this rule will be credited at the examination with two-thirds of full marks for the subject for which such exemption is allowed.

PROCEDURE TO GAIN ADMISSION.

9. Applications for admission to the Native Civil Service examination may be made—
- (a) By persons who attend Civil Service classes to the Principal of the College where the classes may be held.
- (b) By persons who have not attended Civil Service classes to the Magistrate of any one of the following districts:—

Alipore,	Rajshahye,	Chittagong,	Purneah,
Kishnagurh,	Rungpore,	Comillah,	Cuttack,
Jessore,	Julpigorce,	Patna,	Ranchee,
Burdwan,	Dacca,	Gya,	Gowhatty,

Midnapore,	Burrisaul,	Mozufferpore,	Debroogurh,
Berhampore,	Mymensing,	Chuprah,
Dinapore,	Sylhet,	Bhaugulpore,

where the medical officers will also examine candidates and grant certificates of sound health under Appendix B.

10. Every candidate when submitting his application for admission to examination should state the subjects in which he desires to be examined, and annex certificates in any subjects in which he is required or permitted by these rules to show that he is duly qualified. He must at the same time tender a fee for each subject in which he has to be examined, computed according to the scale given below, if he is a candidate for the higher class of appointments:—

Law	8
Surveying and engineering	8
Each vernacular	4
Medical examination	4
Riding or walking examination	4

Candidates for appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem will pay fees at half the above rates.

11. The authority receiving the application, if he is satisfied that the candidate is admissible to the examination under these rules, shall receive and credit the fees, will desire the candidate to undergo the required medical and riding or walking examination, if he has not already obtained certificates thereof, and when all certificates are complete, shall forward the application with the certificates of health, character, &c., riding or walking, of payment of fees, and certificates in any subject described in Rule 8, to the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal (Examination Department). No fee is required when a certificate is sufficient and is produced.

12. A preliminary examination in English and the vernacular of those candidates who have not already qualified in those subjects, will be held.
- Preliminary examination of native candidates at outstations. Persons who have passed the First Arts Examination, or the Entrance Examination in the first division, or who possess a University degree or certificate in Law or Engineering, will not be liable to the preliminary examination in English. Persons who have gained vernacular scholarships, or who have served with credit in vernacular offices, will not be liable to the preliminary examination in the vernacular. The preliminary examinations will be held on some date in December, to be locally notified by the Magistrate of the District, at the stations named in Rule 9 (above).

ANNUAL EXAMINATION AT CENTRES.

13. The annual examination of candidates for admission into the roll of persons qualified for admission into the Native Civil Service under this Government will be held on some day in the month of January, 1875, not later than the 20th of that month, at Hooghly, Dacca, Patna, Cuttack, and Gowhatty. There will, if need be, be special examinations for the Police, the Non-Regulation

Provinces, and the Opium Department. For the ordinary branches of the service there will be two standards—one higher, qualifying for all appointments, and another lower, qualifying for appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem only.

14. Previous to the other examinations, European candidates who have not passed any University examination will be required, besides passing an examination in English, to show that they possess a thorough knowledge of writing and arithmetic. They must be able to write well, quickly, and correctly, from dictation, to compose a report, and to do all ordinary arithmetic correctly and quickly, which must be duly certified by the examiners.

By European is meant any person whose native language is English or any other European tongue.

15. The Native Civil Service examination on the subjects named in rule 6 will be conducted so as to test the knowledge of the candidates as follow:—

Examination in the Vernacular.

16. All native candidates will be required to show that they can read and write office papers and orders in the vernacular with complete facility.

Vernacular examination for native candidates.

Vernacular examination for European candidates.

immediately on appointment.

The vernacular language in which candidates will be required to pass under the two preceding rules may be either Bengali or Hindustani, Ooriah or Assamese.

Candidates who pass in Bengali only will not be eligible for vacancies in Behar, nor will candidates who pass in Hindustani only be eligible for vacancies in Bengal or Orissa.

Examination in Drawing, Surveying, and Engineering.

17. Candidates will be examined in the following subjects:—

I.—Drawing.

II.—Surveying, in which are included—

- 1.—Mensuration.
- 2.—Surveying with chain, and with compass and chain.
- 3.—Levelling.
- 4.—Construction of field-book, plotting, tracing on the ground.
- 5.—Construction and use of scales.

III.—Engineering, in which are included—

- 1.—General knowledge of properties of building materials in most common use, and of constructive trades.
- 2.—Estimating for a simple building or bridge.
- 3.—Construction of simple buildings.
- 4.—Construction of simple roof and bridge trusses for small spans.
- 5.—Elements of road-making (including the construction of culverts and small bridges).

Examination in Law.

18. Candidates will be examined in the elements of the law prevailing in Bengal in the following branches:—

(a) To qualify for the Police and Non-Regulation appointments:—

Criminal Law.

Penal Code.

New Code of Criminal Procedure.

Police Act V of 1861.

In this examination books will be allowed.

(b) To qualify for Subordinate Executive Service and other civil appointments:—

1. Criminal Law as in (a).
2. Revenue and General Law as follows:—

Regulations I, VIII, and XLVIII of 1793, and XII of 1817.

Ditto I, II, and VIII of 1819.

Ditto VII of 1822, IX and XI of 1825, and IX of 1833.

Acts IX of 1847, XXXI of 1858, and IV (B.C.) of 1868.

- „ XI of 1859.
- „ VII (B.C.) of 1868 and VIII (B.C.) of 1869.
- „ XXI of 1856, XXIII of 1860, and modifying Act of the Bengal Council.
- „ V of 1861.
- „ VIII of 1871.
- „ X (B.C.) of 1871.

Municipal Acts in force in Lower Bengal.

In the examination in Revenue and General Law books will not be allowed.

- (c) To qualify for the Opium Department—

Act XXI of 1856.

„ XIII of 1857.

The Board's Rules for the guidance of officers in the Opium Department.

In this examination books will not be allowed.

19. The examination papers for candidates for both grades of the service will be the same; but the passing marks will be considerably higher for the higher than for the lower grade; Candidates for the higher grade of appointments must do their papers in English; candidates for the lower grade may write their answers in their vernacular. A candidate who passes for the lower grade only will not be eligible for promotion to the higher grade of appointments until he passes for the higher grade at some future examination in at least two of the following subjects:—(1) Law, (2) Chemistry with Botany, (3) Drawing, Surveying and Engineering. Candidates who pass for the higher grade will be subject to no further examination except the higher standard departmental examination, and the opium laws examination for those candidates who are appointed to the Opium Department without having taken the opium papers.

At each examination the passed candidates will be ranked in order of merit in each subject and on the whole.

20. To every candidate who passes the examinations above prescribed, a certificate will be given, stating the subjects and the grade in which he has passed, and the place which he held in each subject and on the whole. But appointments can only be given to successful candidates as vacancies occur, and the Government does not guarantee that every successful candidate shall get an appointment.

NATIVE CIVIL SERVICE CLASSES.

21. As some of the subjects required for the Native Civil Service examination are not taught in the ordinary course of Bengal colleges, the Lieutenant-Governor has arranged for instructing persons who desire to qualify for that examination. Under the foregoing rules there are two classes of persons eligible for the higher class of Native Civil Service appointments, namely—

Non-service holders.

(1) Young men who have not served Government for three or more years in responsible posts.

Service-holders.

(2) Men who have served Government for three or more years.

The former class of candidates have to pass in more subjects than the latter. For those who have not served the Lieutenant-Governor would establish a Civil Service course at the Hooghly and Patna Colleges; and for those who have served special classes will, if there be a sufficient number of candidates, be established at the Presidency, Hooghly, and Patna Colleges.

22. For candidates who have passed the F. A. or B. A. examination, or any corresponding examination in the special colleges, there will be a one-year Civil Service course, which will include—

(1) The Chemistry lectures being delivered to the II year students reading for the F. A. examination.

(2) The Botany lectures being delivered to the III or IV year students.

(3) A special course of law lectures from the Civil Service classes lecturer.

(4) A special course of teaching from the teacher of surveying, &c.

The students of this one-year Civil Service course will have to go up for the ordinary University F.A. and B.A. examination papers in chemistry and botany; and will be examined in law and surveying, &c., at the Native Civil Service examination.

23. From candidates who have passed only the Entrance Examination a two-year Civil Service course will be required. These candidates will, during their first year, attend the ordinary college lectures for first year students in English, in history, in mathematics, and in natural science; while they will attend special classes in drawing, surveying, &c., in place of learning a second language—or Psychology. They will not be allowed to go on to the second year unless the Principal of the College certifies that they have done creditably in the first year.

During their second year they will join and attend the same lectures as the candidates referred to in the next preceding rule. The students of the two-year Civil Service course will pass the ordinary college examinations at the end of their first year; and at the end of their second year they will go up for the same examinations as the candidates of the one-year course.

24. Candidates who wish to attend the Civil Service classes must join the Civil Service classes not later than the 15th February of each year, and they must attend not less than 75 per cent. of the lectures prescribed for their course. The Principal of the College will not certify candidates who may be irregular at lecture as admissible to the Native Civil Service examination.

25. All scholarships granted by the Bengal Government will be tenable at Civil Service classes just as at any affiliated college. The fees for the Civil Service course will be Rs. 4 a month, besides the fee of Rs. 10 for instruction in riding and gymnastics.

26. For the candidates who have served Government the Lieutenant-Governor will establish a four-months course, from the 15th September to the 15th January at the colleges marginally noted, provided that at least 25 intending candidates for this class present themselves for admission before the 15th September. No admissions to this special class can be made after the 15th September. The Principal will have discretion to admit to this special class any candidate who, holding a University certificate in science, law or engineering, has only a few subjects to prepare for the Native Civil Service examination. The Principal can also admit to this special class any persons who may be declared to be specially eligible either by the Government or by the Commissioner.

Presidency.
Hooghly.
Patna.

27. Service-holders and others intending to enter for this four-months Civil Service course are warned that they will have to practise mensuration and drawing before they come, since they will find it difficult to get through the subjects in four months. They will receive lectures in law from the Civil Service lecturer, and will be instructed in drawing and surveying by the special teacher. Candidates admitted to this class will pay, besides the fee for riding and gymnastics, an entrance fee of Rs. 5, and a monthly fee of Rs. 3 for their lectures.

28. The following detail of the text-books and instruction in the subjects of drawing, surveying, and engineering, is prescribed for the Civil Service course:—

Subject.	Details.	Text-books and mode of acquiring.
Surveying.
1. Mensuration	Of the line, superficies, and the simpler solids. Cubical contents of earth-work in cuttings and embankments.	Todhunter's Mensuration.
2. Surveying with chain, and with compass and chain.	To make a survey of a tract of country 2 or 3 square miles in area.	Roorkee Papers on Surveying, chapters II, III. Also practically taught in the field.
3. Levelling	To make all the necessary sections for a supposed road between two given points.	Roorkee Papers on Surveying, chapters XI, XIII. Practical instruction in the field.
4. Construction of field-book, plotting and tracing on the ground.	To lay out the foundations of a simple building on the ground.	Instruction by lecture. Roorkee Papers on Surveying.
Drawing.
1. Construction and use of scales ...	Geometrical figures, orthographic projection as applied to the delineation of simple engineering structures.	Ellis Davidson on "Projection." Davidson on "Linear Drawing." Class instruction.
Engineering.
1. General knowledge of properties of building materials in most common use, and of constructive trades.	Stone, brick, timber, lime, mortar, cement.	Roorkee Treatise, volume I, chapters 1, 2, 4, 6.
2. Estimating of a simple building or bridge.	To design simple drawbridges, culverts, and wooden bridges of small span, and to estimate the quantity and cost thereof.	Instruction principally by lecture.
3. Construction of simple buildings ...	Stone masonry, brick masonry, masonry in arches and foundations.	Roorkee Treatise, volume I, chapters 13, 14, 15, to end of paragraph 209; 16 to end of paragraph 322.
4. Construction of simple roofs and bridge trusses for small spans.	Instruction by lecture.
6. Elements of road-making, including the construction of culverts and small bridges.	Laying out roads, formation of cuttings and embankments, construction of road surface, drainage, &c.	Roorkee Treatise, volume I, section 5; volume II, section 8.

The service-holder class will receive instruction in surveying, &c., as in drawing only.

29. The Lieutenant-Governor will be particularly glad if heads of offices can give deserving and capable public servants leave of absence on favorable terms for the purpose of qualifying in the above special subjects.

30. Students who, after passing the Entrance Examination, have gone creditably through one year's college course, will be eligible for admission to the one year's Civil Service course, which is to begin from January 1874. Thereafter any young man who has only passed the Entrance Examination, must take the full two years' Civil Service course.

H. L. DAMPIER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[First Publication.]

REMITTANCE TO ENGLAND ON THE PUBLIC SERVICE NOT TO BE MADE BY PRIVATE BILLS.

No. 3263.

RESOLUTION.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA—FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

ACCOUNTS.

Fort William, the 27th November 1873.

The Governor-General in Council observes that not unfrequently the Local Governments, or even individual public officers, remit money to England for public purposes by private bills.

2. Such a practice is altogether irregular, and it should cease without exception.

3. No money should be paid in England on account of the public service in India except through the Secretary of State, whether that service be chargeable to imperial, provincial, or local funds.

4. Nor, ordinarily, ought there to be any direct transactions, on the public service, between officers or authorities in India and firms or persons in England, which entail payment of money to the latter; for, as a rule, books or stores obtained from England have to be procured through the Secretary of State for India, and in the cases where the strict rules on this head are observed there can be no occasion for remittances from India.

5. When a remittance to England on the public service is necessary, it should in no case be made by private bills, but invariably through the Government of India, who will arrange for the payment of the money by the Secretary of State for India, and for the settlement of the loss by exchange if the remittance be on account of a foreign administration, or for a local fund, &c.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the several Secretariats of the Government of India, to the Local Governments and Administrations, the Comptroller-General, the Accountants-General, the Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge, the Director-General of the Post Office, and the Mint Master.

R. B. CHAPMAN,

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th December 1873.—In continuation of the Notification dated 1st March 1873, regarding the planting and cutting of trees, and the cutting of branches which interfere with telegraph wires, published at pages 335-36 of the Calcutta Gazette, the attention of all officers subordinate to the Government of Bengal is drawn to the following orders contained in a Resolution recorded in the Public Works Department of the Government of India, dated 23rd October 1873, No. 1551—77SR, on the subject of cutting trees which interfere with the construction of railway lines:—

“1. The Government of the Punjab has represented that for 5 miles on the west side of the Grand Trunk Road in the Goojrat District the trees planted and reared with the utmost trouble and great expense have been cut down by the orders of the officials of the Railway and Telegraph Departments. The Lieutenant-Governor, believing this wholesale destruction to have been unnecessary, trusts that no trees will in future be destroyed without the permission of the Deputy Commissioner of the District. On receiving this communication the Government of India ordered that inquiry should be instituted concerning the circumstances under which the trees were injured.

“2. The Telegraph Department explain that their wires were for the use of the railway, and that they believed the trees were in charge of the Railway Officers, whose permission being obtained, only such trees were removed or pruned as obstructed the setting up of the telegraph wires.

“3. The Superintendent of Works on the Chenab Bridge believes that the actual amount of damage caused by the Railway and Telegraph Officers has not been so great as is supposed. He explains that all the trees were young and too close together to permit their proper development, so that the pruning was an improvement. He says that it was absolutely necessary to remove trees which stood on places now occupied by the ballast of the line. He describes the growth near the railway as keekur bushes, and says that in many of the curves drivers of engines could not have obtained a sufficiently clear look-out if they had been allowed to remain, and that the removal of some trees was also desirable to prevent accidents in the case of their being blown down across the railway.

"4. The Chief Engineer of the Punjab Northern (State) Railway states that he is impressed with the importance of protecting trees in the Punjab as much as possible, and he regrets that the Superintendent of Works did not place himself in communication with the Deputy Commissioner. The Chief Engineer also observes that it was clearly wrong to cut the trees before it became absolutely necessary to do so.

"5. The Officiating Chief Engineer of the Punjab Northern (State) Railway has further represented the damage done to trees by the camp followers with troops marching along the road. This matter appears to require the attention of the military authorities.

"6. The Governor-General in Council believing the removal of the trees to have been unnecessary before locomotive engines were placed on the Railway, is of opinion that the Railway Officers must have acted with undue precipitancy when they pruned and cleared away the young trees along the Grand Trunk Road in the vicinity of the Railway without consulting the civil authorities. The Government of India desire to encourage the growth of trees throughout the Punjab in every way possible, and the Governor-General in Council expects that all Railway and other Officials will act in concert with the civil authorities in the preservation of trees. Circular No. 74T on this subject has been issued to the Officers of the Telegraph Department, and His Excellency in Council desires that Officers in charge of Railways will in future consider these orders applicable to themselves in principle and spirit."

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Financial Department, are republished for general information :—

No. 3937.—Fort William, the 24th December 1873.—Accounts.—The following Resolution is published for general information :—

The Governor-General in Council having reason to believe that the Government Savings Bank in Bombay was being employed for purposes which it was not intended to serve, caused enquiries to be made as to the character of the more recent accounts, the classes by whom deposits were made, and the way in which the accounts were worked.

From these enquiries it appears that there are numerous accounts, many of them recently opened, in which the maximum sum allowed has been deposited at once; and that the limit prescribed as to the amount of each account has been in practice evaded, the same person having opened more than one account.

The object of Government Savings Banks is to afford to the industrial classes and to persons of limited means, facilities for the accumulation of small savings. The essential character of the class of accounts that it is desirable to encourage is, that they are growing accounts. It was not the intention of Government to encourage the deposit at Savings Bank rate of interest of considerable sums of money.

In order, therefore, to ensure that Savings Banks shall be used only for legitimate purposes, His Excellency in Council is pleased to rule as follows :—

1st.—Without the special permission of the head of the office, which should be very sparingly given, no one may deposit in any Government Savings Bank in India more than Rs. 500 in one year or more than Rs. 1,000 in all.

2nd.—Ordinarily, no one may open for himself or the members of his family more than one account.

NOTIFICATION.

The 30th December 1873.—The period of one month having elapsed since the publication of the plan of lighting certain specified streets of the town of Howrah with gas in the Calcutta Gazette of the 26th November, and no objections having been raised to it, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to notify his sanction to the plan, and, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2, Act V of 1873 of the Bengal Council, to publish it hereby for general information :—

Under the provisions of Section 2 of Act V (B. C.) of 1873, the following plan for the future lighting of that area of the town of Howrah which is at present lighted with gas is hereby published for general information by order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

PLAN.

1. The portion of the town which is lighted is bounded as follows :—

On the north by Hurrogunge Road, on the south by Ramkistopore Ghaut Road, on the east by the River Hooghly, and on the west by the Grand Trunk Road. A map of this portion is herewith submitted, on which is shown in blue lines the streets which are lighted, and in red lines those which the Commissioners propose to light on receipt of His Honor's sanction.

2. The following are the names of the streets and the number of lamps in each at present lighted, as also the names of the streets proposed to be lighted and the number of lamps in each.

Names of the streets and the number of lamps in each at present lighted.

Grand Trunk Road,	..	52	Brought forward	..	114
Ramkistopore Ghaut Road	..	7	Ghoosery Road	..	4
Telkul Ghaut Road	..	12	Golabaree Road	..	8
Avenue Road	..	7	Baptist Burial Ground Road	..	9
Church Road	..	5	New Street	..	1
Chandmarree Road	..	8	Ross Road	..	4
Tindal Garden Road	..	9	Seal's New Lane	..	2
Ball Digree Road	..	4	Hurrogunge Road	..	12
King's Road	..	4	Howrah Road	..	44
Rosemarree Lane	..	3	Howrah Ghaut Road	..	3
Salt Gola Lane	..	3

Names of the streets and the number of lamps in each proposed to be lighted.

Khetter Mitter's Lane	10	Brought forward	..	33
Watkins' Lane	5	Mackenzie's Lane	..	2
Dobson's Lane	15	Ticcaparrah and Jellenaparrah Lane	..	4
Strand Road	3			—
			—	Total	..	39
Carried over	33			—

3. It will be observed from the map* that when the last named streets are lighted, all the public roads within the portion of the town described in paragraph 2 will be lighted; that is to say, all the highways which are vested in the Commissioners, and over which they have control.

* Vide note deposited in the Bengal Office.

4. The outlay in erecting the lamps at present lighted, numbering 201, was Rs. 10,628, and the estimated cost of erecting the 39 lamps which are required to complete the lighted area is Rs. 2,437-8.

5. The cost of erecting the existing lamps was met from general funds, and the Commissioners propose to pay for the erection of the extra lamps from the saving which will be effected in the allotment for lighting charges for the months of January, February, and March next. This of course is calculated on the principle that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will be pleased to authorize the Commissioners to levy the rate from the 4th quarter of the current year 1873-74, viz. January to March 1874, the Commissioners, on their part, undertaking that the extra lamps shall be ready for lighting from 1st January.

6. The cost of lighting the 240 lamps will be Rs. 24,000 per annum. To this cost the Commissioners are bound by the existing contract with the Gas Company, from which they have no escape. The contract has still 18 years to run. To this is to be added a sum of Rs. 1,200 for contingent charges of repairs to lamps, making a total of Rs. 25,200 per annum.

7. The total valuation of buildings and lands situated within the area is Rs. 8,72,867. A rate of 3 per cent. on this valuation would yield Rs. 26,186 per annum, and if from this sum a deduction is made of, say, Rs. 486 on account of collection charges, there would remain a net income of Rs. 25,700, which would cover the expenses of lighting and maintaining the lamps within the portion of the town in which it is proposed to levy the rate for the present.

NOTIFICATION.

The 22nd December 1873.—With reference to the Notification of the 11th instant, published at page 1400 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th idem, and other previous Notifications of the kind, the Lieutenant-Governor desires it to be distinctly understood that the powers thereby vested in Joint-Magistrates or other Senior Assistant Magistrates, of hearing appeals from convictions by Magistrates of the Second and Third Classes, are to last for six months only. His Honor is wholly opposed to giving appellate powers to any but very high and competent officers or Courts, and has always refused to recognize that the hearing of criminal appeals entails undue labor on Magistrates of districts. In the instances above referred to these powers have been given only temporarily, as a very special case, in distressed districts in order that there may be no shadow of reason for supposing that the District Magistrates are tied down by work at Head-quarters.

The 23rd December 1873.—The following Rules framed under Section 69 of the Indian Registration Act, 1871, are published for general information:—

1. Registrars and Sub-Registrars, on giving or receiving charge of their respective offices, shall report the fact to the Inspector-General. In the case of Sub-Registrars, such reports shall be made through the District Registrar.
2. Whenever a District Registrar makes a temporary appointment under section 12, he shall at once report the fact to the Inspector-General.
3. The report referred to in section 13 shall be submitted to Government by the Inspector-General at the end of each month.
4. Head-quarter Sub-Registrars having been permanently placed in charge of district registry offices, special appointments under section 11 are no longer necessary.
5. When a Sub-Registrar is absent, or his office is temporarily vacant, if the District Registrar is unable to appoint a suitable substitute, he may himself assume charge of the sub-registry office, until the return of the Sub-Registrar or appointment of a successor; and, in such cases, the extra or additional fee chargeable for registration by a Registrar under section 30 (a) shall not be charged upon registrations effected during the absence of the Sub-Registrar.
6. Rural Sub-Registrars are not subject to the uncovenanted leave rules. Leave should not generally be granted to them. But in cases of urgent necessity, leave may be granted to them and substitutes appointed by the Registrar. But no leave exceeding one month shall be granted without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General. All leave granted to rural Sub-Registrars shall be at once reported to the Inspector-General and included by him in the monthly report submitted under rule 3.
7. The seals of District Registrars and Deputy Registrars made under section 12 of Act XVI of 1864 shall be taken to be seals of Registrars and Sub-Registrars under this Act.
8. The seal shall always remain in the personal custody of the registering officer.
9. The following languages shall be considered to be commonly used in the districts named, viz.—
 In the Patna Division and the districts of Bhargulpore and Monghyr—English, Hindi, and Hindustani.
 In the Chota Nagpore and Cooch Behar Divisions, and in the district of Purneah and the Southial Pergunnahs—English, Hindi, Hindustani, and Bengali.
 In the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca, and Chittagong Divisions—English, Bengali, and Hindustani.
 In the Orissa Division—English, Bengali, Hindustani, and Uriya.
 In the Assam Division—English, Bengali, Hindustani, and Assamese.
10. When a copy of a Bengali, Uriya, or Assamese document is forwarded under section 65 of the Act to a Registrar in another presidency, it shall be accompanied by information in English respecting the names and additions of all persons executing and claiming under it, and a description of the property situated in the Registrar's district sufficient for its identification.
11. A power of attorney intended for use in another presidency, if authenticated in Bengali, Uriya, or Assamese, by an officer unacquainted with English, may, if the parties desire it, be forwarded by him to the District Registrar for the endorsement on it of an English translation of the authentication.

Changes of incumbency to be reported.

Temporary appointments to be reported.

3. The report referred to in section 13 shall be submitted to Government by the Inspector-General at the end of each month.

4. Head-quarter Sub-Registrars having been permanently placed in charge of district registry offices, special appointments under section 11 are no longer necessary.

5. When a Sub-Registrar is absent, or his office is temporarily vacant, if the District Registrar is unable to appoint a suitable substitute, he may himself assume charge of the sub-registry office, until the return of the Sub-Registrar or appointment of a successor; and, in such cases, the extra or additional fee chargeable for registration by a Registrar under section 30

Registrar may assume charge of the office of absent sub-registrar.

(a) shall not be charged upon registrations effected during the absence of the Sub-Registrar.

6. Rural Sub-Registrars are not subject to the uncovenanted leave rules. Leave should not generally be granted to them. But in cases of urgent necessity, leave may be granted to them and substitutes appointed by the Registrar. But no leave exceeding one month shall be granted without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General. All leave granted to rural Sub-Registrars shall be at once reported to the Inspector-General and included by him in the monthly report submitted under rule 3.

Leave to rural sub-registrars.

Seals.

Languages commonly used—section 19.

Copies of Bengali, Uriya, or Assamese documents sent to other presidencies.

12. A power of attorney authenticated in a language unknown to a registering officer, to whom it may be presented, may, if the parties desire it, be by him submitted to the Registrar or Inspector-General of Registration, Bengal, as the case may be, who will procure an English translation of the authentication.

13. When the executant of any document appears personally, he shall be required to attest all interlineations, &c. When he appears by agent, &c., the attestation of such agent, &c., shall be accepted unless the interlineations, &c., are of an important character. A registering officer shall also be at liberty on due cause being shown to accept the attestation of an agent, &c., in case of important interlineations, &c.

Interlineations, &c.,—section 20.

14. The territorial divisions to be recognized under section 21 (b) shall be registration districts, sub-districts, and thanahs; also parganahs and mauzahs, where they are known, and collectorate districts if different from registration districts.

Territorial divisions.

15. Copies of maps or plans shall be attested by the signatures of the persons executing the document or their agents; and the original map or plan contained in the document shall at the time of registration be signed and sealed by the registering officer.

Maps and plans.

16. Whenever under section 30 (b) the Registrar of Calcutta registers a document accompanied by a map relating to property, no part of which lies within his own district, a copy of the map shall be supplied for record in his own office in addition to the number required by section 21 (c).

17. When a document containing a map or plan is presented for re-registration under the proviso to section 23, it shall not be necessary for the parties to deposit fresh copies of the map or plan under section 21 (c). But the registering officer shall certify against the copy in the register book that the map or plan attached to the document is the same as that which was attached to it on its first presentation.

18. When a document is presented or admitted more than four months after execution, the Registrar may either register it himself, in which case an extra fee under heading K, as well as the penalty under heading O, shall be levied, or he may direct its registration (on payment of the penalty under heading O) by any Sub-Registrar in whose office it could have been registered if presented within four months. In such cases the date on which the application was made to the Registrar shall be regarded as the date of presentation.

Documents presented or admitted after four months,—sections 24 and 34.

19. Every Sub-Registrar shall sit daily during certain hours which shall be approved by the Registrar, and made known to the public by a notice in some conspicuous place outside the office. The holidays to be observed in registration offices shall be the days on which the Bank of Bengal is closed by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

Daily sittings, holidays,—section 26.

20. A commission shall ordinarily be issued by a registering officer to some salaried member of his establishment, and the order shall be briefly endorsed on the document in words to this effect:—

Commissions, under sections 33 and 38.

“A commission is hereby issued under section 33 (or 38) of the Indian Registration Act, 1871, to (name and designation of the officer) for the purpose of inquiring whether the within power (or document) has been executed by A B, son of C D of , by whom it purports to have been executed.”

21. If the person to be examined under section 38 be not resident within the district or sub-district of the registering officer, a commission shall be directed to the Registrar of the district in which such person resides, who may redirect it to the Sub-Registrar, who may, if he cannot personally attend, redirect it to any officer of his establishment.

22. When the commission has been executed, the commissioner shall return the document to the office from which it was issued, with a report which shall be endorsed upon the document in the following terms:—“Having visited the residence of A B, son of C D, at , I have this day examined the said A B, who has been identified to my satisfaction by E F, son of G H, &c., residents of , and the said A B admitted (or denied) the execution of the within power (or document).”

Full signature of executant.

Full signature of witnesses.

Full signature of commissioner.

23. A commissioner may examine witnesses in the same manner as a registering officer, and persons refusing to give testimony to a commissioner, on being required to do so, shall be subject to the same penalties and punishments which they would incur for the same offence if committed in a registration office.

Sections 33 and 38, and Section 180 of Act VIII of 1859.

24. It shall be competent to a registering officer to examine the commissioner personally in his office, touching any of the matters referred to by him or mentioned in his report, or the manner in which he may have conducted the investigation.

Idem.

25. All applications for visits under section 31, 33 or 38, or for the issue of commissions under section 33 or 38, shall be accompanied by the amount of fees chargeable as well as the amount of travelling allowance claimable by the registering officer or commissioner.

26. A separate commission fee shall be charged upon every signature which requires attestation, but travelling allowance shall only be charged for the actual distance travelled. Provided that where two or more persons who execute the same document or documents relating to the same transaction reside together, only one commission fee shall be charged so far as those persons are concerned.

27. The distances for which travelling allowance is charged shall be calculated according to the table which is drawn up in the Collector's office for the service of processes. A copy of this table shall be exhibited in every registration office.

28. The form of authentication of powers of attorney shall be as follows:—

(1)—When the principal executing the power appears at the registration office—
 “Executed in my presence on the day of 18 , by A B, son of C D, of , who is personally known to me (or whose identity was proved by the testimony of E F, son of G H, of), and recorded as No. for 18 .”

Full signature of principal.

Full signature of witness or witnesses.

Seal and signature of registering officer and date.

(2)—When the principal is exempted from appearance—

“Having visited and examined at his (or her) residence the principal A B, who is personally known to me (or whose identity was proved by the evidence of C D, son of E F, of), I am satisfied that this power of attorney has been voluntarily executed by him (or her), and I accordingly authenticate it under section 33 of Act VIII of 1871, and record it as No. for 187 .”

Full signature of principal.

Full signature of witnesses.

Seal and signature of registering officer.

When the Sub-Registrar himself does not examine the executant, he should make the following endorsement below the report of the commissioner as provided for in

• Rule 22:—

“From the above report, I am satisfied, &c.” (as above).

29. Interlineations, blanks, erasures, or alterations in powers of attorney authenticated under section 35, should be attested by a note under the Sub-Registrar's signature at the time of authentication. When there are no interlineations, &c., the fact should be noted in the same way.

30. General powers of attorney are available under this Act, if they contain or imply an authority to appear in a registration office, and are executed in accordance with section 33. Powers already executed may be made available by the execution, in accordance with section 33, of an additional clause empowering an attorney to appear in a registry office.

31. If an authority to register be included in a document to be registered, the document must of course bear the additional stamp duty chargeable on the power of attorney.

32. Powers which do not contain or imply an authority to appear in a registration office shall not be authenticated under section 33.

33. Whenever a power of attorney is used in a registration office, an endorsement shall be made upon it in the following form:—

Presented this day.

Date

(Sd.) A. B.,

Seal

Registrar or Sub-Registrar of

34. All powers of attorney shall be returned when no longer required to the parties by whom they were presented.

35. The summonses referred to in sections 36 and 37 shall be executed through the revenue authorities, and the peon's fee shall be regulated according to the rules for the service of processes by such authorities. Provided that when, for special reasons, the local Government shall so direct, the processes required in any particular office may be executed through the court of the moonsiff within whose jurisdiction such office lies. In such cases the peon's fee shall be regulated by the rules for the service of processes in civil court.

36. If the summons be addressed to a person who is alleged to have executed the document, it shall require him to attend in person, or by agent; if it be addressed to any person whose evidence is required to prove a fact, it shall require him to attend in person.

37. Every application for summons must be accompanied by the amount of expenses payable to the witness, as well as the amount of peon's fees usually chargeable by the revenue authority or civil court through which the summons is to be issued; and in forwarding for compliance an application for summons, the registering officer shall also forward the witnesses' expenses and the peon's fee.

38. In case of a person summoned under section 37 neglecting to appear, or if a summons under that section cannot be served, the registering officer may call upon the revenue officer or civil court through whom his summonses are served to take any further action authorized by the law for the time being in force for the purpose of securing the attendance of the person whose evidence is required, and such a requisition must be accompanied by the proper fee. It rests with the registering officer to specify the form of action to be taken.

39. No Rural Sub-Registrar shall issue a requisition under the preceding rule without the previous sanction of the District Registrar, or (in the case of an additional Sub-Registrar) of the ex-officio Sub-Registrar to whose sub-district he is attached.

40. A will shall not be received for deposit otherwise than in the manner laid down in section 42. A will received through the post office shall be returned to the testator bearing.

41. Every entry made in Book V under the provisions of section 43 shall be signed in full and dated by the Registrar.

42. When a sealed cover is withdrawn under section 44, the fact shall be noted in register No. V, and the entry shall be signed by the person by whom the withdrawal is made as well as by the Registrar.

43. When a sealed cover is opened under section 45, the fact shall be noted in register V, and the entry signed by the Registrar. If a cover is opened under order of a civil court, this shall be mentioned in the entry.

44. When a will is forwarded to any court under section 46, it shall be accompanied by a memorandum of the fee for opening the cover and copying charges, and it shall be the duty of the court to levy and remit such fee and charges to the Registrar.

45. Scaled covers deposited with a Registrar under section 42 shall be examined monthly, and their condition reported to the Inspector-General.

46. On the presentation of a document for registration, the registering officer shall first satisfy himself—

(1) That it has been presented at the proper office (sections 28, 29, and 36);

(2) That it bears the proper stamp;

and if it purport to be, or is known to be, a counterpart—

That it is "available" under the proviso of article 16, Schedule II of the General Stamp Act, 1869.

(3) That it is in the usual language of the district, or is accompanied by a translation and a true copy (section 19);

(4) That in the case of important interlineations section 20 and rule 13 have been complied with;

(5) That (if the document refers to immovable property) the description is sufficient (section 21);

(6) That it has been presented within the proper time (sections 23, 25, and 26);

(7) That it has been presented by a person authorized to do so (section 32).

47. If the requirements of the law have been complied with in all these particulars, the following certificate shall be entered on the face of the deed:—

Admissible under rule 46. Correctly stamped under the General Stamp Act, schedule No.

48. After entry of the certificate under rule 47, the registering officer shall receive the fee or any fine payable under section 24, and enter the amount on the document close to such certificate, and at the same time the requisite entry shall be made in the fee book.

49. The document shall now be endorsed to the following effect:—

"Presented for registration at A.M. (or P.M.) on the day of 187, at the sub-registry office (or elsewhere), by A B, son of C D, of [attorney for E F, one of the claimants under a power (No. for 187) executed in the presence of Sub-Registrar of]." (Sd.) A. B.

50. The amount of the fee paid shall be entered on the receipt given under section 52.

51. If [rule 46 (1)] the deed has not been presented in the proper office, it shall be simply returned to the presenting party. In this case no entry need be made in Book II.

52. If [rule 46 (2)] the stamp is incorrect, the deed shall be impounded and forwarded to the Collector (section 23 of the General Stamp Act).

NOTE.—If the executant of a deed who is in doubt about the proper stamp consults a registering officer on the subject before formal presentation, the required information may be given to him without impounding the deed. But any deed formally presented with an insufficient stamp must be impounded.

53. If Rules 46 (3) to (7) have not been complied with, or if the presenting party refuses to pay the proper fee, the deed must be returned to the presenting party with the endorsement "Registration refused," an entry being made at the same time in Book II.

NOTE.—Orders under this rule may be deferred at the request of the parties in order to enable them to comply with the requirements of the law, or for a reference to the Registrar under section 24. But in such cases an order of refusal shall be passed if the requirements of the law have not been complied with, within eight months from the date of execution.

54. When a fine has already been paid under section 24, a second fine shall not be levied under section 34.

Second endorsement.

55. The endorsement under section 58 shall be to the following effect :—

“Execution is admitted by A B, son of C D, of _____, zamindar (or cultivator, &c.,) by caste—

Identified by E F, son of G H, of _____, zamindar (or cultivator, &c.,) by caste—
The of 18 _____
(Sd.) A. B.
(Sd.) E. F.,
Sub-Registrar of _____

When execution is admitted by an agent, the following words shall be added :—

“Agent for K L, under a power of attorney (No. _____ for 187) executed in the presence of the Sub-Registrar of _____”

When the executant or his agent is personally known to the registering officer, the words “personally known to me,” should be substituted for the identification clause.

When receipt of consideration is acknowledged, the following clause should be added :—

“The receipt of rupees _____ as consideration is admitted by the above A B”

56. The endorsement referred to in the preceding rule shall invariably be recorded in the handwriting of the registering officer.

57. When a person who cannot write signs his name by means of a mark, his name shall be recorded at length, and the writer of the name shall also sign his own name in attestation that the said mark was affixed in his presence.

58. Whenever a registering officer administers an oath, he shall separately record the evidence of the witness examined.

59. When a document is presented which has only been executed by some of the parties to it, the other executants may attend and execute the document and admit their execution without the payment of any further fee, so long as the certificate of registration under section 60 has not been endorsed thereon; but if the registration of the document has been completed, it must be presented afresh for re-registration and a second fee shall be payable.

Document to be copied after admission.

60. When all the persons executing a document, or their representatives, assigns or agents, have appeared and admitted its execution, the document shall be copied in the register.

61. When two or more copies of the same document are brought for registration at the same time, it shall not be necessary to enter the document more than once in the register, but all the endorsements shall be written upon each copy.

62. All endorsements shall be made in red ink, excepting signatures, which may be made in black ink.

63. When there is not room on a document for the necessary endorsements, they shall be made on a separate quarter sheet of hand-laid medium paper which should be supplied by the office and attached to the document, a note being at the same time made on the document itself and signed by the registering officer.

64. When a document has been copied, the registering officer shall proceed to make in the following form the endorsement required by section 60 :—

“Registered in Book _____, Volume _____
Page _____ Being No. _____ for 18 _____”

65. The register copy of every document shall be compared with the original by some person other than the copyist, and both the copyist and the comparer shall append their signatures. The registering officer shall authenticate by his initials all corrections in the copy and all notes which may be necessary under section 20 of the Act. He shall also affix his initials to each page, and shall certify with his full signature each copy to be a true one.

66. No erasures shall be made with a knife in any register book, but mistakes shall be corrected when necessary with the pen, and shall invariably be attested by the registering officer.

67. The register books shall have two margins. On the left hand margin shall be copied in red ink the value of the stamp and all the endorsements made in the office; in the centre shall be copied the deed itself in black ink, and the right hand margin shall be left vacant for notes under section 20 and rule 13.

68. Several volumes of Books I and IV may, if necessary, be kept in use simultaneously when the documents registered are so numerous as to make this course necessary. Books I., III., and V shall be continued from year to year until they are full, and in small offices where the number of documents registered is inconsiderable, the same volume of Books I and IV may also be used for two or more years.

Certificate of closure.

69. When a book is closed, a certificate to that effect shall be appended at the close of the written portion, and a certificate showing the number of pages written upon shall be entered on the first page.

70. When, owing to omission or error in any document which has been registered, a supplementary document rectifying such mistake or omission is presented for registration, a note of such rectification shall be made in the margin of the register in which the original document is registered.

71. When a document occupies more than one sheet of paper, the seal and the signature of the registering officer shall be attached to every sheet.

Refusal of duly presented documents. 72. The circumstances under which a document should at once be refused on presentation are given in rules 51—53. A document duly presented and accepted for the purpose of enquiry, will not be admitted to registration under the following circumstances :—

- (1) If one or more of the executing parties deny execution.
- (2) If one or more of the executing parties fail to appear and to admit execution.
- (3) If a person by whom the document purports to be executed be dead, and his representative or assign deny execution. (Section 35.)
- (4) If a person purporting to have executed the document appear to be a minor, an idiot or a lunatic. (Section 35.)
- (5) If the registering officer be not satisfied of the identity of any person appearing before him and alleging that he executed the document. (Section 35.)
- (6) If the registering officer be not satisfied as to the truth of the allegation that a person who executed the document is dead. (Section 35.)
- (7) If the admitting agent's power of attorney has not been made in accordance with the Act; or if an alleged representative or assign has failed to prove his status. (Section 35.)

73. In cases (1) and (4) registration must be at once refused. In cases (2), (3), (5), (6), (7) the order of refusal should ordinarily be deferred till eight months have elapsed from the date of execution. But if the parties declare their inability to comply with the requirements of the law, or for any other reason wish that the document should at once be refused and returned to them, this may be done. The reasons of refusal must be given in Book II.

Reasons of refusal to be clearly stated. 74. In recording the reasons for refusal to register, the particulars should be fully and clearly stated in each particular case. When one out of several executors declines to comply with the requirements of the law, his name should be given; when the registering officer is doubtful as to the identity of a party admitting execution, the grounds of his suspicion should be stated.

Section 70. 75. Applications for the remission of fines under section 70 may be filed with the registering officer, but no such application shall be received until the fine has been paid. The application shall be forwarded to the Inspector-General with any remarks which the registering officer may wish to make.

Copies and memoranda. 76. In addition to the bound volume of Book I, every registering officer shall keep a file in which he will file copies and memoranda of registered documents which have been forwarded to his office under sections 64, 65, 66 or 67 of the Act. This file shall be bound into a volume or volumes of convenient size at the end of the year. The entries in this volume shall be numbered consecutively, but in a series distinct from that of original registrations in Book I.

77. These copies shall be made on paper of the same size and description as the sheets of the bound books. Memoranda shall be drawn up in the prescribed form.

78. Memoranda for sub-districts in another district shall be enclosed to the Registrar of that district, together with the copy for his own office; but no memorandum need make mention of any property other than that which is situated in the sub-district to which the memorandum is to be sent.

79. When a copy of a document is sent to the Registrar of another district under sections 65—67 of the Act, a memorandum need not be sent to any Sub-Registrar whose office has been amalgamated with that of the Registrar of such district.

80. The date on which copies and memoranda are despatched under the last rule, shall be entered in the right-hand margin of the book in which the document has been copied.

Receipts for copies and memoranda. 81. When a memorandum or copy under sections 64—67 is transmitted from one office to another, it shall be accompanied by a receipt in the prescribed printed form, which shall at once be signed and returned by the receiving officer. If delay occurs in the return of the receipt, the despatching officer should takeed for it. All such receipts when returned should be filed separately.

Copies and translations of documents in foreign language. 82. The copies and translations of documents required to be filed under sections 19 and 62 shall be made upon hand-laid medium paper. They shall be kept in a separate file, a reference being made to this in the right-hand margin of the page on which the translation is copied in the register book. The file shall be bound from time to time, when it contains a sufficient number of copies and translations to form a volume. For the purposes of this rule the requisite paper may be sold to the public at one anna per sheet.

Index of persons. 83. The personal index No. 1 shall contain the following headings :—

1. Name of person.
2. Addition.
3. Interest in the transaction, as purchaser, mortgagee, decree-holder, &c.
4. Office of registration.

5. Serial number.
6. Book.
7. Volume.
8. Page.

Index of places.

84. The local index No. II shall contain the following headings:—

1. Name of property or of mauzah; or, in towns, of street.
2. Name of parganah or thanah.
3. Sub-district in which the property is situated.
4. Nature of the transaction, as sale of land, decree for possession of house, &c.
5. Office of registration.
6. Serial number.
7. Book.
8. Volume.
9. Page.

Index III.

85. Index III shall contain the same headings as No. 1.

86. Except in rural offices, all indexes shall be kept in English.

87. English indexes shall be kept according to the letters of the alphabet, the entries under each letter being arranged according to the vowel of the first syllable, if the word begins with a consonant; or according to the second vowel in the word if it begins with a vowel.

88. If the documents to be indexed are written or executed in English, the names of the persons and places shall be spelt in the same way in which they are written in the documents. If the documents are written or executed in a vernacular language, the spelling shall be regulated according to Professor H. H. Wilson's system of transliteration, as modified by the Syndicate of the Calcutta University.

89. In the case of Europeans and of those Hindus who have hereditary family names, the surname or family name shall be taken as the index word. In all other cases native names shall be indexed as they stand. A mere title or designation of caste shall not be taken as the index word.

90. When a document is executed on behalf or in favour of Government, the index entry shall be made under G., Government, the name of the officer executing the document being entered in the column headed Addition; if on behalf or in favour of the Court of Wards, under W., Wards, Court of; and in the case of any other Court, under C. The names of companies shall be entered as they stand, the article only being omitted; thus—Land Mortgage Bank of India, Limited, under L.; Ganges Steam Navigation Company, Limited, under G.

91. The name of the depositor of a sealed cover shall be entered in index I.

92. When there are two or more executants or claimants, their names shall be separately entered in index I or III. Similarly, when two or more properties are conveyed by a single document, they shall be separately entered in Index II. But no Sub-Registrar need enter in his Index II any property which does not lie in his own sub-district.

93. Copies and memoranda of documents shall be indexed in the same way as original documents, but the entries relating to them shall be made in red ink.

94. In rural offices, the indexes shall be kept in the vernacular, the names being merely arranged according to their first letters. One copy of indexes I, II, and III, shall be made for office use in a bound volume; and a duplicate of the entries made each month in indexes I and II shall be submitted at its close to the Sub-divisional Sub-Registrar. In the Headquarters Sub-division, and wherever the Sub-divisional system has not yet been introduced, the duplicate will be sent to the Registrar. Rules 83, 84, 85, 89, 90, and 92, above, apply to the indexes of Rural Sub-Registrars.

95. The Sub-Registrar, on receiving the indexes I and II from the Rural Sub-Registrars shall translate the same, and incorporate them in his own indexes, noting the place of registration of each document. He shall also, at the end of each year, or at such shorter interval as the Registrar shall direct, prepare on hand-laid medium paper a copy of the incorporated index, and submit it to the Registrar.

96. Where the office of a Registrar has been amalgamated with that of a Sub-Registrar the duplicate copy of the Sub-Registrar's indexes shall be sent for safe custody to the office of the Registrar of Calcutta, or to such other place as the Inspector-General may direct.

97. The Registrar's office shall be a central office of record for each district, and the books and papers of subordinate offices (which are not to be destroyed) shall be transferred to it from time to time.

98. The following records belonging to the period anterior to the enactment of Act XVI of 1864 shall be henceforward permanently preserved in district registry offices:—

All registers of documents and their indexes.

Duplicate copies of documents required to be filed under Regulation XX of 1812.

Registers of powers of attorney.

Original powers required to be filed under Regulation XX of 1812.

Kazis' records.

Books to be kept in all offices.

99. Besides register books I, II, III, and IV, and indexes I, II, and III, the following records shall be kept in all registry offices:—

A register of powers of attorney in the prescribed form.

A register of visits and commissions in the prescribed form.

A fee book in the prescribed form.

A cash book in the form prescribed by the Accountant-General.

A catalogue in the prescribed form.

A chalan book in the prescribed form.

A file of receipts given under section 52 and returned on delivery of registered documents.

A file of receipts for copies and memoranda under rule 81.

Additional books in district offices.

100. The following additional books shall be kept in all district offices:—

Book V.

A register of letters received.

A register of letters despatched.

Transfer of books.

101. In January of each year the following records for the previous year shall be transferred from sub-registry offices to the district office:—

Book I (including the file of copies), and book IV under Act VIII of 1871, and index III.

Copies and translations filed under section 19.

102. Books II and III, and the register of attested powers of attorney, shall be transferred to the district office as soon as they are filled.

103. In the case of all rural offices, and wherever the sub-registry office is not a masonry building, each volume of the register books shall be forwarded to the district office as soon as it has been filled and indexed without waiting till the end of the year.

Records to be preserved in perpetuity.

104. For the period since Act XVI of 1864 came into force the following records shall be preserved in perpetuity in all district offices:—

All register books and their indexes prescribed by Acts XVI of 1864 and XX of 1866 and VIII of 1871, as well those of the district registry offices as those received from the sub-registry offices.

Registers of powers of attorney.

Catalogue.

Cash book.

Fee book.

Reports of the destruction of records, and lists of the papers destroyed.

105. The following records shall be preserved in perpetuity in all sub-registry offices:—

Book III, under Act XVI of 1864, and Book V, under Act XX of 1866.

The rough indexes, under Act XVI of 1864.

Original indexes I and II, under Acts XX of 1866 and VIII of 1871.

Cash book.

Fee book.

Section 83.

106. When a registered document is destroyed under section 83, a note to that effect shall be made in the book in which it is registered.

Records to be destroyed after three years.

107. The following records may be destroyed after the expiration of three full years from the period to which they relate:—

Registers of visits and commissions.

Chalan books.

The receipts referred to in section 52.

Receipts referred to in rule 81.

All correspondence, whether in English or in the vernacular, which is of an ordinary routine character, and which the Registrar considers may be destroyed.

Monthly returns, petitions, and other records and papers not otherwise specified.

108. No books or papers whatever shall be destroyed at a sub-registry office without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General.

109. The register books and indexes of the general registry offices under Act XVI of 1864 and Act XX of 1866, shall be preserved in the Calcutta Registry Office.

110. All applications for search or for copies should be made to the registering officer himself.

Applications for search or copies.

If an application is made in writing, the registering officer should initial it at once, giving the date. If an application is made vid voce, the registering officer should write on a slip of paper, "Give copy," or some such brief order, adding his initials and date. All such applications and orders should be preserved on a separate file, the date on which a search has been made or copy completed being noted. Applications made through Sub-Registrars for copies from registers deposited in the district office must be in writing; and should be at once transmitted to the Registrar for compliance. No stamp is required on applications for searches or copies.

111. Registrars shall permit search and grant copies of entries in the registers kept up previous to the enactment of Act VIII of 1871, at the same rate of fees, and to the same extent as in the case of registers under that Act.

112. A call for information from any court or revenue authority shall, if it necessitates search in the registers, be accompanied by the necessary fee for search. Officers of Government shall be permitted to inspect the registers without fee; but if the production of a register book in any court is required, it shall be produced by an officer of the registration establishment deputed for that purpose, who will be entitled to claim payment of his expenses like any other witness.

113. Registering officers shall take care that their clerks have no dealings with the public, except in their presence. They shall themselves receive documents which are tendered for registration; and when they are registered, shall return them with their own hands.

114. The serial number of the last document in each book completed and ready for return shall be daily notified in some conspicuous place outside every office.

115. A catalogue in the prescribed form shall be kept up and permanently preserved in every registry office. On the occasion of every permanent change in the incumbency, the officer receiving charge should compare his books with the catalogue, and certify therein that he has found them correct.

Table of fees.

116. A printed table of fees in English and the vernacular of the district shall be suspended in some conspicuous place in every registry office.

117. Columns 1, 7, and 13 in the fee book should be filled up as soon as any document is presented, except in the case of documents presented at the wrong office and returned under rule 51; columns 8 and 9 should be filled up as soon as a document is admitted or refused; columns 10 and 11, as soon as registration has been completed; column 12, as soon as the document has been delivered and column 14, as soon as the required copies and memoranda have been despatched.

118. Where the Sub-Registrar is a salaried officer, and only receives commission, in addition to his salary, he should remit the fees to the treasury daily. Remittances to the treasury should be accompanied by the Chalan Book duly filled up in duplicate. One copy of each chalan will then be kept by the treasury officer and the other returned with his signature.

119. Before the 1st of September of each year, every Sub-Registrar shall submit to the Registrar to whom he is subordinate, an indent in the prescribed form for all register books and other registration forms which will be required in his office during the following calendar year.

120. Every Registrar shall submit to the Inspector-General before the 15th September of each year an indent in quadruplicate in the prescribed form for all register books, and other registration forms which will be required for his own office, and those of the Sub-Registrars subordinate to him during the following calendar year. When it is desired that the supply of register books, &c., should be forwarded to any sub-registry office direct instead of being sent through the office of the Registrar to whom he is subordinate, an intimation to that effect should accompany the Registrar's indent, and the indents of such Sub-Registrars should be submitted separately in quadruplicate with the Registrar's endorsement instead of being embodied in the Registrar's indent.

121. When delay occurs in supplying register books and other registration forms, reminders should be addressed, not to the Inspector-General of Registration, but to the Superintendent of the Alipore Jail Press, the number of the Stationery office order being quoted. Reminders are useless without it.

122. Indents for the forms enumerated in the margin which have been prescribed by the

1A. Accountant-General's form indent form.

116. Commission list of Sub-Registrars.

117. Salary list of gazetted officers of the Registration Department.

118. Salary list of sanctioned establishments of the Registration Department.

119. Bill for contingent charges of the Registration Department.

120. Travelling allowance of Registrars.

121. Travelling allowance of ministerial officers of the Registration Department.

126. Refund of registration fees.

127. Bill for refund of registration fees for sudder sub-registry office.

128. Bill for refund of registration fee for sub-divisional and rural sub-registry office.

138. Detailed bill of contingent charges for countersignature.

141. Leave statement.

183. Cash book of registration.

184. Acquittance roll of establishment.

200. Monthly chalan of officers paid by fees only.

Accountant-General should be submitted in triplicate in March of each year direct to the Superintendent of Stationery.

123. Rural Sub-Registrars may be supplied with registration ink and other stationery from the district office at cost price, which should be ascertained from the Superintendent of Stationery. The hand-laid medium paper required for copies under sections 64 and 65 will be supplied to them gratis.

Indents for stationery.

JUNE.—Patna, Bhaugulpore, and Rajshahye Divisions, except the district of Rajshahye.

JULY.—Dacca, Cooch Behar, and Assam Divisions.

AUGUST.—Calcutta offices, viz., those belonging to the Judicial, Revenue, Financial, Public Works, Telegraph, and Post Office Departments.

SEPTEMBER.—Calcutta offices, viz., the Secretariat Offices, and those belonging to the Military, Ecclesiastical, and Marine Departments, and all not included in the foregoing.

OCTOBER.—Burmah, Straits Settlements, Tenasserim, Arracan, and the Chittagong Divisions.

NOVEMBER.—Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, and the Rajshahye district (Rampore Beaulah).

DECEMBER.—Chota Nagpore, Cuttack, and Hyderabad.

before these dates. The Registrar's indent should include all ink and other stationery likely to be required by rural Sub-Registrars under rule 123 above.

125. All official letters and covers sent by post from any Sub-Registry or District Registry office must be prepaid by service labels. These labels will be supplied to Sub-Registrars (on application) by District Registrars who will disallow unreasonable and excessive demands. A monthly statement of the distribution of service postage labels should be submitted by each District Registrar for the information of the Inspector General. A permanent advance of Rs. 20 for postal charges is allowed to District Registrars. All bills for bearing covers must be accompanied by the covers on which the payments were made as vouchers. Service labels will be purchased by District Registrars as they require them, the expenditure being included in their monthly postal bill supported by the treasury officer's receipts as vouchers.

126. When an officer is temporarily placed in charge of the office of a special Sub-Registrar during his absence on inspection duty in the interior of his district, he is not entitled to draw commission which the Special Sub-Registrar retains.

127. The security bonds of head-clerks should be examined at the close of each financial year, the result being reported to the Inspector-General.

128. The receipts entered in the fee book need not be entered in detail in the cash book. Their daily totals will be sufficient. But all other receipts and all payments whatsoever must be entered in full detail in the cash book. All cash received must at once be entered either in the fee book or in the cash book. No money should under any circumstances be kept out of account. The cash book should be balanced every day, and signed after careful examination by the registering officer.

129. All permanent advances must be repaid into the treasury on the 31st of March of each year, and drawn again in the following month.

130. Registrars and Sub-Registrars who are paid by fixed salaries will draw their pay in Accountant-General's form No. 117, and the bill may be paid without the countersignature of superior authority.

131. Salaried Sub-Registrars who are also entitled to a percentage on the fees, will draw their commission at the end of each month in Accountant-General's form No. 116, at such rate as may have been sanctioned by Government, but upon such fees only as shall have been actually paid into the treasury during the month. No commission is payable on fines, or on the extra fees for registration by a Registrar, or on the receipts for the sale of paper. Commission bills require the Registrar's countersignature before payment.

132. Sub-Registrars who are paid by fees only, and receive 50 per cent. and upwards of those fees will retain them until the end of each month, and then remit the Government share of them to the treasury, with an account current in duplicate in the prescribed form A. G. B. No. 200.

133. Salary bills for permanent establishments will be drawn in Accountant-General's form No. 118, by the head of the office. They do not require the countersignature of higher authority.

134. Bills for extra establishments paid by salary may be drawn in the same way as those for fixed establishments, the orders sanctioning their entertainment being always quoted in the bill.

135. Bills for wages of extra writers paid at contract rates require the countersignature of the Inspector-General before payment.

136. Travelling allowances of registering officers and their clerks will be drawn in Accountant-General's form Nos. 120 and 121 respectively; and in both cases they must invariably be submitted to the Inspector-General for countersignature before payment, whatever may be the amount of the bill.

137. When ministerial officers of the department are deputed to give evidence or to produce records before any court, their travelling expenses will be paid by the court.

138. House and office rent sanctioned by Government may be drawn by the head of the office without the countersignature of higher authority, the number and date of the Government order being always quoted in the bill.

139. Office furniture must not be purchased without the sanction of the Inspector-General. An estimate of the probable cost should accompany all applications for such sanction.

140. The salary of sweepers cannot be charged to contingencies. The wages of pankha-pullers may be so charged when their employment has been sanctioned.

124. Before the several dates noted in the margin all District Registrars should send to the Superintendent of Stationery an indent in duplicate in the prescribed form for the stationery (including registration ink) which will be required for the registry offices in their districts during the next twelve months; indents from Sub-Registrars should be submitted to the district office at least 15 days

141. No charges for printing may be incurred without the special sanction of the Inspector-General. Such printed forms as are necessary will be printed at the Alipore Jail Press under the authority of the Inspector-General.

142. English stationery procurable from the Stationery Office may not be purchased in the local market, but charges for petty articles, such as sealing-ink, paste, thread, country paper, &c., may be included in the monthly contingent bill.

143. Sub-Registrars' contingent bills should be presented for payment at the end of each month, and if the total charge does not exceed Rs. 10, the Registrar's countersignature is sufficient for audit.

144. Registrars' contingent bills not exceeding Rs. 10 in amount, do not require countersignature.

145. A permanent advance of Rs. 10 is allowed to all Registrars and ex-officio Sub-Registrars for ordinary contingent charges. When the expenditure during any month on account of contingencies in any Registrar's or ex-officio Sub-Registrar's office exceeds the amount of the permanent advance the amount expended may be drawn by an abstract bill or bills (see Accountant-General's form No. 119) submitted during the month under the Registrar's signature or countersignature. But in such cases a detailed bill (see Accountant-General's form No. 138) accompanied by vouchers must also be submitted at the end of the month.

146. A duplicate bill should never be submitted unless the original is lost in transit or otherwise, in which case a certificate should be attached to the effect that the bill has not been cashed at the treasury.

147. Bills, monthly returns, and regular indents, should not be accompanied by covering letters. The envelopes containing them should be marked "Returns." Letters and urgent indents should be separately sent.

The following are the conditions of Sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
In bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
In bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale; or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-

sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, while any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifth day from the day of sale, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth Condition or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. No. 1, certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1872-73, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March, 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1874, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 45,000 ches of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the t of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing the date of payment, or by selling a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—“With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high connecting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article, there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so supplied for provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests before mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette.”—By order of the Member in charge.

PART II.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of lands, no longer required by the Government, situated in the district of Bhawalpore, will be put up to sale at the Collector's Office, at Bhawalpore, at 12 o'clock on Monday, the 2nd February 1874, corresponding with 21st Mang B.S.

The purchasers of these plots will be subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—If the amount of purchase money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

3rd.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

4th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector confirming the sales. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final sanction of the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge should not be accorded to the proceedings.

Admission of Stock other than for competition.—By special permission of the Managing Committee, persons desirous of exhibiting horse stock (not intended to compete for prizes) will be permitted to do so on a payment of Rs. 16 per head, provided stabling can be found for them.

4. Intending Exhibitors must apply for stalls by post in an envelope addressed—

“ TO THE JOINT SECRETARIES,
Calcutta Horse Show, 1874.”

so as to be received by them not later than the 15th December 1873. On receipt of such applications printed forms will be furnished to the Owners or Exhibitors, to be filled in by them and returned at once to the Joint Secretaries, who will then allot stalls or boxes for the horses described.

5. Superintendent.—A Superintendent and four European Assistants will be appointed by the Managing Committee to undertake the stable management of the Show-yard. It will be his duty to point out the stalls allotted to the Exhibitors, and to see that all orders issued by the Committee are thoroughly and promptly carried out.

6. Date of receipt of Horses.—Horses sent for exhibition will be received by a Veterinary Surgeon and the Superintendent of the Horse Show on Wednesday, the 7th of January 1874, any time before noon of that day.

7. Health Certificate.—A health certificate, signed by a Veterinary Surgeon, must accompany every horse when first brought to the Horse Show lines. The Veterinary Surgeon attending on the part of Government will also inspect each horse before being finally admitted.

8. Grooms.—Exhibitors are required to engage a reliable groom (syce) for each horse, and it is expected that either the attendant or a substitute will remain night and day at his post.

9. Attention to Regulations.—All attendants must conform to the rules and regulations issued by the Managing Committee; copies will be furnished to the Exhibitors, and will also be posted on the walls of the stables.

10. Complaints.—Complaints may be lodged at any time at the office of the Superintendent, either verbally or in writing, in a book to be kept for the purpose.

11. Complaint Book.—Persons able to read and write will have to enter their complaints in the book; minor complaints will be settled by the Superintendent on the spot; those of a more serious nature will be treated by the Managing Committee.

12. Illness of Horses.—In case of illness of any horse the Owner or Exhibitor, must provide medical attendance.

13. All the horses will be daily inspected by a Veterinary Surgeon.

14. All possible care will be taken of horses exhibited, but the Superintendent cannot be held responsible for any injury or accident which may occur.

15. Forage and Grain.—Forage, grain, and water for the stock will be provided by the Exhibitors.

16. Smoking prohibited.—Smoking is strictly prohibited in the stables; particular attention is requested to this rule, which is considered imperatively necessary for the safety of the cattle.

17. Stabling.—A loose stall or box will be provided for each animal so exhibited.

18. Location of Mares.—Every lot of six mares will be stabled close to each other.

19. Inspection by Judges.—The Judges will inspect and examine horses entered for prize competition on Thursday 8th, Friday 9th, and Saturday 10th, of January 1874.

20. Exclusion of Visitors during inspection by Judges.—Under no circumstances will any person be permitted to be within the precincts of the premises at the time of inspection, except grooms (syces) who will be appointed by the Judges to bring up each horse for examination.

21. Owners and Exhibitors similarly excluded.—Owners and Exhibitors are debarred from the privilege of being present as much as the public generally.

22. Horses how to be inspected.—The horses will be brought up without clothing, so that they may not be recognized by any initials or distinctive marks.

23. Judges how guided in arriving at decision.—Exhibitors are informed that Judges in arriving at their decision will be guided by the following points:—

1st.—That under the terms of Military Department Government Notification of the 4th of February last, no prize will be given unless the horses exhibited come up to a high standard of excellence. Importers and competitors are informed that the Judges will be considerably guided by good measurement of girth and leg and blood, combined with power; animals wanting in such essential points will have no chance of obtaining a prize.

2nd.—The horses will be judged as to their merits under the several heads of:—

- A. Soundness.
- B. Blood and power.
- C. General conformation.
- D. Action.
- E. Condition.

The maximum number of marks being 100.

3rd.—“The best horse” must be perfectly sound, but any serious blemish, the result of accident, will be weighed by the Judges.

4th.—Each mare of every lot must be sound for all working and brood purposes.

5th.—If any mis-information is furnished by an Exhibitor in respect of the animals owned or exhibited by him, the whole of his stock will be disqualified for prizes, and will be at once removed from the Show premises. Admission to the Show will be refused to any person coming within the terms of this rule.

6th.—The decision of Judges to be final.

24. Judges' Report.—The Judges' report of their inspection will be prepared and printed by Saturday evening, the 10th of January 1874, but will be confidential until read to His Excellency the Viceroy on the formal opening of the Show.

25. Necessity of Exhibitors' servants attending to Rules.—Particular attention must be given by all Exhibitors to the necessity of their servants carrying out all the rules which may be laid down for efficient sanitary arrangements.

26. Fire Engine.—A fire engine, and a party to work it, will be on the premises during the Exhibition.

27. Police arrangements.—The Commissioner of Police will arrange with the Managing Committee (Judges) for such number of Police as may be requisite for the protection of property and the preservation of order.

28. Lights other than those supplied by Committee prohibited.—Stable lanterns will be provided by the Committee and placed under the orders of the Superintendent. Other lights or lanterns or fire of any kind will not be permitted within the stabling.

29. Removal of horses if attacked with disease.—The Managing Committee are empowered, if they deem it necessary, to direct the removal of a horse attacked with any contagious disease.

30. Removal of horses when prohibited.—No horse brought for exhibition, even in the event of its having been sold, will be allowed to be removed until the Exhibition is closed.

31. Final removal from Show.—Horses must be removed the day following the closing of the Exhibition.

32. Objections.—Any objection to horses exhibited must be made and proved to the satisfaction of the Stewards the day before the prizes are awarded.

33. Objection made after award of prize.—Objections made after the award of prizes will not be attended to during the present Show, but will be recorded against future exhibition of the horses objected to.

34. Onus of proving objection.—The onus of proving an objection will be wholly and entirely on the person making it. All objections must be made in writing.

By Order of the Committee,

1st December 1873.

J. A. CRAWFORD, Esq.,

Joint-Secy., Govt. Horse Show, Custom House, Calcutta.

A detailed descriptive Roll of the Horse to be exhibited, giving breed, sex, age, color, height pedigree, sire and dam, performances if any, and price, should accompany the application for Stalls.

In the event of the stock exhibited in either of the above classes not being considered of sufficient quality, power is reserved to the Judges to withhold the Prize or Prizes in such class.

M. J. TURNBULL, Col.,

J. A. CRAWFORD,

Joint Honorary Secretaries, Government Horse Show.

Notice.

TENDERS are invited for the immediate supply to Government of one hundred sets (more or less) of weights and scales.

2. Each set to consist of—

- 1 beam
- 2 scales capable of weighing 2 to 4 maunds at a time.
- 1 iron weight of 2 maunds.
- 1 " " " 1 maund.
- 1 " " " $\frac{1}{2}$ "
- 1 " " " $\frac{1}{4}$ "
- 1 " " " 5 seers.
- 1 " " " 3 "
- 1 " " " 2 "
- 1 " " " 1 seer.
- 1 " " " $\frac{1}{2}$ "

3. Tenders are to be in the following form (in manuscript), and to be delivered to Mr. G. Toynbee, C.S., 39 Strand, on or before Thursday, 8th January 1874:—

Name of firm or person tendering.	No. of sets tendered.	Price per set.	Time within which delivery can be made at 39 Strand, Calcutta.	Remarks (new or second-hand.)
-----------------------------------	-----------------------	----------------	--	-------------------------------

4. Second-hand weights and scales will not be objected to if in good order.

G. TOYNEBE, C.S., on Special Duty.

Notice

Is hereby given that in consequence of the construction of the new road from Giridi on the Karharbari Branch of the East Indian Railway to Hazaribagh, all goods can most conveniently be sent to Hazaribagh by that route instead of by the railway to Barakar only. The undersigned therefore invites all Government officers, tradesmen and other gentlemen who may not be specially instructed to the contrary by their consignees, and who do not avail themselves of the Government parcel post, to send their consignments and goods to the care of the Station Master, Giridi.

This request is made as the transport agency has been removed from the Barakar, and the route by Giridi is shorter and less expensive.

HAZARIBAGH, the 9th December 1873.

HENRY BEADON, Offg. Dy. Commissioner.

• Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta.

NOTICE.

PAPER CURRENCY DEPARTMENT,
The 29th December 1873.

L. BEEKELFY,
Asst. Commr. of Paper Currency.

Notice.

It is notified for general information that a fair will be held at Dutma in the Eastern Dooars in the month of February next (1874). It will be opened on the 5th, and continue for five days, and, if desirable, its duration will be lengthened by as many days as circumstances may render necessary. Sheds and accommodation will be provided. On the north bank of the Berhampooter there is a road leading straight on to Dutma. This road is now under repairs, and will be open for traffic for wheeled conveyance. On the road huts will be erected for shelter to travellers and every possible arrangement made to facilitate traffic.

During the continuance of the mela, prizes will be offered to the winners in elephants, horses, foot-races, &c.

PART III.

Provision in cases of imminent danger to life or property.

Whenever the Collector shall be of opinion that the proceedings commenced by notice under Sections 5 to 8 of this Act cause delay in the exercise of any of the powers conferred upon him by Clauses 2, 3, and 4 of on 4, likely to be attended with grave and nent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful m forthwith to commence to exercise such powers. Provided that he shall forthwith cause to epared the plans, specifications, and estimates proposed works, together with a copy of the y map as provided in Section 5, and cause a proclamation to be issued as pro- in that section giving notice that the work oned therein has already been commenced, hereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall ad as in and by Part II of this Act are ed.

Whenever any land, or earth from any land the property of any person, is required for the purposes of any works com- ed in pursuance of the provisions of the last ding section, or for the purposes of Section cases where the Collector shall be of opinion proceedngs for the acquisition of such land in Section 25, would cause delay as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act, giving notice thereof at convenient places in the locality in which such land is situated, and he may at the same time take possession of the same for the said purposes.

13. The Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of the crops and trees (if any) standing on such land, and shall offer adequate compensation to the persons interested. If such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions of Section 29.

14. The Collector may depute to the Engineer the powers described in Sections 11, 12, and 13 subject to his own general orders, and in that case when the Collector is not present the Engineer may, if he shall be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Collector would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, exercise the powers conferred on him by the Collector.

15. Whenever, upon an inquiry had under the provisions of this Part, it has been determined in the final order to be passed on such inquiry that anything done by the Collector, or by the Engineer under the last preceding section was unnecessary, the land or the embankments or drainage shall, so far as any alteration thereof shall appear to be unnecessary, be at the expense of the Government restored as nearly as possible to the state in which they were when the Collector commenced to act under the provisions of this Part; and any person who shall have sustained loss, damage, or injury by the execution of such works, shall receive compensation from the Government to be assessed according to the provisions contained in Part V of this Act.

16. The provisions of Section 9 shall be applicable to proceedings taken under this Part.

PART IV.

Powers of Engineer.

17. The power conferred on the Engineer under this Part shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Collector.

18. The Engineer may make any repairs in, and may do all acts necessary and proper for the maintenance of any public embankment, public watercourse, or other work executed or taken charge of under the provisions of this Act, or of any of the Acts repealed by this Act.

19. The Engineer may call upon the manager, or other person in charge of any railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land, to alter such railroad or to construct any watercourse under or through such railroad. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Engineer shall prescribe, the Engineer may thereupon, with the previous sanction of the altered, or a watercourse to be constructed, in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager, or other person in charge of the said railroad, so far as the same shall have been incurred on account of insufficient provision having been made at the time of the construction of the said railroad for the natural drainage then existing.

20. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary watercourse should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public watercourse, he shall apply to the Engineer, who shall communicate the application to the Collector, and the Collector shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making and closing or removing such watercourse or dam. If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

21. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated; and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, in accordance with the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870," or other law for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes, for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

22. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

23. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair, or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of enlarging an existing towpath, or constructing a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

24. It shall be lawful for the Engineer, any person whom he may authorize in that behalf, to order to carry out any of the purposes of this Act, to enter upon, and survey, and take levels any land;

to dig or bore into the sub-soil;

to do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted to the purpose projected by such Engineer; or by the Collector;

to set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon;

to mark such levels, boundaries, and line, placing marks and cutting trenches; and, where otherwise the survey cannot be completed or the level taken, to cut down and clear away any part of any standing crop, fence, jungle.

Provided that no person shall enter into a building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previous giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment of all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in the cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part provided.

- 27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Compensation for consequential damage.

Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than two years shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person just a decree for damages.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, berms, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

35. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the Embankments in Schedule (D).

embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the time of the passing of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule except under the provisions of Section 4, Clause 7, or Section 20 of this Act shall be paid by the Government.

If at any time after the passing of this Act on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (D), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule. Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (D) be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

36. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the Contribution of public money towards the maintenance of the embankments in the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (F) to be continued.

pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

37. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

38. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the true amount of all such expenses, and the names of the estates chargeable for, and of the estates and villages affected by, the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by any person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages, and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall inquire into such objection, and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector to the Commissioner of division whose decision shall be final.

39. The Collector shall add to the amount Total sum payable, appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under and incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts II and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Section 1, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the persons by whom, or in respect of other works the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Section 4, Clause 5, and Sections 19 and 20, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained.

Interest may be charged upon any sum paid as compensation from the date of payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding 5 per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

40. The said total sum, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed. Provided that where any specific sum has hitherto been annually demanded in respect of any embankment not included in Schedule (D), and when the said embankment is at the time of this Act coming into operation being maintained by Government, then such special payments shall, after the passing of this Act, thenceforth cease and determine.

Every zemindar, who is liable under this rule for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of every tenure which is declared to be a part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure by the Collector, under the provisions of Section 45. And similarly, every proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of any subordinate tenure which is declared to be a part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure by the Collector, under the said provisions.

2. Apportionment thereof.

41. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause notice to be served for every one of the said estates and villages mentioned in Section 38. Every the estates and villages aforesaid, and that an inquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and proprietors the said total sum, with interest, and the costs of apportionment.

42. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. In making this inquiry he shall receive such evidence as may be tendered by, or on behalf of, the said zemindars and proprietors, and by, or on behalf of, any other persons who may claim to be interested therein.

43. In any such inquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be proprietors of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein and shall adjourn the inquiry till such date.

44. At such or any subsequently adjourned inquiry, the Collector, if there be only one estate liable, shall charge the zemindar thereof with the total amount payable; and if there be two or more estates, he shall apportion the same amongst the zemindars thereof, ratably in proportion to the respective benefits derived by such estates from such works or repairs; or in proportion to the areas or the lands benefited or protected thereby, and comprised within such estates respectively; or with the sanction of the local Government in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates, if, before the passing of this Act, such proportion has been usually adopted.

Provided that the said total amount payable in respect of the embankments on the right bank of the river Gunduk shall be chargeable, in accordance with the custom in force for such estates, to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the district of Sarun, in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates.

Provided also that the sum standing to the credit of a pergunnah in Schedule (E) in the account kept by the Collector, at the time when the total amount payable is fixed under the provisions of Section 39, shall be deducted from the total amount payable in respect of such portion of any embankment as is situated in such pergunnah; and that the zemindars of the estates situated therein shall be charged only with the balance of the amount (if any) which may remain payable.

45. The Collector shall, in like manner, apportion, except in respect of the said Gunduk embankments, the amount payable in respect of each estate amongst all the tenures therein ratably in the proportion of benefit so received or area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as, on the like principle of proportion, is payable in respect of such portion tenure.

46. All lands held without payment of rent not being estates entered in the register of revenue-free tenures, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal and signature, declare.

47. The amount apportioned to any estate or tenure shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of the same becoming due until payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time determine.

48. On the completion of the apportionment the Collector shall make an order specifying the estates and tenures, and the several sums payable in respect thereof, the instalments of such sums, and the dates on which the same are payable.

3. Recovery thereof.

49. The Collector shall, within thirty days from the final order of apportionment, make and serve for every estate therein mentioned an order, stating the amount with interest due in respect thereof, and that the same is payable to him, and the date or dates at which such amount or instalments thereof shall become payable to him.

50. If such sum or any instalment thereof be not, pursuant to the said order, paid, the same with interest shall be recoverable as arrears of a demand under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue).

51. Every zemindar or proprietor to whom any sum or instalment thereof is payable under the said order, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of putnee tenures by the provisions of Clauses 2 and 3 of Section 8, Sections 9, 10, 14, 15, and Clauses 1, 2, and 3 of Section 17 of Regulation VIII of 1819, as amended by Bengal Act VIII of 1865; provided that the right or interest of any person holding such tenures shall not be

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Seventh Publication.]

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon in a month :—

A Bill to provide for the Voluntary Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal ; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows :—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta, of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married, or divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made prima facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

To—D. F. CARMICHAEL, Esq., Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, Fort St. George.

THE Rani of Bobbili has addressed me a letter in which she expresses her intention of placing at the disposal of Government, for gratuitous distribution in the famine-stricken districts of Bengal, 40,000 maunds of paddy. I have therefore the honor to solicit the orders of Government in regard to this munificent offer on the part of the Rani. Should Government be pleased to accept it, the Rani wishes me to state that the paddy can be ready any time after the 15th February 1874, and can then be taken for shipment at either the port of Bimlipatam or Calingapatam.

No. 1363, dated the 6th December 1873.

Order thereon by the Government of Madras.

THE Governor in Council accepts with cordial thanks the very liberal and benevolent offer which has been made by the Rani of Bobbili. The Collector will arrange for the conveyance of the paddy to port and shipment to Calcutta at Government expense as soon as may be. The bills of lading should be forwarded to the Master Attendant, Calcutta to whom a telegram should be sent as the shipments are completed.

2. Copy of these proceedings will be furnished to the Government of India.

No. 669, dated Calcutta, the 23rd December 1873.

From—A. P. HOWELL, Esq., Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Agriculture, Revenue and Commerce,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

In reply to your letter No. 1364, dated 6th instant, I am directed to request that the acknowledgments of the Governor-General in Council may be conveyed to the Rani of Bobbili for her benevolent contribution to the relief of sufferers from the threatened scarcity in Bengal. Should there be any difficulty in the matter of freight, possibly the Collector of Vizagapatam can arrange to have the paddy husked prior to shipment.

Rainfall, Weather and State and Prospects of the Crops.

not showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 27th December 1873.

District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
Western Districts.
Burdwan, 30th* Dec. 1873.	Nil	Weather cold and occasionally cloudy. Late rice nearly reaped in Cutwa. Boro paddy is being transplanted from seed beds. Prospects of sugarcane and winter crops fair. Exports as before. Price of rice little higher. Fever stationary.
Bancoorah, 27th " "	Nil	Weather dry and cold. Rice crop nearly reaped. No change in prices since last week. Cold weather crop doing well in the extreme north of the district and wherever water has been obtainable. Rice is being both imported and exported, but the importations are reported to be in excess of the out-goings.
Beerbhoom, 27th " "	Nil	Dry, bright weather. No change since last report; rice harvest nearly home. Export by rail of week ending 20th December, 7,600 maunds to Bhaugulpore and Patna divisions.
Midnapore, 27th " "	Nil	Fine and dry weather. Boro rice is being sown over a wider area than usual. A great deal will depend on indigo crop for the ensuing year, which is at present sown in a very few places, and on the next mulberry crop. Exportation is going on over the whole district, and prices are now entirely regulated by the Calcutta market, and the cost of carriage from the place of purchase to Calcutta. This exportation threatens serious consequences in the west of the district where the crop is worse than in other places, and no stocks of last year's crop are held to any appreciable extent. The late rain unfortunately did not extend to this portion of the district where it would have been most useful.
Jooghly, 27th " "	Nil	Clear and dry weather; heavy dews. Wind north and north-east. Ploughing and sowing for the cold weather crops are still going on. Rice crop is being reaped.
Howrah, 27th " "	Nil	Fair weather everywhere. There is an average eight-anna late rice crop throughout the district. Outturn of the cold weather crop is expected to be very scanty this year. Seedlings of boro paddy are yet in their nursery.
Central Districts.
4-Pergunnahs, 30th† Dec. 1873.	Nil.	Pretty cold, with winds blowing from the north. There has been no change since last report. The harvest of the late rice crop is going on rapidly. Tobacco and other cold weather crops where sown progressing fairly. Fever prevails in some parts of Dum-Dum, and continues in parts of Bascherhant. It is reported to be decreasing in Barriepore, Sudder, and Baraset. A few cases of cholera reported at Diamond Harbour.
Juddea, 27th " "	Nil	Fine throughout the week. No alteration in the prospects of the crops. Prices nearly the same as last week. There is considerable importation of rice from Jessore.
essore, 27th " "	Nil	Clear, bright and cold. Boro paddy is favorably reported on. There is no change in the prospects of the winter crops since last week, nor has any rise of price of rice worth mentioning occurred. The estimated outturn of the rice crop is as before reported.
Joorsheedabad, 27th Dec. 1873.	Nil	No rain; cool and pleasant weather. No improvement since last week. From personal observation the Collector thinks that the cold weather crops in the south-eastern thanas are better than he had been led to believe. The chief food-grains, however, such as wheat, barley, and gram, are scanty and very backward from want of rain. Uthur (pulse) is very good. Prices are almost stationary. Small-pox continues in Suti and in parts of the sudder sub-division.
inagapore, 27th " "	Nil	Every part of the week cloudy. On the 27th December the north-west wind, dry and cold, was blowing stronger than ever. A fall of rain reported some days ago to the east. Prospects remain unchanged. The yield in some places is said to fall below the expected outturn. Prices stationary.
aldah, 27th " "	Nil	The weather remained unchanged during the week; a few drops of rain, nothing to speak of, fell in one or two places on the 22nd December, after which the weather was clear and cold; wind westerly, mornings foggy. Rain fell on the night of the 27th December, and the weather was very threatening, with rain. The winter rice crop is almost harvested; the outturn is not expected to be more than previously estimated. The pulse crop has been fairly good on moist lands. Mustard is also fairly good in places. The cold weather crops, such as wheat, barley, &c., still look well near the Ganges, but require rain. Prices stationary. Supplies plentiful; grain coming in and being stored for relief works. Works on district roads going on. The rain which began falling at the end of the week will do much good to the young crops and not much harm to mustard which is ripening in most places.

Telegram of the 30th December received on the same day. Shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.
 Report of the 30th December received on the same day. Shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

ujbhabye, 27th Dec. 1873	Nil	There was very slight rain in Beaulah and to the westward on the 22nd December, insufficient to do any good to the crops. In the Bhurind tract, the young plants of boro paddy are suffering a good deal through want of moisture. The sugarcane and mashkalai (pulse), the cutting of which is now going on, have yielded a good outturn. The mustard crop is less extensive than usual, but such as there is has grown well and is of good quality. Urhur (pulse) is said to be a good average crop, rain or no rain, but the same cannot be said of the following crops which are affected by the continued drought: barley, wheat, peas, gram, and khesaree (pulse). This does not apply equally to denrah lands on which all the above are thriving better than elsewhere. Cheena (millet) is being sown. Prices are generally stationary, and there has been a rise in two places only during the last fortnight. In Pootha (the town) the price of rice has fallen to the extent of four and half seers, probably owing to the operation of a private relief association which has been organized there.
ngpore, 27th „ „	Small amount of rain fell on the 22nd December.	Small amount of rain fell on the 22nd in the sudder, but the fall was greater towards the west and has done good. Days becoming colder, with fogs occasionally. The late rice has all been harvested, the general outturn is from three to four annas. The winter crops are looking fair. Prices of rice continue much the same, if any thing rather higher, from Rs. 3 to 4 per maund. No special cases of distress known, but more are coming to the relief works than before.
rra, 27th „ „	Nil	Pretty cool. Late rice is being cut. Potatoes and mashkalai (pulse) are being gathered. Mustard in Dhunat and Panchbibi is ripening, and motor and khesaree (pulses) are growing up, but they are in need of rain. Mulberry is doing pretty well still. Sugarcane very good; urhur (pulse) in Panchbibi and Modhupur is reported to be looking fair. Common rice at sudder station, 12 seers 12 chittacks per rupee.
ma, 27th „ „	Nil	Sky clear; weather cold; no rain; heavy fogs in the morning. The harvesting of the late rice is not yet ended. The teel (oil-seed) is being reaped, and the gathering of the mash and moong (pulses) and reaping of sugarcane have begun. The long and continued drought is making it unfavorable for wheat, barley, linseed, and moshuree (pulse). Cheena (millet) is being sown to considerable extent. The young plants look well, but the prospect of a good yield depends upon a heavy fall of rain at an early period.
jeeling, 27th „ „	Nil	Foggy and very cloudy; a fall of snow may be looked for soon. The greater portion of the rice crop has been harvested; the outturn throughout the district has been an average of ten annas in the rupee. The price of common rice and bhoota (millet), the chief articles of consumption, continue much the same as last week, viz. Rs. 4 per maund for the former, and Rs. 2 for the latter.
igoree, 27th „ „	Nil	The last few days cloudless, with north-easterly wind, more like the usual weather at this time of year. A fall of 15 inches of rain on the night of the 28th December has since been telegraphed. There is no change to report. The greater portion of the hymunti or late rice is cut, and, as far as can be known, as much as was estimated. Of old paddy, there is little, if any, in this district; all has been exported. New rice is now generally being eaten; the poorer people already commencing to eat the new late rice as it is cut. New rice is coming into the markets and being rapidly bought up for exportation. The people are so short-sighted that they willingly part with what they have got for a small temporary profit, and it is feared that the rate at which export goes on may cause distress where there was no reason before to anticipate it. Kyns and traders in cloth in this district, who never before thought of grain, have now gone into the grain market. Biparies (traders) from Kishengunge in Purneah, from Rungpore, Dinagore, and Darjeeling, are to be found at all the marts buying up whatever rice is for sale, and by outbidding those, who usually at this time purchase and lay in a stock, they are rapidly reducing the resources of the district. Tobacco and other cold weather crops promising well, but in the south of the district these crops need rain.
h Behar, 27th „ „	Nil	No rain. Not so cold as in other years. Crops same as last week.
Eastern Districts.
„ 30th „ „	Nil	Weather cooler than last week; heavy dew; clouds on the 29th December. Prospects of crops fair. Fever abating at Manickgunge.
sedpore, 27th „ „	Nil	Bright and sunny throughout the week; the want of rain is seriously affecting the winter crops which have not improved, and the absence of moisture in the soil will, it is feared, make them a poor one under any circumstances. All over the district about 13,400 beegahs have been sown with boro paddy, and it is expected that the outturn next March, at the rate of 4 maunds per beegah, will be, say, 53,600 maunds. Besides the above about 3,000 beegahs have been also sown with early paddy on recently formed chur lands, which will come to maturity in April, and will yield about 15,000 maunds, at 5 maunds per beegah. New rice and paddy are now selling in all the markets; prices of the former range from 16 to 20 seers per rupee, and of the latter from 45 to 30 seers, according to situation. In places inland, whence rice cannot easily be exported by boat, the rates are low and prices cheap; the same holds good in regard to pulses, which sell from 16 to 25 seers per rupee according to quality, moong being 16 seers per rupee, and khesaree and other coarser kinds 25 seers, inland.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
ENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Eastern Districts.—(Contd.)
			Fish this season everywhere, excepting at Gopalgunge and Kotwalipara, where large inland fisheries exist, is neither cheap nor abundant, but in some parts of the district skirting the large rivers, it is good, but dear; fishermen having combined as a set-off to charge high prices for the enhanced rates of rice and other food-grains which prevail. This is given as a reason for the high prices of fish, but I believe the rates to be attributable principally to there not having been any great flood this year. Fish are always abundant in proportion as the inundation is high. The only fruit now obtainable is plantain, which however is not plentiful, as the drought has greatly affected the outturn. The usual area sown with cucumber, melons, and pumpkins has been laid down; the plants have everywhere germinated and as yet promise well, but rain is wanted to give them a start and to make them yield their usual produce. The area devoted to these crops is very limited, and the soil required by them being sandy, they are generally grown on alluvial land and places affording facilities for irrigation as banks of rivers. A general feeling of anxiety pervades all classes of the people on account of the high prices ruling for all kinds of food and edibles, and in consequence of the prospects of the winter crops being far from satisfactory at present. The ryots, in tracts where the late rice harvest was fair, tempted by the high prices of rice, are parting with all surplus grain after reserving sufficient for their own consumption: this state of things prevails especially in the southern part of the district where the late rice is grown.
20	Buckergunge, 27th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Weather cold. About one-third of the late rice crop has been reaped. The transplantation of boro paddy has been finished, but this crop is of little importance in this district.
21	Mymensing, 27th " "	Nil	No present signs of rain, and the weather is considerably colder than last week. Accounts of the cold weather crops are generally favorable from all parts of the district. Cutting of the rice crop is nearly completed. Price of food in the sudder station has risen during the week, but not in the interior. Fever is still prevalent in the Atter sub-division.
22	Sylhet, 20th " "	Nil	Not so cold as it ought to be at this time of the year. About 4 to 5 annas of the late rice crops remains to be cut. Boro paddy ready for transplantation next month. Nearly 5,000 maunds of rice exported last week, of which about 2,000 maunds have gone to Cachar and Shillong. In the 32 pergunnahs of Zillah Lata the outturn is estimated at just over 6,00,000 maunds, of which 70,000 maunds will be available for exportation, not including nearly 30,000 maunds of last year's store. The outturn in Lata has been a full ten-anna crop. Price of rice fallen in the district. A little cholera and small-pox about the district. Telegram of the 29th.—Rainfall '64, will benefit cold weather crops. Weather stormy.
23	Cachar, 20th " "	Nil	A good deal cooler, especially at night, the mornings are occasionally foggy. No prospect of rain. Almost half the paddy has been cut. It has turned out well so far. Price of rice in the sudder station about the same. It has fallen a good deal in Hylakandy. At the thanmah bazar it sells for Rs. 1-4 per maund. The outturn of the crop is now estimated at twelve annas of an ordinary crop throughout the district.
24	Chittagong, 20th " "	Nil	Fine and seasonable weather. Paddy cutting rapidly progressing. Insects have disappeared from Sudder Sub-division. Cold weather crops promising well. Cholera reported from Town, Potia, Raojan, and Rangonia stations.
25	Noakhally, 20th " "	Nil	Clear and seasonable weather. In Sudharam, Bamni, Hatea, Ramgunge, and Luckipore, the greater part of the standing crop has now been reaped. The prospects of the remainder are favorable. Complaints of damage by insects have ceased. The ordinary cold weather crops, such as khesary and kulai (pulses), are doing well. Prices vary with the demand for rice for exportation, but are a little lower on the whole.
26	Tipperah " " " "	Return not received.
27	Chittagong Hill Tracts, 20th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Cool, both night and day; foggy in the morning. About three-fourths of the cotton crop has been gathered; the outturn has not been so good as was expected. The prospects of the mustard and other cold weather crops are good. There is no fear of any distress.
	Hill Tipperah, 20th " "	Nil	Cold and bright, with northerly wind. No change to report. The paddy crop has nearly been harvested. Only that on very low lands remains. Mustard, chillies, &c., are fair. Prices have a tendency to fall.
IAH.
28	Patna, 29th " " " "	'08	Exceedingly cold; clouds hanging about; a slight shower of rain on the night of the 27th December. Report of the spring crops most promising, though rain is wanted. Health of the district good.
29	Gya, 27th " " " "	Nil	Weather cool. There was a shower of rain in the Jehanabad sub-division on the 20th and in the Aurangabad sub-division on the 21st December. The rice crop is being reaped. The outturn is estimated at 6 annas. The prospects of the cold weather crops are good. In the tract of the country between the Soane and the Panpun, where about 20,847 beegahs have been irrigated, the yield is expected to be more than an average one. Sowings of barley and cheena (millet) continue in this tract. Health of the district good.

* Telegram of the 29th December received on the 30th. Shows rainfall during the seven days including the 29th item

District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
—(Contd.)
Shahabad, 27th Dec. 1873	Nil	Slight rain reported from all parts of the district except Sasseram sub-division, on the 21st December. The rain has done a certain amount of good to the cold weather crops, but in most parts it was too slight to have much effect. The reports mention the country near Chowra as receiving the heaviest fall, and at Durgantee it is said to have moistened the soil to the depth of an inch; the dews have also been very heavy lately. A slight rise in prices at Sasseram. Near Chand in Bhuboonh sub-division, the poorer classes are said to be using unripe cold weather crops for food.
Tirhoot, 27th „ „	Nil	Cold and seasonable, and at times cloudy. It was reported on the 27th December that there has been heavy rain near Serrah, in the Paro thannah jurisdiction. The weather very cloudy, with every appearance of rain. The rice crop is now nearly all gathered in. The outturn is not more than two to three annas as previously estimated. The cold weather crops are very badly in want of rain, especially in the Madhubani sub-division, and of late they have made very little progress indeed.
Sarun, 27th „ „	A little rain on the night of the 21st December, hardly enough to lay the dust.	Weather clear and cold during the week, west wind prevailing; a little rain on the night of the 21st December, pretty general over the district, but not enough to do much good. The irrigated crops are still doing well. Poppy has germinated satisfactorily, the crops in the unirrigated fields are suffering severely from drought, and the water supply from which lands have been hitherto irrigated has begun to fail in many parts. There seems to be no scarcity of supplies in the bazar. Prices of food-grains stationary. People are being largely employed on relief works.
Chumpran, 27th „ „	Nil	Weather cool. West wind and cloudy; every appearance of rain on the 27th instant. The continued drought is acting injuriously on the cold weather crop; that on the high lands is dying for want of moisture.
Monghyr, 27th „ „	Nil	The cold weather crops are generally looking well, and if rain falls soon a good crop generally is expected. The jowara (millet) now being cut is a good one, but bears a very small proportion to the other crops, probably not more than one per cent. The rice is nearly all cut and carried; the outturn has been not more than was expected.
Bhaugulpore, 30th* „ „	·35	Slight rain has fallen in many parts of the district, but not enough to be of much good except in the sudder sub-division. To the south of the Ganges the cold weather crops promise well still. Koorthi reaped, and kalai (pulses) being now gathered. General health remarkably good.
Purneah, 27th „ „	Nil	No change in the weather. ·37 inches of rainfall telegraphed on the 28th December and more expected. The late rice crop is now nearly all cut. Mustard is looking well in all parts, but tobacco, wheat, pulse, and linseed require rain. Insects are attacking the wheat, and the pulses are said to be stunted in growth. Rice is more plentiful in the bāts. Prices are a little lower than last week, and distress is not yet felt.
Sonthal Pergunnahs, 27th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Dry and fairly cold everywhere till the evening of the 26th December, when clouds with thunder and lightning came up from the south. A few drops of rain fell in the sudder station on the morning of the 27th instant, but there must have been heavy rain in the hills to the south-west. The rice is nearly all cut about Doomka. It seems to be as good a crop as has been reported up to this.
Cuttack, 30th* „ „	Nil	Weather very cool. Crops excellent. Public health generally good.
Pooree, 20th „ „	Nil	Fair and cool for the most part of the week; latter part rather warm. The harvest of the laghu or second rice crop has been completed, and has yielded a good outturn. The reaping of the late rice crop is proceeding rapidly with a fair yield. One-fourth of the dolwa rice crop has been sown. The cold weather crops are growing well. Rice market has been stationary, though purchases for export still continue on the same scale as before. The exporting merchants are buying large quantities of the new laghu rice which has not yet found its way into the regular market. The supply is equal to the demand. Prices are yet moderate in the mofussil. The mustard crop has been very poor.
Baldmore, 27th „ „	Nil	Seasonable weather. The reaping of paddy continues. Cold weather crop promises well. Coarse rice is selling at 32 seers per rupee in Pergunnah Sosooh, where there has been a total failure of crops.
NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
Hazareebaugh, 27th Dec 1873.	Nil	Cloudy during the first portion of the week; cold and clear during the latter portion. At Padumba heavy wind accompanied by a little rain. Ploughing put in hand at once for sugarcane. The prospect of the crops has in no respect improved since last report. Christmas has passed without its usual rain, and the cold weather crop is reported everywhere to be suffering from drought. The price of grain has slightly improved.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
CHOTA NAGPORE.—(Contd.)
	South-West Frontier Agency.—(Contd.)
42	Lohardugga, 27th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Clear and bright weather, but warm for the season. Still no rain, and what cold weather crops there are are suffering accordingly. There will scarcely be a four-anna crop now. The outturn of the rice crop in the south and eastern parts of the Palamow sub-division has been better than was expected. It is feared that the cold weather crop will be entirely lost if rain does not come soon.
43	Singbhoom, 20th „ „	Nil	Cool and very pleasant weather; some rain also fell last week in the west of the district which must have benefited the gram crop. In other respects the same as last week. Prices stationary.
44	Maunbhoom, 27th „ „	Nil	Cloudy in the mornings of the 22nd and 23rd December last; since then the weather has been clear; mornings and evenings cold. Since the 24th bright sun during the day. No material change in the prospects of crops since last week; wheat and barley are still looking well, but require rain soon. Common rice is being sold at the rate of 16 to 18 seers to the rupee. Public health good.
SSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS
45	Goalparah, 20th „ „	Nil	Seasonable weather; days clear; mornings generally foggy. No change in the state of the crops except that the cold weather crops are somewhat improved by the heavy dews. Telegram of 29th.—Slight showers on 18th, 11 at head-quarters and 65 at Dhoobree; will benefit millets, but harm mustard and pulses.
46	Kamroop, 29th* „ „	Nil	Days more or less clear, with cold north-west wind. Late rice is being reaped; the outturn will probably be below the average. Sugarcane and mustard do not promise well for want of rain. Public health good.
47	Durrung, 20th „ „	Nil	Frequent fogs, little north-east breeze, and heavy dews. No change in the condition of the crops. The mustard crop is greatly in want of rain. In some parts of the district the late rice of the current year is being brought out into the markets at the average for the district will give about an eight-anna crop.
48	Nowgong, 20th „ „	Nil	Weather cold and seasonable, with very heavy dews at night and foggy mornings. The late rice crop nearly all cut. The heavy night dews benefiting the pulse and mustard crops. Sugarcane doing well. Tea operations closed, and pruning of bushes actively carried on. General health good; a fresh case of small-pox in the town.
49	Seebaugor, 20th „ „	Nil	Nights and mornings are cold; the latter are also foggy. No indication of rain. The reaping of the paddy continues. Owing to want of rain the mustard crop will be a poor one. Sugarcane tolerable.
50	Luckimpore, 20th „ „	Nil	The weather has been dry and cold, with hot sun in the day time. The rice crops are being fast got in. Rain looked for very much, as the excessive drought is very unseasonable. Public health good.
51	Naga Hills, 13th „ „	Nil	Warm and dry in the day, but cold at night. All the rice crops in the hills are gathered and cotton is now being got in, which is not a very good one. The rice crop, however, has been a very good one on the hills, but bad on the plains.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills, 20th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Bright sun. Prospects of the murwa (millet) crop continue good. All other food crops have been reaped.
53	Garo Hills, 20th Dec. 1873.	Nil	Seasonably cold. On Monday a few drops of rain. Hazy throughout the week. During Friday and Saturday a few clouds collected over Tura range, but no rain fell. Jooming is going on. A small portion of cotton remains uncollected.
